STATIONS, MISSIONARIES, AND OTHER LABOURERS, MAY 3, 1870.

 By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as, cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

A STATION, is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers sent from Europe show the date of their first leaving Europe.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out. The mark (†) that he is on his way home.

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such Temporal Peers and Commoners as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas, or upward, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the General Committee, proper persons as Patrons and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the Names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries: these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognized in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognized co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the FOUR following Heads:—

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachment upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment; and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates; and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognized the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognized Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation, or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms: "You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly.....This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June, 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence, or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries; the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837,—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men—The appointment of spheres of labour—The Temporal power, including pecuniary support."

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands towards its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i. e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission of Travancore; which as an independent state, not forming part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made, on behalf of the New Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia, who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837: "The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society; and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognized: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June, 1836.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church *. Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour. This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbadoes—April, 1835—this point was expressly alluded to: and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So, also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceedings.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His name!"

February, 1839.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 3, 1870, being the Seventy-first Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. GORDON CALTHROP, M.A. MINISTER OF ST. AUGUSTINE, HIGHBURY.

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF RIPON, V.P., seconded by R. N. FOWLER ESQ., M.P., and supported by COLONEL FIELD, C.B., it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to His Grace the Lord Archbishop of York, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.—[See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. BISHOP CROWTHER, seconded by the REV. JOSEPH WELLAND, B.A., Missionary from Calcutta, and supported by the REV. DAVID HOWELL, Vicar of St. John's, Cardiff, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the continued progress of the Mission to the Niger and adjacent rivers, carried on by Native agency, under Native episcopal superintendence, befriended by powerful heathen kings, taken in connexion with the cheering reports of the Native Pastorate in Sierra Leone, in India, and in New Zealand, confirm the judgment long since formed and acted upon by the Society, that it is upon Native agency, under the Divine blessing, that the chief reliance must be placed for the building up of the Native Church, and for the discharge of its highest ministrations.

That this Meeting, in the presence of the serious financial crisis which has arisen from the inequality between the income and expenditure of the Society, acknowledges the Christian duty of keeping the expenses within the means providentially placed at their disposal; but, at the same time, earnestly and affectionately urges upon all the friends of the Society the solemn consideration of the alternatives now before them—the one, the cutting down Missionary operations to the scantiness of the income, the other, the more blessed course, the raising the income to the exigencies of the Lord's work.

At a Second Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

The Right Rev. BISHOP CROWTHER in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Charles Marson, M.A., Prebendary of Lichfield, and Vicar of Christ Church, Birmingham, Peter F. O'Malley, Esq., Q.C., and the Rev. J. Bilderbeck, Missionary from South India.

MATTHEW XVIII. 20.

"LO! I AM WITH YOU ALWAY, EVEN UNTO THE END OF THE WORLD."

LUKE XVIII. 8.

"NEVERTHELESS WHEN THE SON OF MAN COMETH, SHALL HE FIND FAITH ON THE EARTH?"

IT is good to remember that these two sentences came both from the same Divine lips. There is no need to stop, to endeavour to conciliate these utterances with the Divine nature and knowledge of Christ. We should probably waste our pains. We know that Jesus is the Son of God; and if we needed also to be assured that that Divine Sonship has not narrowed His human sympathies, here is one argument among many to prove it. He uttered in these two sentences, at different times and under different conditions, those two thoughts which, perhaps, every one here present has admitted at different moments, and in the presence of different facts. The Gospel is from God; then it must be stronger than earth, than death, than hell. The Gospel has to deal with men; and their sins, and prejudices, and inveterate superstitions, their mundane softness, their want of stability, fight against it so strongly that it cannot prevail. One more bond is found to unite us to our Saviour, that this contrast, so much discussed in journals and debated in meetings for Missions, was seen and felt by the Founder of our faith, when as yet the grain of mustard seed that was to become the great Church of Christ was hardly sown. It must make the greatest difference to us, as to the heart and spirit which we are able to throw into missionary work, whether we believe that the slow progress of the world's conversion in this age was foreseen by our Lord as a necessary condition; or that the day of the Gospel has passed, and only a part of it is suitable to modern conditions and to existing races. It must be a great comfort to us, if we find that our temptations are not different from those which the Church in all ages has had to undergo.

For eighteen hundred years the Church has prayed, as Christ taught her to pray, "Thy kingdom come." And whilst the words have been ever the same, and the hope that they express has been as sincere, the tone in which those words have been spoken must have varied greatly with the Church's hopes and fears. When the Apostles at Pentecost felt within them the fire of an unknown spiritual life, and their spokesman, who had trembled lately at the voice of the maidservant accusing him, saw thousands changed by the artless words, in which he set forth the crucified Redeemer, they glorified God that the kingdom was come already. Satan had fallen like lightning from Heaven. The harvest was ready, and nothing seemed to remain but to thrust in the sickle, and gather up the ripe sheaves. When, after three centuries of storms and blood, Christianity became the religion of the empire, and the Lord's emblem gilded the purple standard of Constantine, and waved in the front of many a victory, and the aggregate fruits of all those victories were dedicated to Christ, who had given them, and He was hailed as Lord in heaven of all that the Emperor ruled on earth, then the words, "Thy kingdom come," had more, no doubt, of the tone of a thanksgiving than of a prayer. Was not the kingdom come already, when the master of the world accepted Christ as King of kings? When Theodosius, not long after, proclaimed every form of idolatry a crime, and all divination by means of sacrifice to be high treason against the Empire, it was formally acknowledged that the law of God formed part of the law of Rome; and too many Christians, forgetting what spirit they were of, and what they had suffered from past persecutions, rejoiced that paganism was to be destroyed with fire and sword; then the tone of that high petition, "Thy kingdom come," was sullied by something of menace and of thirst for vengeance. When Augustine set foot upon the shores of Kent, and converted the King, and baptized upon a single festival, between sunrise and sunset, ten thousand persons, out of a people steeped in gross vices, hardly knowing the use of letters; when he began a change, not only of the faith, but of the culture and morals of the people; again the prayer, "Thy kingdom come," must have sounded as a thanksgiving to God for great mercies attending them. For all these appeared to be occasions in which the resistless might of God was manifested against the broken defences of Satan; when the mighty wind of God's holy Spirit swept over the waterfloods, and bent and swayed the spirits of men as the ships bend and flee when the tempest pursues them. In such times the arm of God was visible, to conquer and to save. "Who is like unto thee, glorious in likeness, perfect in praises, doing wonders"! (Ex. xv. 11.) Our God was plainly not a God that slept, but one that saw human affairs and intervened in our struggles, and turned the victory to the side of the truth.

But it was not all of this kind. All this time the Church had to learn how to suffer and to relinquish, as well as to subdue. It had to believe that the kingdom of Christ would come—was coming—in moments when the gates of hell seemed about to prevail against it. It strove to believe that the Church was founded on a rock, when the waves of trouble and persecution broke over it and seemed like to destroy it. The very converts made on the day of Pentecost were soon scattered far and wide from Jerusalem by a persecution. In later persecutions, many on whom Christ had begun to work were entangled again by Satan. They could not endure the fear of death, and renounced the name of Jesus to escape it. And when these weak ones wished to become Christians again, the tyranny being overpast, such hearts as those of Cyprian of Carthage were strangely divided between Christian compassion and the severe sentence which seemed to be required upon those who had sinned against light and knowledge, and, having tasted of the heavenly gift, had cast it away again. The sword of Omar overthrew the holy city; and the Mohammedan conqueror dictated within its walls the terms of slavery on which Christians were ever afterwards to dwell in Jerusalem. What availed the divine counsel to the Churches of Asia? Despite the works and labours and patience of Ephesus, despite the warning of the apostle, who, left on the earth so long after the rest had departed, preached there the lesson of mutual love, the Church was swept away. You may visit the ancient fabric at this day, where that Church assembled; but snakes and lizards are its only congregation now. When that strong wave of Mohammedanism swept over the East, it needed a strong faith to pray that the kingdom might come. Far more natural it was to cry out, "When the Son of man cometh shall He find faith upon the earth?"

The course of Church history, then, does not present, as some would persuade themselves, that painful contrast between old times and recent, that in the old all was success, and in the modern there is nothing but sordid failure. Every age has presented the same picture of a divine message, and of human resistance to it. All was not well with the Church when Theodosius decreed that paganism should be destroyed; for success turned the Christians into persecutors, who, forgetful of their Saviour's love for men, would have invoked the fire from heaven against their enemies. All was not lost to the Church when Mohammed, the scourge of God, began his false message of prophecy; for the landing of Augustine on this island to call it a second time to Christ took place almost at the same time; it was hardly separated from it by twenty years. The East seemed dying; the West was full of life. One who had looked only on the work of destruction would have said, almost in despair—"Shall the Son of man find faith upon the earth?" One who had seen only this island would have been full of joy—"Lo! Christ is with us always."

We that can look back upon the whole field may say now that Christ was always with His people, working in His own time and way, and that the strongholds of sin were always resisting him. God's purpose in allowing the truth to prevail at one time, in one particular region, and in withholding it from another, is above our understanding. I will not attempt to speak of that. But to those who are disheartened about the success of existing Missions, I wish to suggest that from the first we have been prepared for failure as well as for success. We have been prepared for both, by the words of our Lord Himself, who knew and told us that the love of many should wax cold, that faith should seem in danger of extinction. We know it from the course of all Church history, which is a mixed record of success and failure. If we have waited for the fruits of half a century of Missionary work, it is allowable to take comfort from the fact that many a nation had to wait for centuries, whilst the sound of the Gospel was gladdening other lands, before the feet of the messengers of the Gospel of peace appeared upon its borders. The signs that deject us are not signs that God has departed from us; they are such as the Church has always had to show. "We see not our tokens: there is not one prophet more, no, not one is there among us who understandeth any more." These words of the Psalmist might have been applied far more truly to other times and countries than to our own. I grant that if a kingdom like this, ruling over a fifth part of the population of the globe, had turned itself earnestly towards missionary work—if it had found abundance of volunteers for its various Missions—if it had poured out its means unstintingly, and in due proportion to those objects upon which a nation has to expend its wealth—if it had followed the progress of its efforts with much anxiety, with many prayers, and if all sign of fruit had been denied to it, and its Missionaries had found nothing but disbelief and derision, it might have thought with reason that the laws of the spiritual world had ceased to prevail. Prayer without an answer; zeal without result; the Gospel message without power, without peace, without attraction for any; if these portents came upon such a nation, it might well stand amazed as though the sun had been turned to darkness and the moon to blood. For there are spiritual laws as there are physical; and those laws we know sufficiently from our Lord Himself to be sure that He will be with His faithful messengers, that He will not deny true prayers offered in His name, that He will give the increase if the seed of the word be faithfully sown. But suppose the condition of a nation to be wholly different from this; suppose that in its greatest dependency, where there are millions of people, followers of idols and followers of the false prophet, she has done nothing at all for Christ during a century of her trust, and very little indeed during the next half century; suppose that she spends millions on the apparatus of war and only a few thousands on missionary work; suppose that each report of her missionary Societies ended with the same despairing cry, year after year, that men were wanting, that money was wanting, for fresh attempts; and suppose that the same reports announced some, but not much, success; I do not think that there is here any breach in a spiritual law, any portent that should alarm us. A half-hearted nation, dealing with a long arrear of neglect, has been careless and perfunctory about her greatest duty. The Missionary, with little support and countenance from his own people, has delivered his message; and his message has been this, that notwithstanding the utter neglect that has been in the past, notwithstanding the strange fact that the nation sends out soldiers by thousands and ministers by twos and threes, the knowledge of Christ's salvation is the one thing needful for men and nations, the treasure above all treasures, the science by the side of which all science is vain; and that this precious possession any man or any nation is bound to communicate by the same law of love that brought it to him. You see that he is speaking with all the past history of his people smiling a mocking contradiction of his earnest words; with all the present proceedings of his nation contradicting him. Would any nation, imperious and irascible in all that concerns its rule, full of energy and resources in maintaining civil order; would any nation thus treat its most precious possession? Late in the day, when the sun seems declining, it suffers a few Missionaries to come over, accepted without much selection as to special fitness, seeing the candidates are so few, and to preach faithfully a message that has been long in coming. If some of the natives whom we address read our message thus, we cannot wonder—"We have been conquering you for generations, subverting the thrones of your princes, taxing you, fighting against you, fighting with you on our side; we have forgotten till now to mention to you properly that the King of kings is Christ Himself; that the chief evil in your condition is sin; that Christ is able, and He alone, to deliver you from sin, and to open out to you everlasting life." Such a message, so brought, is a heavy indictment against ourselves.

For my own part, brethren—and I speak as a very diffident witness, upon a subject so great—I can see no indication whatever that the days of missionary success are past and gone. I find in the condition of India at this moment a close resemblance to the condition of the Roman Empire in the first and second century. In both there is a gross idolatry, propped by the traditions of ages, by many songs and poems, by the prejudice of the vulgar. In both there is a profound dissatisfaction with such a religion in the minds of all that really think. In both, cultivation has advanced to such a point that the old superstition cannot bear the criticism that educated people bring to bear upon it. The young Brahmin (I quote now from a recent account of one who knows his subject well *) has received in some town a secular education; he knows a good deal about modern ideas, and the results of modern progress. He returns to his village, and finds a different atmosphere. "He bears in his heart the most profound contempt for all that his father, the bigoted old Shastri, and his friends, go on telling of what their gods did, which seem to him fit only to amuse vicious children; he is pained at their open worship of their hideous stone and metal idols, whose legendary acts and attributes appear to his awakened moral sense even more debased than their outward forms." It is upon soil such as this that the word of God would fall, whether from the lips of some serious-minded friend or from some missionary's sermon. So in the old Roman world there must have silently grown a profound disgust with the popular religion, long before a Lucian in the second century spoke out and laughed it all to scorn. He ridicules the thunderbolt in the hand of the conventional Jupiter; its fire has gone out; the wick of yesterday's lamp is as awful to one about to perjure himself in the name of Jupiter as that weapon once so awful. Before a writer such as he was—a man high in honour, wealth, and public employment—could have been suffered to utter such impieties (as they appeared) he must have been sure that all cultivated society and all public men were secretly on his side. But in the Roman world this decayed foliage of the old superstitions formed a rich soil in which the grain of mustard seed grew to a great tree. Why should it not be so in the modern India? Do not tell me that the high-caste Hindoo is fenced in by his doctrine of caste. The Roman world was converted from below; Christianity was strong in the hearts of humble people before "society," as it is called, had withdrawn from the old idols a formal recognition. Do not say that what is called positive philosophy will take the place in India of the decaying religion. Rome had its philosophies; imported them largely, made them a little. Most of them, like this positive philosophy, were bounded by the limits of this life, and took no thought of anything outside it. But not the less did Christ's religion descend upon that soil and live its eighteen centuries. It was stronger than they, and it expelled them. It told them of heaven and hell; it unfolded sin and holiness; it touched men with the promise of reconciliation. Herein it was higher, wider, deeper than philosophy. This destroyed men's belief in the past religions; that built up new hopes. This exploded what had become inconsistent with known ideas; that unfolded a new scheme which, and which alone, explains and harmonizes the deepest ideas of our nature. Oh, poor lost man, far gone in sin, drifted far away from that condition of holy service in which God intended thee to live, this mark of God's hand does indeed remain to thee, that thou hast never lived long contented with any system that could show thee no God, and hold out to thee no immortality, and teach thee no way of holiness, and bring thee no peace.

Time fails me to pursue this theme. Our country holds from God a most onerous trust. If India, which is but one part of it, should find, after her present darkness, no light of truth; if she should frame for herself fantastic schemes of religion of which Christ is not the God and King; and if this country is to blame that so many of her flock shall go astray, great must be our national guilt, and heavy the national retribution. We do not know so clearly how God punishes nations, but we know too well how men are judged and punished; we know which way our own duties lie. We must not refuse our interest to the trite subject of Missions. We must not leave such a Society as this to drift towards insolvency because it has seen the way to spending last year a little more than our most frugal benevolence has supplied the means.

Let us not leave this Church until we have asked ourselves—What am I doing to make the kingdom of Christ grow, and be known and felt amongst men? Our first thought, perhaps, will be a certain humiliation at our remissness. Whilst our friends are pushing their way through the sea fogs of an inhospitable shore, or mastering the difficulties of a barbarous dialect, to preach in tents or on the mountains to the poor people whose speech it is, the things that belong to their peace, we are sleeping softly, and the thousand comforts of a home soothe us, and every rough place is made plain before us. Yet the work of Christ in the world is all one, and each of us can share it. From looking round the world to see where Christ the crucified is preached, let us come back to ourselves and say, "He was crucified for me!" It is not by your gifts alone that Jesus will be made known by means of England to all the countries round about, but by your becoming holy men and holy women, crucified to the world and to the lusts and affections of the flesh. From a holy nation only good things could flow. Men would be not wanting in a nation largely leavened with the knowledge that Christ is the way, the truth, and the life; for in such a people it would be thought the best employment to make Christ known. Money will not be wanting when we have tasted the sweetness of the heavenly gift and wish to impart it to others as the only good thing. Year by year, as we measure the fruit of Missions, let us judge our own spiritual state. Is Christ now living indeed? Is He for us what we pray that He may be to all the heathen—"a King reigning in righteousness, a hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest, as rivers of water in a dry place, as a shadow of a great rock in a weary land?" Oh! deep peace and blessedness of knowing Him! the measure of the misery of knowing Him not! It will stir you to help those that are without, in cold and darkness, in sin and terror. When Christ is with you in your hearts, He will manifest Himself in you as love to the brethren, even as He manifested His love when He walked in Galilee with apostles by His side. All the lost millions of heathendom are His, for He died for them. Go and call them into the fold of their Shepherd. At the great day of account you will hear with unspeakable pleasure His sentence upon your toil, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." (Matt. xxv. 40.)

Some of the Map-blocks belonging to the Society having been destroyed or temporarily mislaid, in consequence of the fire that broke out on the premises of the Society's Printer, it has not been found practicable to supply this volume with those illustrative Sketch-maps that were introduced into the two preceding Annual Reports.

As the Society's Atlas is likely to be reprinted, it is hoped that this deficiency will be supplied in the course of a few months.

REPORT,

&c., &c.

THE Committee, in presenting their annual financial Statement, have a less grateful task than on many previous occasions: they have to announce a very serious excess of Expenditure above the Income. The Expenditure has amounted to 157,247*l.* 9*s.* 8*d.*; the Income to 141,828*l.* 10*s.* 7*d.*, showing a deficiency of 15,418*l.* 19*s.* 1*d.*

In comparing the income of this with that of the previous year there would appear to be a falling off to the amount of 13,365*l.* 18*s.* But this arises from the exceptionally large amount of Legacies and Donations which fell in during last year.

The contributions from Associations, which form the life-blood of the Society, have nearly reached the average of the last few years; but the expenditure of the Society has, during the same period, advanced so rapidly, that it must be distinctly stated that the expenditure is at this time in excess of receipts to the amount of at least 12,000*l.*

In explanation of this, the Committee must remind their friends, that at the termination of the Indian Mutiny the Christian public were urgent, and the Society showed itself prompt, to strengthen and extend their Missions in that land. A Special Indian Fund was opened, which supplied about 10,000*l.* a year for seven years. When that Special Fund was exhausted, in the year 1864, this Committee appealed successfully to the country to increase the income to the extent of 10,000*l.* a year to keep up the Indian Missions at their advanced expenditure. Another crisis has now occurred: the impulse given to the enlargement of our Missions has outrun the expectations of the Committee in 1864, while, moreover, the expenses of living in India and in other countries have been rising continually. Not only, therefore, is special effort needed to wipe off the present deficit, but increased exertion to augment the income by at least 10,000*l.*, in order to keep up the Missions on their present scale.

The question therefore is—Shall the expenditure be cut down by curtailments and retrenchments which must cause most serious embarrassments, and seem, indeed, impossible to contemplate; or will the members and friends of the Society resolve that increased exertions over a wider range shall supply the Committee with a steady reliable income, adequate not only to the maintenance of the existing agency, but sufficient to meet the calls for gradual expansion, and for entry on fresh fields which are now pressing upon the Society from almost every quarter of the world?

Associations	114,767	4	5
Benefactions	7,947	18	4
Legacies	12,927	17	9
Sundries	6,185	10	1
	£141,828	10	7
Ordinary Expenditure of the year	157,247	9	8
Deficit, 1869-70	15,418	19	1
Surplus, 1868-69	3,302	5	2
Net Deficit, 1869-70	£12,116	13	11

PATRONAGE.

The Bishops of Bath and Wells, Carlisle, Exeter, Manchester, and Oxford, being Members of the Society, have, according to No. II. of the Fundamental Laws and Regulations, become Vice-Presidents of the Society.

Death of John Campbell Colquhoun

The Committee had appointed, several months ago, as one of their Vice-Presidents, John Campbell Colquhoun, but they have to record their unfeigned sorrow at the great loss to this Society and to the Church of Christ, of that able and devoted Christian.

CHURCH MISSIONARY INSTITUTION.

The following selections from the Principal's Report will be read with interest:—

Whilst it must not be ignored that individual instances have caused temporary pain, the Principal, in taking a review of the whole year is thankful to be able to repeat the testimony, which it has almost invariably been his happiness to give, to the satisfactory spirit, demeanour and conduct of the students as a body. To the utmost of their power, in some instances almost beyond their power, they have prosecuted their appointed course of studies. Instead of the spur urging to greater diligence, occasionally the curb has seemed more requisite, lest health should be endangered by a too close and assiduous application.

Misssionary efforts continue to be prosecuted, as heretofore, amongst the poor and neglected classes of the population; and every student has assigned to him some branch of evangelistic labour, which, as a rule, is undertaken with cheerful alacrity and zeal.

The entire number of admissions has amounted to twelve. Exactly the same number of students have left the College during the year. The number in residence when the Report of last year was presented was thirty-six: it is the same at the present time. Owing to the new regulation respecting the time of admission, the average of the year is smaller than it would otherwise have been, amounting only to thirty-three, the smallest annual average reported for the past ten years. Of the twelve who have left during the year, nine have completed their course, and have been designated to various spheres of Missionary labour. The majority have already reached their appointed destinations; all but two having some months since sailed for their several stations. Three out of the twelve candidates admitted the Society owes to the Christian efforts and large-hearted liberality of the former Principal of the College, the Rev. C. F. Childe, who mainly, if not wholly, at his own expense has maintained and prepared these Candidates and presented them to the Committee as a pledge of his continued interest in the work of Missions, and his desire to further the great work in which the Society is engaged. May an abundant blessing rest upon him for this fresh token of his love for the cause of our common Lord and Master!

It may not be improper to refer to a cheering incident connected with another former student of the Institution which has been brought before the notice of the Christian Public by the venerable Archdeacon Pratt, in his account of a recent visit to Burmah. The brief narrative (though in one or two particulars connected with the earlier history of the party slightly erroneous) will be best given in the Archdeacon's own words:—

"On my return from Moulmein, on my way to Akyab, I spent another day at Rangoon, and was glad to pay a visit to Mr. Sandys' school, of which I had not heard before. Mr. Sandys was a Burmese lad, who adopted the name of the senior Missionary, the Rev. T. Sandys, by whom he was baptized some years ago in Calcutta. He was sent home, and educated in the Church Missionary Institution at Islington, and came out to be a schoolmaster at Meerut, where I saw him in charge of the Church Missionary Society's Town School in 1863. He afterwards went to Kotgurh, but having a strong desire to come to his native land, he came to Rangoon. He has got up here a school of his own—200 Burmese boys on his books, 150 in average attendance. The answers of the first-class in Scripture, and their good pronunciation in English, were surprising. Mr. Sandys is a regular Communicant at the English Church, and is much respected. This is a most interesting instance of a pure Native Burmese, an intelligent and well informed Christian, maintaining an independent position, adorning his Christian profession, and devoting himself to the Christian enlightenment of his countrymen. May God keep him steadfast, and greatly promote his usefulness."

The Rev. G. F. W. Munby, after being connected with the College as Tutor for more than thirteen years, has within the last few months retired from his office. He has been appointed to the Rectory of Turvey, in Bedfordshire, so well known as the scene for many years of the ministry of the excellent Legh Richmond. The Principal cannot speak too highly of the valuable labours of his late assistant. With true-hearted devotedness he consecrated all his powers and energies to the service of the Institution, and, by his spirit and example, no less than by the instruction he imparted, promoted the best interest of the several generations of students with whom he had to do.

The Principal cannot pass on from this topic without expressing once more his deep sense of gratitude for the valuable aid he has always received from his esteemed colleague, the Vice-Principal. No one knows so well as he does how much the Institution generally, and himself personally, are indebted to the diligent, faithful and affectionate services of one who has now devoted well nigh thirty years to this one blessed work.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Thirteen of the Society's Candidates have been admitted to Holy Orders during the year, seven by the Bishop of London, and one by the Archbishop of Canterbury; three Natives by Bishop Crowther; one Native by the Bishop of Calcutta; and one European by the Bishop of Rupert's Land.

DECEASE OF LABOURERS.

The following labourers have been removed by death during the past year.—

West Africa Mission—The Rev. G. R. Caiger died on board the "Biafra," whilst at the Gambia, on the 15th of April, 1870, on his way to England.

Western India Mission—The Rev. C. W. H. Isenberg died at Stuttgart on the 19th of February, 1870. The Rev. James Bunter, Native, died at Sharanpur on the 2nd of March, 1870.

NUMBER OF LABOURERS.

Nine European Clergymen and two European Female Teachers have been sent forth during the year: five European and four Native Clergymen have been removed by death; and six Clergymen and one Layman have, on account of health and other causes, ceased to be connected with the Society. The number of European labourers in full connexion with the Society is as follows:—

Abroad—
Ordained European Missionaries . .	153
Unordained European Labourers . .	13
European Female Teachers	6
		172
At Home—
Ordained European Missionaries . .	50
Unordained European Labourers . .	6
European Female Teachers	2
		58
Total		230

Showing an increase of one Clergyman; decrease of three Laymen; and an increase of three Female Teachers.

The number of ordained Native and Country-born labourers is one hundred and fourteen.

The head-quarters for African Mission Extension.

SIERRA LEONE is not now so much a Mission Station as the head-quarters for African Mission extension. The Native Church seems firmly established. The voluntary contributions of Native Christians towards its support are steadily increasing, having risen from 585*l.* in the year 1862 to 798*l.* in the year 1868. Connected with the Pastorate there are now ten principal Stations and eighteen out-stations. Each Station has a substantial stone church with a congregation varying from 200 to 700 persons. In the Out-stations the services are conducted by Native Catechists or Schoolmasters. The self-supporting Grammar School, with its 100 pupils, and zealous African Principal, continues to prosper. One of its former scholars—the Rev. Henry Johnson—who was lately in this country—is now acting as a linguist for the translation of the Scriptures into the language of the tribes adjoining the colony. The Fourah Bay College still sends out promising recruits for evangelistic and pastoral work. Its present Principal is about to return home. The Society look to the younger Clergy in England for a competent successor. The Female Institution, which furnishes education for the higher classes, and which is rendered more than ever necessary by the active efforts of the ladies belonging the Roman Catholic Mission, is still efficiently maintained. Christianity in Sierra Leone has produced on the whole effects not dissimilar from those which may be observed in Protestant countries generally. In Sierra Leone, as in England, many openly neglect religion, many are mere professors, and in God's own children there are many faults and blemishes; yet there also, as in England, the power of the Gospel makes itself felt and perceived in many ways, both temporally and spiritually.

Christianity in Sierra Leone and England compared.

There are still heathen in the colony itself. Amongst one section of these, the Kroomen, the preaching of the Gospel has, during the last year, produced marked effect.

Branching out from Sierra Leone, Missionary effort has been pushed northward, eastward, and southward. These efforts are still in their infancy. In Sherbro, to the south, but little has yet been accomplished. Some results have begun to be seen in British Quiah to the east; while to the north, in the Bullom Country, the good work is still more solidly progressing, It is an interesting fact that these fields of Missionary labour are watched over with parental solicitude by the Native Church, and are largely supplied by them with men and means.

While these pages were passing through the press, the Committee received the mournful intelligence of the death of the devoted senior Missionary, the Rev. G. R. Caiger, who succumbed to the African fever while on his way to England.

Church Missionary Society's Auxiliary.

The total sum raised by this Auxiliary was, for the year 1869, 458*l.*, being about 5*l.* less than in the year 1868. The diminution was occasioned by the absence of receipts from some places outside the colony. The sum raised in Sierra Leone itself was larger than in the preceding year. The purposes to which this money is applied are explained in the following extract from the Anniversary Sermon preached by one of the Native Clergymen:—

Church Missionary Contributions in Sierra Leone.

> To excite our interest in the general work of Missions, and to elicit our sympathy on behalf of heathen of every clime and hue, a moiety of our contributions is annually devoted to the general evangelistic labours of our great Society; and, to localize our efforts, the other moiety is appropriated to the evangelization of our more immediate neighbours, the Timnehs, the Mendi, and the Sherbros. At the mention of these names my heart bleeds to think of the amount of injustice we are guilty of to these poor benighted people.

Their rice forms pretty nearly the colonial "staff of life;" we use their palm and nut oil for a variety of purposes. Their palm-kernel and bene-seed are objects of our colonial export; and are we making them an adequate return of our spiritual good things? Might they not with propriety reverse the Apostle's words on another subject and apply them to us—"If we have sown unto you worldly things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your spiritual things?" The very term Timneh seems, in the colony, to be but a synonym of ignorance—I had almost said idiotcy; but yet how little we think of the amount of responsibility that that very fact entails upon us in this highly-favoured colony. It often occurs to me that one reason why so little is done to evangelize the heathen around is the lamentable ignorance of the real condition of these people that prevails amongst those who are in a position to help the cause of Missions. Although at our very door, very few seem to care to have, or seek to obtain a personal knowledge of their real condition. The utter absence of anything like roads in their wooded habitations renders it altogether uninviting to those who are accustomed to take an evening leisurely walk round the King Tom's, or along the broad Fourah-Bay Road.

Condition of surrounding Heathenism.

Oh could you go into the Quiah land and see our nearest neighbours, in whom you behold a fair specimen of heathen destitution—could you see the ignorance, degradation and sin among them—how would your bowels yearn within you—how would you be stirred to do much more than ever hitherto you have done for the benefit of the poor heathen at large! The moral perversity and obstinacy of these people have grown into a proverb: the comparative unproductiveness of Missionary efforts among them hitherto has been a source of discouragement to many who have almost sunk into despondency, and are disposed to say, "Why any further efforts? Leave the people to themselves: they are irreclaimable: it is of no use to try any longer." I ask, brethren, is this the way God deals with us? Have we not had "line upon line; precept upon precept; here a little and there a little?" The providence of God seems designedly to have placed these people in our neighbourhood as a test of our Christian zeal and perseverance on behalf of others. Shame and humiliation we should feel when we reflect on the paucity of the means hitherto employed in carrying on the good work around us, and what little we have done to increase their efficiency.

The Lord grant that this stirring appeal may not prove ineffectual.

Native Pastorate.

An important independent testimony has been given to the efficiency of the Native Pastorate. Major Alexander Bravo, who took the chair at the Annual Meeting of the Pastorate Auxiliary, made the following remarks:— Testimony to the Native Pastorate.

As the police magistrate of this colony, in my own person I have reason to know of the value of the Native Pastorate; I allude to the order, sobriety, and respectability of the inhabitants of the rural districts, two of which being under my immediate management I am able to speak of from a strong point of view. I do the Native Pastors but simple justice in saying that but for them those districts could not be kept in the admirable order they are, with a solitary policeman in some of the villages; whilst in many that guardian of the public peace is only conspicuous by his absence. I also say it to the credit of those villages, that they seem to get on remarkably well without him; and why? because they have the minister to settle the "palavers," which he always does to their entire satisfaction, without having to send either of the disputants to prison, a privilege the police magistrate certainly does not enjoy. So it is, I say the Native Pastors are, outside their ministerial work, in every way an advantage and saving to the Government, for without them in the rural districts there would have to be maintained resident managers, and a police force equal to, if not larger than, Freetown demands. So again I say all success to the Native Pastorate; and if you are possessed of the same sentiment, let your subscriptions alone exceed your sympathy, and support a body of men who set us all a good example, and from whose society we derive both pleasure and profit.

Fourah Bay Institution.

The Principal, the Rev. H. J. Alcock, whose intended departure from the colony has already been noticed, has been actively and usefully employed during the year. The course of study seems to have been admirably selected.

The students number nine, as before. I have been unwilling to admit one or two I might have taken this year, as I did not see any reasonable hope of their education being completed before I left. Most of these have been with me considerably over two years, and will, I hope, be much over three ere they are dismissed to their respective posts. Six of them, who as a rule have been here the longest, I shall call "senior students," as being, in mental power and general progress, more advanced than the rest. Let me try to give you some idea of their course of study.

First year—Careful preparation of, and examination in, the Studies in Fourah Bay Institution.

Holy Scriptures, with Scott's Commentary and other helps, one hour daily; Grote on Christianity, and Jewell's Apology, selected portions; the Greek Testament, very carefully construed; Butler's Analogy (this I was forced to put them into rather prematurely, as the first students who had been in training when I came, and two of whom were lately ordained, were engaged at it, and I had not time to take them all separately); Paley's Evidences.

Second year—Scripture as before; Paley and Butler completed; Greek Testament carefully read through and parsed from end to end; Procter on the Prayer-book, with Blakeney and Goode on disputed points; Hebrew begun; Burnet on Thirty-nine Articles; Pearson on Creed.

Third year—Pearson completed; Hebrew continued (we hope to give them such a knowledge of the language as, with the help of the English version, would enable them to translate the Old Testament into a native dialect, if occasion required); Romish Controversy, as exposed in Blakeney and Collette.

But our chief work for a long time past has been unquestionably the acquisition of certain native dialects grammatically and colloquially, as, with one exception, of which I hope to speak subsequently, every student is preparing to go forth beyond the borders as a Missionary. Three of them can write and speak Ibo fluently, and are destined for Bishop Crowther. Of these, two are among the "junior students," and are not remarkable by any means for excellence of English composition, &c.; but as in their posts they are never likely to hear English spoken, I have not attached much weight to this. Of the rest, four are and have been hard at work at Timneh. The other two students are learning Mendi.

The efforts made for their spiritual good are thus described:—

Religious instruction imparted.

I try as far as I can to impress upon the students that communion with God through the Spirit is, after all, the only preparation for and protection in the trials and troubles of life. I also remind them that God usually works by the means He has Himself appointed, and that devout reading and meditation upon Holy Scripture is the regular channel of blessing. I have every reason to believe they read the word of God in private, night and morning. Besides our regular family prayer twice a-day, we have continued our weekly prayer-meeting, which, as before, is conducted entirely by the students themselves. We, that is, the students, supply on an average about five sermons per fortnight—one at Kissy Road every Thursday evening, and one at Cline Town every Sunday afternoon, and occasionally in the evening. Every sermon before being preached is read here on Thursday, which is set apart for that purpose. It is then commented on by myself. I have to state that the behaviour of the students is very exemplary.

One more sentence may be quoted from Mr. Alcock's report:—

I consider the African intellect, with similar advantages, quite equal to the European, and I must confess I would any day as soon teach coloured students as European.

One of the most promising students was removed by death in the course of the year. His last message to his tutor was as follows:—

Peaceful death of a student.

I am going to heaven, that land of bliss, contentment and everlasting love. I trust in my Saviour Jesus Christ: He has died for my sins, and washed them away. Jesus is dear to my soul; He holds me in His bosom; He will be with me through the dark valley of the shadow of death. It is better for me to go than to remain.

Charlotte.

During the greater part of the year the Rev. C. H. Brierley, who has charge of this district, was absent from the colony on furlough. Meanwhile the care of the native congregation devolved upon a Native Curate, the Rev. G. Hazeley; and the Liberated African Girls' School, situated in this village, was also placed under Native management. Mr. and Mrs. Brierley give the following account of their return to their station:—

Welcome to a returning Missionary

We received a most hearty welcome from all. The people met us in Freetown with hammock and palanquin: they had decorated them very tastefully with flowers and white flags—tokens of their joy and gladness at our return. Our dear Sunday-school teachers (and I may here state that they have gone on with their work in a most praiseworthy manner during our absence in England) were among the first to greet us on our arrival. As we came near to Charlotte, men, women, and children met us in crowds, who made our hands and ears ache with their warm salutations. When we got to our home we found the house and yard filled with people. We assembled as many as we could in the schoolroom and sang the well-known hymn, "Come, let us join our cheerful songs." After which we had a few words of prayer, and they all went away quietly to their homes. True, we went to bed, but were too excited to sleep much, and did indeed feel, as we were in our lonely home, that "Hitherto the Lord had helped us." The state in which we found the school speaks well for our liberated children, who have been left alone for so many months almost without any European supervision. We had four of our girls married on Tuesday. Three of the young men have been educated by the American Missionaries in the Sherbro, so our dear girls will be, in a measure, among their own country-people. We look upon this event as an answer to prayer, and earnestly entreated them to be bright examples to the heathen, and to gather the children around them to be instructed as they themselves had been taught in our schools. We are retaining several of the better and more promising girls to be trained as schoolmistresses, if the Committee will kindly allow us.

Krootown.

Mission work among Seamen.

The Kroomen are well known as a seafaring population from whom sailors and ship-boys are often supplied for British merchantmen. There is a settlement of them at Sierra Leone bearing the appropriate name of Krootown. Of rough and reckless character, they seemed a hopeless field for Missionary effort, and the first attempts were apparently discouraging. But God has been faithful to His promise. Though the majority still openly neglect the Gospel, and though drunkenness and licentiousness abound, an increasing proportion attend the means of grace; vice is less rampant than it was, while not a few give evidence of having undergone an inward and spiritual change.

May this be an encouragement to the work among the Sierra Leone Mohammedans—a field as unpromising to outward appearance as Krootown was formerly.

Bananas.

The inhabitants of the Bananas, numbering about 600, are all nominally Christian. The work of the Native Minister stationed there, the Rev. Samuel Mousa, is exclusively pastoral. He speaks encouragingly of the labours of the year.

Missions beyond the Colony.

BULLOM.

The labours of Mr. Boston, Native Missionary at this station, are accompanied with some visible proofs of God's favour, as will be seen by the following extracts from his Report:—

Spread of the Gospel in the regions beyond.

The divine blessing has attended our labours; and it is my happy privilege to acknowledge that in some instances fresh tokens of success have been observed to crown our feeble efforts. Events there are, witnessed by us, which show that the precious seed of the Gospel planted in this land of pagan darkness since the days of the Rev. Mr. Nylander is not lost. The dawn of spiritual light seems to have begun to break forth in the minds of a few sons of the Bulloms; while many a Sierra Leone man, whose profession of Christianity was long buried in sensuality and superstition, has received new life, and been brought once more to feel and acknowledge that Jesus is his Lord and Saviour.

Two Natives, with four Sierra Leone immigrants, besides fifteen infants, have been admitted by baptism into the Church of Christ. The first Christian marriage performed here last May between two Bullom couples, was an event full of interest. The words spoken by two heathen men, on that occasion, are worthy of remark. One said, "This is a great thing done in our country to day, and nothing short of the Gospel's influence has brought it about." "One after another shall certainly come," is the statement of the other, "and join himself with you to seek and know the Lord." Sogo Johnson and Fenkre his wife have since then become regular communicants at the table of the Lord, and partook with us in the memorials of His dying love.

Social improvement of bordering heathen.

Another thing that attracts our attention is, that besides the few natives of this land who embrace the Christian faith, the social condition of the heathen around us is a little improved. They are generally known to be idle and indolent people, neglecting to attend even to things that concern their personal wants and welfare. But now a great many near us are distinguished from their countrymen by their orderly behaviour, plain but decent dress in their own national costume, clean dwelling-houses, and diligence in cultivating their lands; thus furnishing themselves and all in their family circle with sufficient articles of food.

The Sunday services of our various stations in the district give general satisfaction. At Yongro our number of worshippers is increased by about fifty souls over that of the past year, so that I may now speak of my congregation as numbering nearly 250. Some from among us have gone, during this period, to their eternal rest, in hope of a glorious resurrection when our Lord shall return at the last judgment-day. Our Church-helpers have continued to give us their active services, and were never observed to grow remiss in the duties apportioned them. Meetings for devotional exercises, similar to that in which some of our female Christians have been engaged for the last four years, have been organized among the male portion of our congregation, who know experimentally the blessings and advantages to be derived therefrom. These prayer-meetings and our weekly classes for religious instruction give us much pleasure and encouragement in our work, especially when we notice their blessed effect as contributing to the spiritual health of the little flock: their growth in scriptural knowledge is thereby greatly promoted, the majority of them being unable to read for themselves. We can complain of no direct opposition to our work; here but a Mohammedan school, established in this village over two years back, is doing, to some extent, the mischief for which it was intended. Many of the Native children have left our school: a few taken back home to their heathen parents have severed themselves from all the benefits of religious teachings and Christian worship.

The Catechists of the out-stations of Ro Banny and Kitonk have similar encouragements in their work. There is a Bullom Association for evangelizing the unoccupied parts of the country. This, however, as yet, is only in its infancy. During the year the contributions raised from the Native Christians of the Bullom country for various purposes have amounted to upwards of 54*l*.

BRITISH QUIAH.

South Quiah.

The Rev. J. Beale, Superintendent of this Mission, having returned to England, the work has been conducted pro. tem. by a Native Schoolmaster under the supervision of the Native Pastor at Waterloo.

North Quiah.

This Mission is under the superintendence of Rev. C. Knodler. The work is carried on chiefly by itinerancies. At Benkia, where Mr. Knodler resides, services are kept up regularly, with an average attendance of twenty-five worshippers. In reference to the prospects of the work, the Native Catechist, after citing two instances wherein the Natives have manifested great interest in the preached Gospel, speaks thus:—

The way of the Gospel prepared of God.

From the foregoing cases I am fully convinced that the Lord is opening a way for the progress of His blessed Gospel in this land. Hundreds of the people who inhabit the other side of the river bordering on our station are thirsting after the Bread of Life.

SHERBRO.

A Native Minister, the Rev. Moses Pearce, is carrying on the work at Sherbro. He reports hopeful indications of spiritual movement among the nominally Christian Sierra Leone immigrants. There have been no accessions from the heathen. Mohammedanism and certain rites and associations among the idolaters are the chief obstacles met with.

Mr. Pearce thus reviews the labours of the year:—

The year just coming to a close is marked with peculiar favours and blessings from Almighty God upon our work in this place. We have not been altogether unsuccessful in our labours amongst the Sierra Leone people who form our congregation; nor have our visits been unacceptable to the heathen in their several hamlets, though the peculiar difficulties that attach themselves to our work amongst them remain the same. I firmly believe Satan will ultimately yield his own deadly grasp, and forsake his stronghold; and the Gospel of Christ will successfully find its way in this portion of heathendom, so that souls will be gained for Christ. The services every Lord's-day are well attended. Oh that the spirituality of life was in proportion to the number! More than two-thirds of the inhabitants are church-going people, though not regular attendants: great attention is paid to the reading of the Word of God and the preaching of the Gospel.

Means of Grace attended, and instruction valued.

The day school numbers forty-four scholars, showing a decrease of twelve: this is owing to the unexpected removal of parents with their children to different localities for the purposes of trade. This is a very great drawback to our work in the Sherbro. Things are so unsettled, that for the present there will be this variation as to number. The subjects taught are Scripture, History, Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Watts's and Church Catechisms, &c.

A Juvenile Missionary Meeting is held once every month: it is interesting to observe how, with almost breathless attention, the children will listen, while Mr. Gerber, the schoolmaster, is relating some interesting pieces from the 'Juvenile Instructor,' explaining how English children endeavour to add their quota to the great work of sending the Gospel to the heathen.

An out-station has been lately formed at Victoria in consequence of application from the Sierra Leone traders residing there: it is under the care of a faithful Native Catechist, and is rapidly becoming important.

The people have erected a mud chapel, measuring 36 by 22 feet, at their own cost. The Sunday services are well attended, the worshippers varying from 99 to 130, all British subjects. The Natives at present do not seem to care to attend any place of worship, contenting themselves to remain during the Lord's-day in their 'Barrehs' drinking, smoking, and gambling. However, the ameliorating influence of the Gospel is gradually telling upon them. Drumming, dancing, gun firing, which used to be their favourite amusements on the Lord's-day, are now being abandoned.

General View.

THOUGH the Yoruba Mission has not been favoured during the last year with any large accession of converts or inquirers, yet its general state must be regarded as thriving and hopeful.

In the British possession of Lagos the Native Christians, who are for the most part immigrants from Sierra Leone, are paying increased attention to the means of grace. Schoolrooms and buildings for public worship are rapidly springing up in almost every quarter of the town and its suburbs. One church is a large, handsome, and even costly edifice. The Christians of Lagos are practically acknowledging their responsibility for the support of their own Church. Increased efforts are made, or are contemplated, for the education of those who will form hereafter the leading inhabitants of the place. The Grammar School, the Training College for Native Ministers and schoolmasters, and the Female Institution for the upper classes, are receiving careful attention. Greater willingness to listen to the Gospel is visible in the neighbouring towns and villages. This is especially the case in Badagry, where the Popos, long wilfully deaf to the gracious words of the Saviour, are by twos and threes joining themselves to the Christian Church. Urgent requests reach the Committee from Lagos for additional labourers to itinerate in the surrounding country. Street preaching is steadily carried on in Lagos itself.

Abeokuta Native Church without Europeans, stands firm and gains strength.

In Abeokuta the Native Christians, still without a European amongst them, have been enabled throughout another year, not only to stand firm, but to increase in strength. The senior European Missionary, who is now at Lagos, reports them as being, on the whole, in a more satisfactory condition than before the outbreak. They are, in fact, showing an energy and a liberality which it was not known they possessed; and, unaided by European money, are fast rebuilding the ruined churches and schoolrooms. There are tares among the wheat, but Christian discipline is not neglected, and many proofs are afforded of real spiritual life. The political aspect of Abeokuta is still doubtful.

Ibadan has also, in the providence of God, been deprived of its European Missionaries. This has been brought about, not as in Abeokuta by the violence of enemies, but by failure of the Missionaries' health. It will be seen by the details given further on, that the Lord is graciously pleased to uphold the Native Christian flock, and to enable them to hold fast to their confession of Christ.

LAGOS.

It was mentioned in the last Report that the Native Christians of Lagos had resolved to relieve the Society of all expenditure on their schools. Steps have now been taken to organize on a self-supporting basis the Native Church itself. Opportunity was taken for this purpose of the return to the Yoruba country of the veteran Missionary Townsend. The Rev. H. Townsend reached Lagos on the 16th January last. A Missionary Conference was held on the 19th, when the matter was at once taken into consideration. Suitable arrangements were made for the collection of funds, and a Native Church Council established. The Council consists of three European Missionaries, two Native Pastors and five Native Church Council established.

Native Laymen, Bishop Crowther, (in the absence of the Bishop of Sierra Leone,) being ex-officio chairman. A School Committee was also created, somewhat similarly constituted. Further details are given in a letter from Mr. Nicholson, dated March 19th, 1870.

We have made a beginning in the matter of the Native Pastorate. The Church Council met for the first time on Thursday, March 10th. Mr. Townsend stated the reason why the Council had been formed, viz. in accordance with the wish of the Church Missionary Society, who were most desirous that the Native Churches should be self-supporting and self-governing. He also read an extract from the instructions given to him before leaving England, stating that the Society would supplement by a grant any sum the Council might raise. All who were present seemed to take the matter in a right spirit, and were with one consent of opinion, that it was high time for the Native Christians to make an effort in the direction pointed out by the Society.

Plans for making the Native Church self-supporting and self-governing.

The question of ways and means was first considered. It was found a Sustentation Fund could be formed and kept up by the weekly class collection, by frequent collections in the churches on Sundays, and by subscriptions.

What is to be done was the next question. Would it be better for the Church Council to take some particular station, and make that dependent altogether on the Sustentation Fund; or would it be better to take all the stations in Lagos, and do what could be done for each? The latter plan was considered the best. In order that it might be known what is really to be done, a member of the Council, a Layman, proposed that for the information of all "it should be ascertained how many Churches there are in Lagos, the number of members and agents, i.e. Native Agents, the expenses of each station, as well as the probable amount that would be raised in each station for the Sustentation Fund. Also what were the districts most needing new evangelistic efforts." The Council then adjourned, to meet the following Wednesday, when this information would be laid before them.

The following Wednesday March 17th, the members of the Church Council met again, and from the information prepared it was found about 104*l.* was the sum raised in a year by the class collections. But it was found by a little exertion it might be raised to 200*l.* in a year. The expense of the native agency at the different stations was stated to be about 310*l.* per annum. It was then resolved that the following proposition be made and sent to the Church Missionary Society, viz.—

"That the Church Council, being most willing to make a beginning in the work of making the Native Church self-supporting, do make this proposition to the Church Missionary Society, that, seeing the expense of the native agency at the stations in Lagos is about 310*l.* per year, they are willing to guarantee the Sustentation Fund shall be 200*l.* a year, and they ask the Society to grant 110*l.*, so that in this way they may meet the expenses of the native agency at all the stations in Lagos. And at the same time they express the hope that they will be able, after a while, to do much more."

After the foregoing resolution had been passed, a scheme for the extension of the work in Lagos was considered to include Tapu Town, Offisi Road, and the Island of Ido. It was resolved that efforts be made to take up this work, and to do it with the native agency already in hand. Thus—that Faji Station gives up one of the two Catechists already employed there, and that the Bread-fruit Station gives up the Visitor; and also that every available and likely unpaid agent be used who may feel desirous to help in this work.

It was also felt to be desirable that the staff of Native Pastors be increased; and it was suggested that the two Catechists at the Faji Station be ordained, viz. Mr. T. Wright and Mr. A. F. Willoughby; Mr. Willoughby to assist the Missionary in charge of the Faji Station, and Mr. Wright to take charge of Aroloya.

May this machinery and these agencies be graciously employed by God to His own glory, and vitalized by the in-breathing of the Holy Ghost!

The Rev. L. Nicholson has charge of the Bread-fruit congregation. The Native Christians attached to it number 470, of whom 200 are communicants. There have been ten adult baptisms during the year. Mr. Nicholson's account of this branch of his work is as follows:—

The Native Catechist has gone out from time to time among the heathen to seek to lift up Christ among them. The heathen in Lagos are "very hard," and make all sorts of excuses for not forsaking the customs of their forefathers; yet he can always gather a few together to listen to his message. Nor has his work been in vain, for some, through hearing him, have been led to join our class of candidates for baptism. I hope before long to be able to open a school in a part of the town to which he goes, which, if it please God, may prove the nucleus of a future Church.

The classes for Christian instruction are held three times every week: these have been well attended. The Sunday congregations are increasing—so much so, that we have been obliged to add a wing to the church. This has given us room for 100 more, which is fully taken up. Besides the enlargement of the church it has been thoroughly repaired. A new floor of tiles has been laid down in place of the mud floor, new seats, new lights for the evening service, and a new pulpit. All this work has been done by the congregation themselves at a cost of about 220*l*., without calling upon the public to help them.

The day school is well attended: many of the scholars are the children of heathen, and it is our hope that some of the parents may be led from idolatry by what their children tell them about their Bible lessons. In this we are not disappointed. A heathen woman brought me her idol, and said she would worship it no longer: her son had told her it was no use; that at school he had learned to pray to the one great God, through His Son Jesus Christ.

Heathen caught in the Gospel net.

The Sunday school is attended by 220 scholars, about the half of this number being adults. Heathen people are sometimes caught in the Gospel-net by the school. One Sunday I observed four strangers in the room. I found they came from the Ijebu country, which is one of the darkest and most cruel countries around us. The King of the Ijebus will not allow a Christian teacher in his country. I spoke to these four strangers. I found they had been to church in the morning, and said the words they heard were very sweet. I then set, as simply and shortly as possible, the Gospel before them. They seemed very much struck, especially when told that God would save all sinners who believe in His Son. One of them said "Is that the medicine"—meaning faith in Christ—"for the soul's sickness"—meaning sin: "it is wonderful." They said, looking round the school, "How happy every one appears here! we never felt so happy in our lives before: we wish our king would let us have this in our country." And they fairly laughed for joy. I then taught them two passages of Scripture, which they promised never to forget—"God so loved the world, &c.," and "The blood of Jesus Christ, cleanseth us from all sin." I have never seen them since then. I would hope the great day may declare that not in vain were they led to visit our Sunday school.

There is one thing I feel we need in Lagos very much, and that is a Missionary to itinerate about the many small towns on the lagoon. Nearly all these towns are willing to hear the Word, and they are very many. There is the Badagry lagoon, in which this work could be done for a distance of about fifty miles. Then there is the lagoon on the other side of Lagos, leading to Leke and Palma, a distance of about sixty or seventy miles. We might find a Native agent to do the work, occasionally helped by one of the Missionaries resident in Lagos. I cannot help thinking that thus a great work may be done for our Lord.

Palm Station.

At this station, which is under the charge of the Rev. V. Faulkner, there are fifty-eight communicants, and during the year there have been eighteen adult baptisms. Many of the Native Christians formerly residing in this district have removed to the new suburb of Ebute Metta. Mr. Faulkner has two Native assistants, one of whom is Mr. Doherty, who was so marvellously rescued from the tyrant of Dahomey.

Ebute Metta.

A new suburb of Lagos has recently risen up on the road towards Abeokuta. It was at first chiefly inhabited by Christian refugees from Abeokuta at the time of the outbreak. Others from Lagos seem subsequently to have joined them. Mr. Wood, in a letter dated Lagos, January 12th, thus writes respecting it:—

Gospel light radiates from Lagos.

Mr. Faulkner has now got a place at Ebute Metta, on the mainland. It is succeeding very well for the present, and is likely to do so in the future. For a time it was my duty, before going to England, to watch for any opening that might be there. At that time the state of feeling between Abeokuta and Lagos was such, that I judged it prudent (with the advice of the brethren) to move very slowly and cautiously, lest any act of mine should add fuel to the fire. Warm feeling between the Governments of the two places has gradually lessened, and mistrust diminished, so that it seems to me to have been a very proper step that Mr. Faulkner, with the concurrence of the other brethren, took, when some months ago, he erected a new place of worship there. It is very likely indeed that some day Ebute Metta will be a very important place, and we have done well to occupy it early.

Mr. Faulkner gives the following information on the same subject:—

In a letter to Mr. Venn last April I alluded to the want of a place of worship for the people who had gone, and were going, to reside at Ebute Metta. I mentioned that those who could not make it convenient to come over to Lagos for Sunday service had one among themselves in a small shed; and that this being too small for the purpose, I intended, having about 6*l.* in hand, to enlarge the place for them. Such were my intentions, but God has so far blessed me in connexion with this work, that I have been enabled to erect a temporary church, 50 ft. by 25 ft., fitted up for the accommodation of over two hundred people. The opening services were held on Tuesday, September 14th, the morning service being in English, and the sermon preached by the Rev. L. Nicholson: at the close the Lord's Supper was administered to between eighty and ninety people. The afternoon service was in Yoruba, and the sermon preached by the Rev. T. B. Macaulay. Up to the time of opening I had expended upwards of 50*l.*, of which I had received a little over 30*l.* The collection for the day being about 20*l.*, at once cleared the place from debt. His Excellency the Administrator, with several other European and Native gentlemen, were present on the occasion. Since the opening of the church the classes and Sunday services have been very well attended, several having come as inquirers from the surrounding farms, and amongst them are a few very interesting cases.

Missionary work on a small scale has been providentially opened up for the Ebute Metta Christians.

Native king desires the light for his people.

Between this place and Ebute Metta is an island called Ido, on which are three or four small villages, The king (Oloto) is very desirous that I should commence work among his people. I spoke to the Governor about it, and he has kindly promised, when laying out the place, to reserve a plot of ground for the Society's use. The king, with some of his attendants, were present at the opening of the church at Ebute Metta, and has seldom missed the Sunday morning services since. He generally gets over in time for school before the service, and some of his followers have bought primers, and are trying to learn to read. The king has also bought some for the use of his children. A few weeks ago I paid him an unexpected visit, when I found him sitting near his throne (such as it is), and his children, with a few adults, engaged in trying to spell out the words in the primer.

Ebute Ero.

The Rev. W. Morgan reports six baptisms during the year, and six inquirers under instruction at the time when he wrote. The attendance at the day school was increasing.

The Training Institution.

The Training Institution for the Yoruba Mission was originally placed at Abeokuta. It was, of course, suspended when that place was deprived of its European Missionaries. It was soon re-established at Lagos, and placed under the charge of Rev. J. B. Wood. When Mr. Wood returned to England on furlough the Institution was placed under the care of Rev. L. Nicholson, who writes as follows:—

I have not been able to give that attention I could have wished to my station duties, on account of having the charge of the Training Institution. When I first took charge of the Institution there were some thirteen students in residence; since then three have been appointed to schools, and one has been dismissed for misconduct. I believe it is for the interest of the Society's work that the place for the Institution has been changed from Abeokuta to Lagos. Here they are less liable to cherish tribal feelings, which have proved so great a bane to our work, and their view of men and things is much wider. I find the students very desirous to improve the opportunities the Society places within their reach, and those who have gone out to the work try as far as they can to improve themselves. I trust that all the students are truly converted young men: they all seem to look forward with joy to soon being in the Lord's vineyard, and profess no worldly gain shall draw them from the Society's work. This is pleasing, but they have yet to be tried.

BADAGRY.

Last year's Report announced the beginning of a good work at Badagry, after many years of seemingly hopeless labour. This has still been kept up, though it has not advanced to the extent hoped for. Mr. S. Pearse, the Native Catechist, thus writes:—

The congregation has not increased up to our expectations, yet we are thankful to God for what it is. Four of the Badagry chiefs have made it a duty to attend divine service every Lord's-day morning, and though their motive for doing so is a worldly one, I trust that from a worldly end they may eventually be directed, by continual attendance, to seek a spiritual one. One of the chiefs, Zangba by name, observed to me more than once during the past year, that he now sees the unprofitableness of the yearly sacrifice to the "Dagbe" (snake fetish) of a bullock, which he, as chief Wawu, has to provide once a year at his own cost. It is, however, very singular that not one of these chiefs, with the measure of light they possess, has seen the utility of sending their children to school.

The Lord has been graciously pleased to bless our efforts among the fetish devotees. Two of these people have renounced their fetishes to serve the living God. They have joined us, with a few others, during the past year, and at their request I have had their names enrolled in our list of candidates for baptism. Scorn, derision, and abusive language have failed to move them, and they have continued firm on the side of the Lord.

Fetish devotees become steadfast Christians.

Of those already brought within the fold, the Catechist reports as follows:—

Some have disappointed our hopes, and falsified their Christian profession by inconsistent conduct; but still the Lord has enabled us to rejoice over others who are persevering in the Christian course. The 21st November last was to me a very joyous day—a day of heartfelt gratitude to God. I felt much consoled in spirit that the trials peculiar to this station, with which it has pleased God to exercise me these many years, are not in vain. On this day I recommended to the Rev. L. Nicholson, for the sacrament of baptism, two candidates, Posu and Orunyomi. Posu is the very first Popo baptized in this place: since his conversion he has remained steadfast, notwithstanding the indignities he encountered from his former friends. Respecting Orunyomi I have simply to state, that by Akibode's advice he has since remained with us in the Mission premises, daily growing, under our immediate eye, in spiritual life.

Mr. Pearse has also endeavoured to inculcate habits of industry. A piece of land has been fenced in, which the converts have begun to cultivate.

In the early part of November last Mr. Pearse visited Woro, Ajido, and some other Popo towns in the neighbourhood of Badagry. He was well received by the chiefs, and received invitation to establish permanent Missions in some of the places visited. The journal of these visits supplies the following striking testimony from the lips of a heathen to the power of the Gospel:—

Heathen testimony to the power of the Gospel.

"White men's religion must prevail, as its foundation is based on truth and mercy, therefore by it God will reclaim the world. Comparing Woro in its present state with Woro in bygone days, there is a marked change for the better. It was a place of gross wickedness and cruelty—literally the Devil's seat; but at the very mention of that name, Jesu Kristi, the Devil's heart will melt, and his throne will begin to totter. This has commenced at Woro, and the Devil must give way." I was surprised to hear this from a man who had his neck covered with charms. Upon inquiry I found that he had heard some sermons at Lagos, and that he is only waiting to see a church built at Woro, and then he will embrace Christianity.

OTTA.

Though the Christian congregation at Otta and the Mission work there is under Bishop Crowther's superintendence, it belongs in locality to the Yoruba Mission, lying between Lagos and Abeokuta. The Rev. James White, the Native Minister of that place, is permitted to record the baptism of seven adults during the year. The anti-

Christian party at Otta has been much weakened by the death of two of its leading chiefs, and the inclination of the people generally, has become more favourable towards the Gospel. Mr. White remarks :—

Although we have not been able to visit the people in their houses during the continuance of the work, yet they have visited us from a curiosity to see a brick building, and often an opportunity offers of speaking to them about God and their never-dying souls.

ABEOKUTA.

The accounts from Abeokuta are, on the whole, encouraging, and call for continued thanksgiving; yet prayer also is still needed.

On the 2nd of December, 1869, Prince Ademda was chosen Alake, or King of Abeokuta. There has been some opposition, but it seems to be gradually subsiding. One of Ademda's principal supporters is the powerful and friendly chief, Ogudipe. Ademda has shown himself well-disposed towards the Christians, and has expressed his desire that Europeans, both Missionaries and merchants, may again reside at Abeokuta. The Egba Christians regard the present aspect of affairs as highly favourable.

Abeokuta full of promise.

The condition of the Native Church is indicated in the following extracts from Mr. Moore's annual letter :—

I am happy to be able to record, with regard to the Mission work in Abeokuta, that all fears of open opposition on the part of the authorities of the town to the preaching of the Gospel are entirely dispelled; so the liberty wherewith Christ makes free has been fully proclaimed in the town without the least fear. All who wish it may love and serve the living and true God, through His well-beloved Son, Jesus Christ. Chief Akodu, though a heathen, and once a persecutor, has, during the year subscribed 20,000 cowries towards the erection of the Igbore church, an action which, on the part of a chief, is quite unprecedented in this country. This same chief promised to be a father to the Christians of Abeokuta: he expressed in clear terms his readiness to render us help to the best of his ability in any political difficulty which we might meet with. And the other chiefs, though they have not, like Akodu, shown themselves by words or deeds to be friendly disposed towards us, yet have done nothing to oppose the preaching of the Gospel in the town. It is said that Akodu and Ogudipe are intimate friends, though not so much openly as in private, and both of them are influential chiefs, and favourably disposed towards our cause.

Chiefs promise protection to the Christians.

The Mission work at Ikija is carried on by two Native teachers under my superintendence. The Native Christians number 160; seventy-five of whom are communicants, ten candidates for the Lord's Supper, twelve candidates for baptism. You will have been aware that the Mission church in this station had been burnt down a short time before the outbreak. Mr. Maser, the Missionary in charge of the station, had collected materials for the rebuilding of the same, but they were either spoilt or stolen since the outbreak. Divine service has since been kept up in a small shed made for that purpose when the church was burnt; but the comparatively small congregation of this station, feeling their need of a better place of worship, held a meeting among themselves, and spoke about the matter, when all of them unanimously agreed to undertake the expensive task of having ther burnt church rebuilt. As a mark of their earnestness and willingness to do so, they made a collection which amounted to 1604 heads of cowries, equal in value to 100*l.* 5*s.* and they at once set to work. On the 29th November I was sent for to come and have the church measured out for them, which I accordingly did; the measurement of the same is 80 feet by 28. The wall is now in course of building. This church will be a little larger than the former.

Burnt church rebuilt by Native congregation.

The Igbore church has been completed, and was opened for divine service on the 30th November, when I preached to a large congregation of about 700 souls, from the words of our Saviour, "Upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (Matthew xvi. 18.) After the service a collection was made both in silver coin and cowrie shell: the amount is good: but I cannot tell exactly what it is now. The entire cost of the church (above 150*l.*) has been borne by the Native congregation late of Igbein. Many heathen were present in the church at the opening of it, among whom were chief Akodu, and the war chief of Igbore district who granted the land and gave permission for the building of the church on it, with several Ogboni elders of the district. The whole scene was full of holy and spiritual pleasure and delight.

Most of the Owu Christians are still at Lagos, to which place they fled immediately after the outbreak. The station and church are therefore still in ruins.

Further accounts of the state of things in Abeokuta, are given by the Rev. J. B. Wood, writing from Lagos, Jan. 12th:—

I know not whether you have been informed that the Egbas have at last crowned an Alake. There were eleven candidates for the prize. Some of them have spent great sums of money in presents and bribes, with a view of getting for their claims a better recognition. However, the Ogbonis, instead of taking any one of these eleven for the office, have chosen a member of the royal family, who had not sought it, nor had any expectation of getting it.

The new church at Igbore, in Abeokuta, is finished, and has been opened for services. Mr. H. Robbin, who has lately returned from Abeokuta, tells me it is a nice building, and does those who have raised it great credit. A small new church (30 ft. by 20 ft.) is being built in another part of Abeokuta, a part named Kempta.

A few words may be given to the memory of one who proved steadfast in the hour of danger. They are extracted from the journal of one of the Abeokuta Catechists:—

Death, that grim fiend, has again visited the Igbore congregation, and snatched away from us Job Oribasan, the head of the leaders, a man who stood firm for the truth at the outbreak of 1867, and encouraged the remaining Christians to stand firm also when many of us had deserted the town and gone to Lagos. During our absence from the town, he had his own class on Saturdays and congregation on Sundays, at his house, in the midst of his heathen relatives, not fearing the rage of the heathen at that trying season. Many of his companions, who embraced Christianity with him at the same time, had fallen into the snare of the tempter and backslidden from the Church; but he (supplied with the grace of God) endured to the end, patiently bearing his protracted afflictions. We trust his soul is safe in the arms of our dear Saviour. "How are the mighty fallen and the weapons of war perished!" He has fought his way through, and his work finished, now to enjoy the rest that remaineth for the people of God. Our loss is his gain.

OSHIELLE.

At Oshielle (Mr. Moore writes), I am thankful to say, Mission work is going on as usual; the attendance at the means of grace has been good during the year. Three persons died in the faith of the Gospel, one of whom is my own old mother. The Church services here are generally well attended; the congregation is larger than any in Abeokuta, but contains many unsatisfactory characters, whose daily walk and conversation betray their lukewarmness, to the great grief of their teachers. On the other hand, blessed be God, there are some whose lives are consistent with their Christian profession, and are therefore the crown of joy and rejoicing to those that watch over them. Six adults and sixteen children have been admitted into the Wheat among tares.

Church by the sacred rite of baptism. There are from 560 to 600 Native Christians, 272 of whom are communicants, and eighty-two candidates for the Lord's Supper. There are fifty-nine candidates for baptism, and 152 day scholars.

IBADAN.

This station is now without a European Missionary, Mr. and Mrs. Hinderer having been compelled by failure of health to return to Europe. The Native Christians stand fast, meeting together regularly for public worship, which is conducted by Native Readers, and being periodically visited by the Rev. W. Moore, the senior Native Minister at Abeokuta. Mr. Moore thus describes his last visit to that place :—

I have visited Ibadan again since their Missionary had left them. I arrived there on Friday afternoon, the 12th of November, and three of the agents went to meet me, twelve miles off, on horseback. On Sunday, the 14th, I administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to 87 communicants, after preaching to 217 souls, and baptized one child at Ikudeti, in the morning; and in the afternoon I preached to about 112 persons at Aremo. Mr. Allen, the Catechist, who has the charge of this station, is busy preparing clay for the completion of his house, for which Mr. Hinderer had made ample provision. The state of things with regard to the Mission work at Ibadan is as satisfactory as when I visited there some eight months ago, when their Missionary was there. The war chiefs of Ibadan are still at their encampment against the Ijeshas, but they always sent messengers to salute the Native agents. The chiefs and people who remain in the town are very friendly to the Native agents. I paid some of the chiefs visits, and they received me very gladly, and made me presents of cowries and kola nuts; the Christians made me a present of an ewe lamb. I agreed to visit them (D.V.) three times next year, if, during that period, they should have no other person to administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper to them.

Native agents respected by war. chiefs.

The following extracts from the journal of one of the Native Readers at Ibadan will be read with interest:

It is my first pleasing duty to say that we have at last succeeded, after no ordinary troubles, owing to lack of labourers, in completing our church at Aremo. It is situated at the south-eastern extremity of the town, and standing, as it does, on the Oke, or Hill of Aremo, it is the highest object of the whole neighbourhood, its high thatched roof towering above everything else except the stately and graceful palm-trees surrounding it. It is like that in Kudeti, 70 feet by 30 feet, and will conveniently accommodate, in a hot country like this, 250 persons, and 300 when well filled. That in Ogunpa, opened last year, is only 50 feet by 25 feet. I see your Gleaner has, owing to Mrs. Hinderer's ready pen, already anticipated my description of the opening of it on the 1st of January. I have therefore so much the less to say about it; only I wish you could have seen the beaming countenances of the people, especially those of our older champions, as Odeinde, Atere, and Kukomi, while I read and explained to them the letter of good Mr. Bickersteth, of Hampstead. The latter (I mean Kukomi) is one of those natures whom you would think can never smile, and I question whether he ever did smile, except since he is a Christian, and he certainly smiled on this occasion. The three days following we had our usual gatherings for prayer on the first week of the year. I think I mentioned it last year, that it is our practice here to have only three days of it, according to our three stations, where we alternately meet: by so doing the whole church can and does join, and that heartily. Also that we cannot exactly conform to the prescribed objects for prayer, for our simple form of prayers must be effusions of their own, as they are led by the Spirit; but they nevertheless do not forget intercessory petitions, and at this time some very hearty ones were offered up by them for English Christians, and especially for Mr. Bickersteth and his Church.

The next extract shows that the Ibadan Christians have learnt the advantages that attend the painful duty of exercising Christian discipline.

One of our young schoolmasters, otherwise very promising and hopeful, was found to have been for some time living in grievous sins. But I am happy to add that we came out of this ordeal, not only unhurt, but with new honours to the otherwise despised religion of Jesus. The young man being finally dismissed from the work of teaching a holy religion, we are commended by the town authorities, as well as by the enemies of Christianity, for being true to our profession; and I dare hope besides that it has also quickened some of our converts; for only yesterday (June 14th) I heard that some time ago the younger, and to temptation more exposed, portion of our Church at Aremo have, quite of their own accord, formed themselves into a closer bond of union for mutual protection, and to watch over each other's conduct.

Advantage of Christian discipline.

NIGER MISSION.

Onitsha, 1857; Akassa, 1861; Lokoja, 1865; Bonny, 1866.

Conducted by Native Teachers, under the superintendence of the Right Rev. Bishop Crowther.

GENERAL VIEW.

In this deeply interesting field the Native African Bishop, Dr. Samuel Adjai Crowther, himself the fruit of the Society's work, has continued his labours during the year. His associates, all of them Africans, are five Native Clergy and twelve or more unordained teachers. The Reports for the two preceding years had to speak of persecution and violent assaults from heathen adversaries. This feature has, through God's mercy, disappeared.

At Lokoja, on the Confluence of the rivers Niger and Tshadda, and at Onitsha nearer the mouth of the river, the work has been proceeding peacefully and prosperously.

At the stations on the coast itself, where the inhabitants have for many years come in contact with European trade, but not with Christian Missionaries, the population is less civilized, and, in almost every respect, more degraded. Cannibalism and the most debasing superstitions still prevail. Yet the efforts of Bishop Crowther and his fellow-labourers have not been fruitless. The Native Chiefs welcome the preaching of the Gospel and encourage education. At Bonny, where the prospects had been brightest, and where some degrading heathen customs had been abolished, the work has been for several months interrupted by civil war. The Native agents have courageously clung to the work in the midst of personal danger, and are still able to assemble the Christians for public worship, though the schools have been closed.

Native chiefs welcome the Gospel.

The following trustful words from Bishop Crowther's annual review may well preface the extracts from the letters and journals of the Missionaries:—

The year which is now closing upon us, viewed in respect of our Missionary work, is marked like the preceding with the common vicissitudes which have always and everywhere accompanied the work of Christian Missions. What had been stated of success and difficulties, of encouragements and disappointments, at one time, may be repeated at another. Although circumstances may not all recur in the same station and exactly in the same way, yet in some form or other they do happen, and we experience them yearly. When we are thankful to report the cessation of public persecution in one Mission, and that God's work has again resumed its vigorous operations to the conversion of souls—then a sad gust of tempest bursts out from another direction, the progress of our work being there impeded through civil war between contending rival chiefs, so that, if the work survive it, we must have to begin the very ground-work over again. Such is our Missionary labour in this part of Western Africa—a country where every step taken is to be compared with the teaching of a newly-received schoolboy who has to begin his lesson with the very Alpha of the alphabet. After such a ground-work has been commenced and worked with perseverance by many years' hard labour and great expense, with ardent prayer for God's blessing on it—when this is begun to be realized, then on a sudden the enemy comes in like a flood, and blows like a blast upon it, which threatens to destroy in a moment the hopeful crop to our utmost grief and disappointment. This is not a small trial to flesh and blood, and to our weak faith, which constrains us to exclaim, "Who is sufficient for these things?" Yet we are encouraged to persevere because we have the promise of a check being given to the opposing element. "The Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him."

Varied character of the Niger Mission.

LOKOJA.

During the year the British Factory was broken up and the British Consulate withdrawn. But the Native monarch, Masaba, King of Bidda, and lord paramount of these parts, took the Mission under his own protection.

The Report furnished by the Rev. T. C. John, who has charge of the work at this place, is in some respects encouraging.

Politically the town has been quiet. The Native authorities have been friendly. Several chiefs of the neighbourhood have countenanced the efforts of the Missionary. One, the chief of Odekodi, has gone so far as to place himself, together with his people, about three hundred in number, directly under Christian instruction, and has begun to erect buildings for school purposes and for public worship. Another neighbouring chief has expressed a desire to follow his example. King Masaba, mentioned above, though a Mohammedan, seems at present rather pleased than otherwise that his heathen vassals should become Christians. But there have been no adult baptisms, the candidates for that privilege not having exhibited satisfactory symptoms of sincerity. Mr. John's fellow-labourer, Mr. C. Paul, has been admitted to Holy Orders.

Gospel favourably received by Native rulers.

Mr. John not unfrequently has interesting conversations with Mohammedans of intelligence from Bornu and other countries in the interior. Some of these have traversed the African continent from east to west, and have been able to tell the Missionary that they have seen the birth-place of Jesus, the Prophet of the Christians. Mr John has with praiseworthy diligence studied the Arabic language, with a view to gain increased access for the Gospel to this important class.

ONITSHA.

The Rev. J. C. Taylor laboured at this station until November last. The Native Christians of Onitsha number 160, the communicants 50. The year has witnessed seven adult baptisms.

The King of the town has faithfully kept his promise of protecting the Christians from persecution. A church has been built which will accommodate 300 persons.

Mr. Taylor urges in his annual letter that the duty of bearing their own ecclesiastical expenses should at once be strongly pressed on the Onitsha Christians. He does this on the ground that self-support is far more easily introduced when the first converts are brought in than at any subsequent period. He adds that the time has now come to branch out from Onitsha to neighbouring towns.

Three candidates were admitted to Deacons' orders at Onitsha, viz. Mr. Paul, of Lokoja, and Messrs. Romaine and Langley, of Onitsha. Shortly after, on the Bishop's return from Lokoja, the same three brethren received Priests' Orders.

BONNY.

The work at this station, which seemed so promising, has been painfully interrupted. Mr. F. G. Smart thus writes:—

There has occurred during the year a succession of disastrous events in this country, over which we could exercise no control, constantly keeping the popular mind in a state of excitement and painful apprehension. In April a most calamitous fire took place; in June, July and August the small-pox made its appearance; and in September a dreadful civil war broke out.

Gospel progress checked by disease and civil war.

Under such painful and distressing circumstances, therefore, our school-work, and open-air preaching in particular, were suspended, and our usual operations in general became interrupted.

Nor does this discouraging state of things cease to exist. Up to this very moment in which I am writing matters continue as they were, nor is there any present indication of their assuming a change for the better for several months to come.

The civil war broke out on the 13th September. The Mission agents, as was noticed above, remained at the place.

During the whole period of the alarming firing there was no other alternative left us except to make our escape, and to abandon the Mission premises altogether, or to undergo the risk of remaining in a spot evidently within gunshot, and of course of sheltering ourselves as much as possible from the "iron hail." The first of these plans was never for a moment thought of; the second was consequently adopted in the spirit of faith and prayer, for are not the rich promises of protection in the 91st Psalm ours? Within the walls of our houses, therefore, we confined ourselves, and listened in painful silence to the terrifying whistling and pattering of shots and balls out of doors, as well as to the piteous yellings of women and children who were naturally thrown into the most profound consternation.

During this perilous state of things, an instance of the special protection of our Heavenly Father occurred to make us more prayerful and more depending. A little boy of mine was sitting near the fireplace in my kitchen preparing breakfast: suddenly a red hot six-pounder ball forced its way into the kitchen and sank near the very spot where he was, without, however, touching his person. It was really the most hairbreadth escape that can possibly be experienced. The ball is now in my possession. Was not this special providence? Was not this tender mercy? Thanks be unto God who so signally preserved us and ours from the "destruction that wasteth at noon day!"

Its result is thus spoken of by Mr. Smart:—

It may perhaps not be unworthy of remark, also, that amongst these two belligerent parties there is one that supported, encouraged and patronized our Mission here, and that is the Manilla-Pepple house, which became victorious in the contest; they it was that said they would not commence hostilities on God's holy day, when their rival house repeatedly challenged them to do so on that day, the 12th instant, and they it was that implored us to pray to Almighty God on their behalf. I trust they will clearly see how true and faithful our God is to His own word of promise, "Them that honour me I will honour."

The victorious party, however, have not been sufficiently influenced by the Gospel to be restrained from acts of most savage and inexcusable cruelty, of which Mr. Smart has given a sad but faithful picture. Later accounts (December 8th) speak of the war as continuing, though Mission-work seems to have been partially resumed.

We are still waiting for the termination of the disturbance here to resume our school work; indeed we have recently made several efforts to persuade the chiefs, now that hostilities have ceased in the town itself, to send their children back to school, but they are still kept at home.

In spite of all present discouragements, I am firmly of opinion that there is still large ground for hope in the Mission.

The attendance at public worship for the past few Sundays has been very satisfactory. On Advent Sunday we numbered 100 in the morning, and 108 in the evening. Last Sunday we numbered 108 in the morning, and 74 in the evening. All these were males. Very few of the females attend.

BRASS.

Mr. T. A. John, the Native Catechist who is stationed at this place, gives the following account of one of the degrading superstitions that prevail among its inhabitants:—

The juju snake is the boa-constrictor: it is a pest to them, especially to the poor, and to every one residing in the country, for on account of it they are prohibited to plant, especially in the chief town, Nembe, or Brass Town, where they are not to plant anything whatever. In the villages they are allowed to plant a little cassada, plantain, and other little things, but not yams. Even this is done on a very small scale, chiefly by the women. Neither can they rear up domestic animals, as the snakes devour all. They even at times swallow their children, if a woman happen to leave her infant alone in the house. Then, instead of speaking of the evil that the snake has done, they attribute the evil to the mother: they say the mother has done some wrong to the juju, and that therefore it swallows the child. If a slave kills one of these boa-constrictors, the master is to pay a puncheon, and the slave is killed. If a person's house catch fire, and a juju is found burnt in the flame, the owner, amidst his losses, must pay a puncheon or the value of a slave. If he has nothing to pay, he must give one of his relatives as a slave to Bokolo, the chief juju priest. If several houses are burnt, and one of the snakes is found burnt, they must trace where the fire originates: the owner of the house where the fire originates must pay the above-mentioned penalties.

Cannibalism is also still practised in the neighbourhood; yet Brass is a place which has been visited by English traders for many years—a striking instance of the powerlessness of commerce, without the Gospel, to raise a nation from barbarism.

Commerce without the Gospel fails to raise from barbarism.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

(Commenced at Malta in 1815.)

I. Turkish Mission.—II. Greece.—III. Asia Minor.—IV. Palestine.

The Society's Mission in the Mediterranean was mainly intended for the Moslems. The door is at present but partially opened. The public preaching of the Gospel to Mohammedans is not possible in any part of the Turkish Empire. Other methods are therefore attempted. Private conversation is held with individuals. Oriental Christians are urged to study God's Word, and to make it known to their Moslem countrymen. The Scriptures are widely and largely distributed; Christian tracts, and even controversial works, meet with some circulation.

Turkish empire only partially accessible to the Gospel.

I. Turkish Mission.

CONSTANTINOPLE.

First occupied, 1819; relinquished, 1821 re-occupied, 1858.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Sigismund Wilhelm Koelle, Ph. D. (m), to West Africa, 1847; to Palestine, 1856; to Constantinople, 1862.

Leaven of Christianity working secretly.

In Constantinople and the neighbouring provinces a spirit of inquiry is evidently abroad, even amongst the Turks, though concealed and suppressed. Not a few assure the Missionary of their disbelief in Islam; while some seem earnestly inquiring after Christ.

Dr. Koelle is still the solitary Missionary at this station. He gives the following general view of his labours during the year:—

The visitors to our Mission rooms have been few in number, mostly people from the provinces, whom business brought to Constantinople; but still also some Natives of the capital came. Quite recently two Turkish gentlemen visited us together for the avowed purpose of asking questions on the subject of Christianity, openly confessing that they had doubts, not only about many things in the Old and New Testaments, but also about Mohammedanism. Our Turkish Sunday service was kept up regularly, as in previous years, and was likewise only attended by a few. A Mohammedan artisan had come several times, when he was seized and reprimanded by the police for doing so, after which he stayed away, though still professing friendship for us.

The Society's publications on the Mohammedan controversy, though given only to those who expressly apply for them, have had a fair circulation during the year; and on one occasion about a dozen had to be sent to Erzeroom for inquiring Mohammedans in those parts.

It may, perhaps, be doubtful whether the fact referred to in the following paragraph will stimulate or retard religious inquiries in Turkey.

The Turks have noticed that it has become fashionable in European literature to praise up Mohammedanism, and to represent it as far better than it is generally regarded. Quite lately a Frenchman in the pay of the Turkish Government has printed a book in Constantinople in which he professes to prove from history that Islamism is far more liberal and just than Christianity; that a Christian by becoming learned, and a Mohammadan by remaining ignorant, must cease to be respectively a Christian or a Mohammedan; that Christianity is already as good as dead, being only still kept up here and there for Government purposes, and that the future of the world belongs to Mohammedanism.

Dr. Koelle's efforts have not been confined to Constantinople.

In the course of the year a visit has been paid to the Mohammedans of Ismid, the ancient Nicomedia, and a longer tour being made in Roumelia, between the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmora. Some time later I had to revisit one of those Roumelian towns on account of some Mohammedan gentleman recommended to me; and as soon as my presence in the town was known, the Greek Bishop sent an express messenger inviting me to come and see him. After greeting, he asked me whether it was true that I was a clergyman of the Church of England; and on replying in the affirmative, he said, "Then you are my brother," and gave me the kiss of fraternity, which he repeated on my taking leave. He expressed several thoroughly evangelical sentiments, and seems an upright earnest man, anxious to lead souls to Christ. He showed himself much pleased with my efforts among the Mohammedans, and wished me every success.

Mohammedan family kept steadfast through trial of their faith.

The Mohammedan family whose baptism was mentioned in the last Report, met with a rude trial of their faith and steadfastness in the course of the year, but were carried safely through it. The following extracts from Dr. Koelle's letters narrate the whole occurrence. The first letter is dated August 13, 1869:—

On Tuesday evening, the 27th July, between nine and ten o'clock, a police officer, with a number of policemen, surrounded the house where the baptized family lived, and demanded admittance. As they did not state the reason why they came, the man refused to open the door. They then threatened force, but on being told that the house belonged to a Frank, they desisted, and, after about an hour, left again without having obtained their object.

Till then the family had apparently gone on quite satisfactorily. The woman never missed our Turkish Sunday services since her baptism, and always showed marked attention. Her husband treated her kindly, telling me that he not only laboured hard day by day to earn their scanty bread, but also on coming home in the evening did the housework for his wife, as he was anxious to prove to her what the Christian religion enabled a man to do. Some weeks previously, however, she had complained to a neighbour that she could not go out, as she had not the means of dressing like the Christian women; and a few days before this police visit she told her husband that she had visited Mohammedan friends in the neighbourhood, who were very angry with her for becoming a Christian, and assured her that fifty of her countrymen had taken an oath to cause her to return to Mohammedanism, or else kill her or die themselves in the attempt. She added, "I foolishly then asked them—'Would you liberally provide for me and my children?'" The police-officer also had said to one of the neighbours that a petition had been presented on behalf of the woman, stating that she was forcibly detained in a Christian house.

On the following day I called on the chief of the police. He told me he had sent for this family to examine them, and afterwards to send them on to the Pasha. I replied, that, far from being in the way of such a public examination, I should be most happy to forward it, and to be present at it. Upon this, he asked me to bring the family at once. Accordingly, I left to fetch them; but, on arriving at the house, found that the man was out at his usual work. I had scarcely set out again to convey this information, when I was met by the police officer, who said, "I thought I had better come at once to examine the person in her own house, if you have no objection." I asked him in, and at once called the woman. He now put a number of questions to her, e. g. whether she was there with her own free will, which she answered in the affirmative; but when he asked after her religion, she, to our great surprise and regret, professed herself a Mohammedan. As soon as she had done so, the officer said to her, "Then go and get ready to come with me;" and then, turning towards me, he said, "For no Mohammedan woman is allowed to remain under a non-Mohammedan roof." When I asked him whether they could not delay till the husband came home, who had no apprehension of what was taking place, he replied, "Oh, she has no longer any husband; when she declared herself a Mohammedan, the man had ceased to be her husband." The children were also taken away, though with the promise that they should be restored if the father could establish his claim to them. The whole party then left together, and I went with them to the chief of police. There the woman was again questioned, and again professed herself a Mohammedan in my presence, and I was requested to bring the man also on the following day. When the poor man returned from his work, late in the evening, he found an empty house. The trial was great for him, but he took it well. He said, "I have deserved this by my sin: when I denied my Saviour, I took this woman, and now she is gone again." Next day, after having further spoken and prayed with the man, I went with him to the chief of police, who questioned him the same way as his wife the day before. But when he unhesitatingly professed himself a Christian, he was told that he could go.

The prospect, however, soon brightened. In a second communication Dr. Koelle thus writes:—

In the afternoon of the same day on which I dispatched to you my last letter the woman came to our Mission-house, saying that she was sorry for having left us, and that she wished to remain a Christian, and to return to her husband. She then promised to come again next day to remain, and to bring her children with her, who had not been allowed to accompany her, so as to insure her return. Accordingly, she asked permission of the police to let her take out her children, and fetch some linen from her husband's house, of which she was in need. Upon this, she was sent from the head-quarters of the police in Stambul to the head-quarters of the police in Pera, and in the latter place a policeman was given her to accompany her to her husband's house; but as the house of our Catechist, a Russian subject, was next door, she entered there, and was received as a visitor. When they were seated she said to the policeman, "You can go now; I am a Christian, and shall remain with my husband, who is also a Christian." The man went, and soon after an officer, with eight armed policemen, came to fetch her by force. The Catechist naturally refused them admittance into his house without an order from his own Consulate.

The Russian Consul after a while refused his protection, and referred Dr. Koelle to the British Ambassador. Some delay ensued in consequence of the absence of the British Minister from Constantinople. In the meantime the woman was under the charge of the Turkish Chief of the police, in the presence of whom and Dr. Koelle she now boldly declared herself a Christian. After a few days the matter came before Ali Pasha, the Turkish Premier, who, to use Dr. Koelle's words, "wisely and equitably decided, 'Let the woman go where she wishes.'"

As soon as this decision arrived the woman was set at liberty. The delighted father clasped the little girl in his arms, I taking the boy by the hand, and the woman following with a cheerful countenance through the main street to Pera, no one molesting us. Arrived in their house, we all knelt down to thank God for this favourable turn of things, to ask forgiveness for the past, and more grace for the future. Knowing that their cupboards were all empty, I gave the man a few shillings to provide a full meal for his family, as that was an evening of rejoicing for them. Throughout this trying season the husband has acted as an exemplary Christian, and I hope the trial will prove a blessing to the whole family.

On Sunday, the 16th January last, the husband joined in the Lord's Supper for the first time. The wife will remain for some time longer under probation.

II. Greece.

SYRA.

Commenced in 1830, while Greece was a part of the Turkish Empire.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Frederick A. Hildner (m), 1289.

The Rev. F. A. Hildner, who is now advanced in years, is still at this station. His Missionary labours are, however, almost confined to the schools, where nearly two hundred children, chiefly girls, are receiving instruction. Mr. Hildner has also opportunities for promoting the circulation of the Scriptures, for which there is an increasing demand, both in ancient and modern Greek. This notice may be concluded with the words used in the Society's Report for 1864-1865:—"The school was first established [forty years] ago, when Greece was part of a Mohammedan empire, and the Mission will cease with the personal labours of Mr. Hildner."

III. Asia Minor.

SMYRNA.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Theophilus Wolters (m), to Persia, 1832; to Syra, 1837; to Smyrna, 1842.
Rev. Theodore Frederic Wolters, 1860.
Rev. Robert Henry Weakley (m), to Constantinople, 1860; to Smyrna, 1869.

The tone of the annual letter from Smyrna is somewhat more hopeful than usual; though no serious inquirers have come forward among the Turks, nor is there any general movement among the Greek Christians.

The Missionaries report that a Greek Romish priest published a tract in defence of Papal supremacy. This was speedily answered in the leading local journal, and has since led to the appearance of a religious newspaper, edited by a Greek Christian, which is sternly opposed to Romanism, but courteous and friendly towards Protestants. About this time, the Greek Archbishop died. The Protestant clergy, English and American, were amongst those invited to attend the funeral; and one of them, a Missionary, was asked to offer prayer on the occasion. Great satisfaction was afterwards expressed by Greeks of all classes at the part taken by the Protestant clergy in the ceremony. The Society's Missionaries are composing tracts in the Greco-Turkish dialect, the only language understood by the Greeks of the interior.

Religious newspaper friendly to Protestants.

Further accounts of the work in progress, or in contemplation, will also be read with interest.

In accordance with the directions of the Committee, Mr. Wolters, sen., has been engaged in the instruction of our present agents, Belisarius and Antonio, with a view to increase their usefulness.

The Greek service on the Lord's-day has been carried on regularly throughout the year. Besides the Protestants, there are a few Greeks who attend with more or less regularity, and there are always those who, fearing to enter, cluster at the door, which is immediately opposite the pulpit, to hear the word of God. The book-shop in the bazaar continues to be a most useful agency. The money received for Scriptures during the year amounts to about 40*l.*; for Tracts about 10*l.* We feel that, under the circumstances in which we are placed, the value of book and tract distribution can hardly be over-rated.

Sale of Scriptures and Tracts.

In Cassaba, our agent, Montesanto, has a book-shop under his charge, where he meets very many persons, both natives of the place and travellers passing through on their way to and from Smyrna. For a great part of the year both he and his family have suffered greatly from the intermittent fever which has prevailed so unusually of late in the neighbouring towns. He is now, however, much better. The respect with which he is regarded, and the evident influence which he has with all classes of Turks, Jews and Greeks in Cassaba, nothwithstanding the freedom with which he reproves their vices, and speaks to them of the Saviour of sinners, is to us a great cause of thankfulness, and a hope for the future of that place. And it cannot be that so many copies of the Word of God, so many books and tracts scattered among all classes of the population, and over large portions of the country, shall be so much lost seed.

Influence exerted by Native agent.

While professedly Missionaries to the Mohammedans, we cannot but feel a deep and increasing interest in the Churches of the country. The work we are attempting to do is properly theirs. It is their duty more than ours to preach the Gospel to their neighbours, fellow-countrymen, and fellow-subjects. And there can be no question, that with minds enlightened by the Word of God, and hearts sanctified by the Holy Spirit, the Greeks would work far more efficiently and effectually than ever we could hope to do.

In March, 1869, Mr. T. F. Wolters paid a visit to Alashehr (Philadelphia). At that place he had opportunities of religious conversation both with Greeks and Mohammedans.

During the first two days of our stay at Philadelphia but little could be done. Our calls on the few acquaintances of former times were unreturned. Which ever way we went we met with chilling reserve which puzzled me how to break through. We went to the school. There we found Gregorius (who was formerly at Kulah, and who there was the means of setting on foot a weekly Bible reading) in charge of the preparatory classes. A young deacon, fresh from the Theological Schools of Athens and Khalki had recently been appointed as Hellenic teacher. My first impressions of the latter were favourable. Further acquaintance proved him to be no exception to the generality of the Greek clergy, even of the better educated among them. Bigoted, yet ignorant of the Scriptures; boasting in the name of "orthodox," yet unable to distinguish between truth and error, and always confounding things indifferent with the fundamental principles of the Gospel. Think of a minister of the Gospel confessing that he "does not much meddle with the Bible!" Yet this deacon was not ashamed to make so sad an avowal in my hearing. He declared, also, what the Greek Church requires her followers to believe, but what I had never before heard openly stated, that outside the "Orthodox Eastern Church" there is no salvation, and that no other Church possesses true baptism.

Openings for hopeful religious discussion.

One of these gloomy days I had a long, and, I trust, not unprofitable conversation with the schoolmaster, Gregorius, and a young Greek merchant. The nature and importance of true saving faith occupied our attention for some time. One thing brought on another until the doctrine of transubstantiation was brought forward. The young Greek was inclined to oppose, but could produce no other argument except the authority of his Church. Gregorius listened attentively to an exposition of Matthew xxvi. 26, and 1 Cor. x. We shall have gained much if we can teach these people, and especially those among them who educate the young, to study the Scriptures prayerfully as the only rule of faith. They see doctrines taught in passages which have not the remotest connexion with the subject. Thus it was attempted to prove the necessity of a sacrificing priesthood in the Christian Church from our Lord's words (John xv. 16), "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain." If once the Greeks are well grounded in the Word of God, what a powerful lever shall we have for moving the inert masses of Mohammedanism!

Parts of April and May were occupied by a visit to Adalia (Attalia) and some neighbouring towns on the southern coast of Asia Minor. Here, also, more interesting opportunities were met with and embraced for speaking of the Saviour.

JERUSALEM.

The Rev. F. A. Klein has not been able this year to renew his journey as he wished to do in the region beyond the Jordan. Some of the leading men, however, from that district have visited Mr. Klein; and communication has been kept up by letter. Mr. Klein has also been busy with the pen and the press. He is preparing an Arabic biography of Mohammed, a translation in the same language of Dr. Koelle's Life of Christ, and an Arabic-English Dictionary; and has also printed 500 copies of a tract proving the genuineness of the New Testament.

Mr. Klein gives the following account of the Protestant congregation:—

I am happy to say that I have been able to continue the Arabs' services in our chapel, and that they have been well attended, not only by the members of the congregation, but also from time to time by strangers from the Greeks, Latins, Armenians, yea, Moslems also. The members of the congregation are frequently visited in their houses both by myself and the Catechist. A Bible meeting has been held for the women and another for the men, but the indifference of those most in want of religious instruction has long been a subject of grief and anxiety to us. I am glad to say that we have a few decidedly pious and zealous persons in our congregations who are anxious to live as disciples of Christ and become a light to others; but we have also a number of those whom I must consider as the tares among the wheat, of whom I have often wished to get rid, but for whom I still hope and pray that the word they hear may become the means of their conversion. I am encouraged to continue in this path, by what I have, during the course of the past year, also seen at sick-beds and death-beds of the influence of God's Word where I had least expected it; and we must, in regard to these people, rely on the truth of God's promises. Several new members have joined our community during the last year from the Greeks and Armenians; and a number of families from the Latins and Greeks were anxious to come, but were deterred by the great sacrifices they would have had to make, while their faith was too weak to enable them to bear scorn, loss of support, and persecution.

Progress of the Gospel amid hope and discouragement.

Could pious and devoted native schoolmasters be procured, and did the Society's finances admit of their employment, the knowledge of the pure Gospel might be introduced into many places now in spiritual darkness.

I have visited our out-stations and a number of villages in the neighbourhood of Jerusalem, while our Catechist, Mr. Chalil Jamal, has visited Gaza—from whence I had a very pressing invitation to open a school—and Kerek, beyond Jordan, accompanying the deputation which had come here to invite us. Doors are opening around us. People are inviting us from regions where the banner of the Gospel has not yet been raised. Should we not be ready to occupy these places in the name of the Lord?

Doors opening for the Gospel.

The only school in connexion with our Mission here is the boys' school at Ramallah, which, I am happy to say, has, under the superintendence and with the assistance of the Catechist stationed there, remarkably improved; and only the other day I received a most enthusiastic epistle from the schoolmaster, stating in the most glowing expressions his delight at seeing his elder scholars becoming evangelists among the boys of the Latin and Greek schools. A girls' school has, however, been opened at Ramallah by a party of Quakers who visited Palestine this summer; another has been opened at Nablous; and it seems that they intend to multiply the number of their schools in this country. As their intention is to teach only those great truths which they hold in common with us, we heartily rejoice at this assistance in the evangelization of this country.

The bookshop has been largely instrumental in disseminating the good seed of the Word.

As a place of meeting people from various denominations and regions the bookshop has quite come up to my expectations. Besides people from the neighbouring villages, we have had visitors from distant parts of the country; and Greeks, Latins and Moslems from this city, yea, Greek and Roman Catholic Priests, from time to time come to look after our books. Lately a party of warrior-like Druses from the Hauran, came in, and I was pleased to find among them a most intelligent and polite youth, the Secretary of the great Druse Sheikh in the Hauran, with whom I had a most interesting conversation both at the bookshop and in my house, where he came to pay me a visit. Though a Druse himself, he is exceedingly anxious to see schools opened in the Hauran for Christians and Druses, and entreated me to endeavour to persuade some English Society to take up the work. Armenians, Greeks, Copts, Latins, priests and laymen, however, have come to our shop to buy books. Even the Jewish school we supplied with Arabic reading-books; but the part containing the History of Christ was at first torn out by the teachers. Now, however, they take the books as they are, and I am told by a teacher that many of the boys eat of the forbidden fruit, and read the prohibited pages with great avidity.

Dr. Sandreczki continues his varied labours. The Committee have been desirous that pious Native young men, willing to be engaged in Mission work, might be placed under Dr. Sandreczki's instruction. The only pupil hitherto obtained is a young Druse, who, after studying some months with Dr. Sandreczki, was placed under Mr. Zeller's care at Nazareth. In addition to this work, Dr. Sandreczki holds meetings on the Lord's day in Turkish, Greek, and Italian, for the religious instruction of inquirers; visits the hospital and leper asylum; and makes occasional Missionary excursions to neighbouring villages. In these tours the villagers, both Moslem and Christian, willingly listen to the glad tidings of salvation as delivered by the Missionary and his assistants.

Of his work at the hospital he thus writes :—

Mission work in hospital.

I have continued my visits to the hospital. In the eyes of the short-sighted or the infidels, the result of my endeavours may appear null, or insignificant at least; but I am sure my labour there, especially among the Moslems, who, form the majority of the patients, is not lost. We have already had first-fruits, and the seed sown will not all fall by the way-side, or on stony places, or among thorns hereafter. One thing is certain, that the Moslems who leave the hospital leave it with views of our religion quite different from those they have when they enter it, and that all of them listen to my explanations with even more attention than the Christians, who find it strange that the Gospel should be preached to Moslems. However, among the Christians, too, there are some who see that what they call their faith is far from what the Gospel teaches. Many of the women are very dull, yet they also like to hear, and often say that their own people do not care for their souls. My pupil, Assad, considers it a privilege whenever I permit him to visit this home of human misery.

Dr. Sandreczki has also, at the request of the Berlin Missionary Society, exercised supervision over a body of Protestant Christians at Bethlehem.

NAZARETH.

Upwards of 500 Protestant Christians are connected with the Nazareth Mission, and 130 children attend the Mission Schools. Direct work among the Moslems does not seem practicable as yet, and consequently there are no adult baptisms. The work at this station was, at the commencement of the year, under the care of the Rev. J. Zeller, assisted by a European Catechist, Mr. J. Huber. In April, 1869, Mr. Zeller left Palestine to recruit his health by a visit to Europe. During his absence the general superintendence of the Mission was entrusted to the Rev. J. Gruhler, of Bishop Gobat's Mission.

The building of the new Protestant church at Nazareth is making progress, but peculiar local circumstances greatly retard the work.

BOMBAY.

Opening of the Mission Church.

In the commencement of the past year the new Mission church was opened for public worship. Divine service is conducted there by the Rev. Appaji Bapuji for the Native Christians, and two services are held in English by the Secretary of the Society.

The experience of the Committee has led them to regard such a church to be in each of the three great Presidency cities of India a valuable and even necessary adjunct to the other operations in which the Society is engaged. It supplies the Clerical Secretary of the Mission with ministerial work helpful to his own spiritual life, and affords a rallying-point for those European residents who wish to aid the Society's labours.

The building erected for the purpose in Bombay occupies a central position, being two miles from the nearest of the surrounding churches. As soon as it was opened the seats were at once allotted. May the Divine presence be vouchsafed to both minister and people!

The little Marathi congregation, under the care of the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, has not this year received accessions by adult baptism.

Some of its members have left Bombay, while some Native Christians have joined it who have come to Bombay from other places, so that the numbers remain nearly as before—seventy-six Native Christians and thirty-six communicants. There have been during the year six inquirers, whose baptism has been delayed, partly owing to their temporary absence from Bombay. The service is now held in the new Mission church, the erection of which seems to have led to greater regularity of attendance, and also to increased interest in the affairs of the congregation. The Sunday morning service commences at eight A.M. Mr. Appaji thus describes his other duties:—

I have another service at four P.M. at my own house, for the benefit of those who cannot attend the morning service. At this service I generally expound one of the lessons for the day, and occasionally have a catechetical sermon in order to know whether the audience is attentive, or understand the meaning of what they hear. The attendance at this service varies from eighteen to twenty-six, reckoning the average attendance of both services: the average attendance, in proportion to the number on our church register, is greater than that of the English congregations. Besides these two regular services, I have conducted a prayer-meeting at the Byculla club, in the steward's house, for the benefit of the servants. The attendance is small, but it affords an opportunity to the steward and servants of the club. The steward takes a lively interest in all our church affairs, and, notwithstanding his onerous duties, is a regular attendant at our morning service in the church. The congregation has had its regular meetings for the Poor and Pastoral Fund, and for such other purposes as come within their bounds. The interest which the members manifested at these meetings is very encouraging: they seem to feel their responsibility. The monthly receipts of both are greater than last year's.

Benefit club in Native church.

The members of the congregation have established among themselves a kind of benefit club, to assist each other in times of sickness or other distress, so I have not had much trouble with the destitute who came to me for help. Their motto is, "If any would not work, neither should he eat;" and, by following it, to afford help to those who actually are in want of it.

The members of the congregation, as a body, have treated me with respect and kindness in all my intercourse with them. They are very desirous that I should visit their houses and families. They also take an interest in each other's spiritual and temporal welfare, and keep a watchful eye over their fellow-members, being of the same congregation.

During the past year I have had daily two Bible classes in the Robert Money Institution. I have taught the Bible in the vernacular to the lower classes. This afforded me great encouragement in the way of quiet preaching to the heathen. The two classes put together, at times, being from seventy to eighty young men before me for Bible teaching, my plan with them is to make them read the chapter twice over, and ask them to repeat the contents of what they have been reading. In this way I go with them through the whole Gospel, and, when they have finished it, I go over again with them, and make such observations as their present condition requires. The boys are allowed to ask questions by way of eliciting explanation or information, but no discussions allowed. From my intercourse with them I find that, in many minds, the popular belief is shaken, because, when I allude to their idolatrous practices, they hang down their heads, and appear as if they were ashamed of their creed. This way of teaching the Bible in a Missionary school prepares the boys for the coming conflict between the religion of Christ and all other false systems.

Bible teaching to Native youth.

Mr. Appaji's annual letter concludes with the following interesting remarks :—

The times are changing fast, and education is making rapid progress, and, together with it, the minds of the young men are stamped with new ideas. This year we had about 850 young men for matriculation: can we but think what a vast number of books they must have read on Western literature, and how their views of caste and religion have been changed? If all these were examined, it will be found the majority of them are advocates of reform, both in their social and religious systems. One day I had to call on the editor of a vernacular paper (Induprakash), and at his office I was introduced to a leader of the widows' marriage in Bombay, who expressed his wish to be friendly with Missionaries, "inasmuch as we now know them to be our best friends and benefactors, and their object is to do good to us and our country. Formerly we took them for our enemies." This is the highest testimony to Missionaries from a heathen. Further, respectable Native Christians command respect from their heathen countrymen, and obtain more opportunities of social intercourse than formerly.

Heathen estimate of Christian teachers.

Robert Money School.

In reviewing the past year the Rev. Thomas Carss, Principal of the Robert Money School, thankfully appeals to "the irresistible logic of facts," as attesting the progress made in the secular branches of education. The diligent attendance —the increased Government grants—the successful matriculation—all indicate activity and progress. The longing desire on the part of the youths to obtain University distinctions, and the impatience frequently manifested when engaged in studies which have no direct tendency to promote that desire, is unfavourable to that calm attention to Christian instruction, in which Principals of such Institutions often find a relief from, and reward for, their secular teaching, and fills the minds of many with apprehension and anxiety. The antidote to this evil must be sought in a staff of teachers, all Christians, and each feeling in his heart the preciousness of that Christian truth with which he seeks faithfully and wisely to leaven even his secular teaching. When the great Head of the Church raises up for our great Memorial Institution such a staff, and the present non-Christian masters have been thus replaced, we may hope to see youths consecrating to God's service the knowledge now imparted to them.

Mr. Carss thus speaks of the Institution and the work:—

There are at present about 350 boys on the roll. They may be thus classified:—

Protestants	6
Romanists	50
Jews	18
Mohammedans	16

The studies have been the same as those of last year. The average attendance and progress of the boys have been very satisfactory. We teach up to the matriculation standard, which is quite as high as that of the London University. Four out of seven boys passed at the last matriculation examination. The result of this year's examination is not yet known. In March last the school was examined by the Government Inspector, and we got even a larger grant than the very satisfactory one of the previous year.

Apart from my own necessarily prejudiced testimony, the Committee will see by the irresistible logic of facts, that the school is in a very satisfactory state, as regards its position as an educational institution. The income of the school, independent of the Society's grant, is six times larger than when I joined it seven years ago.

Now for a few words about the school as a Mission agency. I believe the school is accomplishing the great object for which it was established—namely, the imparting of a sound Christian education to the masses of Bombay. We work on, feeling that "one is our Master, even Christ," and being more anxious to be found faithful than successful servants. The Bible is taught in all the classes, and we are untiring in our efforts to teach the lads the law as well as the Gospel. A Hindu seems to have no conscience, and to be utterly destitute of any moral sense. Conscience must be evoked, and the nature and consequences of sin not merely understood, but realized, before true converts can be made. This is our work at present. Many of the educated Natives and former pupils visit me, and converse very freely on Christianity.

The seed sown in hope.

I willingly bear testimony that Mr. Jackson, the certificated trained master, is a most conscientious, faithful, and indefatigable worker in the school. Much of the success of the school is due to him. He takes a deep interest in the boys.

Since her return from England Mrs. Carss has resumed her much-needed, and, I am glad to add, much-prized labours amongst the heathen and Native Christians.

NASIK.

This station, which might now with greater propriety derive its name from Sharanpur, the Christian village where the Mission buildings are situated, was, during the past year, in the charge of the Rev. C. S. Cooke. The Rev. W. S. Price has since returned to the scene of his former labours. The Native Christians number nearly 450. Most of these reside at Sharanpur. Others are attached to the village out-stations. Of these, 140 are communicants. Twenty-two adult baptisms took place during the year. It is hoped that a Native pastor will soon be appointed for the Sharanpur congregation. Extracts are subjoined from Mr. Cooke's annual letter:—

For the Native congregation two Marathi services are held on the Lord's-day, and Sunday school for children in the morning. There is a monthly celebration of the holy communion, daily morning and evening prayer, and a special prayer-meeting on Fridays.

On the first Monday in the month we have a Missionary meeting, when the evangelists attend and give an account of their work. They strengthen our hands by telling how God is blessing them in their work, and we encourage them not to weary in well-doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not. During the year the Native congregation has subscribed about 25*l.* to the Missionary and Poor Fund.

The Lord Bishop of Bombay visited us in September, and remained here three or four days. He seemed much pleased with the Mission, and, in an admirable practical address, showed the people how kindly God had dealt with them in bringing them to a knowledge of Himself through Christ Jesus, and pressed upon them the necessity of letting their light shine in the presence of the heathen. Ninety-six persons were confirmed by his Lordship, and suitably addressed both before and after confirmation.

Evangelistic work among the heathen is not without encouragement:—

Evangelistic work among the heathen.

The Native Evangelists keep going from place to place, preaching the Gospel to the heathen. They remain out about twenty-two days in the month. The remaining days they reside at Sharanpur, receiving daily instruction, and preaching morning and evening in the surrounding villages.

They doubtless are doing a great work by sowing the good seed, but we must patiently wait for the harvest, the first-fruits of which we are now receiving. Twenty-two adults have been baptized in the year. In connexion with this branch of our work a colporteur is employed. During the last twelve months he has sold about 5200 tracts. This fact shows that there is a spirit of inquiry amongst the heathen.

Conversions in a village school.

At Machmalabad, a village distant about five miles, two Maburs were brought to a knowledge of the truth by our Christian schoolmaster Lucas. One of these, Puntaji by name, came to me and said that he wished to become a Christian, but that he was in great trouble lest his wife should leave him, and his two daughters, who were married when children, and whose ages are now only thirteen and ten years respectively, should be taken away by their fathers-in-law and brought up as heathen. I told him that his daughters were still under his authority, and recommended him to place them under my charge. This he did; but the poor fellow was severely persecuted. A false charge of assault was brought against him, his fields were injured, his wife forsook him, but afterwards returned. He bore all patiently, and when his friends used to come and try to persuade him not to be baptized he used to press upon them the necessity of repenting and believing in Jesus for the salvation of their souls. This man is now a probationary evangelist, and earnest and devoted to his work.

In the schools there are 291 scholars, with eleven Native Christian teachers, besides the able head master of the principal school, Mr. Carapit Johannes, who is by birth an Armenian.

Of the schools that were open at the commencement of the year, one was at Machmalabad, the same place as that mentioned above. It yielded spiritual fruit, three lads, sons of heathen parents, giving tokens of being converted to God. But the excitement that followed their open profession of faith necessitated closing the school.

Of the five institutions mentioned in last year's Report—the Orphanage, the Poor Asylum, the Hospital, the African Asylum, and the Industrial Institution—the last-mentioned is now to a great extent severed from the Mission. For the management of the other four Mr. Cooke is still responsible.

The Gospel has been regularly proclaimed in the large heathen town of Nasik (from which the Christian village is a mile distant) by the head catechist. The following extract from his letter shows the spirit in which he strives to win his hearers to Christ :—

I take my seat in some verandah, some corner, or lane, or street, wherever I find a few people sitting down. It does not take long to collect a decent congregation. I introduce the Christian truth in the simplest way I can. I tell them of sin, of judgment, of God's holiness, of man's vileness and absolute need of a Divine Saviour. I give them a short account of our dear Redeemer, of His gracious invitations for their repentance and turning to Him for salvation. I discourage discussions, for they gender strife. I have found that the moment the heathen perceive that the preacher is excited, given to anger, or fond of retaliation, they hesitate not to annoy and hoot him, and give him trouble. But I have not experienced much of this, of which others often complain. I generally go alone. Sometimes, when Native Missionaries and preachers from other stations come, I take them with me. They have expressed their surprise that the people did not behave so rudely and roughly as they often heard Nasik people were celebrated for, and they asked me the reason. I tell them that the secret is very simple. I seek Divine protection, not only before setting out, but while the audience surrounds me. I raise my heart in silent and short prayer to the Lord to bless both the speaker and the hearers, and I have invariably found that my prayers have been heard and answered. After this is done, I turn round and draw the interest of the leading men there, and ask them very respectfully not to be annoyed with my message, but to ponder over it and test it, and, if found beneficial, to believe for their souls' salvation. I conclude generally by telling them that I am not their evil-wisher. I wish them well—I am their friend. Such words, I believe, fail not to draw pity from them, and consequently, when I move on, they very successfully restrain boys and rude young men from shouting or pelting stones.

Catechist speaking the truth in love.

JUNIR.

Long patience for fruit of Mission labour.

This station has, from its commencement in 1846, been frequently unoccupied through lack of labourers. During the last sixteen years it has been the sphere in which, with occasional interruption, the Rev. C. F. Schwarz has laboured. The almost entire absence of visible fruit, together with the extreme isolation of this station, has led the Parent Committee from time to time to consider whether the field should be abandoned; but this step they have shrunk from taking when they found their devoted Missionary still hopeful, and casting himself in prayerful dependence on the promises of God. In his appeal to the Parent Committee, at the close of the year, he thus describes the isolated position to which he still clings, though suffering acutely from a painful bereavement, by which he was left a widower, without the sympathy of her who had for so many years shared in all his labours:—

Missionary tried by isolation.

The absence of any European society, the absence of medical aid, and the fact that we are shut in during the rainy season by several rivers, which makes it difficult to leave the places during that time, if occasion requires it,—all these circumstances might have been separately and duly considered before the Mission was established. When I, with my devoted wife, acceded to this Mission, we found it already established, and it became us, we thought, under any circumstances, to put ourselves to the task without longing for the conveniences that other stations amply supply. The isolation and entire absence of Christian friends we have always felt most; but even this comes quite within the range of Missionary privations in other parts of the world. In India, only, the vast majority of Missionary people know not experimentally what isolation means.

Such is the portion of the great Mission field to which this devoted Missionary clings, though "single-handed, without so much as a brother's single counsel or comfort." In this trying position, what is the stay of the Christian Missionary, and, amid so much to discourage, what is the anchor of his soul? His trust and hope thus find expression:—

"I will lift up mine eyes to the everlasting hills from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth." It is a very small thing to Him to come to the rescue of any person, or any work that stands in need of His help, if only to Him it be entirely committed. Mission work is a mysterious work. In one place much labour seems apparently to go for naught, much suffering endured, sacrifices made, disappointment sustained, and patience long to be exercised, till enduring perseverance is crowned with final success. At another place, the Lord is found before He is sought, He answers before He is asked, and realized is the word of Amos the prophet—"Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reapers, and the treader of grapes him that soweth the seed." Mission work is a Divine work; but it is also human—it is human-divine. The bringing of sinners to God and Christ is altogether divine; but the outward agency employed to bring it about is human, frail, and sinful; still applicable is the word, "Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it."

Missionary hopes under discouragement.

The following extract shows the nature and progress of the work in which he has been engaged during the past year:—

I now say briefly a word about my itineration: this has not been without several interruptions, and on this account it was not carried on to the same extent as in former years. The villages visited amount to 180, and the average attendance can be put down as 40, exclusive of market-places, pilgrimages, and the evening preachings at our encampments, at which the people have the best opportunities to hear the Gospel preached repeatedly. The novelty of preaching has of course long passed away nearly throughout this district, and many, if not most of the hearers, listen to the message, precisely knowing for what it is intended. In two places in the Western Ghauts, which are inhabited by the Koli tribe, I was pleased to find a desire for schools, and in one of them there was even a feeble effort made to get one up. If I had had the men, pious, faithful and qualified to act as schoolmasters and evangelists independently of the Missionary's constant supervision, I would cheerfully have supplied two villages with such agents.

Want of pious schoolmasters and evangelists deplored.

During the rains preaching in the bazaars and streets is regularly attended to in the towns. On Sundays good use has been made of our newly-built preaching-shed in the locality where the weekly bazaar is held, to which thousands of people come from the surrounding country. In future I also hope to have our Sunday morning service there, thus to give to the people an opportunity to see how Christians worship God, peradventure some or other may join us therein. One woman, with her child has been baptized, and her daughter, fourteen years old, is now under instruction. This woman is the widowed sister of the wife of one of my evangelists.

The teachers in our Mission schools sometimes feel powerfully the force of truth, and cannot but utter their inward convictions.

The elder brother of A.B., standing at the open grave of his mother-in-law, exhorted the people to prepare for the hour of death, because no one knew when this hour should come. On the following Friday, in his address in the mosque (in the absence of a moulvie, the brother officiated): he referred again to the same subject, and endeavoured to impress his hearers with the truth that God was always near, and that men had to give account at the judgment-day; and, laying his hand upon his chest, solemnly declared that God was within us knowing all our thoughts. At this a certain party took offence, and putting this earnest appeal down to the Missionary influence upon the family of the B.'s, slanderously accused their preacher with the Ghazi at Poona of heresy, as if he had asserted that himself was God. After a successful explanation had been given to the Ghazi, appeal was made to their highest Ecclesiastical Court at Bombay, and, failing there also in their object, their wrath turned upon A. B., and an effort was made to empty his schools, in which he acts as our faithful teacher. A split had thus taken place, and the majority of the Mohammedans had to join either of the two parties, till one of the influential men stepped in and brought about a reconciliation. However, the immediate effect was, that several of the better-disposed Mohammedans have ever since come together for religious discussion among themselves, in which the Bible and standard works of Mohammedan controversy are referred to.

Opposition excites inquiry.

While these pages were undergoing final revision for the press, the cheering intelligence arrived that the first-fruit seems at length to have been granted to the Junir Mission; several families in a village of the adjoining district, comprising thirty persons, have given in their names as candidates for baptism.

Patient waiting at last rewarded.

MALLIGAUM.

The Native Church at this station has been marked by steady growth. The various Missionary agencies have been carefully directed and fostered by the veteran Missionary, the Rev. C. C. Mengé, who records with thankfulness the many mercies received during a lengthened period of thirty-three years. The schools are well attended; and the girls' school in particular is in a high state of efficiency. Evangelists are carefully instructed, and carry on their work with zeal. The fruit of evangelistic labour carried on in the surrounding districts is seen in the accession of seven adult converts.

Failure of health compelled the return to England of the Rev. E. Sampson, junior Missionary at this station, whose wife, from the same cause, preceded him by a few months. Thus driven from his work at a time when its prospects were bright, he writes:—

There are unmistakeable signs of life in the Malligaum Mission field at present. It has been a source of the greatest pain to me to be obliged to leave my post. So little idea had I that I should not be able to shake off the fever, that only a few days before I left Bombay I sent home a parcel to my wife in England.

The state and prospects of the Mission at this station are thus described by the senior Missionary, Mr. Mengé:—

Up to the 30th of September last, eight adults and four children were baptized this year, so that the number of Christians in connexion with the Malligaum Church is now seventy-one. There are still ten adult persons who desire to be baptized, besides seven children connected with them, who will be baptized at the same time, when their parents and friends are ready for that sacred rite. Steady progress of the Gospel.

The Bishop of Bombay confirmed nineteen Native Christians on the 2nd October, and, on the following Sunday, twenty-six Native Christians partook of the Lord's Supper, together with about the same number of Europeans. The number of communicants is now thirty. The Bishop examined the girls' school, and also the Anglo-vernacular school, and expressed himself much pleased with the progress the pupils had made in both these schools.

The spiritual condition of most of the members of our Church was satisfactory, as far as could be observed, more especially when I noticed the zeal of one or two of our Native Christians in bringing others to a saving knowledge of Christ, without being paid for that work by the Society.

Three of our agents went for a month to Dhoolia, and preached the Gospel to many thousands in that populous town. The Gospel has also been preached in the villages east and west of Malligaum, besides having been regularly proclaimed twice a week in the camp and Malligaum bazaars. Sometimes when we got up and began to preach the Gospel in the bazaars we noticed that the Natives would not collect to listen to the preaching of God's Word. Our native agents began to play on instruments and sing songs to the praise of our blessed Saviour. Upon this the Natives at once came together in large crowds, and listened with fixed attention to the simple story of Christ's birth and death, and work of redemption, for hours together.

In conclusion, I may observe that I see many hopeful signs that the kingdom of God will spread more rapidly in India during coming years than it has done hitherto, and that our successors will be able, with God's help, to reap much of the seed that we have been privileged to sow in Candeish and in the Deccan. It is now exceedingly rare that a Hindu attempts to defend idolatry, as they constantly used to do in former years. In the bazaars the people listened with great attention to the Gospel, and often assented to the truth of it. Let the Church Missionary Society continue to pray and to watch, and to send out into the Mission field men full of faith and love, and their work, which is God's work, will be abundantly blessed by Him who is the Lord of the harvest, and has no pleasure in the death of a sinner.

AURUNGABAD.

Gospel spread by isolated Christians.

The progress of the Gospel in the Nizam's territories has had a feature peculiar to itself among the Marathi Missions of the Society. The light of divine truth has been carried into those central regions by isolated Christians, who, settling in various places, have, by word and example, led many of their countrymen to embrace the Gospel, and themselves to spread the leaven of Christianity. Of late years the Society established direct Mission agencies at Aurungabad, and subsequently at Booldana, and the close of the last year finds the Churches ripe for organization through the ordination of approved Native Christians.

The Rev. J. Wilson thus reviews the work of the past year:—

During the last four years there have been 107 (adults and children) admitted into the fold of Christ's visible Church by baptism. Of the steadfastness and Christian conversation of most of these I am inclined to think well. I do not know a better proof that we could have than the large attendance at Divine worship on Sundays in the several villages connected with this part of the Society's Mission. Once a month many avail themselves of the privilege of attending the Mission House services at Aurungabad, when the holy communion is administered to them. On such occasions Missionary meetings are held, and reports of the different agents are heard. Addresses are also delivered by most of them on Missionary subjects.

I have abundant reason to be grateful to God for the success which has followed the labours of the Society's agents in this district. Besides attending to the spiritual wants of the congregations in their respective villages, all these agents itinerate two and two in the neighbourhood of their stations.

There are six principal stations connected with the Aurungabad Mission:—

1. Aurungabad.—The Anglo-vernacular school here claims the first attention. In connexion with this and the Telugu schools, I desire to tender my cordial thanks to the residents of the station for the ready and liberal assistance I have received from them. The school has been effectually carried on under Mr. A. V. David, the head master, and a few assistant teachers.

The Lord Bishop of Madras, who presided at the annual examination this year, expressed his entire satisfaction as regards the progress the pupils had made, especially in the Scriptures, both of the Old and New Testaments. I am sorry to report that my Marathi school has ceased to exist, owing to the baptism of its teacher, an intelligent Hindu, belonging to one of the higher castes.

Preaching in the bazaar, and holding religious conversations with men in the bazaar and the regiments, form the principal phase of my work carried on in Aurungabad itself. The number of Christians at this station is only seven.

2. Budnapur—Bhawanee, my catechist, and two evangelists, are located at this station. This station has five villages under it, where Native Christians reside. Including the baptized at Budnapur, the number of Christians is 64. Services on Sundays, and catechizing have been regularly carried on. The conduct of the members has been very good, with one exception. The offender has been excommunicated, and the affair, sad as it was, has had a salutary effect upon others, and it has made them more prayerful and watchful.

3. Saigaum.—This is the next important station to Budnapur, and has one village under it, and numbers forty-seven church members. Bapuji Teli, the worthy evangelist in charge of it, has through good and evil report steadily carried on his work of attending the spiritual wants of the Christians, and proclaiming the glad tidings of the Gospel in the neighbouring villages. In this part of the Society's operations the increase in the number of converts during the last three years gives me reason to hope that a day of better things, in some respects, is approaching. The want of more labourers is much felt.

4. Ambelohol.—This station has an extensive district, but there have been very few agents to evangelize its numerous villages. It has a small schoolroom, where daily services are held. It contains about thirty-two Christians.

5. Mandava.—This village and its neighbourhood is under one of our oldest agents. He is now aged, and too infirm to travel about much, but is able to carry on his work, if settled in a village for a month or so to instruct and encourage inquirers or to strengthen recent converts. By his age and Christian experience he is able to render yet valuable assistance, though his days are drawing to a close, for his heart is yet in his work. In the course of his connexion with the Society, old Ramji has done much for the spread of the Gospel. He has been the means of bringing more into the Christian Church than any other of our agents, and among these are men in our different stations who are regarded by all as sincere believers. The congregation at Mandava has fifteen members.

6. Valong.—This station has one village connected with it, and contains twenty baptized people. It has no catechist or evangelist to minister among the Native Christians. Those of Mandava or Ambelohol occasionally pay it a visit.

It may be regarded as an evidence of a growing interest in the Missionary operations of the Society in these parts that every year, notwithstanding the difficulties one has to encounter, the number of converts has continued to increase. It is, moreover, to be borne in mind that all our converts in the villages are independent, and maintain themselves by cultivating fields, or by manual labour in the villages. A fund for evangelists has been established, and some contribute towards it according as God has prospered them.

A few of our Christians have entered into their rest during the past year: of these I have to say that they died rejoicing, looking unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of their faith.

On Sunday, the 28th December, the Bishop of Madras confirmed thirty-four of my converts. The station church was well attended. All appeared very serious and devout. The bishop's address, which I translated into Marathi, was thoroughly apostolical. Some of them could read very fairly. They understand what they read and hear, and several have a fair knowledge of the Catechism.

Thus you see what cause we have for the deepest thankfulness to God, who has, notwithstanding our unworthiness, sins and shortcoming, blessed us so wonderfully during the past year.

SINDH MISSION.

KARACHI.

The "patient perseverance in well-doing" that has always characterized the labours of the Rev. J. Sheldon, has been sustained during the past year amid a season of unprecedented sickness. The early removal by death of his esteemed brother Missionary, the Rev. J. W. Bardsley, was still a source of deep sorrow, when another youthful labourer, the Rev. C. W. H. Isenberg, succumbed to the climate, and India lost a Missionary who had entered with zeal and self-devotion upon his labours. His coadjutor in the schools, Mr. H. Croley, through failure of health, was also compelled to return to England; but the heart of the single-handed Missionary was again cheered by the arrival of the Rev. W. A. Roberts, who will, it is hoped, prove to be one of a kindred spirit with himself. His efforts for the edification and enlargement of the Native Church have been blessed.

A review of the whole year shows a healthy advance both in the increase of the congregations and in our preparatory work. The native congregation now numbers over fifty members, with over twenty communicants, and includes two adults, two boys, and two infants, who have been baptized since my last letter; a number which might easily have been added to, had all who have asked for baptism been received. This is encouraging.

Conversion of a heathen teacher.

The power of the Gospel has been signally shown in the conversion of a heathen teacher of the Hydrabad schools, whose presence in Karachi changed the indifference of the Natives into open hostility. Mr. Sheldon thus describes the unavailing efforts of Satan to hinder the advance of Christ's kingdom:—

The great work of the year has been without the Church, amongst those who are almost Christians, and those who hitherto have been the most violently opposed to our religion. The baptism of the head teacher in the Hydrabad Mission school was wide spread in its influence, and this soon communicated itself to Karachi, where he had many relatives and friends. A spirit of violent hostility was immediately stirred up amongst his caste people, the "Amils," as well as great excitement amongst all classes of Hindus. The arrival of the convert himself intensified these feelings. Bitter things were said against us, and some of our scholars were withdrawn from our schools. Panchayats laid us under a ban, and societies were formed to expound Hindu and confound Christian teaching. Even English infidel books, especially Paine's works, were pressed into their service to furnish them with arguments against our faith. All this, we trust, has been over-ruled for good. The societies started with vigour, but, having little coherence in themselves, and finding advocates of Christian truth in their very midst, they have gradually declined, until only one remains intact. Some of their members have joined our Bible classes, and others gladly come to us to inquire more dispassionately into the claims of Christ. Nor has the movement been confined to one section of the Hindus, viz. the Sindhees. Amongst the Cutchee population, a brave Brahmin, a teacher in one of our vernacular schools, with another Brahmin, his companion, declared for Christianity. At once his caste people were in arms. His school, containing 300 boys, was almost emptied, and he himself bitterly persecuted. Here also we have seen the declining influence of Hinduism. When the first burst of rage was over, the better disposed of the parents began to send back their children to school, while the persecution of the master gradually subsided. We believe this to be owing to Christian truth, imparted in our schools, and propagated amongst the people in past years. Men who have been brought under Christian influence will not, as a rule, be the bitter persecutors their fathers were. Again, while the religious excitement amongst the Hindus has been greater than during any preceding year within our memory, there has been tumult accompanied with violence amongst the Mohammedans. This has been the result of the direct and constant preaching of the Gospel in the bazaars and streets by our Native catechist. The sight of converts from Islam with our Native evangelists has generally the effect of stirring up the wrath of the Mussulmans. When two of these converts day by day appeared in their midst, and one of them was able to confute their assertions out of their own Koran, they first vehemently denounced us and our religion, and then cowardly proceeded to violence by abusing and beating our Native Christians whenever they found them alone and unsupported. To such lengths was this carried, that, though abuse and even blows were patiently borne for a time, protection had at length to be claimed from the magistrate, and the leader of the rioters bound over to keep the peace. It is humbling to confess that our work of sixteen years seems hardly to have affected the general body of these Mohammedans. They are as hardened and prejudiced as ever; but individuals come out from amongst them, perhaps to cheer us in our discouragements. We have several now asking, earnestly asking, for baptism. With these results we must be satisfied. We must labour with faithfulness and prayer, and wait God's time. For the conversion of the Mohammedan nations God seems to be using or overruling political instrumentalities.

Persecution arising from conversions.

Under the careful teaching of the resident Missionary, the schools have been kept in a high state of efficiency, and have proved a valuable agency for the enlightenment of the people. Suffering at first from the excitement above described, the pupils have, as usual in such cases, gradually returned to their studies.

Our educational work has engaged perhaps the greatest part of our time. Since the departure of our schoolmaster, Mr. Croley, the management of our central school, with the daily instruction of the upper classes, has fallen wholly upon the resident Missionary. The irregularity necessarily consequent upon the sickness of the master caused a considerable decrease in the attendance of pupils. This, together with the withdrawal of boys on religious grounds, at one time filled us with apprehensions that the school would break up; but by dint of hard work on the part of the teachers, to whom great credit is due, and conciliatory measures without compromising principles towards the boys and their parents, a respectable appearance was put in at the annual examination. Forty-six per cent. of the pupils presented passed fully under all the heads of their respective standards, and we have obtained a larger grant than last year's for teaching, though somewhat less for attendance, in addition to 100 rupees allowance for a pupil who succeeded in passing the matriculation examination at the Bombay University.

Our vernacular schools have also had a chequered course. At one time we have had as many as three hundred pupils, at another only seven. Yet even these schools, with all their fluctuations, have proved to be a useful means of conveying truth to parents as well as to children. Some, it is true, have rejected, but others have accepted the Gospel message. Among the latter, we have some promising inquirers, while numbers of others are induced to attend our services and preachings.

Missionary estimate of the value of Christian education in schools.

Still we are satisfied that, on the whole, education, based as it is on a Christian course in all our schools, is doing more for the ultimate increase of the Native Church than any other instrumentality at present at work. The severe secular course of our Upper School is no doubt a hindrance both to the Missionaries and their pupils; but with Christian teachers giving daily Scripture lessons in the school the dreaded secularizing of the mind may in some measure be checked, and some good seed sown. We are fully convinced that we have never had so many proofs of Christian teaching in our schools as we have now. All the teachers are members of our Bible classes, and, with scarcely an exception, willingly admit their conviction of the truth of Christianity. Nor is this confined to the schools of the Mission. It is a fact worth stating, that in the Government High School the head master was once a pupil in this Mission, and that three of his assistants are matriculated students of our Hydrabad Mission school, including one convert to the Christian faith. Most of these are under direct Christian influence.

Open-air preaching is regularly carried on:—

Two catechists, assisted by two Native Christians, have daily preached in the bazaars and outlying hamlets. There are in all seven preaching-places, including the book-shop in the central bazaar. The preachers have most perseveringly proclaimed their message, and, amidst great opposition and tumult, have exhibited marked forbearance. Their testimony, so faithfully delivered, cannot be without effect, though at present little fruit appears. Preaching in the streets is useful in keeping the subject of religion before the people, but it is often attended with much excitement and tumult. When we are able to build our new vernacular school, a room open to the public thoroughfare will be set apart for preaching. This will secure protection for the preachers, and more quietness in the audience.

With reference to the fruit of all these labours, Mr. Sheldon thus speaks, under the head of inquirers :—

Varied influence of Christian truth on the heathen mind.

These may be divided into two classes—those who have passed through our schools and are acquainted with English, and those who are instructed in their own vernaculars. The former are in greater numbers. They and their friends, who willingly come to listen to a lecture on a religious subject, often fill a large room; but great tact is needed in dealing with them. They are mostly respectably connected, and, were they to become Christians, would carry our faith into the midst of the best native families of the town; yet it is their respectability, and the strength of family ties, which prove to be the main hindrances to their openly embracing the Christian faith. It is marvellous how far they will go: they seem to be almost Christians, willingly attending our services, reverencing the Bible, and joining us at prayers; and yet, like the young man of the Gospel, hesitating to leave all and follow Christ. I am not wrong in stating that we number over twenty who are in this halting state; nor should I be a faithful reporter did I not mention that even our Hydrabad convert, though baptized, has not yet had strength to break through caste. His case is still one of pain and perplexity to us. The other class of inquirers are natives, who have little or no knowledge of English: they are generally just the reverse of those described above. They come and ask for baptism, and did we comply with the numerous applications made to us, many would be added to the Native Church. But our difficulty with these is to ascertain their motives. They are generally in needy circumstances when they come to us. Some of them are doubtless sincere; others, the majority of them, have worldly ends in view. What to do with each is a problem often not easily solved. Many are sent away, their motives soon becoming apparent, to reject the others, sometimes to reject those whom God has called, while to admit them into the Native Church is to introduce the elements of dependence and idleness. To say, let them work, is no doubt right: this is what we urge upon them, and what the men themselves sincerely wish to do; yet, if we secure situations for them, they are so persecuted by heathen or Mohammedan fellow-servants as to be unable to retain them. This is mentioned to show the extreme difficulty of raising up an independent Native Church, and will explain why so few are baptized. The truth is, numbers only do not constitute the strength of a church, or exhibit the real progress of a Mission. Our true strength consists in diffusing Christian light, and gradually, with care and prayer, laying the foundations of our Church by having healthy, if only few, members: numbers will come in due course.

HYDRABAD.

At this station, the Rev. G. Shirt has had to mourn over the loss of his brother Missionary, the Rev. C. W. H. Isenberg, and is now left single-handed. In humble submission his heart breathes the prayer, "The Lord's will, not ours, be done! Let not human might, but the power of the Spirit, be our refuge!" With untiring energy he has carried on the schools and public preaching. The baptism of his senior teacher caused great excitement, but again thought and inquiry settled into the old stagnation of ages. Still he is animated by the hope that his labours cannot be in vain in the Lord, and that underneath the surface a work of God is going on. He thus reviews the year's work:—

This year has been one in which the strength of our faith and the faithfulness of our God have both been tested. My brother Missionary, the Rev. C. W. H. Isenberg, has been obliged to leave for Europe. He clung tenaciously to his post, but was at last obliged to go home in hopes of recruiting his greatly shattered health. I am now left the only Sindhee-speaking European Missionary to carry on the work. If it be the Lord's will, I trust some help will soon be sent to Hydrabad, where our work, if not very encouraging, is at least onerous and important enough to require more than one man to carry it on.

The Hydrabad Boys' School has passed through a great trial during the past year. We began the year with as good prospects as could be wished for in a secular point of view. But in a Mission school secular prosperity is not all we want. We look for the Word of God producing its effects, and if it work in any very visible manner, secular prosperity for a time receives a heavy shock. This is our experience. During the hot-weather vacation our senior teacher was baptized. He belonged to the caste with which our school was filled. As he was the first convert, there was a great sensation. Excommunication was threatened to any one who dared to come to school. This state of things lasted for two or three months, and the Amil Panchayat was boasting that it had closed the Mission school, when, to its horror, it found that several of their caste had actually returned, and were sent by leading men of the caste. This, under God, turned the scale in our favour: now nearly ninety boys have returned. There is still a good deal of prejudice against the school; but as we have weathered the first shock we may with confidence lean on the same Almighty arm which has hitherto supported us.

Opposition from conversion in Mission school.

In the Girls' School the attendance is very irregular. This is caused partly by idle people circulating foolish reports, and partly by the large number of Government schools which have been commenced. The salary of the mistresses of these schools is only guaranteed on condition that they secure the attendance of a certain number of girls. For this end she uses her influence as friend or relative of the girls about, and too often succeeds in drawing our girls away. Through the school, however, the schoolmistress, in company with my wife, has been permitted to visit and teach some Mohammedan girls at their own homes.

The Kotree School has had its difficulties to contend with; but as most of these are now removed, we look for a better school in future. This school has been built and presented to the Mission by one who has long been a generous friend to the spread of Christ's kingdom in the province. The catechist visits it once a week to give Scripture instruction.

Preaching has been regularly carried on in the bazaar for the whole year. Our book-shop, with its verandah, is very well adapted to this work. When preaching there we feel, and the people feel it too, that we are on our own ground. One visit was paid to Alyar-Katunda, by Mr. Isenberg and the catechist. The Gospel has also been preached in Kotree, but there the opposition to the truth is very strong. On the whole, at present everything seems very dead. There does not seem to be a spirit of inquiry abroad. Some time back matters were very different. There have been two adults baptized during the year. The first has since disgraced his profession. The second, unfortunately, still clings to caste, though in other respects he stands firm. It is hoped that he may have grace to break away from this strong cord of bondage, for with it it is impossible to enjoy the full liberty of the Gospel.

We have had several inquirers during the year. As it is a rule that each inquirer must work for his livelihood, we are not long troubled with those who seek us only for worldly advantages. There was a Native doctor who for some time visited us, and asked for baptism. After a time he made another request, but as I could not comply with this, he soon dropped off. Several others have come with the request that they should be made Christians there and then. These are nearly always without work, and when they are told they must first be instructed they go away.

On Sunday mornings from twenty to thirty beggars collect, to whom I give a short address. Afterwards, we have a little Native service: formerly it was in Sindhee, but as the attendance only amounts to four or five, and all understand Hindustanee, while they do not all understand Sindhee, I have changed it to a Hindustanee service. Later in the day I have my Bible class, which continues to be well attended.

In reviewing the past year's work, I cannot help feeling that the excitement through which we have passed has proved that God is with us, and the great fears entertained, both by Hindus and Mohammedans, justify our hopes that underneath there is something going on. In fact, the only comfort which the Panchayat had, after feeling itself defeated, was in boasting that, by their opposition, they had prevented several baptisms.

For my own part, I feel very thankful that I have been permitted to complete my third year in this glorious work, in the full enjoyment of health and strength.

General View of the Society's Missions in India.

THE numerous nationalities of India, widely differing in many respects, are yet at the same time pervaded also by so striking a similarity that they may be regarded as forming one distinct field marked by its own peculiar characteristics. Everywhere proofs are to be seen of the powerful hold which an ancient superstition still retains on the thoughts and habits of the people; everywhere are found masses of bigoted believers in the false prophet; while everywhere, also, the presence is felt of the paramount power of a Christian nation, and the influence of those Christian ideas with which its literature and character are so deeply imbued. Even the Aboriginal tribes, which are found here and there in different districts of this vast continent, bear a marvellous resemblance one to another—a resemblance which seems particularly to manifest itself in the reception which they give to Missionary effort.

The Society's field of labour in India admits of a fourfold division:—(1) the large towns, and the leading classes of Native society; (2) the village population; (3) the Aboriginal tribes; (4) the Native converts whom God has graciously vouchsafed as the fruit of past endeavour. The large towns absorb by far the greater part of the Society's efforts in Northern India. In South India, on the other hand, the rural population has received the chief attention; while it is also in South India that the Native Church has been the most largely developed.

Mission work in cities and towns.

I. In the cities and towns of India the means used have been—street preaching; education of the young in schools and colleges; domiciliary visitation; and public lectures or controversy. Public preaching during the past year, either in the streets or in open wayside chapels, has been carried on more or less in every town where the Society's Missionaries are stationed, and in almost all of them with great regularity and frequency. In this branch of labour the Missionary is generally assisted by Native helpers, some of these being men who voluntarily give their leisure time to this work. The general character and effect of such preaching is thus described by two of the Society's Missionaries. One writes from Calcutta:—"The Gospel is daily preached to listening crowds in the thoroughfares around the Mission compounds. Thousands hear the Word in the streets who would not have heard it in any other way. As a rule the message is listened to with respect and attention, nor is it without effect. From time to time we have found traces of these wayside ministrations when we least expected them. Sometimes a solitary traveller, or a dweller in some remote village, has testified to the power of the Word heard at the corner of some street in Calcutta. Nor have instances been wanting of actual conversion as the result of this effort. Twice a week preaching is held in the chapel, where not unfrequently men of considerable intelligence and respectability will be found among the audience." Another Missionary from Lucknow gives the following description:— "People often collect to hear us in large numbers. Some of them are doubtless idlers, who merely stop to beguile their time, but these are generally a small minority. I allow that the majority are poor people of the working classes, and villagers that come to town on business; but from the questions put, and the answers returned, we are satisfied that the class who listen are quite capable of understanding, and that to despise them would be to disobey Christ's command to preach the Gospel to every creature. There are, however, among the hearers a good sprinkling of reading and intelligent people— Pundits, Moulvies, Munshis, and educated men in Government employ, or students in colleges. It even happens now and then that a Native nobleman or Rajah stops his carriage or elephant to enter into discussion with us." So much, indeed, is the power of public preaching felt, that the Mohammedans have themselves adopted the same plan in order to oppose the Gospel.

Open air preaching does not reach the higher classes.

Yet, as a rule, open-air preaching does not reach the higher classes. And these must not be neglected. It is for their benefit that Missionaries have so largely engaged in educational work. Calcutta, Agra, Bombay, Masulipatam, and other important towns and cities, have each of them large English schools or colleges, where devoted Missionaries are toiling at a work, some parts of which are to many of them distasteful, for the purpose of bringing the Gospel to the minds, and, if possible, to the hearts, of young men who belong to the influential classes, and who will hereafter be leaders in Native society. This work has been going on for many years. Its general results are now well known. Many, very many of the students are evidently convinced of the truth of the Gospel. Actual conversions are but few. There comes a time in the school life of almost every one of these youths when his conscience is awakened and bids him renounce all, and give his heart to Christ. But too often he cannot make up his mind to face the appalling trials to which such a course will generally expose him. He is not prepared to be turned out from house and home, and lose the friendship and favour of all that are naturally dearest to him. So he stifles his convictions as best he may; and after a while becomes reconciled to live as an unbeliever. A painfully interesting account is given of young men of this description by a Panjab Missionary:—"No longer placing any reliance," he writes, "on the superstitious absurdities of idolatry; no longer observing the ceremonies, or attending the Poojahs of Hinduism; they laugh at the credulity of their parents and friends, and take pleasure in exposing the specious absurdities and illogical sophistries of their ancient creeds. More than this, they eagerly read Christian books, examine carefully the evidences of the Christian religion, and admire the morality of the Gospel. They will even freely acknowledge the truth of Christianity; but will try to settle down into a groping and unsettled scepticism, or a blank Deism. They will read the Bible daily, and will even meet together for prayer, and actually address the one true God through Christ. They will hold debates among themselves, at which the majority will argue most eloquently on the side of Christianity before their class-fellows. They will further come to me, and declare themselves Christians in heart, and, by some clever shift, deny that in their particular case there is any necessity for outward baptism. They endeavour to reform their lives. Some of them become truthful, honest and pure; and, in fact, will do all but the one thing needful—take up their cross and follow Christ." In these Missionary English schools the new features that have appeared during the last year or two are—on the favourable side, the effect of that increasing respect for the Gospel which is now generally pervading the Native mind,—and on the unfavourable side, the impatience of Scriptural studies which is produced by the secular character of the Indian Universities. It is hoped, however, that the evil just mentioned may be removed by the introduction of Holy Scripture, as at least an optional subject, in the University curriculum. Increased endeavours will also be made to cultivate friendly intercourse with the students out of school hours. But this requires that every school, independently of the aid it receives from the Society's Missionaries, should be thoroughly well supplied with able and zealous Assistant Teachers.

Natives often become almost Christians.

In many parts of India the wives and daughters of the Society's Missionaries find access to Native ladies of rank, and are enabled to give regular instruction in Holy Scripture, as well as in other subjects.

Domiciliary visits to houses of Native gentry.

Domiciliary visits of a more friendly kind, but made with the fixed and avowed purpose of speaking of the common salvation, are carried on, with many tokens of the Divine blessing, in the houses of leading and influential Native gentlemen in Calcutta. The Society's veteran Missionary, the Rev. James Long, has frequent access to Native authors and leaders of public thought. He reports that the prejudices against the Gospel are fast subsiding. In the extreme north-west Mr. French has had earnest but not unfriendly private discussions with many learned Mohammedan Moulvies.

Mission work among the village population.

II. More visible success has attended the work in the simpler village population. This has been carried on chiefly in South India, where 55,000 Native Christians (to God be all the praise!) are now in connexion with the Society, and beginning to form themselves into independent Native Churches. Adults have here, from the very first, been principally dealt with. The preaching of the European Missionary, or his Native coadjutors, has prepared the way. The next step has sometimes been the establishment of a Vernacular School, under a pious Native Christian master. In other places, without any such intervention, the public preaching of the Gospel has been graciously made instrumental in inducing individuals and families, or groups of individuals and families, to place themselves under Christian instruction. When once in any district a few inquirers or converts have been gathered together, the voluntary efforts of these Christian men or women have been, generally speaking, the chief agency which it has pleased God to employ for bringing others under the sound of the Gospel, and within the enclosure of the visible Church. Thus amongst the Shanars in Tinnevelly, the slaves in Travancore, and the Malas in the Telugu Country, the fire has spread from man to man, from family to family, and from village to village, until, through God's great mercy, Native Churches have been formed, numbering their hundreds and thousands of members. In Tinnevelly, Travancore, and the Telugu Country, there has been steady extension during the last two or three years. Hopeful symptoms of similar progress are becoming perceptible in the neighbourhood of Aurungabad, Buldana, and other places in Western India. Efforts for the village population in North India have hitherto been chiefly confined to itinerations in the cold season. Increased willingness to hear the Gospel is generally reported. In the neighbourhood of Azimghur, Jubbulpore, and other places, the Missionaries and their Native helpers have thrown themselves on the kindness of those among whom they preached, and have been hospitably received, even in the poorest hamlets. Preparation having been thus made, the time has now come to attempt the permanent location in some of the more hopeful villages of pious Native Readers and Vernacular Schoolmasters. In obtaining such men the Madras itinerators find no difficulty. In North India plans are now in operation to raise up the agency required, especially under the veteran Missionary Leupolt, of Benares.

Aboriginal tribes.

III. The Aboriginal tribes of India have but lately attracted the attention of Missionary Societies. The Arrians of Travancore are still a promising field. The Santals in North India have been more recently taken up, and God has graciously begun a good work amongst them. Among the Kois in the Telugu Country a work has commenced of which the Missionary writes with much hope.

Native Church organization.

IV. Perhaps the most prominent feature in the Reports received from India last year has been the progress of Native Church Organization. In Madras, Tinnevelly, and Travancore, Church Councils have been established, consisting of Native Clergy and lay delegates chosen by the Native Christians from their own body. Each of these is at present presided over by a European Missionary, and most of them are largely subsidized from the funds of the Society. But the Native Christians have thus formally acknowledged their responsibility for supporting, with God's help, their own Native Church.

The Christian congregations of North India, as well as at Kurrachee in Sindh, have been stirred to emulation by the self-supporting movement in the South. Several of them, though very feeble numerically, are coming manfully foward, and straining every nerve to follow the good example. In the Christians of Kishnagurh there is a slow but continned improvement. They no longer look for temporal support to the Missionary, and have even begun to make some contributions for the maintenance of the Church among themselves. There is also an increasing number, though still small, who give evident proofs of sincere and humble piety.

Tamil Christendom is highly favoured in its large supply of able and zealous Native preachers and schoolmasters. Its Training Institutions are in admirable efficiency and order. In Northern and Western India a deficiency has been felt in this respect, to remedy which some plans are already in operation, and others are contemplated. Yet North India is not without its zealous Native Evangelists. Not a few of these labour at their own charges. Yahiya Bákir, a Native gentleman of Candahar, was baptized in the year 1856 by Dr. Pfander, at Peshawur. Some months ago he went to Affghanistan, with the intention of proceeding to Kokand, and preaching the Gospel in that country. On his way he found an open door at Cabul. He had conversed at the Serai with some of its inmates on the subject of Christianity. He was consequently charged before the Ameer with being a destroyer of the law and religion. The Ameer examined him, and then publicly stated that he had observed, during his visit to the late Durbar at Lahore, that Mohammedans were freely tolerated in British India, and that the same privilege should therefore be extended to Christians in Cabul. The result is thus described in Yahiya Bákir's own words :— "The people of Cabul now treat me kindly, and I preach the truth to them with perfect freedom."

Open door for Christain work in Cabul.

The Committee would, with all humility and thankfulness, venture thus to sum up the fruits of the Society's labours in India during the year. The Native Church continues to extend; and its internal organization has decidedly progressed. Knowledge of the Gospel has been more widely diffused among the heathen. Unbelievers are compelled more and more to acknowledge the truth and sublimity of the teaching and character of our blessed Lord; while there is every reason to hope that not a few—dead in trespasses and sin—have been raised to spiritual life. These results the Committee humbly ascribe, not to secular education, not to the diffusion of Western knowledge and literature; but to the impression produced on the heathen by witnessing the holy and consistent lives of God's true children, whether European or Native, living amongst them; and to the fact that, in public and in private, orally and by printed books, to adults and to the young, in schools, in colleges, in wayside chapels, in crowded streets, and in country villages, the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ has been faithfully and earnestly proclaimed.

Spread of Christianity traced to its causes.

CALCUTTA.

The Report of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association is as usual replete with interest. A general comparison between Bengal of the present day and Bengal of fifty years ago, is thus drawn :—

Gospel leavening the masses.

Could we bring into sharp and clear contrast Bengal in 1820 and 1870, we should, no doubt, be astounded at the revolution of Native opinion and feeling which has taken place. It would be seen, that not only were the bonds of caste loosened, prejudices of 2000 years duration largely modified, reverence for, and belief in, the national idolatry immensely shaken, but that, in ten thousand ways, totally new ideas, sentiments and feelings were percolating among the different strata of Native society. It would be seen that the descendants of those who, in 1820, were utterly unable to discern any superiority of Christ over Krishna, or the morality of the Gospel over the filthy teaching of the Shasters, are prepared to admit, because they cannot deny, that there is something strangely pure and sublime both in the author of Christianity and in its principles.

What may be inferred as regards the future, and as regards the course that Missionary bodies ought now to pursue?

Effect of secular education on Bible teaching.

Nothing has done so much to shake the foundation of Hinduism as English education. And it may safely be predicated, that so long as a thirst for western literature and science remains, so long will it be impossible for the national mythology to re-assert its lost influence. But to what are the educated classes tending. Are they becoming free thinkers in the worst or best sense? They are receding further from Hinduism; are they getting nearer to the Gospel? God only knows. To one thing we cannot shut our eyes—the immediate effect of the higher education on the students is not good. There is, perhaps, hardly a Missionary educator who does not lament the indisposition for scriptural instruction which marks his pupils. If he be old enough to look back to pre-university times, he remembers, with a sort of lingering regret, the happy hours which he once spent in teaching an interested class out of the Book of books. All that is sadly changed; the race after secular subjects has driven the Bible into a corner. It may still be read as a matter of rule, but impatient looks and shuffling feet, and, not unfrequently, sneers and murmurs, show too clearly that the exercise is regarded as an infliction and a wrong. This is disheartening; but what can we do? The University is a fact: it was not of our creation, and is not under our control. In the meantime, for Missionaries to leave the work of education entirely to those who either care not for the truth, or are opposed to it, would be a grand mistake. The modicum of hallowed teaching which they are able to impart may be like the healing branch cast into the bitter waters. It must have a purifying, sanctifying influence, and that influence may be as a circling wave whose remotest ripples shall touch the uttermost confines of native society.

The Brahmist movement has not yet collapsed.

The Brahmists during the past year have taken a new step. They felt the importance of some edifice in which they might assemble for worship and religious improvement. Prompted by the example of their earnest and able leader, the majority of the members cheerfully subscribed a month's salary towards the erection of the "church." The work advanced rapidly, and at length, in August last, the building was opened. Great was the stir and excitement of that day: from early morning till late at night, with only two hours' intermission, prayer, singing, and preaching were carried on. The services indeed bore a strong resemblance to those revival scenes which took place some years ago in England and Scotland. Fervid appeals were made to the consciences of the hearers, and prayers were offered literally "with strong crying and tears." Of the auditors, a few were inclined to mock, but the majority were serious, and some were impressed. One of the most curious features of the day was the initiation of several new members. These made a public avowal of their faith in the Brahmist creed, and were brought into "the church" by a rite somewhat similar to Christian baptism. It is a peculiarity of this body well worthy of note, that they affect to so great an extent Christian terms and usages. Even their "church" is to have its spire pointing to the skies; they have their forms of prayer and praise; a harmonium aids their devotions; texts are chosen, now from the Bible, now from the Shasters, and regular discourses delivered thereon. They speak of Christ as the Regenerator of the world; of His incarnation and atonement, of sanctification, of redemption, of holiness, of union with God, of victory over spiritual foes—all in language borrowed from Christian, or rather scriptural phraseology. A casual observer would be tempted to say they are not far from the kingdom of God. He would be mistaken. A wide gulf separates between the most advanced Brahmist theory and the simple Gospel of Christ. The Native taste for imitation is strong: this mainly explains the feature described; but Christian words are used and usages followed with anything but a Christian meaning. The very men who are most forward in this kind of mimicry are strongly opposed to the essence of Gospel truth. Nor are they less earnest in preventing one of their body joining the true Church of Christ than are Hindus and Mussulmans. We speak with facts before our eyes. Men of middle and mature age are rarely to be seen among its votaries. With increasing years the love of its followers waxes cold.

Christianity imitated by Brahmoism.

Yet the Report expresses the opinion that Brahmoism, as such, has little inherent life.

The most prominent and most distressing trait which meets one in educated Native society is a spirit of reckless infidelity, or rather atheism. There appears to be a growing tendency in very many to throw off all religious restraints. No doubt this has much to do with a depraved standard of morality. Multitudes of educated young men give the bridle to their lusts, spend their nights in drunkenness and debauchery, and laugh at everything sacred. Repeatedly have we been met by the remark, "What do we know of a God or an eternity? All is guess-work: this life is at least a fact; let us enjoy it while we may. The future is all dark, and is probably all a myth: it is most likely that death will be the last of us." The Comtist theory is not without its advocates. Many a young man points triumphantly to the fact that professors in Government colleges repudiate Christianity, ignore the Bible, and teach that the worship of humanity is better than the worship of God. The many phases of unbelief exhibited by not a few Europeans here and at home act as a stumbling-block and deterrent to the people of this land. The immorality of Europeans is an obstacle, but much less formidable than their unbelief. Educated Natives can well distinguish between merely nominal and sincere Christians. But it does not fail to strike them as of weighty import, that here and there an educated and able Englishman attacks the foundations of the faith. No sceptical book of any note is published at home which does not speedily make itself felt in this land. Multitudes of respectable men are beginning in all earnestness to believe that Christianity in Europe is already in her death struggle.

Gospel hindered by English infidelity.

To bring the Gospel to this class the agencies principally relied upon are Domiciliary Visits and Missionary Colleges.

Hopeful agencies for conversion of educated Natives.

Among a people such as we have described, no mode of operation is more important than house to house visitation. Without this it is next to impossible to reach them. They will not listen to street preaching; they will hardly attend lectures, or read books which may be given to them. They will not visit the Missionary, but they are glad to be visited. During the past year we have persevered in this work. Nothing could be more kind and hearty than the reception they give us. Though our grand aim is to bring the truth to bear upon them, we show a kindly interest in their families and temporal concerns. The education of their females is a point to which we constantly allude. And it is a fact of no small significance, that we do not recollect a single instance in which the propriety of teaching their women has been questioned. Those only who knew India fifteen or twenty years ago can rightly appreciate this fact. Greatly are our efforts in this line aided by the noble labours of our Missionary sisters, who carry light and knowledge into hundreds of zenanas in this crowded city. Many a time will the head of the family mention with pride and satisfaction the visits of those honoured ladies. We invariably find an opportunity of introducing the one glorious topic. Very often earnest discussion follows, but this is almost always conducted in a candid spirit. We mention it to the credit of the people, that even amongst the least hopeful of those we visit anything like coarse abuse of Christianity is never heard. With scarcely an exception, the highest respect for Christ and His teaching is avowed. We may here relate a singular scene which occurred to us but a few days ago. We had been speaking for some time to ten or a dozen respectable men. One or two of the elders seemed to uphold the old system. Upon this a most intelligent Babu, a man of some forty years of age, stepped forward, and, seating himself by our side, took up the argument. His address was almost word for word as follows:—

"My friends, what is your worship? and what are your gods? Your whole system is a human invention, and a man-made religion can never save man. What are your gods? Objects formed by your own hands—wood, stone, earth, and nothing more. You say you must have some form of the Deity to assist your worship; but you also admit that God is without form. Tell me, then, what form will you invent of Him who is formless, or how will you represent Him who is invisible? It is all vain: believe me, it is all vain. You cannot find God in your Shasters; you cannot find Him among your deities. Man needs an inward spiritual vision wherewith to discern God. That vision only God can give."

Had the speaker stopped here the Missionary, or at least the readers of this Report, might have been filled with hopes. but, alas! he thus proceeded:—

"We need this spiritual insight above all; but we need, besides, the outward vision also. We need a Divine Teacher—one sent to us by God Himself, who, by his teaching and living, will help us to find God. Jesus and Choitonyo were such. When Jesus was on earth, tens of thousands got the outward view of Him; but only His chosen disciples saw Him at the same time by the inward and outward eye. They found Him, and, through Him, found God. Believe me, my friends, all else is vain, till God give you the spiritual insight—the heavenly light."

In the Cathedral Mission College the number on the rolls is 149, against 118 of last year. Of the Society's Missionaries, the Rev. S. Dyson, acting Principal, the Rev. A. P. Neale and the Rev. Dr. Bauman are on the staff of the College; whlie the Rev. E. C. Stuart and the Rev. R. P.

Greaves have given valuable assistance, especially in religious instruction. There are also other able professors, European and Native Christians, who are paid from the funds of the College. The difficulty already referred to is thus candidly stated by Mr. Dyson :—

> We should be thankful indeed if we could report as favourably of the spiritual, as we can of the intellectual results. Religious instruction is imparted, and religious ideas are communicated daily, but it must be confessed that the effects visible to us are as yet but small. All who have had to do with Hindu students find cause to complain of their listlessness and inattention when the subject of teaching is the Christian religion, as contrasted with the eagerness and effort manifested when the subject in hand is one that tells in the University examination. How to make our religious teaching more attractive, and how to win the attention and interest of the students to give the subject a fair hearing, is a real and serious difficulty which faces us every day, and, perforce, throws us back upon a Power higher than our own to render our efforts effective. Moreover, it is impossible not to understand and appreciate the reluctance of the students to have their attention withdrawn from University studies, and fixed upon a subject which, if they once yield themselves to it, must be all-absorbing, and necessarily conflict with all their plans of life. The course prescribed by the University is so extensive and wide that it requires all their powers of mind and application to pass the examinations, and one can scarcely wonder that, not realizing the surpassing interest of the future, as compared with the present, they should endeavour, as much as possible, to relegate the subject of religious inquiry to some convenient time, if not to banish it away from their minds altogether.

Intellectual studies antagonistic to calm search after truth.

Dr. Bauman, one of the Missionary professors in the College, has been led to make special and not unsuccessful efforts to meet this evil.

> My work in connexion with the Cathedral Mission College was of a two-fold nature. Along with the occupation of teaching I have endeavoured to exercise an individual influence upon our Hindu as well as Christian students. It has been my aim to avail myself of every opportunity of bringing Gospel truth near my hearers, both in the lecture-room and in private intercourse. Living on the premises of the College, it was hoped that our students, as well as others, would seek an opportunity of being privately instructed in the tenets of the Christian religion, or delivered from the manifold prejudices and doubts under which the Hindus are at present labouring. I am thankful to be able to state that many have come, and are still coming to me for instruction, although a great number of them for unprofitable discussion. However, one class of students would seldom come from whom, by their manners and mode of inquiry in the class-room, I ventured to expect a more frequent use of my intercourse, and to whom my heart yearned to relate the love of God as exhibited in the dying of our Lord Jesus. Special invitations proved fruitless, and therefore I determined to go to those who would not come to me. With the assistance of some of our Christian students I succeeded in finding out the houses of most of our students, and the results have greatly encouraged me in this Missionary enterprise. Our students generally were at first surprised to find me come and see them at their humble abodes; but the feeling of astonishment having subsided, they consented at last to enter into a friendly intercourse with me. Now and then it happened, that on account of the bigotry of their parents or relatives, some students were not allowed to admit me into their houses, but then they were always ready to join me in a walk, and to converse on the serious topics of man's life and his immortal soul. However, where I obtained admission I had always the pleasure of meeting several others, either belonging to the house or coming from the neighbourhood, who have no chance, or at least seek none, of being taught in the principles of the Christian religion and morals. Once I visited a house inhabited by not less than thirty students of different colleges, some being connected with the Medical, others with the Presidency, and only three with a Missionary College. I entered into conversation with them, and found to my great delight that they were eager to listen to what I had to say about the most judicious way of studying their different professions. This was then a glorious occasion to sow the precious seed, and I could not thank God sufficiently for having shown me this opening. Some of my hearers felt inclined to oppose, but the spirit they exhibited in their opposition was rather of a docile than inimical character. At the end of my visit I invited them to come and see me at my own house, which some of them readily promised, and not a few remembered their engagement. At my going almost all accompanied me out to the street, and some of them even up to my own house. God grant in mercy that the seed sown under much weakness may gain root in the hearts of these young men, and at last spring up to the glory of God and his Son Jesus Christ.

Missionary visits to students at their homes

The same Missionary has also had private devotional meetings with some of the Christian students.

In November last the Rev. J. Barton, for whom Mr. Dyson is acting, was compelled by the state of his health to return to England. Before leaving, the students presented him with an address. The great majority of those who signed it were of course heathen. Two or three sentences of this address are subjoined :—

As a teacher, our unbounded thanks are due to you for all the trouble you have taken, and the patience you have exhibited in training and qualifying us for the duties of life. We would more especially remember the untiring efforts you have put forth to imbue our minds with the principles of morality, and thank you with unfeigned gratitude for the example you have given us in your own piety, benevolence and self-devotion,

In conclusion, dear Sir, we beg to offer you our hearty wishes for pleasant days at home. May the God whom you are serving so devotedly grant you such health and strength as will enable you soon to return to our country, and resume with redoubled energy the philanthropic task you have so zealously and self-denyingly undertaken to accomplish.

Vernacular education for the masses.

One thing we most earnestly long for is, the development of Vernacular Education for the masses. It is but too too evident that the "upper ten thousand" care not for the sons of toil. English-speaking Natives too often look down with contempt on the peasantry of the land, and are well contented that they should remain as brutal as the brutes that serve them. In a Missionary point of view the importance of a large scheme of vernacular education cannot be overrated. The Gospel can hardly make much progress among a people so steeped in ignorance as the ryots of Bengal. Tracts and Scriptures are scattered to little purpose ; and their judgment is appealed to by the Missionary with little more success. If Government will not do its duty to the people, let Missionary Societies do their best to remedy the crying evil.

Public preaching of the Gospel.

The Gospel is daily preached to listening crowds in the thoroughfares around the Mission compound. There is probably a population of 150,000 persons within an area of a mile around the Mission centre. Alas ! that we are so weak-handed. Were we only liberally supported, preaching stations might be established in every part of the city, and hundreds of thousands who now rarely hear the name of Christ might have daily opportunities of listening to the story of His grace and love. We are doing what we can, and that little is not unimportant. On two evenings in the week preaching is held in the chapel. Not unfrequently men of considerable inteligence and respectability, who would not stand in the street to listen, avail themselves of the comfort and comparative privacy of the chapel.

In the Leper's Asylum the good work has been carried on as in former years, and has been attended with some deeply interesting cases of conversion. The hospitals also furnish a field for Missionary labours. The Gospel in the Lepers' Asylum and hospitals.

These are regularly visited, and the message of love and mercy is carried from cot to cot. Two Native Christian Bible women visit the female wards. These are humble, meek, and consistent followers of Jesus. God has owned their simple efforts. Multitudes have left the hospital with a knowledge of the way of life; and several have joyfully entered on that path, and have, by baptism, been gathered into the fellowship of Christ's people. A very touching incident which occurred lately in the Sealdah hospital, illustrates the importance of the work. A poor woman had been a patient for several months. During all that time she listened to the teaching of her Christian visitor without any apparent effect. But God's work was silently advancing. One day the sufferer beckoned the Bible woman to her side. "I feel," said she, "that I am a very great sinner, and I believe in the Lord Jesus Christ: I know that He alone can save me: will you offer a prayer with me?" With a feeling of grateful joy the Christian instructress put up a simple prayer. It was then arranged that the sick woman should shortly be baptized. This was not to be. A fatal turn of her disease occurred, and before the Bible woman repeated her visit the sufferer had passed away. All was well we cannot doubt: though not enrolled a member of the Church below, she has been gathered into the "general assembly and Church of the firstborn in heaven."

Three Native Scripture Readers are employed among the domestic servants of Europeans. Two pious Kol catechists labour amongst those of their own countrymen, several thousands in number, who have settled in Calcutta.

There have been nineteen adult baptisms during the year in connexion with the Calcutta Mission. In other respects also the Native Christian community is advancing in strength. For their especial benefit an English school has been opened in Calcutta. Adult baptisms.

It has generally been found that Christian lads are brighter and more industrious when they pursue their studies with Hindu lads than when alone. A spirit of healthy emulation is thus evoked. Accordingly, the school was thrown open to outsiders. Upwards of seventy pupils are numbered on the rolls: there is every reason to believe that, with the coming year, the school will considerably increase. Special attention is of course given to the religious instruction. The first hour of every day is devoted to that subject. It is intended to carry the students up to the entrance standard of the University course. The school may thus be a feeder to the College.

The Trinity Church Native congregation has now raised a fund which yields Rs. 140 monthly. A Native pastor might thus be supported. It is earnestly hoped, however, that the congregation will not isolate itself, but will enter into federal union with the other bodies of Native Christians that are connected with the Society in Calcutta and its suburbs.

Efforts for the training of Native agents.

During the years 1868 and 1869 a theological class was under instruction in charge of the Rev. J. Welland. The number of students averaged nine. They were selected from those already in the employ of the Society. The conclusion to which Mr. Welland was led by his experience was, that it was most desirable to form a Præparandi class, to which young men might be admitted before entering the Society's service. Mr. Neale also speaks of the absence of proper means of training Native agents as one of the chief Missionary hindrances in Bengal.

The Rev. James Long thus records his year's labours:—"My routine is uniform hard work in the study in connexion with Bengali literature, visits to schools in the villages, and intercourse with Natives of various classes." Partly for the sake of his health and partly in pursuance of the same efforts, Mr. Long last September visited Bombay, Poona and Nasik. There he had several meetings with leading Natives, who gave him a cordial reception. Everywhere he found, as had been mentioned in the general review, that prejudices against Christianity are subsiding.

Kidderpore and Thakurpukur.

The work in the out-stations is thus referred to in the Calcutta Report:—

The Mission in Calcutta is like an army in battle array. It has an important centre, supported by sturdy flanks: its north-east wing is commanded by a European veteran, the Rev. J. Sandys, whilst its southern flank is under the control of a Native brother, the Rev. M. S. Seal, who, both as regards his time of service and his time of life, may also be called a veteran.

From Mr. Seal's Report the following extracts are interesting.

The two colporteurs who are placed under me, and paid from Colonel Roxburgh's fund, have visited 251 villages. They went as far as Diamond Harbour in the Twenty-four Pergunnahs, and the Roopnarayan river in the Howrah district. They have preached to, and conversed with, people in most of the villages they visited, and sold 1212 books.

In October, 1868, the Rev. J. Long made over to me the pastoral charge of the Thakurpukur church. The number of Native Christians who reside there and the neighbouring villages is 237, of whom 55 are communicants. Mr. Long reported the congregations as "stagnant water." It is being stirred up. Some show signs of life; a few who were indifferent have become regular attendants on the means of grace; while a few again, confined to a single village, seemed roused from their lethargy by the novelty perhaps of the change from a European to a Native pastor, as if only to fall back again into deeper sleep. I have, however, reason to hope well of this congregation.

Conference of Catechists and Readers.

A most interesting meeting was held at Thakurpukur for three days in September last, when the most of Catechists and Readers engaged in Bengal in connexion with the Church Missionary Society met together for conference. I was elected as their chairman. They freely discussed several interesting topics during their sessions. The most important topic was the formation of a Native Church Council. When their chairman explained to them what a Church Council means; what benefits our Churches and pastors would derive from it; and what the object of the Home Committee is in desiring us to form it; they at once perceived the wisdom and the tender feelings which prompted the Society to direct us to form a Council for ourselves, and all with one voice exclaimed "Let us have it." On being asked whether each congregation, or each district, should have a Council of its own, or one general Council for the Churches in Bengal, they, with one dissenting voice, declared that they would not have more than one.

The number of Native Christians at Thakurpukur and Kidderpore is 319, of whom 86 are communicants. There have been no adult baptisms during the year.

Agarpara.

The Rev. F. J. de Rozario continues his zealous labours at this station. In his English School he is assisted by thirteen Native Christian teachers.

My work during this year has been much of the same routine as in the preceding three or four years: on Sundays ministering to the Christians, and on week-days teaching the Scriptures to the masters and pupils of the higher classes in the English school; in the cold weather, in company with Rev. Mr. Sandys, visiting Babus in their houses, and preaching in the lanes and by-lanes and market-places of the villages near Calcutta or near the Railway stations. On these occasions we also examine some of the Vernacular and Anglo-vernacular schools that are rising very fast in the different villages, both for boys and girls, and embrace the opportunity of inculcating a few Gospel truths essential for repentance and salvation. Often, before the schools begin, we have much conversation on religious subjects with the teachers present. Many interesting questions are asked and answered, which leave an impression on our minds that the educated men everywhere are in a transitional state.

Influence and importance of Christian educational establishments.

Our educational establishments are becoming of very great importance in the present state of movements among the educated class. We have half a dozen schools aided by Government about us, that profess to teach up to the matriculation standard as we do; our rate of fees is also much higher than their's; yet boys flock to us, coming daily from a distance of three or four miles, and from the neighbourhood of other Government-aided non-Missionary schools, simply because they see that we are really interested in their welfare, and are striving to the utmost to give them a solid education: whilst the other schools have no more than from seventy to one hundred pupils each, we have three hundred, from whom we realize monthly about 300 Rupees as fees and fines. From April last I have obtained from Government an increased grant—from 60 Rupees formerly to 120 Rupees now per month. The whole school establishment (exclusive of myself), together with servants, and books for the library, and annual prizes and stationery, &c., come up to a monthly average of 420 Rupees, so that the school is almost independent of Missionary money. Formerly much of the higher branches of secular knowledge I had to impart; but we have now very efficient and faithful teachers, in whose hands I have entrusted all the secular instruction. My work is purely evangelistic in the school, except that I examine the classes occasionally in their other studies.

KISHNAGHUR.

The Rev. C. Blumhardt, the Society's old and faithful Missionary at this station, will obtain the sympathy of all readers of the Society's publications, when they learn that he is threatened with the loss of his eyesight through cataract. It is hoped, however, that with God's blessing a surgical operation may be the means of recovery.

"Who hath believed our report?" is a cry still, as of old, very frequently uttered by the faithful preacher of God's word.

The preaching of the Gospel in the town and neighbourhood has been regularly carried on; but, alas! though there are always many hearers, only a few attend to it savingly. The all-absorbing object with most of the people is, how to make money; and even those who are a little impressed with the truth, and would willingly exchange for it the folly of their fables and false systems, yet cannot raise their hearts and minds above the grovelling objects of this perishing world.

Hindrances to sincere and bold profession of Christianity

By embracing the Gospel of Christ, many think they do the Missionary good service, and that therefore they ought to be rewarded for it. I have had a curious correspondence lately with an educated Hindu, which is a proof of what I have said. The young man had fallen into bad habits, and his father rebuked him for it, and then, out of revenge, the son offered to embrace Christianity. This is only one instance of disappointment out of many similar cases.

Yet some have been gathered into Christ's Church.

I have experienced much encouragement in my native congregation, as regards their general conduct, as well as their attendance on the means of grace. The communicant body of the Christians have regular prayer-meetings twice a week, and all their secular affairs or disputes are settled among themselves in separate meetings. The result of their conclusions in important cases is brought before me for approval, and it is wonderful to what correct conclusions they sometimes come.

Our Christian boys' and girls' schools have also given us much satisfaction. My two daughters take a great interest in these schools, and devote the greater part of their time to the instruction of the children. It is pleasing to observe how happy the children look. Learning seems to be a pleasing task to them, and this is proved by the regularity of their attendance at school hours. These schools are entirely maintained by local subscriptions from the residents here, and by ladies' work sent out to us from England.

The Mission district, with its 4150 Native Christians, is still under the charge of the Rev. F. Schurr, who now resides in the town of Kishnaghur, superintending also (in Mr. Gmelin's absence) the united educational establishments. The aspect of the Native Christian community still continues to improve, though slowly. During the last year there have been but two adult baptisms, and the number of communicants is only 230, being one in eighteen of the number of professed Christians; the average proportion in the Society's Mission Stations being one in five. Mr. Schurr's labours during the last year have been conducted, as before, with a zeal and wisdom for which thanks must be given to Him who is the Lord of Missions, and the Giver of all grace.

The six congregations in my charge have, during the past year, been visited by Mr. Neele, Mr. Stuart, Mr. Welland, and myself; the whole responsibility of instructing and guiding the Christians in the right way having devolved upon the catechists, who have, with one exception, proved faithful and laborious in the discharge of their duties. They not only conduct the Sunday services, but also the evening devotions in the church, after which they visit people in their houses, to which the well-inclined people resort. A few Christians join in conducting these meetings, but I wish their number was larger. The conduct of the Christians has, on the whole, been good, inspiring the hope of future improvement. The spell of dependence on the Missionary is broken, the people supporting themselves by agriculture and day-labour, excepting as regards the payment of catechists and teachers. They have now begun to give small contributions to a church or Pastorate Fund, and are willing by-and-by to support their own Native pastors. However, I find that they would, on the whole, prefer a European living among them. I have told them that the Committee is not prepared to continue a European among them, but that they must now help themselves by good conduct and reliance upon God in prayer and faith.

Growth of independence in Native Church

Mr. Schurr deprecates alike the multiplication and the sudden withdrawing of European agency. He would place the district in charge of pious and efficient ordained Native Pastors, while an experienced and active European Missionary, having Kishnaghur as head-quarters, continually travels through the district, by whom these Native brethren would be advised and aided.

The central Educational Institutions above referred to are prospering.

The Normal School has been well conducted by the two Christian masters, Benjamin and Simson. I invited Mr. Stuart and two Professors of the Kishnaghur College to the public examination. The two Professors (A.M. Oxon,) were quite astonished at the satisfactory result; they had not expected such proficiency in every branch of knowledge. Mr. Gmelin had prepared the scheme, and had also prepared the teacher, Simson; so all the credit is due to him. The system being now established will easily go on if the Missionary merely superintends. So, likewise with the Anglo-Sanskrit Schools at Nuddea. I took one of the Professors down with me, and, after carefully examining every class, he expressed his full satisfaction.

Education of Native Christian children.

With reference to the Christian children efforts are being made to bring them all under tuition, at least, religious; and with the view of rendering the Christian day-schools permanent, and of withdrawing eventually the Society's aid, I have applied for a grant-in-aid. One has been obtained for the Chupra School at sixteen rupees per month, and I intend, D.V., to apply soon for grants for Kapasdanga and Bollobpore. I have also appointed seven pupils of the Normal School to schools in the district, to render them more efficient. By-and-by we shall apply for more grants-in-aid, and I do hope that I may see the time when the Society will be almost entirely relieved of expenses for the district. I beg, therefore, for the moral support of the Society, and especially for their prayers. The system of taking fees from the day scholars is also being introduced, and at Chupra it will begin its operation from 1870; likewise at Kapasdanga.

The following fact is also interesting:—

During the year 1869 the Christians have, of their own accord, but with our assistance, opened four schools for Hindu girls, and, up to this day, they are successful. The Word of God is read in them, and Bible history taught.

BURDWAN.

The most prominent feature in the Missionary's report from this place is one not strictly of a Missionary character—the desolating effect of the epidemic fever that has raged almost universally. The Rev. J. A. Stern writes as follows:—

Desolating effect of epidemic fever.

Our schools, as well as others, have been emptied; Government and Railway offices are short-handed, the majority of writers and officials being laid up with the fever. Labourers are scarcely to be procured, many have died, and the survivors are diseased. The most sad scenes are witnessed in the villages near Burdwan. Scarcely a man in health is to be met with: skeletons are seen walking about with yellow emaciated faces, and swollen legs and bodies. In many houses every inmate is prostrated by the malady, and the poor sufferers have nobody to offer them a drink of water to quench their fever-thirst, or otherwise to relieve their sufferings. One comforting feature, however, may be mentioned; the fever, when it begins, is not of a malignant kind; but is amenable to treatment. I am happy to add, that although all of our Native Christians have been suffering, many of them very severely, yet our little community is now nearly free from the fever. We lost only a few children and one aged man. Those who were able to remove to other places have done so, or, if they were not able to go away themselves, have sent their families away. Some promising pupils I have made over to other Missions.

The fever, if it once has taken hold of a place, sticks to it for years, and though it abates in the cold and hot season, it gains strength again in the rainy season, and therefore I fear that our Mission, as well as our schools, will remain in a very low state for some years to come. However, the Lord has it in His power to remove the scourge from us. May He show us again the light of His countenance, look in mercy upon our small body of Christians, as well as upon the thousands of suffering heathen and Mohammedans by whom we are surrounded!

Yet Mission work has not been discontinued.

The varied machinery of our Mission has been carried on as usual. The testimony of "the grace of God that bringeth salvation," has been given by Bazaar preaching, by visiting the people in their houses, by the teaching in the various schools, by lecturing to the educated, by itinerating among those who are outside the reach of our Mission. It has been given by the indefatigable labours of our preachers stationed at the out-stations Mancoor and Bancoorah, and by our colporteurs who traverse the country all the year round with their books. As yet the time for the seed to spring up and bear fruit has not come, and we must go on working and sowing the good seed under the hope of a future harvest, which, perhaps, we shall not live to see. The Hindu, whether educated or uneducated, whether orthodox or a free thinker, is not yet sufficiently humbled to see his wretchedness, and to cry out for a Saviour. But with all the outward barrenness of our Missionary efforts, a great under-current of religious thought in the right direction, which one day will result in mighty changes, may be observed.

Hope of a future harvest.

Mr. Stern gives the following interesting account of his labours among the Brahmos. His first attempt was at Jamalpore:—

The following day of my arrival, being Sunday, I visited the leading Brahmos at their houses in the morning; in the evening, at four o'clock, the meeting with the Brahmos took place. About fifty Babus assembled at a private house, to whom I gave a lengthened Bengali address. The subject I chose for my address was, first some essential points on which Brahmos and Christians were agreed, and, secondly, some essential points on which they differed. After I had finished, a friendly discussion took place, and when I was going to take leave of them they begged me to stay at their prayers, which I did as long as I could spare time. Labours among the Brahmos.

On the evening of the following day I had the pleasure of holding a similar meeting at Monghyr. The attendance was likewise very encouraging. When I had ended one Brahmo said he had many questions to ask, and as there was no time left, he requested me to come soon again. The next morning I visited the two leading Brahmos at their lodging, and was not a little surprised to find that they believed in the miracles of Christ, and their idea was that God wrought these miracles through the man Jesus Christ. I was glad to find that these men had recently been in the habit of reading the Bible with the Baptist Missionary, Mr. Parsons, an able and highly respected labourer, who, however, a few days before my visit, had been removed from his earthly sphere of labour. One of these two Brahmo leaders is the author of those two Bengali hymns, the one in honour of Christ's birth, the other lamenting over His sufferings and crucifixion, which early this year appeared in Bengali periodicals, and which were also given in an English translation in the "Friend of India"—hymns which, as regards veneration for Christ, and faith in Him, come scarcely short of genuine Christian hymns. Our chief festivals also, Christmas and Good Friday, seem to have been observed as sacred days by the Brahmos of Monghyr.

Mr. Stern availed himself of a favourable opportunity for delivering similar addresses at Burdwan.

Address of a Brahmo leader.

One lecture was occasioned by the address of a Brahmo Missionary from Calcutta, who spoke in English on the universal religion. The lecturer, who spoke above an hour, displayed more energy and pathos of expression than accuracy and impartiality of thought. Brahmoism was represented as the extract of everything good and true in the Hindu Shasters, in the Koran, in the Bible, and elsewhere. Brahmoism was at variance with no system, was in amity with Christians as well as with fetish worshippers; everywhere throughout the world it was already established. He spoke with some eloquence on the principles of his universal religion—humility, faith and love. But it is remarkable that such terms as "holiness of God," "fearing God," have as yet no place in Brahmo phraseology. When he had finished, I rose to give a reply; but I was interrupted by the lecturer, who desired me not to go on, as he did not wish to have the effect of his speech neutralized.

This request was, of course, quite natural. Some days after this I delivered a lecture on the same subject, in which I first showed how we were fully justified in longing for a universal religion. I then explained that Christ came to establish the universal religion, which, however, he called by a different name, i.e. the kingdom of heaven; for if it could be established by earthly means, it would have been done so long before this by the wise and good in all countries.

The Native Christian congregation has suffered a severe loss in the death of their faithful pastor, K. M. Nandy.

Death of a faithful Native pastor and his wife

This native brother died in a hospital in Calcutta, where our Missionary brethren were able to render him much spiritual help and comfort during his extreme sufferings. His wife, who was much esteemed by all who knew her, for the Christian meekness and gentleness depicted in her face, died with her parents at Taljhari on the same day (the 31st of October), of consumption. May they now glorify the death of Christ with the redeemed in heaven!

BHAGULPORE.

The Rev. E. Drœse has spent another year of patient labour at this important post. These efforts, and those of his helpers, are thus reviewed in Mr. Drœse's annual letter:—

The different branches of Missionary operation at this station are, day-school work, orphanage work, preaching to heathen and Mohammedans, and pastoral work.

The Anglo-vernacular day school for Hindu and Mohammedan children, at which a number of the orphan boys also attend, has been carried on as heretofore by Mr. Leach, assisted by five Native Christian teachers, one Hindu, and one Mohammedan teacher. The school is attended by fifty Christian, sixteen Mohammedan, and thirty-seven heathen boys.

There are also two vernacular schools, one attended by above forty boys, the other being attended by about forty-five boys. The course of reading in these schools is as yet quite elementary, as they were established only a few months before the close of the year. These schools being placed in the vicinity of our Anglo-vernacular school, have a better chance to act as feeders to the latter than the one vernacular school had, which was situated above three miles away from the Anglo-vernacular school, and was, on that account, discontinued in the course of the year.

The Orphanage contains 150 children. Though Mr. Drœse looks upon orphanages as by "no means necessary, nay, not even desirable appendages to Mission establishments," a view in which the Committee fully concur, yet even in this department he has not been without encouragement, as will be seen from the following incident :— Orphanages not desirable appendages to a Mission.

There has been set on foot a Sunday meeting for Hindu and Mohammedan servants. It is held at the house of one of the European residents at this town, and is attended by some fifty or sixty people, mostly servants. It was started at the request of the servants of the family at whose house the meeting is held. The servants had first heard of the Gospel from one of the Mission orphan girls, who, the last time she went to spend her holidays at the house of her kind supporters, took the Gospel with her, from which she read to the female servants of the house. From them the other servants heard of the wonderful girl who could read and write. At first, two or three, and, by and by, all the servants attended the readings of the bright, intellectual girl, who from time to time also expounded what she read. After three weeks or so the girl returned to the orphanage; but the servants would know more about what had been brought to their notice, and went to petition the lady of the house to get some native Christian teacher, who might on Sundays read and explain to them the word of God. May the Lord grant His blessings on these meetings!

Another department of the work is thus reported of:—

The number of Native Christians in connexion with the Bhagulpore Mission amounts to 317 souls, exclusive of those Christians who, though baptized at Bhagulpore, yet now live in the Taljhari Mission district. Most of them are hillmen of the Najinahal Hills. Some few are living at Taljhari and in the neighbouring villages, and are employed as servants or teachers: the rest, probably some fifty souls, live in the hills, and are scattered over a long tract of country. Of the above-mentioned 317 Christians, there are ten—that is, eight adults and two children—at Monghyr. These, as a rule, attend the Sunday services at the chapel of the Baptist Missionaries. They are occasionally visited by some one from Bhagulpore, when they join us in our services. Twenty-two of our people, that is, twelve adults and thirteen children, live in the Bhagulpore district, north of the Ganges. These cannot, as regards religious instruction, be much cared for as yet; still something has been done for them through the Native helpers of the Bhagulpore Mission, as well as through the kind friends on whose lands they live. I have also succeeded in having placed at Lachmipore a well-educated pious Native Christian as English writer to an indigo factory. He has promised to do Means of grace for scattered Christian communities.

his best for the poor shepherdless sheep in his neighbourhood. In the course of the year there has been also organized a Christian congregation of fifty-six souls at Jamalpore, about two hours by rail from Bhagulpore. These are Native Christians who have been drawn to Jamalpore from various places in search of a livelihood. Some of them are employed in the extensive East-India railway workshops of Jamalpore, some live by agriculture, and some are house-servants. To the Rev. Mr. Love, Chaplain of Jamalpore, is due the originating of the scheme of bringing those scattered sheep together in a fold. The Native congregation at the station of Bhagulpore consists of 226 souls, that is, 75 adults and 151 children. The number of communicants is 48. The headman, or leader of the congregation, is still Samuel Chander. Though his office as head clerk in an Indigo factory at some distance from the station is an arduous one, he has yet managed to attend the occasional Panchayat and other consultations on affairs concerning the well-being of the congregation, and to keep the monthly collections for the Church Fund going on with regularity.

Evangelistic work has not been neglected, and has indeed been attended by results that call for thanksgiving. Meanwhile fresh openings arise, to occupy which suitable men have not yet come forward.

The making known of the truth to Hindus and Mohammedans at Bhagulpore, and in its neighbourhood, has been carried on by the Missionary, one Catechist, and two Readers. The Gospel message has been listened to not unfrequently with much attention and interest. The Missionary cannot help observing a gradual change being wrought out among the people, who from year to year more readily seem to admit that Christianity will triumph in the land, and take the place of existing religions. Some look to that time with dread; but most would seem to long for the day when that good and holy religion will be the religion clung to by all. What twenty years ago only a few far-sighted ones would admit, now is daily more becoming the opinion, and also the desire of the multitude.

Christianity more favourably received by the heathen

It would be well if Jamalpore could be made an Out-station of the Bhagulpore Mission. There is a field of Missionary usefulness among the Jamalpore Mohammedans and Hindus. Many of the latter are Bengalis, among whom the Brahmo element is very strong. Mr. Love has broken the ground among the English-speaking Bengalis to a great extent, He has been asked to preside at meetings organized by them for the purpose of discussing subjects bearing on the moral improvement of man. Mr. Love is thus given ample opportunities of improving these occasions, and it is very pleasing to observe that his suggestions as to the true bearing of a question are by most of the members received in a very deferential spirit. Among these Bengalis a Native Christian pastor would find a field prepared for him to enter on with Missionary operations. But the man sent to take up this work at Jamalpore ought to be not only an active, pious, and zealous man, but also one who has in his bearing what would command respect, and who has had the advantage of a good English education. The Brahmos of Jamalpore and Monghyr, only four miles away, are no despicable community, either as regards numbers, intelligence, or earnestness. They have, week-days and Sundays, divine services very ably conducted. Their number is stated to be above a hundred. Among the 1000 or more Bengalis residing at Jamalpore and Monghyr, there are many who are strongly imbued with Brahmo traditions, and a few who are almost Christians.

SANTAL MISSION.

There are now, in connexion with the Santal Mission, 800 Native Christians, of whom 225 are Communicants. During the year there have been 141 adult baptisms. Two European ordained Missionaries, the Rev. W. T. Storrs and the Rev. H. W. Shackell are at present engaged in the work. Mr. Storrs writes as follows in his annual letter:—

As to evangelistic work, it seems to me as if we scarcely had any in this Mission. Almost all my catechists are employed among Christians, in teaching them or in instructing inquirers. I have found the preaching of paid Native agents very nearly useless. The few agents I have hitherto employed in evangelistic work I am gradually withdrawing from it, as opportunity offers; and except as companions and personal aids to the European evangelists I should be glad almost entirely to do away with them. If the Native Church were to send them out and support them it would be a different matter. Very often a party of Native Christians (unpaid peasants) have spent part of their time on Sunday, between the services, in preaching in the neighbouring villages.

Desirableness and value of unpaid Native agency.

Paid Native agents, labouring among the heathen, have been much blessed in many of the Society's Missions, e.g. Tinnevelly. All depends on their quality; yet there is a principle underlying the above remarks that deserves attention. Mr. Storrs continues,— Pastoral work has been carried on regularly by myself and the six young men I have in training for the ministry.

Very diligent and self-denying have they been, and I hope there is increased life in all the village congregations through their ministrations. No doubt a very great number have only become Christians owing to the influence of their friends; but God is most good in giving me many little things to encourage me, and show me how much of real life there is among them.

School work in this Mission is most important. Mr. Stack, who has been transferred from the Calcutta office to this Mission, has taken charge of the training school, and has given himself most heartily to it. Most thankful I am to have so devoted, so sensible, so able a co-adjutor. The school has gone on very well, continually improving. Mrs. Storrs' girls' school, and infant schools, fell off very much during her absence from Taljhari with our sick child, but they are both recovering again since her return. I think the girls' school, though small, so encouraging and so important, that I am very much tempted to make it a boarding school; but I dread anything that may look like our supporting the people, instead of their supporting the work themselves. The village schools have continued much as they were the year before, though I think the heathen generally show less desire for education, and the Christians show more. The difficulty of establishing village schools seems to increase, partly through increasing fear of our proselytizing the children. We have begun a night school for adults at Taljhari, and, though small, it is very encouraging to see men come across the fields in the dark for a mile or more to sit, and read and learn after their day's work.

Medicine a useful ally to the Missionary.

Now a few general points. First I may mention the great success which has attended the dispensary I have established here. It gives me a continually increasing influence. I have patients coming from forty miles round. I would very humbly and sincerely give the glory to God, for I confess the long period during which I had almost entirely given up the practice of medicine had allowed the little knowledge I once had in a very great measure to slip away. Next, I feel very thankful that Mr. Shackell has come to take up the western side of the district, and so relieve me of a great deal of work which I could not reach, and which was a continual burden on my mind. Mr. Lehmann's return to Germany has thrown the station of Heranpore on my hands, but the work there is very small, and, with the very efficient help Mr. Stack gives me, I shall have no difficulty in carrying it on.

I regret two circumstances. One is the decrease in the number of baptisms. This has been very marked during the last few months; and the number of inquirers is at present small. I trust that this may not continue, but that God may be preparing a blessing for us, and is only showing us that the blessing is entirely dependent on Him, and not on us, and is His only to give. Again, there has been a decrease in the contributions of the Native Christians. This I have no doubt has been principally owing to the poor harvest we had last year, and as this year's harvest is a very good one, I hope next year I may be able to report an increase. All this year the people have been very badly off.

I am sorry to say the church, which is in the course of erection, has made but slow progress, and I often feel great anxiety as to how it is to be completed.

II. North-west Provinces.

The North-west Provinces comprise eleven principal Districts, viz. Agra (commenced 1813); Meerut (1815); Benares (1817); Gorruckpore (1823); Juanpore (1831); Kotghur (1847); Jubbulpore (1854); Lucknow (1858); Allahabad (1859); Azimghur (1861); Fyzabad (1862).

ALLAHABAD.

The Rev. B. Davis has continued his multifarious labours as in former years. The only change has been the addition of an afternoon service in the Mission College, of which he writes as follows:—

Our college building is almost close to the city, and as our future Native Christian Church will be remote from where Natives generally live or pass by, I have of late commenced making use of this convenient proximity by holding one service on Sunday there, which I have invited our boys to attend. We have had fair numbers of them hitherto, in addition to the few Native Christians who live on my compound. I fear the former will only be likely to come while the charm of novelty helps to attract them, as it is hardly probable that their parents generally will encourage them to attend a Christian service, and we can scarcely make their attendance be otherwise than quite voluntary: still I trust we may from time to time get some Natives from the city, whom we may invite to our bazaar preaching, or who are otherwise inclined to hear us, as also some Christian East Indians who live in the city.

As regards adult baptisms, the work at this station has been barren. Mr. Davis remarks on this subject as follows:—

Although we have had perhaps more inquirers than usual, none have actually been baptized as yet. Still, I trust our labour, even in regard to those, will not be in vain in the Lord, and that the fruit will, in due time, be produced, while in the meantime we would wait patiently, and continue instant in prayer for a blessing.

There are upwards of 450 scholars in the Mission schools, of whom 100 are girls. The Native Christians are for the most part immigrants from Secundra, the Christian village near Agra. They are therefore mainly the product of orphanages. They number 435, of whom 138 are communicants. Their pastor is a Native clergyman. The Rev. D. Mohun gives on the whole a satisfactory report of their condition. One passage from his annual letter seems worthy of insertion:—

Heathen and Christian contrasted in epidemics.

Last summer we had a great deal of mortality in this city. Hundreds have been carried off by that fearful epidemic the cholera, which rages fearfully in this country. It entered our village also, and did some havoc among our people, and carried off five in two days. But while the heathen around wailed and mourned without hope, the disciples of the Conqueror of death rested in peace. Our late members, now in communion and fellowship with the saints in light, gave full evidence of their hope in the meritorious death of Christ; and we who are left behind are taught to make "our calling and election sure."

JUBBULPORE.

The Rev. John Stuart is now the only European Missionary at this important station.

The early part of the year 1869 was occupied with Missionary itinerations in some of the neighbouring villages. Mr. Stuart thus describes the plan adopted:—

Missionary and catechists "endure hardness" in itineration.

Three catechists and myself went, two-and-two, into the villages indiscriminately, through a part of the Jubbulpore and Seoni districts. In former years we kept to the villages within easy march of the road. This course was, to a great extent, unavoidable, as the Seoni district is hilly, and cannot be easily traversed with buffaloes and tents. But I felt that this plan would do no longer; and, accordingly, one day held a council of war with my Native brethren, at which it was determined that, as we were all young men and strong, we should send back our tents to Jubbulpore, and, irrespective of hill and dale, road or no road, march straight on the villages in the "regions beyond," trusting to the providence of God for a shelter for the night. I may here remark that the only things which we took with us were our bedding (for we always got a charpoy wherever we went), and a few things, such as tea, sugar and flour, which I found to be indispensable. The Native brethren had but little difficulty in procuring the usual dinner materials at the villages, and I a fowl.

I would suggest that itinerating parties ought not to encumber themselves with tents. Sleep on the verandah, I would say, in the midst of the people. They will all gather round one, from time to time, so that the Padre and the villagers see a little of each other. This plan is perfectly practicable and safe; besides, double the amount of work can be got through.

I found by experience that the people, old and young, men, women and children, are capable of receiving instruction, and are comparatively docile. I have scores of times gone into villages, and gathered often twenty, and sometimes thirty women (besides a large number of men), who never before had seen the face of a European. As a rule, they came with much reluctance, and sat down with faces covered and turned away from us; but before we left they would gather confidence, and, turning towards me, answer more than a score of questions (put in any order), on the saving truths of Christianity. I am now, be it remembered, speaking of the women alone, and am sure, had I not seen it with my own eyes, I could not have fully believed it from others.

The Native congregation is scarcely in a satisfactory state. A suitable Native pastor has not yet been found; while experience has long proved that the European Missionary, however active and zealous, is not the proper man for that office. The famine of 1868-69 threw upon the Missionary and his wife the care of some 200 orphans. With these multifarious duties, and with but few Native assistants, there has not been so much public preaching of the Gospel to the heathen as Mr. Stuart could have wished. He looks forward, with the blessing of God, to raising up helpers in Jubbulpore itself from the Native Christians of the place.

BENARES.

Mission work in Benares.

At this important stronghold of Hinduism Missionary operations are continued on very much the same system, as in former years. The Gospel is publicly preached in the streets of the city, and in the neighbouring villages. Conversations are held with individuals, and with larger or smaller assemblages in the houses of wealthy and influential Natives. Jay Narain's College is the means of firmly fixing in the minds and intellects and memories of its 500 pupils the truths of the everlasting Gospel. A Native pastor watches over the Native Christian flock. The Training Colleges and scholarships are well supplied with students, and are efficiently conducted. There is, however, one new feature, and that is an important one. It is the formation of a class of young men who receive instruction and training to fit them for the office of catechists. The absence of such an institution has long been felt as one of the crying wants of the Society's Missions in the North-west Provinces.

In humble submission to God, it must be confessed that the fruits of all this work have scarcely as yet appeared. Last year witnessed but three adult baptisms. The Native Christians number indeed upwards of 500, of whom 110 are communicants. But these are for the most part the results rather of Christian philanthropy in the support of orphanages, than of God's blessing on the preaching of the Gospel. Yet there are many signs of religious movements in Benares, and many proofs that Missionary labours have not been without effect.

On this point Mr. Leupolt makes the following important and instructive remarks:—

In Missions evangelistic work the first.

During the last year a great deal has been written and said of Mission work, and the mode of carrying it on. But notwithstanding all that, I still consider the evangelistic department in Mission work the first.

The great lesson, that the Lord's ways are not our ways, we have still to learn. Missionary Societies and Mission friends call out in our days, "Missionaries make no way in India: new ways must be found out to ensure a greater amount of success, i.e. conversions in Mission fields."

These remarks, however, can only apply to North India, for in the South, as also among the Kols and the Santals, the converts are numbered by thousands. Churches, independent of pecuniary aid from Missionary Societies, are springing up, and large numbers are annually added to the Church.

As regards North India, Missionaries willingly acknowledge that conversions have not been so numerous as Missionaries could wish for, and do pray for; but are conversions the only criterion by which to measure success in Mission work? Are there no other criterions? Has no impression been made on the people? Are the Hindus and Mohammedans of North India, as regards their religious views in 1869, the same as they were in 1839? Every one will say, No! vast changes have been effected.

But by what means have these changes been effected? Superficial observers, who fly through the country, and conceive that they can grasp the whole Mission work in a moment—and such likewise, whether they be Missionaries or otherwise, as never go among the people, nor ever converse with native educated Natives on religious subjects in their own tongue—call out, By education.

That education has done much for the higher classes in India, especially Bengal, and that education is necessary for the evangelization of this country, no one will deny. But those who have lived for years among the people, who change daily thoughts with them, who have marked the difference in the mode of arguing used in former days to that in our days, and who have for years observed how light has gradually dawned on the minds of the people, assimilating their views of God and spiritual things to the Gospel, must be allowed to maintain, that beside education three spiritual forces have been at work, which have a far greater share in effecting this change of religious views in the minds of the people than is generally allowed. These spiritual forces or agents are,—the Missionary Societies, whose agents have preached the Gospel to adults in towns and villages, and taught the same to the young in all their schools; the Bible Societies, through whose instrumentality the Word of God has been circulated in the various languages throughout India, and has found entrance in houses and homes where neither the living preacher nor education could find access, and where it has been extensively read; and the Tract Societies, which have sent forth thousands of messengers, small and great, by which the errors of the Hindus have been exposed, and the truth of God set forth by which the beauties of Christianity have been exhibited, and the way plainly shown by which man can be made happy in time and eternity.

The absence—it is hoped temporary—of the Rev. W. Smith has somewhat affected one branch of the work. The Committee have indeed reason to thank God for Mr. Smith's able and long-continued exertions. In the following extract it is still Mr. Leupolt who speaks:—

During the past year preaching could not be carried on so extensively as in former years; our "Great-heart," the Rev. W. Smith, found it necessary to seek renovation of health in the hills, and I am sorry to say there is none to take his place. After having toiled for thirty-nine years in this blessed work, as no other Missionary in India, as far as I know, has done, some rest is due to him and his partner. I have, during the year, sown the good seed in town and country.

During the cold weather myself and Readers were engaged in itinerating. Excepting the inhabitants of some two or three villages, we were gladly received everywhere, and the people listened willingly to our message. It is a glorious message—salvation for sinners through Jesus Christ, the only Saviour of mankind. During the vacation of the normal school, five lads of that institution joined us. We were a goodly force together, had much opportunity of scattering the seed largely, and thanked God for being enabled to do so.

Christian preacher gladly received.

At home the city of Benares has not been neglected. We have continued our Tuesday meetings for prayer and preaching. Our congregations in the city have not been very large, but very attentive. The chief opposers have been Mohammedans; but the opposition has usually been in a spirit of candour. It seems the Mohammedans fear for their religion, for they have appointed preachers and defenders of their own. We rejoice at this.

The fact mentioned in the next extract may not of itself lead to much, but is another indication of the movements that are going forward:—

Among the Hindus, too, there is some stir. At present there is a great Pandit in Benares who has challenged all the Pandits of the holy city to prove that the Vedas command or encourage idolatry. They had a large meeting in the presence of the Rajah and other great people; but the Pandits failed, till, at the end, a passage from a dissertation on the Vedas was quoted, which was taken for being genuine, and upon the reading of which victory was shouted. The great Pandit speaks nothing but Sanskrit. He is well acquainted with the Bible, quotes it, and, I presume, obtained his views of God and idolatry from that sacred book. A man from Bombay, who resides here, asserts that the Pandit was brought up in a Mission school of Bombay.

The following incident is as interesting in itself as it is graphically narrated:—

The Brahmos have found opponents likewise. In my visiting I am at present accompanied by Babu Timothy Luther. Calling the other day at a Babu's house, we met several Brahmos. They spoke a great deal of intuition, and the knowledge obtained thereby. I pointed out to them that their great source of intuition, from which they have not only obtained all this knowledge of God and divine things, but from which they have also taken the very phraseology to express that knowledge, is the Bible. I had just done speaking, when a young Pandit joined us. He at once attacked the Brahmos, showing that men's minds were so constituted that we could only argue from cause and effect; but cause and effect belonged to this world, and not to the spiritual world; hence, if intuition was the only source upon which they depended, they might be sure that what they established to day others might possibly upset to-morrow. "You," he continued, "erect a building without a foundation." "You are right," one called out; "but what are we to do?" Another replied, "We want a revelation." "True," the Pandit rejoined, "but where is that to be found?" "Here!" I exclaimed, holding up the Bible.

Religious discussion with Brahmos.

Mr. Treusch gives the following account of the Normal School:—

Respecting the past year I have, thank God, nothing to say of gross misconduct. Seen from outside, everything has gone on smoothly and peacefully. For some time I believed that an inward change was also taking place in the hearts of the majority of the pupils, but I find I must again wait for better days. While only a small number of the students have wholly given themselves up to the influence and training of God's good Spirit, the larger proportion seem to be but outwardly obedient to that powerful breath of God's holy Word which works a new birth and gives new life. The Lord knows His time. Nevertheless, He shows us now and then that our labour is not altogether in vain, although the way in which He does this is not always pleasant. He has this year called two of the most promising young men from amongst us to His heavenly fold—one of them a very talented and hopeful lad of the first class, and the other, one of my most useful and conscientious teachers, who, only two years ago, finished his course of study in this school. Both died with a good hope, confessing, with Job, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Such visitations, although they cause intense grief, nevertheless impart consolation and give encouragement for hope. The number of pupils has been decreasing. At the beginning of the year we had twenty-nine on the list; at present we have twenty-seven. This year two paying pupils entered. The subjects of lessons have been the same as in the previous year. I give a short summary of what the first-class boys have read, viz. Bible (Old and New Testament), Ancient History, Natural Philosophy, Geography, Algebra (Simple equations with problem), Euclid (the First Four Books), Mensuration, Writing (Urdu, Hindi and English), Drawing, Pædagogik. At our morning prayers, which are conducted by myself, the Model School boys join the Normal boys. Before prayers we have some conversation on points of doctrine and faith, for which purpose I have found Mr. Stern's Catechism very useful. I have gone through a good part of it, and I am thankful to say this has given me many a blessed hour. May the Lord, who has been with us hitherto in good and in evil days, keep His hands over us also in future!

The Normal Female School is at least equally important. Mr. Leupolt thus writes respecting it:—

Value of Female Schools.

I still assist in the Normal Female School. The institution is prospering. We have forty-four young women under instruction. Besides carrying on their own studies, and practising teaching, they attend the industrial department, where they learn every kind of needlework. They have also to attend to household affairs and cooking. As regards neatness and order, the school is equal to any school I know; and the Inspectress of the Female department of Public Instruction in the North-west Provinces adds, to neatness and order, proficiency in their studies.

Reference has already been made to the newly-formed Præparandi class. It is under Mr. Leupolt's care. May it be largely increased, and receive the divine blessing!

Præparandi class.

At the beginning of the year we commenced a class for Readers and Catechists, consisting as yet only of four young men. They remain in connexion with the Normal School. To this class Mr. Hœrnle devotes daily one hour, and I another. Besides receiving instruction, the lads go weekly twice to the city to learn the work practically. I trust they are all four servants of the Lord.

The Committee fully concur in the wise and Christian self-abnegation of Mr. Leupolt's conduct in respect to the Native Christians and their pastor.

Pastoral work has fallen entirely on the Rev. D. Solomon, our Native pastor. I am assistant and adviser. I help on the Lord's-day by taking the morning service in our church, and having a Bible lesson with all the young people of our congregation at noon of that day. I strive to make the Christians independent of the European Missionaries, and urge upon them to provide for their own pastor. They all subscribe to the Pastors' Fund.

It has pleased God to remove to the Church triumphant two Native brethren, whose loss the Missionary feels much.

Death of two faithful catechists.

During the year we lost two of our best men. Our senior Catechist, David Thakur, died in May last: he was with me itinerating till a few days before his death. I trust he is with the Lord. He was my right hand in visiting, and in itinerating we were always together. The Natives respected and honoured him. The second was poor Sharem Sewath. He received his first impression of the truth from Dr. Valentine, Medical Missionary of Jeypoor. His friends wished to prevent him from embracing Christianity, and as the stocks and imprisonment would not answer, they sent him off to Riwar; from thence he came to us, and was baptized at Benares. He was a truly sincere Christian, anxious to teach his countrymen. He prosecuted his Sanskrit studies at Jay Narain's, but was taken ill with spleen and consumption, and died a few months ago. His end was peace. He was much with me. Previous to his death he sent for me. He seemed better, and on my saying so he replied, "No; I am going to Jesus, whose I am!" Half an hour after he expired. The Lord's ways are not ours!

Visit of H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh to a Christian village.

One pleasing incident recorded by Mr. Leupolt is the visit paid to the Christians' village by H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh, in his recent tour through India.

On Tuesday morning, January 18, at half-past five o'clock, the bells called us all together. By six, the whole congregation, great and small, was assembled near the church. At half-past seven o'clock the policemen gave the sign that the party were coming. The church bells pealed a joyful welcome. As the Prince and Lord Mayo entered the compound, the bells stopped, the carriages halted, and the singers, accompanied by harmonium and violin, struck up "God save the Queen." It was sung in parts. The Prince, Lord Mayo and all present, took off their hats. Lord Mayo said a few words to me, and then the party passed on, the bells beginning to peal again. The Christians formed one long line from gate almost to gate, and the Prince and Lord Mayo received plenty of salams. It was a beautiful sight, seeing all the little hands fly up one after another to make their salams, which the Duke and Lord Mayo returned. When they were gone, we all assembled for prayers, praying for the Queen, the Duke, Lord Mayo, the Church Missionary Society, ourselves, and the whole world. Mrs. Leupolt was told in the station that our arches were the most simple and most beautiful of all that had been made, and that no band has struck up "God save the Queen" except ours. You may easily imagine that our people are delighted with the honour conferred on them by the Prince and Lord Mayo passing through our compound.

AZIMGURH.

The Rev. W. G. Mallett, who is labouring at this station, writes in a hopeful and cheerful strain :—

The year under review I would characterise as one of progress, and of progress in a wide sense—of progress in numbers, in new work attempted, in the old work undertaken from the very first. And from what I can perceive myself, and from what I gather from the world outside, I should conclude that the leaven is at work, to the removing of old prejudices, the instilling of new ideas, and the assisting of the Missionary in his efforts to sow broadcast the good seed of the Word of God. I cannot but believe that God's kingdom is being established, even though apparently Satan is still reigning in the hearts of the majority of the people.

Leaven of the Gospel working.

In the boys' school, where the numbers have risen from 287 to over 300, Mr. Mallett recognises as favourable signs the improved moral tone of the scholars and the affection they entertain for the Missionaries. Of other departments in the work the following account is given :—

The girls' schools have continued under Mrs. Mallett's superintendence, and she is able to report well of both. She tells me the Scriptures have been particularly well taught in the second school; the numbers have increased from eighty to ninety. The Church Committee has still continued to work very satisfactorily. The contributions from all sources during the year amounted to 485 rupees. We have now in hand towards a new preaching chapel and church about 430 rupees, having provided the furniture necessary for our temporary place of worship.

The Savings' Bank still continues a slow but useful course. In direct Missionary work I have to report, that during the months of January, February and March, accompanied by one voluntary helper and the Reader, the principal villages on the road between Azimgurh and Jaunpore were visited and preached in. About a month altogether was spent in this manner, and, I trust, was profitable to all engaged, whether hearers or preachers. The honest simplicity and the frank hospitality (on most occasions) struck me very much. I may mention that up to July last there was daily preaching in the bazaars and neighbouring villages. My head master, when I came back from my itineration, availed himself of the liberty I gave him, by taking the schools myself, of going into camp for about a fortnight or three weeks. The book-shop has continued open during the year under review. The sales, principally of educational works, have reached over 500 rupees: of this sum we may put down 100 rupees as realized by Bibles and religious books. It has continued nearly all the time under my second master, Babu P. N. Ghose.

The number of Native Christians at Azimgurh is forty-three, of whom ten are communicants. Three adult baptisms are reported in the Annual Letter. The Bishop of Calcutta has lately visited the station. The Missionary was much encouraged by the zealous and affectionate interest shown by his lordship in the different departments of the work.

JAUNPORE.

This station is also under Mr. Mallett's care. There has been much disappointment here with regard to two successive head masters of the English school. A Christian man fit for the post has not yet been found. There are twenty-two Native Christians at Jaunpore and six communicants.

GORRUCKPORE.

The Rev. H. Stern is the Missionary at this station. Mr. Stern's time is much taken up with the two little flocks of Native Christians at Gorruckpore and Basharatpore, numbering together 396 souls, not having been able to make satisfactory arrangements for a Native pastor at the former place, and having had some difficulty also with other Native agents. It is not surprising, therefore, that but little has been effected during the last year of successful aggression on heathenism. May it please God that next year's report may present a different state of things.

Nothing of any particular interest has occurred during the past year. We have not had one single adult baptism. There are, however, one or two hopeful inquirers among the more educated classes. We have passed through a year of great distress. In July and August the cholera raged in this city to a most fearful extent: within one month some 2000 of the inhabitants fell victims. It entered also our Mission premises, and carried off five children.

In other respects the Native Christian community is in a quiet and prosperous condition, and the schools are in a good working order. As testimony to this, Mr. Stern forwards the Bishop of Calcutta's account of his visit to the station:—

Visit of the Bishop of Calcutta to the Gorruckpore Mission.

On Saturday night, or rather Sunday morning, at half-past two A.M., I reached Gorruckpore, where I was the guest of the Judge. On Sunday, November 21st, I attended at the Native service at half-past eight A.M. Mr. Stern preached. There was a good congregation. The collection was for the Mission. At three o'clock I attended at the Native service again, Mr. Stern saying the prayers and catechizing. I preached from Hosea, "Ephraim is joined to idols." The church was full. On Monday at twelve I went to the boys' schools under charge of the Missionaries of the Church Missionary Society. The school was remarkably good, and, as far as I examined them, the answers were extremely satisfactory. The tone, also, and discipline of the school appeared excellent. There were 236 pupils, besides the city and bazaar schools. After the inspection of the school was over, there was, at three o'clock P.M., a Native confirmation. There were in all forty-four candidates: forty were Natives. They seemed, both from their answers at the catechizing on the Sunday, and from the way in which they joined in the service and hymns, &c., and made the responses in the Confirmation Service, remarkably well prepared. I made two addresses as usual, which were listened to very attentively, and, I hope, understood. The church was crowded, not only with the candidates and the congregation, but many heathen and Mussulmans from the city. As far as I could judge, they seemed interested in the service. At six o'clock, at Mr. Stern's request, I addressed the Native gentlemen in the large schoolroom, on "Truth," for about an hour. There was a good attendance, and strict attention.

On Tuesday morning I visited Basharatpore with Mr. Stern, went over the village, inspected the church, and inspected and examined, and heard examined, the excellent school in the Christian village.

I wish to record my sincere admiration of the whole work of the Church Missionary Society here. The schools are all very good. The industrial education only needs development to be extremely promising for the future. The village agriculture, especially attended to by Mr. Baumann, was apparently successful. The people seemed well-mannered: the houses good.

Early in the year 1869, the Rev. Tulsi Paul was removed from Meerut to Basharatpore to be the Pastor of the Christian congregation at that place. The subjoined sad but interesting narrative of Tulsi Paul's departure to his heavenly rest will also give some notion of the loss which the Basharatpore Christians have thus sustained. It is Mr. Stern who gives the account:—

Death of Rev. Tulsi Paul, and his character.

Tulsi Paul has at last been permitted to enter into his longed-for rest. He died in my house yesterday morning, and was buried this morning. I was not in the station when he breathed his last, having gone out into the district a short distance, but came in this morning in time to perform the last offices of the Church over his grave—a service which he made me promise him to do. Thus the first Native pastor of Basharatpore has passed away already, and the Native Church, over which he had presided only thirteen months and a half, is again without a shepherd. He died in the sixty-fifth year of his age, after having been a Christian for twenty-four years, and a Christian minister for twelve years. His illness was very peculiar, and all medical skill was unavailing. But his mental faculties were alive to his last breath, and so was his faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. During his illness he was a bright example to us all; and he gave, to the very last, the most eminent proofs of the sincerity and power of his faith, and of his thoroughly Christian character. His greatest delight was in prayer and in having the Word of God read to him; and he brightened up particularly when the orphan girls sung to him one of the songs of Zion. He expected his end long before he was called away, and was prepared to answer the summons at every moment. The fifth chapter of the Romans was a favourite chapter with him. I had many delightful conversations with him. He was completely dead to the world; and lived in anticipation of the realities of a blessed eternity. Shortly before he breathed his last, he said to his son, who attended him, that he was now near the throne; and that he knew and felt he was accepted with God. He exhorted his son (who is yet a heathen, but withal a most affectionate son, and who served his Christian father with a self-devotion such as I have seldom witnessed in a Christian child) to become a Christian, exacting the promise from him to give himself to Christ; saying, that only by his becoming a Christian could he hope to see him again in heaven. The son, Ajodhya Pershad, promised the father to become a Christian. I hope he will keep the promise by which he cheered up his father when he was dying. Indeed I cannot but believe that so dutiful and affectionate a son will receive grace to profess the name of Christ crucified. This son is a teacher in one of our bazaar schools here, and has a good report. Tulsi Paul had a most charitable disposition, and his heart yearned for the welfare of his countrymen, both Christians and non-Christians. He was an excellent preacher, and abounded in happy and well-chosen illustrations of the truth as it is in Jesus Christ. His heart was thoroughly in the Mission. He had his faults and weaknesses, but they were over-shadowed by the excellency of his Christian character. If I am to express his worth in a few words I would say, he was a Nathanael, in whom there was no guile.

LUCKNOW.

The Rev. J. Fuchs has charge of the pastoral and evangelistic work at this important place. There are 200 Native Christians (almost all of them immigrants from other parts of India), of whom forty-eight are communicants. Mr. Fuchs longs to devolve upon a Native pastor the care of the Christian congregation, that he may thus devote himself more exclusively to Missionary work. There have been five adult baptisms during the year. Mr. Fuchs thus writes :—

In giving you a brief account of another year's labour, I have much cause to thank God for His numberless mercies granted to me and my wife. First, I may mention the measure of health and strength which we enjoy. The good will shown to us by the residents of the station and the Natives, as far as we are known to them, and the attachment of the congregation, we also accept as a favour granted unto us by the Lord; and the inward support of grace received we recognise in our not having been discouraged by disappointments and difficulties. Looking, on the other hand, on what we have done, it is most humiliating to see that so little has been done by us, and that little, how defective it is; but we have an Advocate with the Father.

Baptism of five adults.

Five adults—two men and three women—have been admitted by baptism into the Church. Of the former, a few remarks may not be out of place. The first, Gholam Mahomed, was by birth a Panjabi Hindu, but after the death of his father he became a Mohammedan, his two elder brothers themselves having adopted that faith. In March, after a long period of probation, his urgent request for baptism was complied with. Under his Christian name, Gholam Masih, he was engaged in the Church Mission press, as he was during his time of probation, and has been going on steadily.

The second, a Bengali Baboo, whose name is now Kristo Lall, is an intelligent man, was formerly engaged in the Government educational department, and received, on resigning, a good certificate from the Director of Public Instruction, Oude. He came here with the firm resolution of embracing Christianity, and as no unworthy motive could be detected, and he could gain nothing in a temporal point of view, he was not kept long waiting for baptism. Many Bengali Baboos, to whom he had sent a printed invitation, were present at his baptism, and he has since been engaged in one of Mr. Weber's schools, where he is giving satisfaction.

The girls' orphanage has been very wisely coalesced with that at Secundra. Mrs. Fuchs is thus set free for Missionary work. Of her work in the Zenanas the following account is given, omitting some deeply interesting particulars, which it would perhaps not be wise to publish.

Mrs. Fuchs' visits have always been considered by the teachers and pupils as a joyful event, and all listen attentively to what she speaks to them. No less are her visits welcome in the Zenanas of many respectable and some high families. The confidence they have in Mrs. Fuchs they showed by accepting again in September, as the year before, an invitation to our house, when no less than forty were present, and a number of ladies from the station, among whom was the wife of the Chief Commissioner, &c. All left this highly gratified. Besides the Zenana Schools, there is the Bazaar Girls' School, into which the girls of Christian parents that used to attend the Orphanage Girls' School have been drafted. Work in the Zenanas.

Another important branch of Missionary effort is thus described:—

I have during the year visited not a few houses of influential people who invited me, and many whom I here and there met are very friendly, and promise to visit me, but frequently that is all. To go to the Missionary's house is an undertaking which many are afraid of, as if it was entering the lion's den, where they would certainly be attacked on their religion, and others, seeing them visiting me, might suspect them of being inquirers. They are very fond of visiting the gentlemen of the station, with whom religion can scarcely form a subject of conversation, most of these gentlemen either not knowing the language sufficiently, or not being prepared for a religious controversy.

The more public preaching of the Gospel is not omitted.

Preaching in the city has been going on by the two catechists, Pundit Samuel, and Munshi Shawfuddeen, and the reader, Isa Das, and I joined them as often as possible. People often collect to hear us in large numbers. I went in January and February out on a preaching tour, and came as far as Seetapore. The villagers were, with few exceptions, very glad to see us, and frequently all the men of the village collected around it. In Seetapore I was invited by the Mussulmans to a discussion in the house of one, where the whole courtyard was filled with people. But no heed was given to what I said: their sole object was to raise objections, &c., not to hear.

Some account of the open-air preaching at Lucknow, and of the audiences obtained, has already been given in the "General View," p. 73.

There are at present in connexion with the Mission seven boys' schools with a total number of 658 pupils. The high school, in which the most advanced students are preparing for the Calcutta University, contains 213 pupils.

At the commencement of the year 1869 the Mission was strengthened by the accession of the Rev. F. F. Trench, who gave promise of becoming a most zealous and able Missionary. But the prospect was not to be realized. It pleased God to remove Mr. Trench on the 4th of June, after a week's illness, to service in a higher world.

AGRA.

In the Agra district there are 325 Native Christians, with ninety-eight communicants. Eight adult baptisms took place in the course of the year. The annual letter from this station bears the joint signatures of Rev. C. E. Vines, Mr. Bell, Mr. Wright, and the Native clergyman, the Rev. J. Jacob. It describes a state of things very generally prevalent in Mission districts throughout India—movements towards the Christian Church in the lower castes, while the higher classes, advancing in secular knowledge, still shrink back from the reproach of the cross.

Though the political importance of Agra has been diminished by the departure of the High Court to Allahabad, this city must still exercise a great influence, not only on the neighbourhood, but over the Native states of Jeypore, Bhurtpore, and Gwalior, &c. The spiritual life and zeal of a Native congregation, under the Rev. J. Jacob is therefore not only important as affecting its own interests, but it is required to be a light-bearer and a mother church to others. The congregation have contributed 1200 rupees towards the salary of their Native pastor, and other objects connected with the Church and Missions; but the pastor has to mourn over the carelessness and deadness of many who appear to have only a name to live. A head catechist (Elisha) has been appointed to work in the cantonments of Agra, where there are many scattered Christians who do not come to church (partly on account of the distance). He has three week-day prayer-meetings, one in the suburb of Boileaugunge, for thirty-one souls living in that neighbourhood; one in the 40th Native Infantry, where there are forty Christians; and one in the 1st Native Infantry, where there are forty-four Christians. It is hoped that in time a church may be erected in Cantonments, where they may all meet together. There are other prayer-meetings in the suburbs of Agra, conducted by the Rev. C. E. Vines and Rev. J. Jacob. The catechist, Madho Ram, who was located again at Muttra, on his return from the Mauritius, and placed in pastoral charge of the congregation, was ordained deacon at Cawnpore in September. He has had the satisfaction of baptizing in the course of the year one whom he had long known as an inquirer.

The out-stations connected with Agra have been visited several times during the year. The only one which has shown especial features of interest is Sorow, on the banks of the Ganges, 47 miles N.E. of Hatras, and 75 miles from Agra. The Rev. C. E. Vines baptized three converts there in the cold weather of 1868-69, and three in November, 1869. There are many more inquirers, but great caution is required in testing the sincerity of their profession, and they are slow in learning. The Christian converts at Sorow have relatives at Hatras, who have come under Christian influence, and at Secundra Ras, an important town between Hatras and Sorow. We must endeavour to have an agent stationed at Secundra Ras, as two or three persons there express a desire to be instructed concerning the Christian religion.

Mr. Schneider, who is nominally attached to the Agra station, and whose bodily strength is not what it was in his younger days, devotes his powers mainly now to literary work, being engaged for six or eight hours a day during most of the year in composing a vernacular commentary on the Scriptures. While so employed Mr. Schneider resides in the cool retreat of Landour. In the colder months he descends into the plains, visits Agra, and takes his part in oral preaching. Mr. Schneider gives a good account of the Native Pastor at Agra.

Efficiency of a Native Pastor.

During our stay at Agra I was delighted in seeing the zeal, energy and success with which the Native pastor, Rev. J. Jacob, is taking care of my former congregation in Muttra: it seemed to me not increased in number, but the people are much attached to their pastor, and are regular in attending to the means of grace. Mr. Jacob is also very active in the school of girls and a few little boys connected with the Muttra congregation. I was present at a very interesting examination of the children in the beginning of December, when I had an opportunity of witnessing how well Mr. Jacob taught and managed the children. Although his time is fully occupied by pastoral and school duties, yet he regularly attends also to the bazaar preaching, for which he is eminently qualified and gifted."

The Agra Church Missionary Society College—St. John's College—has prospered in a secular point of view, but has not yielded any visible spiritual fruit. Some of its students have obtained distinctions of various kinds, but it is not stated whether any of these are Native Christians.

ALLYGHUR.

Mr. E. A. Steller has continued his labours at this station. In his Missionary tour during the cold season he travelled above 400 miles, and visited about 250 villages. Of the reception of the Gospel he thus writes :—

Varied effects of the preaching of the Gospel.

We had great opportunities for proclaiming the glad tidings to the poor; and, on the whole, were well received and listened to. Opposition there was of course, but this is more and more restricted to the immoral, or to those who are interested in upholding heathenism. The light is spreading and the Gospel is beginning to be understood, yet we must not be impatient in our expectations. It is still true that darkness (gross ignorance is covering the earth, and great darkness (appalling wickedness) the people. There have been several pretended inquirers, whose real desire has been simply to obtain worldly maintenance. These were soon detected and dismissed. Those who long for something better have not sufficient moral courage or spiritual earnestnesss to break through the trammels of caste. Yet we have at present six adult candidates for baptism, with whom are connected seven children. With the aid of two Bible Society Colporteurs, we have sold during the last nine months 790 Bibles, Testaments and Scripture portions.

MEERUT.

The Native Christians attached to Meerut and its outstations number 750, of whom 350 are communicants.

During the year there have been thirteen adult baptisms. Notwithstanding the large number of communicants, the Missionary does not feel able to speak very highly of the spiritual condition of the Meerut congregations. May it please God to grant a mightier work of His Spirit among them, to make it evident who are truly His, and to bring these together, stirring them up to speak often one to another, and to tell their neighbours of the salvation which they have themselves experienced!

The Rev. C. T. Hœrnle is the senior Missionary of the station. At the commencement of the year 1869 there were associated with him his two sons, the Revs. Rudolf and John Hœrnle, and a Native pastor, the Rev. Tulsi Paul, while another of Mr. Hœrnle's sons was head-master of the English School. During the year Mr. Rudolf Hœrnle removed to Benares, where his knowledge of Sanskrit will, it is hoped, prove a valuable talent to be employed in the Master's service. Earlier in the year the aged pastor, Tulsi Paul had been transferred to the charge of a growing Christian congregation at Basharatpore, near Gorruckpore, where, however, after a few months, he succumbed to disease, as has been already mentioned. The pastoral charge of the Meerut Native congregation then devolved upon another Native brother, the Rev. F. Abel. An additional Native pastor was added to the district, by the ordination, early in 1869, of the able catechist, D. Jeremy. In the visible organization of the Native congregations there has been advance, as also in the completion of external appliances. On this head Mr. Hœrnle writes as follows:—

As a mark of progress we may mention the completion of our Mission church in the vicinity of the native town, in a much frequented locality, and the formation of a Church Committee to assist the Native pastor in the performance of the secular duties connected with his charge of three congregations. It is composed of six members—two for the Cantonment, two for the City Mission Christians—one each for those at Kanker Khera and Maliyana, the Native pastor being president ex officio. Though as yet in its infancy, it has worked well, and will increase in usefulness as the members gain experience and self-action. The new church has an open verandah towards the city, which was added with a view to giving its non-Christian inhabitants an opportunity to witness how we worship God in spirit and in truth, without actually entering the church, which they have too much fear of man to venture. Excepting a few occasional visitors, not many have availed themselves of this opportunity since the opening of the church on Easter Sunday.

Our hope rising high at the laying of its foundation by the Bishop of Calcutta, has, so far, not been realized. Then between 700 and 800 Hindus and Mohammedans were on the spot to witness the ceremony, but the impression which its solemnity evidently made on many of them passed away without any lasting effect on their minds.

Our out-stations, nine in number, are an important branch of our Mission. Their management has always been a cause of much care and occasional disappointment, arising from their peculiar circumstances, the character of their work, the distance of some of them from the Sudder station, and the difficulty as yet on the part of our native agents to stand alone and perform their duties for the Lord's sake, and with a single eye to His glory. Secunderabad, in the Bulundshahar district, has been causing especial trial in this respect. All our other out-stations remained occupied as they were before, with this improvement (we hope we may say so), that the catechist at Ikla, D. Jeremy, an old labourer of the Society, is now in charge of that congregation as Native pastor. He was ordained Deacon by the Bishop of the diocese in December, 1868.

It is proposed to place a European Missionary, the Rev. S. Carter, at Bulundshahar. He will not, of course, be the pastor of the Native Christians, but, while devoting himself to the proper Missionary work of evangelizing the heathen, will endeavour, by the grace of God, to aid, advise, and uphold the catechists, readers, and leading members of the congregations, making them feel that the responsibility for maintaining church order and church activity is not his but theirs. The rural congregations have been under special trial during the year.

Our rural congregations at Annfield (254 souls) and Ikla (85) had a hard time, arising from the still prevailing scarcity, bordering now and then upon actual famine. We are thankful to say that, by the help of God, and occasional relief from funds available for the purpose, they have come on so far without the necessity to disperse in search of food.

The following paragraph in Mr. Hœrnle's report will be read with much thankfulness.

Progress in Zenana work.

The Zenana branch of our work, for years an unsuccessful if not hopeless attempt, has gained unexpected strength in extent and importance. We have now two schools for high-caste girls in the heart of the city, and several respectable families are regularly visited by the lady members of our staff. In one or two instances they were invited by the head, or some other male member of these families, and gladly received by the native ladies, old and young.

In the English school the Gospel has been daily preached to about 200 boys and young men. Not a few of the pupils are Native Christians, and it is hoped that the education they here receive may give them hereafter increased facilities (whether as agents of the Mission and Native Church, or as private Christians) for speaking of Christ to their heathen countrymen.

The school is divided into two departments—a lower and an upper school; the upper to contain such pupils only as intend to prepare either for entrance into the Engineering College at Roorkee, or for matriculation into the Calcutta University. In December, 1863, three pupils went up to Delhi with the intention of passing the examination for entrance into the Calcutta University. Two failed, but the third, Samuel Thomas, the son of one of the Native Christian catechists, took a very good first class, and is now prosecuting his studies at St. John's College, Agra. The lessons in Scripture are, as much as possible, delegated to Christian teachers, and in this respect efficient help was received from the Native pastor, Abel, and the first English teacher, Lazarus Jeremy.

Work of a more exclusively evangelistic kind has not been neglected.

The preaching of the Gospel in the city and district, and at Melas, has been continued throughout the year, with, however, little visible success. There has been no want of hearers and so-called inquirers (among the latter a few very intelligent Hindus), but it is evident that most of them were actuated by other motives than a pure desire for the salvation of their souls by faith in Christ. If we could offer along with Christianity a supply of the loaves and fishes of Egypt, an easy life, or a higher position in Native society, the result might be different; but to take up the cross and follow Christ is not what the majority of the Hindus and Mohammedans have a mind for.

FYZABAD.

The veteran Missionary stationed in this important city still labours on, though without visible signs of any plentiful approaching harvest. There has been one great trial and disappointment. The readers of last year's Report will remember the deeply interesting case of the man (a native of Oude) who was arrested by the preaching of the Gospel while on his way in search of peace to the Himalaya mountains. It will be recollected that, after due instruction and inquiry, he was baptized. He was then set apart to make known the Gospel in his own village. His case made a great stir, and led to much prayer and hope on the part of the Missionary. But God seeth not as man seeth. By a mysterious dispensation of Providence, the man himself, together with wife and child, was carried off by cholera, and the work of evangelization in that part of the country brought, for the time at least, to a close.

The rest of Mr. Reuther's report is so interesting that it is subjoined nearly in extenso.

The Gospel has been preached throughout the year, both at Fyzabad and in the district, as much as health and strength did permit. Public bazaars have been frequented for addressing the crowds, and many Natives have been visited in their houses for private conversation on the one thing needful. Our Colporteur has sold a large number of portions of the Scriptures and Tracts in various parts of the Fyzabad district, and at the great fairs at Ajodhiya. Our labours at home, and our preaching tours in the district, have been sometimes encouraging; inquirers, too, have presented themselves, but the wished-for ripe fruit has not appeared. The year has been a time of sowing and not of reaping. Indeed the poorer classes, which are numerous in Oude, have been less open than in former years to the influence of the Gospel. This is partly owing to the great scarcity and dearness of food which have prevailed here throughout the year. The people have often used the present distress as an argument against Christianity. "Before the English came into the land," they would say, "we had bread to eat, and to spare; but now we are dying with hunger. This is because we have listened to Christianity, and many of us have become indifferent to the religion of our forefathers, and some have forsaken it altogether. We have now to bear the punishment for it. Give us bread to eat, and we will become Christians." They were told that God was preparing them for better days by the present distress; that He would not only supply their bodily wants, but would give them the bread of life also, so soon as they would accept the message of reconciliation with God through the Lord Jesus Christ. Though we have to record no baptisms, yet we have not been left without signs of success. Our two Zenana schools have been very successful. The pupils, both girls and women, are now eighty in number. Such institutions are of great importance in the present state of Mission work in Oude. If the female sex can be reached by education and Christianity, the time of reaping will be all the more glorious whenever it shall appear. In the preaching department too, we have observed progress. Opposition has become much less than it used to be. The teeming millions of Oude are becoming more and more acquainted with the leading doctrines of the Bible, and they admire them. Among the higher classes there are not a few who are secret followers of Christ: they would like to profess Christianity openly if they were not fettered by caste, and other powerful rational influences. Such men express the hope that God will pardon the Hindus for not receiving baptism. The obstacles in their way they say are too great, and the Lord will save them through Jesus Christ without baptism. One Babu wants to be a Missionary without being baptized. "If I be baptized," he says, "I shall lose my influence among the Hindus. Without baptism I can do more for Christianity than as a baptized Christian." He exhorts the Hindus everywhere to investigate the Christian religion, which he himself believes to be true. Another kneels down with us in private prayer and Bible meetings, and prays most earnestly to be saved through Jesus Christ, in whom alone he puts his trust and confidence for salvation. A third at Cullanpore asked for permission to open a Bible class in the Government school out of school hours. And as there was no Missionary in that place, he taught the class himself. A fourth has opened his house for prayer and reading the Bible, and it is possible that he will be baptized, with his wife, at no distant time. There is a work of inquiry going on in many minds, which is as yet secret, and in many ways imperfect, but there is strong hope that it will break out one day into great and glorious results. That day may be yet at some distance. Fyzabad is a peculiar Mission field. The city is full of Mohammedans, who are numerous also in the district. These, as a rule, are but little open to the influence of the Gospel. They are still sorrowing for the loss of their power, by which many of them have become excessively poor and wretched. They are not with us; they are against us, and would drive us out of the country any day, if there was a possibility of it. On the other hand, Hinduism is again reviving at Ajodhiya, that sacred old stronghold of the Hindus. It was kept down in the reign of the Mohammedans, but it now obtains life and vigour in the English Raj. One convent and one splendid heathen temple after another is springing up, and Hindus from far and wide flock to it, in the hope that they will now find at Ajodhiya what, under the baneful influence of Islam, they could not find. It is full of religious mendicants of all orders. The Shasters and other sacred books are being read publicly every day: idolatry is practised there on a large scale, and with such zeal and vigour as I have not seen even at Benares. Caste is still very strong in Oude, and the Hindus cling with love to their old customs.

Secret convictions and inquiries among the heathen.

Under such circumstances, I cannot see any near and extensive fruit from preaching the Gospel here, unless the Lord create a new thing in the land, and an out-pouring of the Holy Spirit be vouchsafed, which shall prove too strong even for the tenacity of the Hindus. At present, though they admire the Gospel, they say "It is for the Europeans, whilst Hinduism is for us."

KOTGHUR.

Of the general effect of the preaching of the Gospel at Kotghur, the Rev. W. Rebsch speaks as follows:—

The knowledge of Christianity increases; the Bible, Christian tracts and books are more and more read. The people here have no books of their own, consequently they read whatever we give them, and will it not eventually be believed? I think it will in God's own time. We have already a good number who have heard so much that they are near the kingdom of heaven; only caste system, family ties, and, above all, the good things of this world, have still too much attraction for them. I am sure many hill people value Christianity highly: they are compelled to do this: still to give up all for Christ's sake, is too hard for them: they fear that they will not be so esteemed as Christians among their countrymen, or will lose this world's goods by baptism, or have to give up some sins in which they particularly indulge. Immorality and avarice are two great drawbacks here: to follow into the footsteps of our blessed and holy Redeemer is too much. They admire Him and His doctrine, but do not like to give up their sinful ways.

Hindrances to the reception of the Gospel.

Mr. Rebsch finds comfort in his native fellow-labourers.

I am glad to observe more zeal for God's work in our Native brethren. Four of them are connected with this Mission. They have their own private meetings, where they join together, sing, pray, and read the Bible: they do this also when I am absent. All are a great help in the Mission. Each has his peculiar gift to serve God.

The work itself is thus described:—

The day is commenced with prayer and reading the holy Scriptures together in Hindu. Another hour is spent in the forenoon in reading with our Native Scripture Readers the Old Testament, and giving them practical advice in their evangelistic work among the villagers. During the day one or two villages are visited by our Native brethren, if the weather permits it, to read to the people some suitable passages of Scripture, or a tract, and to speak to them of salvation, and the only true Saviour by whom we obtain peace with God and forgiveness of our sins. Seldom only there is a discussion in these villages, as the people know almost nothing of Hinduism besides the names of a few Deotas. However, in some places the people of late have tried to oppose us, which we consider a good sign. This arises partly from fear, as some of their own people occasionally advocate Christianity: even schoolboys have been observed doing this. A Brahmin boy of thirteen years astonished the whole village by reproving the people for their worship of Debee, because she was not the true God.

At our morning service on Sunday a number of boys, girls, and the teachers attend with some heathen neighbours and the Native Christians, so much so, that frequently the schoolroom is quite full, and a good many have to sit on the ground, which induced us to think of building a church as soon as possible in Kotghur. Those children who wished to be baptized last year are still closely watched by their parents. Three girls are not at all allowed to come to us: one girl and one boy are allowed to come to church and school. All are too young to be accepted by us, as their parents would claim them according to the law of the land: therefore we must wait till they are of full age. We had, during the year, also several applications for adult baptism but could only receive a woman in Simla in our Church, who was married to a Native Christian, but had not been baptized, his heathen relatives objecting to it on account of her high caste. She was instructed secretly, being kept behind the purdah until she broke through, attended our church, confessing openly her faith in Christ. She was baptized by Rev. R. Winter, as I was absent from Simla at the time. The other people appeared not to have a longing for salvation, only some worldly intentions, therefore we had to refuse their request for the present. In Simla we had regular service on Sunday during the winter months, and the whole year round preaching to the Tampanees. Most of the villages in the vicinity of Simla have been frequently visited. Bazaar preaching also has not been neglected, and several melas visited where the Gospel was preached, tracts distributed and sold. The vernacular schools in the villages of this district have been carried on, as formerly, to our satisfaction: two new ones were added, two others closed, as their state was not satisfactory. The natives are very eager to have the number increased. I had from several villagers urgent applications: however, want of properly qualified teachers prevented me from farther extending this branch of our work. It is often a great pleasure to see these children, boys and girls, reading the Word of God, attending our services, and so coming nearer the truth than those who have not the opportunity of becoming acquainted with Christianity. These schools give the best occasions to our Scripture Readers to speak of the blessings of the Christian religion. Since last spring we have a Christian teacher of the Vernacular Training Institution, who gives his chief attention to the instructions in the holy Scriptures and Catechism. More than 100 tracts and parts of the Gospel have been bought by these villagers last year, which shows that they are somewhat interested in the subject they hear from us so often. It might appear of little importance to some: we see in it a sign that the hill people are not quite so indifferent in religious matters as some of our people imagine.

III. The Punjab.

The Punjab Mission comprises six principal Stations—Umritsur, commenced 1852; Kangra, 1854; Peshawur, 1855; Mûltan, 1856; Derajât, 1861; Cashmir, 1863.

UMRITSUR.

The Rev. W. Keene has favoured the Committee with a lengthy and important annual letter. He reviews the general work at Umritsur, exclusive of the educational department, which was under the care of the Rev. C. E. Storrs, now succeeded by his brother, the Rev. T. Storrs.

By the departure of the Rev. R. Clark our staff has been reduced to two English Missionaries, who divide the work between them; Mr. Storrs being responsible for the entire management of all the boys' schools, and Mrs. Storrs superintending the girls' orphanage; while the general direction of all Mission agents not in connexion with Mr. Storrs has devolved on myself. The "Lady Henry Lawrence Memorial Girls' Schools," in the city of Umritsur, eight in number, besides three normal classes, are superintended by Mrs. Keene.

The work, as it is, gives full employment to two English Missionaries. The work of itinerations and of frequent uninterrupted and prolonged intercourse with the Natives on the part of the English evangelist, is well-nigh brought to a stand still by the want of a third Missionary. From October, 1868, to September, 1869, with the exception of a short time passed in tents in December last by myself, there has been no itineration of Missionaries in this district. This is to be deplored, but, with the present reduced staff, systematic intercourse with the people is out of the question. Seeing the impossibility of going out myself at the beginning of this year, I sent out the catechists and readers, two by two, by themselves.

The Committee will give hearty thanks to God if men and means are granted to enable a third Missionary to be placed permanently at Umritsur. Meanwhile it is to be hoped that the care of the Native Church will gradually occupy less and less of the time and labour of the European Missionary, thus leaving him more free for direct evangelistic work. Mr. Keene continues:—

The Native congregation numbers 153, of whom 64 are communicants. Breaking up the above number into its component parts, it will be written thus:—Native clergy, 2; lay teachers, male and female, 15; children, 44; orphans of both sexes, 49; leaving a residue of 20 men and 23 women. Of the 20 men, 3 alone could put in any claim to be men of position, education, and influence. It will be seen that the children of Christian parents, 44 in number, form a large proportion of the congregation. The only educational institutions open to the boys are the Mission Anglo-vernacular School, the Government Collegiate School, where the Scriptures are excluded, and the Boys' Orphanage. The objection to the first is, that although conducted strictly on Christian principles, it is nevertheless a school of, and for, heathen boys; the second is a Godless seminary; and to the third there is this objection among others, that it is an institution for pauper foundlings, educated necessarily from purely eleemosnary sources. Preparatory schools for the children of Christians of both sexes are no doubt urgently needed; indeed, the whole subject of church education, as distinguished from education for the heathen, needs special attention and special legislation on the part of the friends of Missions. That sums are spent in India on the education of the masses outside the Church of Christ—these I would not divert into other channels, but simply ask that the education of the rising generation of Christian children should receive the attention it deserves, and will repay in strengthening, developing and supplying with the means of influence the weak, obscure and despised Native Christian community.

The plan suggested to the Committee by some experienced Missionaries, for meeting this last want, is, that the education at the Orphanage should resolutely be rendered suitable for the poorer Christians, while those who can pay fees should attend the Mission Anglo-vernacular school. It is also proposed that there should be carefully conducted boarding-houses, where a larger fee would be demanded, also connected with the Anglo-vernacular school, and intended for the sons of Native Christians living at a distance. It seems desirable that Native Christian boys should compete fairly with their heathen compatriots, and should expect God's blessing to attend their efforts. Such boarding-houses have been very useful in other Missions. It need scarcely be said that they are totally different from those that were formerly attempted, and found to be unsuccessful in Kishnaghur. Of the native clergy Mr. Keene thus speaks:—

> The Native clergy demand remark. I thank God for the gift: they are three—the Rev. Daud Singh, the Rev. Moulvi Imad-ud-din, and the Rev. James Kadshu of Lahore. Differing as they do widely in race, education, previous religion and character, they are nevertheless a trio of godly and useful men, and contributing, according to their respective light, to the edification and extension of the Church of Christ. Daud, I am sorry to say, suffers so severely and so frequently from attacks of illness as to unfit him for much actual labour.
> Moulvi Imad-ud-din's "mental culture and love of study" are gifts for the due employment of which all friends of the Umritsur Mission will offer their earnest prayers to God.

The Church Council is doing a good work, and proving a most valuable adjunct to the ministry of the Native Church. Much, however, remains to be done in rendering both the one and the other more vigorous and productive of blessings, both to the Church and to the masses of heathendom. Apropos of Church Councils and Church Funds, I need not say how entirely I agree with the opinion of the Committee, of the necessity of guarding against a rise of the spirit of congregationalism in the infant Churches. This thought has relieved my mind of a difficulty I have long felt in connexion with the Lahore congregation under the care of the Rev. James Kadshu. It would appear that, in that community, there are not men of the mark for the formation of a Church Council. This difficulty is at once met by uniting Lahore and Umritsur under one Council with a common fund, the Rev. J. Kadshu taking his seat in the Council as the present sole representative of the Lahore congregation. The members of the Church Council for the past year have been, Babu Ishom Chandom Singha, a Bengali, and head master of the city school, the Rev. Moulvi Imad-ud-din, the Rev. Daud Singh, and John, a catechist. Organization, or, in other words, the appointment of certain individuals, either singly or unitedly, to a definite work, is imperative; but in the case of a governmental body, small though it may be, such as the Church Council, it is absolutely necessary for such a body to have funds at their disposal, and most desirable that these funds should come from themselves, and not from a foreign source. The contributions of the congregation for the past year have only amounted to 128rs. 10a. This sum, when compared with what the Society is paying the Native Pastor—900rs.—is a small proportion.

Mr. Keene speaks also of the importance of well-trained and well-qualified Native agents. Training institutions need to be strenghened in Northern India.

The Schools.

These have been in charge of the Rev. C. E. Storrs, who has been in precarious health for many months, and has at length been compelled to visit his native country. But happily the Rev. Townsend Storrs, who previously belonged to the Umritsur staff, having recruited his health, has been enabled to return to his former post. Mr. Charles Storrs give the following account of his two years' work at Umritsur:—

I received my work in Umritsur from the hands of my brother, and it was no small advantage to me (having then resided but one year in the country) to find all the organization of the schools so complete, and all the machinery in good working order. This work, I am happy to state, during the two years and a quarter that I have had charge of it, has made much outward progress, and there are now evident among the students of the several schools in connexion with our Mission many very encouraging symptoms, indicative of much thought, and of real progress and life. The educational work of the Mission comprises the charge of the large Collegiate school and its branches, the two Anglo-vernacular schools in the out-stations of Narowal and Chundeala, the three vernacular village schools (two of which are more than thirty miles from Umritsur), and the superintendence of the boys' and girls' orphanages. The hindrances, disappointments and failures have been manifold, and the sad lack of apparent success sometimes overwhelming. Nevertheless, the Lord is with us, and He is working slowly and secretly by the power of His Spirit among many of the educated youths under my care. We have great need of persevering patience and sustained prayerful effort in our work, for it is most depressing to labour on day by day without gaining frequently anything more than a passing interest in the truths we deliver. The condition of Umritsur and its Sikh and Hindu population often strikingly reminds me of the description of the Athenians in the Acts of the Apostles, not only on account of the city being "wholly given to idolatry," and that they are "too superstitious," but also because they evince so much interest "in hearing any new thing," and this passing interest so often deceives and disappoints the young Missionary, and leads him to hope great things from what often proves to be mere inquisitiveness and love of novelty. I do not mean to infer that this is always the case. There is indeed a great and striking change coming over the minds of the educated youth of this country. There are many (perhaps I should say most) of the elder and more advanced students in our Mission school who are to some extent intellectually convinced, and are held back from publicly avowing their belief in Christianity, and receiving the outward sign of profession, partly by the fear of man, partly from selfish and worldly motives, but principally, no doubt, from want of real perception of their need of a Saviour, and the reality and importance of eternal things. This transition state, at which so many who are brought daily into contact with us have arrived, is one of great interest. There is in it much room for hope, but perhaps more for anxiety. There are hundreds of subterfuges which these poor fellows will adopt rather than embrace the simple truth as it is in Jesus. Many of them seem indeed spell-bound by the mighty and mysterious influences of caste. This appears to be at the root of all indecision, and the one principle of their religion, which it is most difficult for them to divest themselves of; and although they bemoan the vile system of caste, and long to be rid of the heavy chain, yet it still holds the majority of them in the most abject bondage, from which nothing but the infinite grace of Almighty God can set them free. Yet in this respect there has been much progress among a few. As an instance of this, I may state that, two or three weeks ago, twenty-four young men, comprising Sikhs, Brahmins, other Hindus, Mohammedans, and one or two Christians, invited me to accompany them to a neighbouring garden, and to spend the day in rational conversation and friendly intercourse; and there we all sat down and ate together, feeding from the same dishes, drinking from the same cups, and sitting on the same mats. This was a great step, and one which required a great effort on their part; and now I have hopes that some of these, having once passed the rubicon and broken through that which had become the main thought of their lives and a very second nature, may now come boldly forward, put on the uniform of Christian soldiers, and fight from henceforth under the banner of the cross.

Many very interesting cases have come under my notice during the past year, which prove how great are the trials which those who are seeking after the truth have to endure, and how fearful are the obstacles in their way to heaven. One of the young men in my school had resolved to receive baptism, and appeared quite firm in his decision. When the news of this reached his parents' ears they resolved, should he persist in bringing such a fearful disgrace upon them, that they would at once take poison and put an end to themselves. This was communicated by accident to the young man, and you may imagine how it would operate on his mind. He quickly cooled in earnestness and fell back from his former decision, and now fights shy of the very mention of Christianity. Another youth, the son of a respectable gentleman in the city, after receiving instruction privately from me for some time, openly declared his intention to be baptized the following Sunday. All arrangements were accordingly made, when, to our sorrow, we heard that he had been forcibly removed from Umritsur to a distance of nearly one hundred miles, and was being hurried from one place to another, and his mind diverted by gaity and change. After a time he was allowed to return, but evidently continued under high pressure, for he remains now spiritless, gloomy and shy, and avoids all contact with me and my Christian masters. Many other cases of the like nature have occurred during the two past years, which serve to show how much these poor fellows need our prayers and deserve our sympathies.

Inquirers kept back by vehement efforts of heathen relatives.

Outwardly the educational work of the Umritsur Mission has made great advance during the last two years, for the numbers in the main school are now exactly double what they were two years ago; and the branch schools and out-station schools have likewise greatly improved and increased in numbers. The Christian masters connected with me in the work are all of them, I may say, conscientious and earnest fellow-labourers; and my head-master, Babu I. C. Singha, is one of those loving, devoted and intelligent Native Christian gentlemen whom to know is I consider a real privilege, and whose influence in the schools and in the city can scarcely be over-estimated.

Value of Native Christian teachers.

LAHORE.

The Rev. T. V. French and the Rev. J. W. Knott have selected Lahore as the locality for the proposed Theological College. Mr. Knott thus describes some of the difficulties that have to be surmounted in the establishment and working of the new plan:—

You will doubtless have heard from my brother French, that although the Divinity school has not been opened with the new year, steps are being taken to give his plans substance and shape. The great difficulty we have found is the need of support for the students. None have offered who are able to support themselves, and few of our Missionaries feel able to charge themselves with the entire maintenance of the students. We hope, by the Christian liberality of friends at home and in this country, to get scholarships founded to supply in each case at least half the annual cost of a student's support.

The following extract from Mr. Knott's letter is also suggestive and valuable:—

I should deeply regret any arrangements which would import into the Native Indian Church the serious evil of the Christian ministry being made a lucrative profession, and an easy stepping-stone to worldly advancement. We cannot expect solid fruit from a ministry which is perverted into a means of getting on in the world. All experience shows that a really powerful ministry must be a disinterested and self-sacrificing one; and until the Holy Spirit gives us a Native ministry bearing more of the stamp of the Cross upon it, the Native Church will not take deep root in the Province. One is thankful to hear of cheering tokens of progress in this direction, as well in our own Missions as in the Scotch and American. Before I came out I had little real conception of the strength of grasp with which the wicked one holds men as his own in this land. But we have One with us who is stronger than the strong; and it will be made manifest that the excellency of the power is not of us, but of Him, of His Spirit, and of the Gospel of His grace. The darkening and perversion of conscience, the hereditary infra-natural blindness and corruption received by tradition from their fathers, and taught from childhood, bring out to view, written as it were in large characters, the common and total corruption of our fallen nature in its root and principle. In the little direct dealing which I have been able to have with the souls of Natives, it has been my great joy to speak to them as one who, by fallen nature, partakes with them in the root and sap of all corruption and lawlessness; and as one saved by grace only, and as confident that He who has had mercy on me is ready to have mercy on every one who will call on His name for salvation. I know not who are His elect among the people before me, but I fully believe that He has an elect remnant to be saved from among them. In some points of view it seems as if more were to be hoped for from the hard-working agricultural population, especially those on the lower slopes and valleys of the Himalayas, than from the more demoralized inhabitants of the great towns, particularly those whom we meet in the bazaars, for the most part through ἀγοραῖοι.

Until the College can be opened Mr. French has stationed himself temporarily at Multan, and Mr. Knott at Peshawur.

There is at Lahore a little band of Native Christians who are attached to the Anglican form of Christianity. These have been gathered into a congregation under the charge of the Society's Native Missionary, the Rev. James Kadshu, who was sent thither at the suggestion of the American Presbyterian Missionaries. Mr. Kadshu thus writes:—

I never expected to be sent to Lahore, but I have for a long time asked the Lord to place me in a situation where I might be more useful for His service. My prayers have at length been heard. At first I was somewhat disconcerted at the thought that the ground was already occupied by the Presbyterian brethren. But on reaching the place I found more than enough to do. There are several Native Christians here belonging to our Church. These have not joined the Presbyterian congregations. Many of them had almost forgotten even their external connexion with the Christian Church. They had adopted many Hindu and Mohammedan superstitions. Even now there is much difficulty in persuading them to come to church. Yet a little congregation of sixty-five, with eleven communicants, has been gathered together.

Special disadvantage to which Indian converts are exposed and its remedy.

One cause for the religious ignorance of the converts of India, is the constant necessity for migration, and the consequent loss of their Ministers' instructions. The baptism of the convert not unfrequently places him in a homeless and friendless condition: he is therefore compelled, for the sake of maintenance, to go to some other place, and he thus loses the supervision of the minister from whom he received baptism. To help such young and ignorant Christians, ministers of the Gospel in India should co-operate one with another, and should consider that if one labourer has planted a plant which is now out of his reach, others who are brethren and labourers in the same vineyard, though in another locality, should take it under their care.

KANGRA.

The Rev. J. P. Mengé, who first entered on Mission work thirty years ago, has lately suffered from failing health and from a severe domestic affliction, and has therefore been ordered by his medical adviser to return to Europe. In his annual letter he thus writes:—

Though one of those baptized last year, viz. the Mohammedan doctor, has fallen away, yet the others have stood steadfast, and two more have been added to the number of Christ's disciples. These two last, though rather young—the one eighteen, and the other about seventeen years old—have caused me much joy by their humble and Christian-like behaviour. It has, however, pleased the Lord to try the Kangra district, and, indeed, the whole of the Punjab, and several other parts of India, with severe illness and great scarcity of the necessaries of life. Nearly all the inhabitants of Kangra have been ill for weeks past with fever, and among them the boys and girls of our schools, as well as the master of the Native Christians in our compound; so that at one time I thought of closing the schools altogether. One of the young men, whom I baptized last year, who reads, writes, and speaks English pretty well, has left this for Lucknow, as he has a prospect of obtaining a good appointment there.

There are at this station 29 Native Christians, of whom 13 are communicants. Two adult baptisms have taken place during the year. In the schools 155 boys and 40 girls are receiving instruction.

PESHAWUR.

The most prominent feature in the intelligence from Peshawur is the account given of the visitation of cholera, and of the effects which it produced on the Mission. About 2000 souls were swept away from the city. Up to the time of the breaking out of the pestilence, Mission work was going on with vigour, but cholera, for a time, laid everything low. This destructive malady began to abate in September, and virtually ceased before the close of October. Mr. Ridley, who, much against his will, has since been compelled to return to England by failure of health, considers evangelistic work in Peshawur to have been more encouraging after the disappearance of the cholera than before it broke out. At the time of sending home the last annual review the Missionaries at this station were the Rev. T. P. Hughes and the Rev. W. Ridley (the Rev. T. R. Wade being absent on furlough). They commenced their Report with a reference to the lamented Sir Herbert Edwardes, one of the founders of the Peshawur Mission. An appendix to their Report contains Sir Herbert's speech at the meeting in Peshawur when the Mission was first proposed. The following memorable words may be here quoted:—

Sir Herbert Edwardes on the Missionary responsibilities of England.

That man must have a very narrow mind who thinks that this immense India has been given to our little England for no other purpose than for our aggrandisement, for the sake of remitting money to our homes, and providing writer-ships and cadet-ships for our poor relatives. Such might be the case if God did not guide the world's affairs; for England, like any other land, if left to its own selfishness and its own strength, would seize all it could. But the conquests and wars of the world all happen as the world's Creator wills them, and empires come into existence for purposes of His, however blindly intent we may be upon our own. The duty of evangelizing India lies at the door of private Christians. The appeal is to private consciences, private effort, private zeal, and private example. Every Englishman and every Englishwoman in India, every one now in this room, is answerable to do what he can towards fulfilling it. This day we are met to do so; to provide the best means we can for spreading the Gospel in the countries round us. They happen to be Mohammedan countries of peculiar bigotry. Sad instances of fanaticism have occurred under our own eyes; and it might be feared, perhaps, in human judgment, that greater opposition might meet us here than elsewhere. But I do not anticipate it. The Gospel of peace will bear its own fruit and justify its own name.

Of the Native Christian Church and its growth the local Report thus speaks:—

The Native Christian Church has been under the superintendence of the Rev. T. P. Hughes. The Native Christians still continue to manage the Church Poor Fund, from which all Christians in need of help are relieved. There have been six adult baptisms during the year, including three pupils of the Mission school, a man who had formerly been a teacher in a Government village school, and a woman. The sixth case is a remarkable one. It is that of a man who received his first religious impressions from having witnessed the daily Christian life of that great man (Sir H. Edwardes) whose death we now lament, having been his faithful servant for many years. As soon as he heard of Sir Herbert's death he decided to become a Christian. The small Mission chapel at the school in the centre of the city is as a ray of light in the midst of so much gross darkness. Its daily and stated services, with the regular "church-going bell," cannot fail to remind the people that Christianity is living, actively living, in the very midst of them. Notwithstanding the adult baptisms above referred to, and new arrivals from other Missions, the total number of resident Native Christians, has been reduced by the departure of several members to other stations.

If our Christians had a little more zeal for God, advantage might be taken of the present movement among the Mohammedans. They are in marked contrast to the generality of their unbelieving countrymen, and give no occasion to the enemy to blaspheme. This, so far, is satisfactory. The chief civil authority casually remarked to us one day that they were angels compared with most Natives. Christ has here a real Church, but it is not made of that material that brings much honour to its author by reflecting the earnestness of His life. Still we have to thank God for what He has done, for it is no small thing to draw the sort of human nature found here from its low level to anything approaching the ordinary Christian standard. If your Committee did not work on fixed principles, it is to be feared they would be grievously disappointed in the Peshawur Mission. The founder and its first Missionaries were men of immense influence and great ability; yet the very first baptized Christian apostatized, as did two others, reckoned among the first-fruits of the Mission. The most useful of all who were received into the Church in these early days seemed to be of the least promise.

Bazaar preaching has been carried on in this city upon stated days by the Missionary and catechist. After the preaching is over it very frequently happens that some of the crowd stay behind to inquire further as to the nature of the Christian faith. During the cold season the Rev. T. P. Hughes made several itinerations in the districts of Peshawur, Daudzai, and Eusufzai.

For preaching the Gospel to the young, schools are the main agency relied upon. These labours, through the blessing of God, have yielded some fruit during the year. Mr. Ridley thus narrates the circumstances that led to the baptism of three students in the Peshawur school:—

This year three youths who were reading in the school have been baptized. But it is scarcely fair to put all to the credit of the school. The direct influence of Native Christian society has done most. It came about in this way—falling in with three rustic-looking youths, I drew them into conversation, and, before parting, invited them to be my guests: they assented. One day, looking over the school, one of the three, who could neither read nor write, expressed a wish to learn. I told him I would give him food and shelter if he was anxious to learn, and he accepted the offer. Soon after, during the school holiday, he went to his home, about fifty miles distant, and, on his return, brought with him a couple of friends who also wished to stay here and read. From the beginning they lived in my compound amidst the few Christians who are teachers, and with them they daily came in to family prayers.

Conversions in a Mission School.

After a time, the youngest of these three asked for baptism, which he subsequently received. Through his influence two other young men were also brought into Christ's fold. Of one of these Mr. Ridley thus writes:—

He is the eldest of the three and the best educated, being able to pass a stiff examination in Urdu and Persian, and a very fair one in English, It is no easy thing for a young man of twenty-four, of very good family, a Mussulman, to stand up beside the Missionary when preaching in the bazaars of Peshawur; but this he has done several times during this dreadful cholera season.

After the date of the above letter the young man died of cholera. The effects of these baptisms on the school were, in some respects, seemingly disadvantageous.

When, one morning after the exposition, I announced to the assembled boys that one then sitting among them would be baptized on the following Sunday, their looks betrayed the utmost dismay. It was the first time they had ever heard of such a thing, and had come and gone without giving a thought to the possibility of it. Soon after, a similar sound greeted their ears, and then a third time. Had a Government school existed here at the time ours would probably have been emptied; but so much danger in the way could not turn very many away from it, because it was the only road to prospects glittering with gold. Still it has proved a serious blow, from which the school will not quickly recover.

Upwards of 100 girls were receiving instruction in the Mission schools before the cholera broke out. The following deeply interesting narrative of the death of one of the teachers needs no comment:—

The girls' school was the centre of the first outbreak, and two of its teachers among its first victims. My wife left the death-bed of one to visit a second, who has since recovered, while a third, who was attacked at the same time in an adjoining house, died, but after she had left. At first it was not thought to be cholera, as she was not suffering from any choleraic pains, but only feverishness. During the night she asked her mother to call the Mem Sahib, but was told she could be called early in the morning. She did not seem to be very ill. Then she sent for a New Testament, and asked her mother, who had for a long time attended the school, and had learned to read, to find the fifth of St. Mark, and to read the account of Jesus raising the daughter of Jairus. After it was once read, she asked to have it read a second time, and it was read a second time; then she asked for the book, and, receiving it, placed it on her bosom, and in another minute was dead. It was a true Christian passing away from sin and sorrow to our Father's house. She must be now with Jesus, having been baptized with the Holy Ghost. She was second teacher in the main school, and was always a girl of much promise, and had read the Bible with much care and devotion.

An unbaptized inquirer dies trusting in Jesus.

The transfer of Mr. Ridley's residence into the heart of the city had produced the result that was desired.

Advantages of close intercourse with the Natives.

During the year our home has been in the city, amidst the people. Being thus enabled to move freely amongst them daily, a new kind of neighbourly feeling has sprung up which has been of incalculable good to me as a Missionary, the isolation from European society being much more than balanced by a closer insight into the people, very much deeper sympathy with, and respect for them, resulting from it. But, more than this, it has largely contributed to the advances made during the year. It is with feelings of devout thankfulness that, as fishers for men, we continue to cast our nets into the same waters in comparative peace, although we have not drawn them to land empty. Until death's shadows fell so thickly over us, a keen struggle had been going on between different sects in this city. In other parts of India it seems to have taken a political turn: here, at present, it is purely religious. Has Christianity anything to do with this movement? The strongest and best educated minds are engaged in this effort secretly, for fear of the people and their idol, the Akhúnd of Swát. This aged fakir has obtained a most wonderful ascendancy over the masses. He counts among his followers many wealthy and a few learned men—learned in the wisdom of the East, but at issue with us, our rule and our literature. Between the two parties there is the truest Mohammedan hatred. But for the strong and even hand of the law, bloodshed ere now must have followed.

There are several indications that the power of God's Word is making itself felt.

Secret movements towards reception of Christianity

Walking one day with several well-educated Natives, I mentioned, in the course of conversation, the late progress of Christianity in Madagascar, when one, in the hearing of all, declared he would gladly join any great movement in the direction of Christianity: a second added that, but for domestic ties, he would at once profess our religion. A very learned Moulvi, who sternly returned some Christian books, and refused to speak to a Missionary two years ago, recently sent to me for a copy of the Scriptures, at the same time apologizing for not paying his respects in person. Another from Sughman sent down a man for the same purpose, telling him to pay any price for the book. Before the outbreak of cholera, visitors came to my house daily, and some, who before would not listen to anything on behalf of Christianity, have lately asked for many particulars respecting it.

The statistics of the Peshawur Mission are as follows:—Native Christians at Peshawur, 77; at Nowshera, 30; adult baptisms, 6; scholars, boys 588, girls 104.

The Rev. J. W. Knott has taken up a temporary residence at Peshawur, and is instructing the catechist, Imam Maseh, with a view to his being presented for holy orders.

MULTAN.

The work here is still in its infancy. The Native Christians number only twenty, eleven of whom, however, are communicants. Nominally, two European Missionaries have been stationed here, the Rev. G. Yeates, and the Rev. A. B. Spaight. But Mr. Spaight had not yet mastered the vernacular, when he was compelled, by failure of health, to leave Multan, first for Calcutta, and then for England. Mr. Yeates writes as follows:—

In the year included in the present review we have had no actual conversions and no baptisms, but while from day to day no striking circumstances occur to mark progress, yet the whole period has been one of hopefulness, and, looking back over it, one is cheered by the view that shows there has been no standing still.

In our three boys' schools there has been a spirit of earnest inquiry after religious truth aroused during the year. It originated among the Mohammedan teachers last year, and has progressed steadily, reaching and interesting the boys both Hindu and Mussulman. One of these men has become openly an inquirer. I have heard from him, and had great pleasure in sending him some books to help him in his difficulties. Early in this year one of the Mohammedan teachers in our principal school at Multan opened a discussion on the truth of the Gospel, and the character of our Lord, with the other teachers; and while he still holds his own views, the minds of the boys have been aroused, and they approach the subject in a very different manner to what they did formerly, so that no longer the positive dislike to the study of Scripture and the attempt to avoid it is evinced. This spirit of free discussion on the subject has been much helped forward by the appearance of a Native account of the controversy held at Umritsur between Mr. Clark and Imad-ud-din on one side, and several Moulvis on the other. This account is of course garbled, coarse in its style, and, in many of the arguments, subversive alike of Mohammedanism and Christianity. But it has had the effect of turning the minds of many to ask questions, the replying to which has afforded opportunities of pointing out the superiority of Christ's religion.

Our schools have progressed very favourably. The Bahawulpur one, though not increasing in numbers, has most steady progress. On the 1st of May last, the second anniversary of the opening of the school, I went over to be present at a distribution of prizes. A large concourse assembled, including the European residents, and all the Native noblemen in the place. The interest shown in the school was very marked. This school is under an old pupil of Dr. Duff, Kali Dass Chakrabarti, upon whom it reflects much credit. In addition to his school labours, in the early part of this year, when the famine in Bicaneer sent thousands wandering, homeless and helpless, in search of food, he organized a Relief Committee, and, with assistance afforded by Major Minchin from the state and from private subscriptions, succeeded in mitigating the evils to a great extent. I was present on several occasions when the school-building was filled with applicants for relief, and formed a high opinion of his kindness and method of managing the work he had in hand. The Soojhaabad school has increased considerably in numbers, from fifty-one to seventy-four in the year ending 30th September. The teacher in charge of this school, though still a Hindu, has acquitted himself very well. The progress of the lads under him in their knowledge of Bible history and of the New Testament has been very marked, and to the general efficiency of the school the Deputy Commissioner of the district has lately borne ample testimony, entering in the visitation-book his opinion, and stating that he could wish to see the Government schools in as fair a condition. The Multan city school has been, for the best part of the year, under the management of a Native Christian, who was baptized here some time ago. In July he left us, wishing to visit his family. Mr. Spaight then took up the school, and worked it till the time of his illness in September, since which it has fallen to my lot to look after it. We are now anxiously looking out for a suitable person to put in charge of it.

Our female schools have increased, during the year, to seven, averaging fourteen pupils each, and are now in operation in and around the city. These have been attended to by Mrs. Yeates, and while they have been very trying, and call for the exercise of the greatest patience, yet we feel that they are at least one step gained towards the spread of female education. The ages of the pupils in these schools vary from eight to twenty, many of them being married women! In addition to reading and writing, each pupil learns by heart a portion of Scripture in his own tongue, and in this way many of them have learned a good deal of Gospel history, &c.

Bazaar preaching and itineration have been only occasionally attempted. I had hoped much from Mr. Spaight's joining us, and made over the schools to him in July, with the expectation that I should have the whole last season, up to the time of our leaving, to devote to visiting the towns in the district. This, however, has been rendered impossible by Mr. Spaight's illness in September. Since then, indeed, I have been more tied than ever; yet what opportunities there were were embraced both at Soojhaabad and Bahawulpur. On the occasions of my visits to the schools I have taken advantage of being there to preach, and in many cases to bring the Gospel before the minds of those who would not hear it in the ordinary course of bazaar preaching.

I must not close this without some notice of our little Christian flock. I fear it will be long before they emulate the zeal of the African and South Indian Churches. There is much worldliness and selfishness still to be contended with in them. Their attendance on the means of grace is pretty fair, and of many of them we hope good things.

DERAJAT.

The Rev. David Brodie has laboured at this station single-handed during the past year. The work is still in its infancy. The Native Christians number twenty-five, of whom twelve were communicants. These are all immigrants from other parts of India. There were two inquirers, one of whom was a Native of the place, of whom the Missionary hoped well. This little body of Native Christians is by no means a source of unmixed encouragement. Their conduct is such as often to give rise to faithful rebuke and discipline. There is a large Mission school at Dera Ismael Khan which produces the usual effect of extending the knowledge of the Gospel, though here, as elsewhere, the Missionary deplores the absence of spiritual conversions. There are several branch schools also in connexion with the Mission, so that the whole number of boys under instruction is upwards of 600. A branch Medical Mission has been opened at Tank, where nearly 7000 patients have been attended to. "The Native doctor and evangelist," Mr. Brodie writes, "tells us of contradiction and bitter opposition on the part of some; but others listen to the truths of the Gospel with earnestness and apparent sincerity."

KASHMIR.

The time seems not yet to have arrived for an ordained labourer to commence regular and avowed evangelistic work in this interesting country; but the Society's Medical Missionary, Dr. Elmslie, has been enabled during six months of another year—from April to October—to carry on his operations, and to make known the Gospel to several thousands of Mohammedan and heathen patients. Nearly 4000 patients received medical treatment and religious instruction during 1869 at Sirinagar, besides many that were met with on the journey to and from Umritsur. The following extracts from Dr. Elmslie's report will be read with interest:—

The Mission staff last season consisted of Benjamin, Sabban, Qadir Bakhsh, and myself. Qadir Bakhsh, a native of Kashmir, is one of the catechists belonging to the Lahore American Mission, which most obligingly lent his services to the Kashmir Medical Mission for the season of 1869, for which act of kindness on its part I would embrace this opportunity of returning my sincere thanks. To say one word of praise of Qadir Bakhsh is superfluous. Suffice it to say, that to preach Christ and Him crucified to his benighted fellow-countrymen was the old man's meat and drink.

Through the rich blessing of God the medical and surgical department of the Mission's operations continues to prosper, in spite of opposition and drawbacks, and to be the source of many temporal blessings, not only to the inhabitants of Kashmir, but also to the dwellers of the adjacent mountains and valleys, who now find their way over lofty and difficult passes to the Medical Mission Dispensary at Sirinagar. All suspicion, prejudice and distrust on the part of the Natives of those distant regions have now credibly disappeared, and they are ready to submit to whatever treatment may be recommended for their cure. The patients who frequent the Medical Mission Dispensary generally belong to the lower and middle classes, but last season two of the higher officials of the valleys, who had been ill for some time, and had spent considerable sums of money on their native hakims, but were nothing bettered, at last applied in their helplesness to the Medical Mission Dispensary, and, after taking appropriate remedies for a time, were both restored to perfect health, and as no fees are taken from Dispensary patients, they are held perpetual debtors to the Mission.

In the evangelistic branch of the Mission's operations much precious seed has been sown. God grant that it may not remain fruitless. In no former season were demands for copies of the Holy Scriptures and other religious books so numerous and importunate. The works of the Rev. Moulvi Imad-ud-din, of the Umritsur Mission, were in especial request. Two Mullahs, or Mussulman priests, who had heard of his well-known work, the "Hidaiyat ul Musulmin," came to the Dispensary from a distant part of the surrounding mountains to obtain a copy.

The daily routine is thus described:—

Every morning at seven o'clock, the Mission agents met together in the Dispensary for prayer, after which they adjourned to the tent pitched behind the Mission bungalow, where the sick, with their relatives and friends had been assembled. A short and appropriate passage of Holy Scripture was read, and briefly explained, after which a short prayer was offered up to God to pour down His rich blessing on the people, the Word read and expounded, and the remedies about to be prescribed. In the religious addresses delivered there were no political references or direct attacks on Islamism and Hinduism, but the Gospel was simply preached.

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

GENERAL VIEW.

Development and extension of a Native Church.

The Statistical Tables for the year ending December 31st, 1869, differ from those of preceding years in the separation of the particulars of the "Mission" from those of the "Native Church" connected with it. They exhibit progress in internal improvement, rather than in external extension. Thus seven "Native Church Councils" are indicated, and an increase of Native Ministers from 35 to 50. The Communicants, on the other hand, and the unbaptized probationers, are somewhat fewer than at the end of last year; the former numbering 9422, and the latter 13,629, out of a total of 53,473 adherents on the rolls of our Agents, and under their systematic instruction. The number of those "able to read" has increased by nearly 1000, and of the children in our schools by about 500. The last now amount to 15,400, of whom more than 3150 are girls. It is an interesting and most encouraging fact, in this first year in which a separation has been made in the Statistical Table between the Native pastorate and the European Missionaries, that in the two districts of Tinnevelly and Travancore, which together contain 50,000 under Christian instruction, nearly one half have been placed under the Native pastorates. In respect of the extension of the Native Church, one in ten is the number of adult baptisms, and during the last year, out of 693 adult baptisms 340 took place in the Native pastorates. Thus the Native Church bears the three grand characteristics —self support, self government, and self extension.

Peaceful death of a veteran Missionary

It is with very deep sorrow that the Committee record the death of the Rev. John Thomas, the senior Missionary of the Society's Mission in South India. He fell asleep in Jesus on the 28th March, 1870, in the midst of the people and district in which he spent some three and thirty years of successful and honoured toil. The noble Gothic church at Mengnanapuram, erected by his exertions, will be a lasting monument to his memory; but a far nobler one is found in that spiritual edifice, of which, under God, he was the "workman." The Rev. E. Sargent, in announcing his death, writes thus:—"This morning, as I entered the room and referred to the great issue of life, he pointed to the large-lettered card of texts which was hung up at one end of the room. 'There, said he, 'is where my reliance is. We have not a High Priest who cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities.' His calmness and patience all through the trying hour were truly exemplary. We closed his eyes in death somewhere about half-past three o'clock this afternoon. I said in death; but he still lives, more truly lives, and shall for ever live where we aspire to join him. Thus died our venerable brother, in his sixty-second year, resting on that great Redeemer whose grace he loved to proclaim. During his prolonged illness, no cloud, nay, it is reported, 'not the shadow of a cloud' dimmed his soul. His bodily sufferings had been greatly alleviated by the kindness and professional skill of Dr. Strachan, of the adjoining Gospel Propagation Society district of Nazareth."

Address of the Native Christians of South India to the Duke of Edinburgh.

The following address of the Native Christians to the son of our beloved Sovereign, and his reply, will be read with interest, both here and in India—

To His Royal Highness Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Edinburgh, Earl of Kent and Ulster, K.G., K.T., P.C.G. C.S.I.

May it please your Royal Highness,

Loyalty of Native Christians in India to the British throne.

Triumphs of the Gospel in South India, as described by Native Christians.

We, the undersigned Hindu Protestant Christians of the Madras Presidency, venture to approach your Royal presence with this address, and to express our feelings of thankfulness at the singular privilege we are permitted to enjoy in welcoming your Royal Highness to this Presidency. We gladly embrace this opportunity of expressing our unfeigned loyalty to the throne of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen of England, under whose benignant rule we live in security and peace. This Presidency stands out prominently in connexion with the progress of Christianity. Through the blessing of God upon the efforts of many devoted Missionaries, its Native Protestant Christian community numbers 130,000 souls, or about three-fourths of the whole of their class in India. Of these, nearly 100,000 are found among the Tamil nation, and within 150 miles of Cape Comorin, on either side of the Western Ghauts. In common with the other Dravidian nations, the Telugu, the Canarese, and the Malayalim, they owe their religious privileges to the united efforts of several nations and denominations. From the time of the devoted Ziegenbalg and Plutscho from Denmark, in the beginning of the last century, various Societies from Europe and America have combined, not only in proclaiming the Gospel, but in providing us with the unspeakable boon of a faithful translation of God's Holy Word in our several vernacular tongues. We may be permitted to state that the science, literature, commerce and civilization of the West are making rapid advances among us. The English language is marvellously moulding the thought and refining the character of many educated Hindus. Female education, too, at first introduced by Missionary Societies, is on the increase, fitting many a Hindu woman for her right position in society. But over and above these benefits of an enlightened Government, Christianity, the pure light of heaven, is illumining many dark souls, and leading them in the path to eternal life. And as it is in God's good providence to the British nation that we owe most of these blessings, we cannot refrain from giving expression to our profound sentiments of loyalty and gratitude when we are thus honoured with a visit from a Prince and representative of the Royal Family.

With our earnest prayer that God may shower down His choicest blessings upon your august mother, Her Most Gracious Majesty our Queen, upon your Royal Highness, and upon all the illustrious House to which you belong,

We beg to subscribe ourselves
Your Royal Highness' most obedient Madras, March 1870. and humble Servants.

Reply.

To The Hindu Protestant Christians of the Madras Presidency.—

Gentlemen,—I receive this Address with much satisfaction, and I am glad that I have been able to afford you an opportunity of expressing those sentiments of loyalty and devotion towards your Sovereign which I am convinced you entertain, and which are equally shared by every class and sect of her Majesty's subjects throughout the land. Among the proudest liberties of every British subject is the privilege of enjoying the free exercise of the religion to which he belongs; but I need hardly assure you that the Queen takes a warm interest in the welfare of those of Her subjects who profess that faith in which she herself has been nurtured—a faith whose fundamental doctrines are peace and good-will among men, whose teaching inculcates obedience to law and reverence for authority, and in whose train follow the social and moral advantages to which you allude. It is from an earnest desire for the temporal and spiritual welfare of Her faithful subjects in India, as elsewhere, that the Queen views with solicitude and interest the free progress and extension of our religion.

Interest felt by the Queen of England in Missionary effort.

In harmony with these her Majesty's sentiments, I also humbly and earnestly pray that it may please the Almighty to grant His blessing on the efforts of those who are striving, by the influences of preaching and instruction, to spread our common faith among the inhabitants of the great empire who have received me so kindly, and for whom I feel the sincerest affection.

ALFRED.

The Native Church.

The Rev. David Fenn, Chairman of the Native Church Council, speaks of the Lay delegates as manifesting a lively interest in the subjects brought under discussion. It is to be regretted that the Native contributions, as compared with last year, have fallen from 960 rupees to 760 rupees. The whole number of baptized Christians is 581, of whom 273 are communicants. There have been six adult baptisms during the year. The Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan, who is the senior Native pastor on the Council, thus describes the state of his congregations, and the voluntary aid received from its members.

Missionary zeal of Natives.

Some of the leading members of one of my congregations render me valuable aid. Though engaged in school work, they regularly take their turn in assisting me in week-day service, and giving Missionary addresses at our monthly Missionary meetings, and Sunday schools and Bible classes. Some of them occasionally preach to the heathen, and undertake the office of collectors. A Society has been in existence for the last two years, called the "Native Christian Improvement Society." This has originated with a desire on the part of some Native Christians belonging to the Church Missionary Society, mostly members of my own congregation, having for its object the enlightenment and elevation of the Native Christian community. This Society publishes a monthly periodical, called "The Désábimani," or, "The Patriot," which is self-supporting. It is edited by myself and a lay member of my congregation, and conducted entirely by Native Christians, and all the articles which appear in it are contributed by them, chiefly lay members, some of whom belong to other Missionary Societies. It treats on the following subjects—"Wonders and Curiosities of Nature," "Mental and Physical Science," "Useful Arts and Manufactures," "Historical and Biographical Sketches," "Interesting and Useful Medical Subjects," "Social and Moral Reform," "Religion and Morality," "Christian Literature," "Religious Errors," "Independence and Self-Support of the Native Church," "Missionary and General Intelligence," "Light reading," &c. Nor do we discard the female agency. Last year witnessed the formation of a Society called the "Sisters' Society," consisting of most of the female members of my two congregations. They meet together once a month for prayer and conversation, and each member subscribes half an anna a month. Hence it is also called the "Half Anna Society." It must not be supposed that this is all the money that they contribute to our Church Fund. They receive Missionary boxes twice a year, and collect money. Some of them put by a handful of rice every day, and raise some money this way. Some of them conduct Sunday schools and Bible classes. The influence thus brought to bear upon the females of the congregations does not emanate so much from me as from my wife. She visits them often, holds prayer-meetings and Bible classes. It is a matter of thankfulness that she is not only useful among the Native Christians, but also among some heathen females of this town. Her two caste-girls' schools are going on nicely, as well as the Zenanas which are under instruction.

Mr. Satthianadhan reports well of the energy and zeal with which the Native Church Council has been carrying on its operations; yet in expressing his regret that the plan was not earlier introduced, he thus writes:—

Importance of early introduction of self-support among Native converts.

I feel unable to state that the people in general take a real interest in the objects aimed at by the Council. The well-to-do members would not, and the poor members could not, appreciate them; the system which was in operation previously has produced rather an injurious effect upon them. Instead of helping themselves, they have looked to others for help; and now, when we tell them that they should adopt a contrary course, and help themselves without looking much for foreign aid, in nine cases out of ten they fail to see the propriety or the advantage of this new doctrine. When the ideas generated by the system pursued so long in former years, have been removed by the inculcation and spread of sound principles and right views, the people will begin to see their duty in this important matter in its true light, and put forth efforts adequate to their means, and necessary to the accomplishment of the object contemplated. The Hindu is peculiarly a religious being: there is nothing that he thinks, or speaks, or does, but it is connected directly or indirectly with religion; nor is he backward in recognising his duty as regards its support. He would give away his lands, and his fields and his property for the maintenance of his temples.

Education.

Harris School.

There are now eighty-eight Mohammedan boys receiving instruction in connexion with this Institution. The superintending Missionary is the Rev. Edward Sell, who, under date December 9, writes as follows:—

Last year the number of boys was so small that it was deemed advisable to forego the usual distribution of prizes. This year we have been quietly, and, I trust, surely, regaining lost ground. We have almost regained our former strength as regards numbers, and I hope next year to raise the standard of education to the the matriculation examination of the Madras University. The Scripture instruction has been more thorough than in any previous year, and has been carried out both in English and in Hindustanee. The study of Tamil has been introduced: a year's trial warrants our proceeding with it. The desire for education is gaining a firmer hold among the Mussulmans. This does not, however, show any real desire for the acquisition of knowledge as a good thing itself, but rather that poverty is forcing them to compete with Hindus in the race of life. Still it is a hopeful sign, for in no other way can we better reach them than by schools. Although the Moulvies as a body are very bitter against us, yet a considerable number of Mohammedan gentlemen were present at our anniversary. Representatives from the royal family of the Carnatic, and from the former Mohammedan dynasty of Mysore, were present, and seemed to take a lively interest in the proceedings. An Arabic class will be formed here next year, and more attention be paid to Persian than hitherto. I have taken measures to make this well known in Triplicane, and it seems to have arrested some attention. The Hon. Meer Humayoun Jah Bahadoor has promised two annual prizes—one for Persian, one for Arabic.

Efforts among Mohammedans.

Mr. Sell has had some controversies with Mohammedans during the year.

With the English-speaking Moulvies we have to meet arguments drawn from Colenso's and other Rationalistic books. The others simply echo what the more influential tell them. I have some interesting correspondence with old scholars; they will read our books, will listen to our statements, and reason fairly.

Itinerancy.

The Rev. David Fenn and the Rev. G. M. Gordon are now engaged in this branch of Missionary effort, the Rev. V. W. Harcourt, who was in the Itinerancy, having been transferred to Suviseshapuram in Tinnevelly. In June, 1869, the Missionaries reported as follows:—

It is now eighteen months since this Mission was commenced, and a full year since any report of it has been sent forth from our tents. We feel, in looking back, that up to the present time our work must be regarded as one of exploration among the villages round Madras, rather than as a regular itinerancy; for we have not as yet marked out any definite boundaries, nor occupied any central positions, nor associated with ourselves any permanent Native agency. We have, however, endeavoured to follow some method in our tours.

The Missionaries thus describe the condition in the Mofussil of "that most non-receptive class, the Brahmins:"—

Religious condition of the Brahmins.

If there is any community of whom it might be said that the assimilative power of caste fuses all into the same mould till individuality is well-nigh lost, that community must be the Brahmins. And yet even among these can be traced certain marked distinctions; for instance, we might easily distinguish between the "official" Brahmin and his more conservative and unaspiring brother of the rural village. There are undoubtedly two schools of belief among them. There are those, for instance, who give to their legal code its most strict and rigid enforcement, binding their votaries by every constraint of the sacred "cord;" and there are those who loosen such ties, by giving the most liberal interpretation to that code, and indulging in the forbidden meats and speculative doubts of their "unholy" neighbours. The "official" Brahmin is by far the most accessible and agreeable specimen of his race, and will do all he can to oblige, except abjure a religion which, though he secretly disbelieves, he will still tenaciously maintain. Yet we have not unfrequently met with much courtesy and obsequiousness among the stricter "vegetarians" of the villages. Others again seem to frown with hereditary hatred on the teachers of another faith, and, entrenching themselves in the antiquity of their Vedas, shrink from all converse with the uninitiated.

On another point the itinerators thus express themselves:—

In regard to the condition of the villagers with reference to Christianity, we are sorry to say, that whether we regard the higher, middle, or lower classes, we see no signs among them of any preparedness to exchange their idolatry for even the outward profession of the true faith. They are in many cases very friendly disposed toward ourselves, are glad to see us a second or a third time, and listen with tolerable attention to our preaching; but they are passively indifferent on the subject of religion, do not seem to feel any necessity for a change, have no sense of guilt or fear of punishment, are, in fact, dead in trespasses and sins. We do earnestly ask for the prayers of Christian friends on their behalf. God alone can make these dry bones live.

Spiritual deadness of the heathen.

One advantage of our touring methodically over a large extent of country, and freely conversing with all classes of the inhabitants, is, that we can discover and expose popular fallacies that may be abroad in reference to our holy religion, or the conduct of its professors, or the work of Missionary Societies. A prevalent notion, for instance, is, that we are Roman Catholics, and that all Englishmen are so. We not unfrequently hear St. George's Cathedral itself called a Mátha Kovil, i. e. Church of the Mother, the common Tamil name for all Roman Catholic places of worship. We are in consequence taunted with being worshippers of idols, and having cars and festivals resembling those of Vishnu and Siva. Against such an identification we take every opportunity of making a decided protest, and are careful to explain that the Bible is our rule, and that idolatry in every form is rebellion against God. Another erroneous impression which it is difficult to dislodge from the minds of Hindu villagers, is, that we are the paid employés of the Government. Over and over again has this come to the surface, and over and over again has the modus operandi of the various Missionary Societies in Europe been unfolded to our mistaken friends. We have been glad of the opportunity of describing the self-denying liberality of the "white man," in his efforts to send the Gospel to distant nations.

A "central position" has now been occupied by the transference to the Itinerancy of two small congregations, formerly under the charge of Gospel Propagation Society Missionaries. Another step is thus described:—

Contemporaneously with our taking up a central position, we have also associated with ourselves a permanent Native agency. We have now in our tents five young men from Mr. Thomas's district. Four of them have come direct from the two institutions in Palamcotta; the fifth had only left the Preparandi a short time, and been three or four months employed as a reader in the Mengnanapuram district.

II. Tinnevelly.

The Mission is divided into 14 districts, viz. 1, 2. Palamcotta and Alvarneri; 3, 4, 5, 6. Mengnanapuram, Asirvadapuram, Satthankullam, Pragasapuram; 7. Kadachapuram; 8. Suviseshapuram; 9. Dohnavur; 10. Panneivilei; 11. Paneikullam; 12. Nallur; 13. Surandei; 14. Sivagasi.

PALAMCOTTA.

The District.

Very interesting is the retrospect suggested by the following extract from Mr. Sargent's annual letter:—

Missionary progress during fifty years.

I lately read with no small interest the parting words of the late Rev. J. Hough to the Madras Corresponding Committee on his withdrawal from Palamcotta in 1820:—"As the scene of my labours, the object of my anxiety, the subject of my prayers, and the source of my delight for four years past, I cannot entertain the thought of quitting it for ever without many a painful emotion. I am most thankful for having been permitted to make a small beginning here in the noble work of turning the heathen from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God." The noble work, so prayerfully and earnestly commenced by Mr. Hough, has, by God's blessing, wonderfully progressed. He rejoiced even over the beginning, the day of small things. We are encouraged by seeing the abundant fruit of the seed both then and afterwards sown. Then there was at this station of Palamcotta, an English school of thirty-five scholars, and a Tamil school of forty-nine. Now we have an English school of 220, two Training Institutions with 120 students brought in from the districts around; a female Training Institution with sixty students; also three day schools with some 250 children. In the town of Tinnevelly there was then an English school of twenty-three boys, and a Tamil school of forty-three boys. Now we have an English department of sixty boys, and a Tamil department of 160. The number of Christians in the station itself might be counted between ten and twenty persons. Now we have 557, of whom 182 are communicants, exclusive of the students in the several Institutions.

Mr. Sargent thus speaks of the new stage at which the Tinnevelly Church has now arrived:—

Independent activity of Native Christians.

In compliance with the instructions of the Committee in reference to the furtherance of the plan for a self-supporting and self-governing Native Church, the members of the Palmacotta congregation were called together on the 30th April, 1867, and by vote four members were chosen to the office of Church Council. On my part I also chose two, and from the villages three were elected by the people there. All these members thus chosen are in no way connected with the Church Missionary Society for their livelihood. Four are writers in Government employ; one is deputy jailer of the district; four are landed proprietors, not affluent, but comfortable. We have met in Council five times, and I record, with thanksgiving to God, the kindly, brotherly and Christian feeling which is always apparent, and the profitableness arising from such meetings. On the score of Caste I was thankful to observe that the members carefully considered the declaration, and cheerfully signed it. Most of these members of Council help, so far as their other duties allow, in attending meetings in the village, and encouraging the people to contribute towards the support of their own teachers.

Education.

The Præparandi Institution.

Mr. Sargent continues his able superintendence of this important work. He thus remarks on the increasing willingness on the part of the students to go wherever there seems an opening for their being useful in teaching and preaching the Gospel.

Missionary zeal of Native Christian students.

To pass over those who have gone to Ceylon, and the Mauritius, on its being mooted by the Secretary of the Madras Corresponding Committee that possibly we in Tinnevelly might supply agents for the Telugu Mission in the far north of the Madras Presidency, six students offered at once to begin the study of Telugu for that purpose. Very lately the Bishop of Madras forwarded me a letter from the Chaplain of Singapore, asking him to send him a Tamil Catechist, the conditions being, first, that the party must not be married; and, secondly, that the pay would be small. One student of the Mengnanapuram District, came to me to say that he put the matter in God's hands, and was willing to go there if accepted. I communicated with the Rev. J. Thomas, but he thought that a man of more power would be necessary for such a post. Another student (from Panneivilei) then offered himself; but as he was altogether unacquainted with English, I thought it unadvisable to encourage his proposals, because the chaplain would not be able to communicate directly with him, and the ground is so thoroughly new. Still my principle generally would be, that where we cannot get first best, we must be content with second best, and where we cannot plough with horses, we may with oxen.

Vernacular Training Institution.

The Rev. Thomas Spratt, assisted by Mr. Thomas Kember, carries on the work of this very important Institution. The number of students under training was, at the date of Mr. Spratt's annual letter, eighty-five. Of these, forty-nine were paying boarders, twenty-four free boarders, thirteen day scholars. Divided according to their studies, sixty-one belonged to the English department, twenty-four to the Vernacular. Important changes are in contemplation in the Society's educational operations for Tinnevelly, the exact nature of which is not yet determined. It is not certain, therefore, whether the plans described in the following extracts will be permanent, at least in all their details.

A modification of the orginization of the Vernacular Training Institution was decided on in our conference in January last, the Bishop and Mr. Royston being present. This modification provided for an English department here, to which all who were prepared to pay $2\frac{1}{2}$ rupees per month were eligible. We threw ourselves heartily into our work, and soon had nearly fifty youths paying the required fee. I enclose our time-table adapted to this arrangement, from which you will see we were not disposed to spare ourselves. I most thoroughly enjoyed my work, and there was an earnest and healthy spirit of industry through the Institution. We now need, and shall still more need as time advances, well-trained English schoolmasters. In several places the heathen have opened schools and employed Native Christians to conduct them. I have two such instances in the Nallur district. When we cannot supply the men, the Natives have to seek non-Christian Teachers.

Mr. Spratt adds :—

It is not easy to review our work with the feeling that it may very soon pass out of our hands. I am thankful to say that at the last certificate examination we sent up a larger number of men than ever before, namely twenty-one, and that there was not one failure out of the whole number.

I will conclude with an expression of thankfulness for the well-nigh uniform good conduct of the students. We seldom have any cause for recourse to any severer punishment than an imposition. I am not in the habit of expressing my belief as to the religious and spiritual character of the students. I think it best to withhold one's judgment on such a matter. There are, I may say, many hopeful signs. There is the general good conduct I have already alluded to, there is the fact that many attend at the Holy Communion, and that they have meetings among themselves for reading and prayer. I must not fail to testify to the efficient and hearty aid I receive from Mr. Kember, as well as from the Native Assistant, David Solomon. They, as well as all my assistants, have, I am sure, the highest interests of the students at heart. We have great need, however, of an increase of wisdom and of God's blessing.

Sarah Tucker Training Institution.

This useful Institution, under the care of the Rev. A. H. and Mrs. Lash, has now its full complement of sixty students. Mr. Lash gives the following account of its prosperity in other respects :—

Characteristics of Hindu Christians.

The conduct of our students has, on the whole, been satisfactory. It is difficult to tell the depth of religious feeling among the Hindus. They take everything so calmly, and so much as a matter of course, that violent convictions of sin, and vehement struggles after truth and holiness, appear seldom to form a part of their religious experience ; we can only judge from their conduct that they are indeed children of God. Our observation of our girls encourages us to hope that many of them are followers of Christ. We look to the future with prayerful anxiety, for it will be when the regular rules and restraints of Institution life are removed, and our young scholars are placed in trying circumstances, perhaps almost alone in the centre of heathen villages, that we shall be able better to judge which are being led by the Holy Spirit.

With regard to secular knowledge, we have every reason to be satisfied with our charge. We sent up half our first class—ten girls—for the Government examination of schoolmistresses: in July twenty-eight women and girls were sent up to the same examination from all parts of the Presidency. Our ten girls all obtained certificates without an exception; while of the other twenty-eight only nine were successful. Thus more Native female teachers obtained certificates from the Sarah Tucker Institution than from the rest of the Presidency. This success is owing principally to the fact that the girls who have thus succeeded were well taught and prepared in the boarding schools before they were sent to us.

Of the Anglo-vernacular school, numbering 200 pupils, Mr. Cruickshanks thus writes:—

It is again my pleasing duty to report of the Palamcotta Native-English, or, as it is also called, Anglo-vernacular school, which has been entrusted to my care now nearly twenty-six years. This is a long time, and during the whole of it the Church Missionary Society has been doing, by means of this school, I shall not say a great work, but a very useful one. Thousands of Hindu youths have, by their connexion with it as pupils, not only become qualified to fill respectable public and private situations, but have also become acquainted with the leading precepts and doctrines of the wondrous volume, which has "God for its author, salvation for its end, and truth without any mixture of error for its matter." Thus the knowledge, however limited, they have derived from the Bible, as well as the Bible itself, however partially perused, has been carried by them to the homes and hearts of persons who, under other circumstances, would never have allowed it even to approach them. This is one of its least achievements, the value of which may be differently estimated; but whether pronounced important or otherwise, if it went only so far and no further, it would hardly answer the hopes and wishes of the Society. But, thanks be to God, it has, under His blessing, done more than this, having brought many of its pupils from "darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God."

Effects of education in Mission schools.

TINNEVELLY.

The Christian Church seems at length to have gained a lodgment in the town of Tinnevelly itself. A Native Minister, the Rev. Jesudasen John, is now stationed there, assisted by the active superintendence of Mr. Sargent. He reports thirty-one adult baptisms during the year. Whether the converts belonged to the town, or to neighbouring villages, does not appear. But the Word of God is publicly preached in the streets, the heathen are visited in their own houses, and, in addition to these labours among the adults, efforts are made for the spiritual instruction of the children by means of a Vernacular school, while it is in contemplation to establish a superior college, which, it is hoped, will bring the youths of the higher classes under the sound of the Gospel.

MENGNANAPURAM.

In this district there are nearly 12,500 Native Christians, of whom upwards of 2000 are communicants. There were 58 adult baptisms during the year.

The veteran Missionary in charge of this district, whose death has been already recorded, the late Rev. John Thomas, wrote in his last annual letter as follows:—

The question which now occupies our chief attention is the organization of the Native Church. The subject has for several years past been prominently before us, as well by various communications received from the Parent Committee, as by its thorough ventilation among ourselves. It was not, however, until the beginning of the present year that I had the required number of Native pastors to enable me to form a Native Church Council here. The Council, on the day of its formation, determined to support the thirteen Native pastors, of whom twelve had then just been ordained. The funds of the Parent Society were thus relieved to the amount of 200*l.* per annum, and this, too, without resting upon probable amount of subscription; but with that amount in the hands of the Treasurer, there is every prospect that we may be able to bear a heavier burden next year. We must, however, be careful not to put too great a pressure upon the people, but be content, as we have hitherto been, to feel our way. I am persuaded that the sudden withdrawal of supplies from the Parent Committee would be productive of infinite harm. As a matter of course, many of the best agents would have to be dismissed, simply because their salaries would not be forthcoming.

Mr. Thomas was strongly in favour of boys' boarding schools. "Without boarding schools," he observes, "you can never form a Præparandi class." He added :—

Value of Boarding Schools.

I consider that I owe more to my boys' boarding school than to any other appliance in the Mission. I have been furnished with an efficient agency, both for congregational and educational work, and, by the blessing of God, I am able to supply the lack of men at Madras, North Tinnevelly, the Ceylon Cooly Mission, and Mauritius.

Mr. Thomas had also made another important experiment :—

A Native Clergyman is appointed Commissary to the Bishop of Madras.

I am happy to inform you that the suggestion thrown out in the third paper on Native Church Organization, issued by the Parent Committee in January 1866, has been acted upon in these districts. I refer to paragraph 2, containing suggestions of a Native Episcopal Commissary, preparatory of a Native Suffragan Bishop. "With a view further to promote the independence of the Native Church at as early a period as possible, it may be suggested that the Bishop of the diocese should appoint, from time to time, a Native Minister as his Commissary, to visit and make himself acquainted with the Native teachers and their pastoral work, and that the Commissary should attend the Church Councils as an assessor, with the Chairman, and that he should report his visitations to the Bishop. This arrangement is proposed as a preparation for the appointment of a Native Suffragan Bishop, when the Native Church is sufficiently organized, and the Bishop of the diocese shall be prepared to make such an appointment." The Bishop of Madras very kindly appointed the Rev. Devanayagam Viravagu, the Senior Native Clergyman in this district, to the above office, to visit and make himself acquainted with the Native teachers and their pastoral work. I am thankful to say he is fully qualified for the office. He is of ten years' standing as a clergyman, and for many years previous to his ordination was employed as inspecting catechist. He devotes much of his time to visiting the pastorates, and reports the result to the Bishop.

DOHNAVUR.

During Mr. Dibb's absence, the care of the Dohnavur district has been entrusted to Mr. Sargent, who writes,—

I have met with a great deal of encouragement. The agents have worked kindly together. The people, almost everywhere, have very cheerfully answered to the appeal in support of their Church Fund, not in promising only, but in performing. I must not omit to mention the very efficient state in which I found the boarding schools: the children being so well up in the knowledge of subjects connected with the word of God. The glitter of the eye, whenever I refer to their late teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Dibb, tells that the heart has not been insensible to the kindness and interest shown by them in their behalf.

PANNEIVILEI.

The Rev. J. D. Simmons is still in charge of this district. The Native Christians in connexion with it number 2200, of whom nearly 400 are communicants. Mr. Simmons thus reviews the present condition of the Native Church:—

Perhaps the most encouraging feature of this year's work is the development of the Church. As you know, two candidates were admitted to deacons' orders in January. I believe this is progress. The men have felt more their responsibility, and have girded themselves up in the Lord's strength. I feel sure that this has done good in their congregations. The people look to them more as spiritual instructors. I endeavour to give the pastors as much responsibility and liberty of action as possible. The year's experience has assured me that God has chosen these men for the work, and that the trust committed to them has been rightly improved. Another step in the right direction has been the formation of a Church Council. We have met three times for various business. I would not encourage the Committee to expect very much from these Councils. They are necessary, and will, with God's blessing, do good: already the members begin to understand what their duty is, and are awakening to a little more interest in Church matters. But the Committee must remember how illiterate and poor the members are.

In other respects Mr. Simmons reports as follows:—

The year has not been marked with any striking inroad into Satan's kingdom. The Gospel has often been preached to the heathen and Mohammedans by the pastors, catechists, and myself, and a goodly number of tracts and portions of Scripture have been sold. Though I have done less myself in this branch of the work than I could wish, or have done in former years, the Native agents have, I believe, carried on the work with vigour and faithfulness. Many to whom the Gospel was preached listened with attention: they have often assented to the truth and importance of the message. A few have raised objections, but the number of objectors yearly decreases. Truth is silently gaining ground; yet it must be admitted that error and Satan's strongholds seem to be very firm. The people yet love darkness. Our yearly success is exceedingly small.

To brethren in less favoured districts the "small success" vouchsafed to Mr. Simmons would seem large. How would the heart of many a North Indian Missionary rejoice if he could report twenty-nine adult baptisms during the year! The following remarks refer not to baptism, but to candidates for baptism.

We have had a few accessions from the heathen during the year. They can scarcely be called gain at present, except that they are under instruction; they have to be taught "line upon line, precept upon precept," with the prayer and hope that the Spirit of God will breathe upon them, that they may be truly rescued from Satan's kingdom, and translated into the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ. The motives of these new-comers are generally so worldly that to an experienced Missionary they would not afford much ground for hope at first; but we have so often seen that God over-rules and leads by a way the people thought not of, to bring some of them to a saving knowledge of Himself, and to secure a rising generation from heathenism, that we do not wait before receiving them till the motive is as pure as we wish. A few of those who joined us last year have steadily grown in knowledge, and have made progress towards the kingdom of God.

When it is considered how strong is the force of ancestral custom amongst Hindu villagers, one is not surprised that before they have actually come under instruction the dim views they have of the excellency of the Gospel are often not sufficient to draw them to Christianity, unless that hindrance is to some extent neutralized by worldly motives telling in the opposite direction. Missionaries may well thank God, that in Tinnevelly, as elsewhere, "godliness hath the promise of the life which now is, as well as of that which is to come." But the following instance is of a different kind:—

This year, also, an old man and his wife, more than sixty years old, were baptized. The old man had been a devil dancer for forty years: their knowledge was small, but their faith was simple and firm. The old man brought his devil dress and implements, and laid them before me, saying, "I have done with Satan's service for ever." From the same congregation, Pariahs by caste, another old woman has been baptized. She showed her faith by driving the heathen out of her house with the broom because they came to tempt her to offer to devils when her only son was ill of cholera. The heathen are very zealous in tempting the Christians to renounce Christianity when in affliction. Their chief weapon is the fear of devils: most warily and perseveringly will they use this weapon—too often, successfully, unless a living faith triumphs over fear. A man who had been a Christian for thirty years was thus tempted this year to renounce Christ, and offer to devils, upon the loss of his eldest son. He had lost one child about the same age previously. The heathen told him that all his other children would die at that age unless he renounced Christianity and made a sacrifice. In another congregation the heathen have been untiring in their efforts to make a man who has lost his sight to backslide. I am thankful to say he has stood firm, and I think will stand, by grace.

Zeal and firmness of Native Converts.

PANEIKULLAM.

In this district there are 480 communicants, and 2650 Native Christians, but during the year there have been only eight adult baptisms. The Rev. J. C. Mill is now in charge, having been transferred from the Ceylon Mission; but as he only arrived at the station five months before the time when the annual letter is transmitted, he has furnished no detailed account of the work. The Report, however, of the Native clergyman, the Rev. J. Nallathambi, contains two interesting particulars:—

A Christian man has taken to going into heathen villages singing Christian hymns and anti-pagan songs, to which the heathen, always extremely fond of metrical composition, listen with marked attention. I have no doubt he does much good in this manner of preaching Christ. Another new encouraging feature of this year is the readiness with which some of the educated Christians have agreed to conduct the Sunday services in the absence of Catechists, of course without remuneration.

NALLUR.

The Rev. T. Spratt has had charge of this district since February, 1869. The following is his account of it:—

Since February last I have had the general charge of the Nallur district. All the strictly pastoral work has been rightly and necessarily relegated to the Native agency. Messrs. Gnanamuttoo and A. Samuel have been hearty and efficient coadjutors in all that concerns the district; and to the inspecting schoolmaster I have been much indebted for the thorough attention he has given to the schools, and for the careful manner in which he has kept the multifarious money accounts of the Mission. While I could not hope to act in any sense as pastor to the scattered people of this large district, I have made a tour through most of the villages to satisfy myself as to their general character and condition. As a rule, the congregations of West Tinnevelly are neither so numerous nor so well to do as the congregations of the East; and these facts will perhaps partially explain the cause why, in some other respects, they are behind their more prosperous fellow-Christians.

In my monthly intercourse with the catechists, a very frequent cause of regret has been that our Christians have intermarried with heathen. The people are still very weak, and still under the power of many of their old prejudices. They cannot therefore shake themselves free of the restrictions which confine them to a particular class for their wives. If they remain unmarried, they not only deprive themselves of a wife, but of a servant.

The event of the year has been the establishment of the Church Council for the district. I endeavoured to make the people, as well as the agents, understand the object the Committee had in view, and the hopes they entertained in connexion with these Councils.

Though the Church Council has been formed, I cannot say that it is vigorously and actively at work; yet I was glad to find in one Council meeting that none of the members were deterred from speaking their minds; indeed we have had rather to check too much speaking.

There have not been many accessions to our number from among the heathen during the year. I fear, too, we have not retained any large proportion of those who came over during the year my immediate predecessor was in charge. The motives of most of those who joined us were transparently selfish, and when the grievance which brought them over was removed they began to fall off gradually. The satisfaction in such cases is, that some generally remain with us and get good. There is, however, an interesting spirit of inquiry astir among a few men of some standing in the town of Tencasi. These men have been seen by Missionaries, Native ministers and catechists. We hope that they may soon have strength and grace to make an open profession of the Gospel. Some of these men, I understand, preach to their countrymen on the folly of their own system, and strongly urge the claims of Christianity. I could not help saying to the catechists who reported this fact, that I thought it doubtful whether we should rejoice over it, for it was a question whether any imaginable advantage might not be more than counterbalanced by the spectacle of a man urging these considerations while he himself remained apparently uninfluenced by them. If, however, as we may hope, these men become Christians themselves, the seed they have sown may spring up and bring forth fruit. One hears every now and again of educated Hindus dissatisfied with Hinduism, and inquiring their way to the truth, without any friendly adviser to direct their inquiries. I heard of one the other day from one of our civilians, who was entangled in the mazes and difficulties of Parker and Renan. An interesting question is, How can such men be reached?

SURANDEI.

The Rev. Nigel Honiss, who was in charge of this district last year, has since then returned to England on sick certificate, being under orders to do so at the time of writing his annual letter.

As this will probably be the last time, at least for two or three years, that I shall have the opportunity of writing a report of this district, I propose to review briefly the progress made during the past six years of my residence here; to which I shall add some special circumstances of encouragement which have transpired during the past year. While doing so, let me first guard against the imputation of seeking to sound my own praise. I am not now detailing my individual labours, but that of some forty-six agents with whom I am associated in the work—twenty-two good catechists, and twenty-four hardworking schoolmasters. We would likewise remember that the only work in which we can glory, and upon which we depend, must be ascribed to the agency of God's Holy Spirit.

But first allow me to recall a circumstance which certainly should not be omitted when summing up our details of progress during the past six months. I refer to a Sunday market which had been held in Surandei from time immemorial, and which was the curse of the district. Upon this the whole neighbourhood depended to a very great extent, for their weekly supplies, and it was thus a great temptation for our people to desecrate the Sabbath. Various means were tried to alter the market-day, but we were unsuccessful in all. We had done all within our power, and could do no more but wait and pray. Then it was that the Zemindar in whose jurisdiction the market was held came forward, and altered the day himself, as he said, to oblige the Missionary; but our relation to the Zemindar was such that we can only ascribe his willing mind to the "good hand of God."

In 1863 the number of villages occupied for our Lord and Master was thirty-two,—now there are sixty-one. We had then twenty-four prayer-houses only,—now we have forty-two. The total number of adherents was then 1374,—now there are 2793. Of baptized we had then 1161, and of communicants 321, against 1790, and 452 now on the books. It is likewise a satisfactory consideration that the small additional number of four catechists only have been employed to carry on the work among this large increase in our congregations. We have five more schools, with an increase of 250 children under instruction, while each master has an average of twenty-four boys against twenty-two in 1863.

Missionary progress during seven years

Let us now glance at the subscriptions of our people. The total sums raised in 1863 appear to have been rs. 390.2.5 against rs. 1429.6.10 in the present year. It was formerly the custom to build and repair churches at the expense of the Mission,—this is now done to a great extent by the people. We used to pay girls for attendance at our schools, and receive next to nothing from the boys,—now we give to none, but receive from all. In 1863 the school fees of the boys amounted to rs. 17.15.5, —while in the present year they amount to more than eight times that sum. Books which were formerly given away have this year yielded a return of rs. 50.3.3. The past year has not been fruitless; our books show an increase of 150 adherents. After due allowance for changes from other districts, and births, we have an accession of 120 from heathenism: seventy adults have been baptized, and fifty have been admitted to the Supper of the Lord.

Courtallum, which is annually visited by the Europeans for its salubrity, is periodically attended by great crowds of Natives with the idea of washing away their sins in the mountain torrent. At one of these great gatherings we lately met with much encouragement. Large bills, with suitable texts of Scripture, were posted on trees in the main avenue leading to the sacred waterfall. As this was something quite new to the Natives, the subject of the "One God and one Mediator between God and Man" (this was our chief text) caused much talk and inquiry. We had also over 500 letters written out and signed by myself, as from their "Missionary and well-wisher," to "my friends visiting Courtallum." In these I assured them of my solicitude for their welfare, and invited them to purchase the books then being sold in the bazaar, by attending to which they might be eternally happy and rich. We had a small shed erected for a bazaar, and catechists were stationed so as to meet the people at every turn. I took up my position in a large maddum near the fall, where I had my depository with table and chair. Large numbers of respectable Natives visited me in answer to my letter, and we had some most interesting conversations, which I am sorry that I cannot here insert. Altogether we sold 1303 of Bibles, books, and tracts, and gave away 1855 hand-bills, on each person promising to read it quietly with his family at home. It is very remarkable that quite one-half of the books sold were to Brahmins, and principally to Brahmin boys. One scene I recall as specially characteristic of India's present position. A gloomy old Brahmin was passing to the temple, leading his child by the hand. He looked like one of the many who are fast bound in the adamantine chains of superstition and caste, while the child's bright and eager face beamed with visions of light and truth. He literally dragged his unwilling parent to our book stall. "No my child," said the father, "I will give you sweetmeats: leave the books alone." But the boy would not be persuaded or repulsed, and his actions seemed to say, "O father, the sacred stream, I feel, has not quenched my thirst: these idols, I feel sure, cannot save or satisfy our souls; but here these Christians speak of living waters. Let us see what is said of the Christians' God: O Father, give me light!"

Brahmin boys eagerly purchase Christian books.

SIVAGASI.

In the united districts of Mr. Meadows, Mr. Cornelius and Mr. Devanayagam there are 3060 Native Christians, with 390 communicants. The adult baptisms during the year have numbered fifty-nine. In his annual letter Mr. Meadows states that the Native catechists have given him "an unusual amount of anxiety;" but that from some of his Native helpers he derives much support and comfort.

The subjoined extracts will be read with interest:—

The condition of the Church.—The village of Sachiapuram contains more persons that appear to be truly converted than perhaps would be found in a congregation of equal size in England. Excepting in two or three villages, children of God, more or less evidently so, are met with in each congregation in the district. I am only reporting, be it remembered, on my own portion of the district. The faults and weaknesses of these are the faults and weaknesses of the early Church, as seen in the New Testament, and in ancient writings, such as the Epistle of Cyprian. Our best Christians often try us; but their conduct would surprise us less if we compared them with those early Christians, rather than with the actual or ideal condition of Christians in England. The liberality of the Church is as conspicuous as ever. The subscriptions in August for the year, for the support of catechists, amounted to 1500 rupees.

The Heathen.—What can I say of the heathen? One of the itinerating catechists wrote to the Church Council for advice. In his letter he instanced the apparent increase of idolatrous devotion. He enumerated several temples which have been lately built, or are in the course of erection. On this, one of the members of the Council remarked that this was not from any increase of devotion, but simply the effect of the general prosperity of the people, and the example of the English. The people are improving their houses after the English model, and, with them, their temples too. This seemed to me some approach to the truth. I should not say, apart from these facts, from constant intercourse with the heathen, that they trusted more in their idols. Every year the contrary is more and more true. But they manifest no sign of giving up idolatry. All confess to the unity of God. All serious persons approve of the morality of the Christian religion. That the love of God in Christ does not strike or move them will not be a matter of surprise when their total indifference to the salvation of their souls is considered. The total absence of all faith in a future after death in some; in others the fatal but very prevalent idea that God's judgment of them will be totally independent of their actions; that their good and bad deeds cannot effect a change in His immutable will; these make them wholly passive about salvation, and form one of our chief difficulties. Add to this their revolting immorality, and the fixed belief that their affairs cannot prosper without the aid of lies and cheating, and their love to have it so. The great cry which should ascend up from England and India for the heathen is, "Show them their need of a Saviour. I cannot conclude without expressing my thanks at the numerical prosperity of our schools. They never were fuller. A school of twenty was considered formerly one of our best. Now we have thirty, forty, and fifty in a school, and the total number of children, heathen and Christian, has increased from 347 in December, 1863, to 786 at the present time. The number of children in the two boarding schools is, girls thirty-one, boys twenty-nine: total sixty. I feel more and more the importance of having the constant influence of the European upon the children. In the case of the Native Clergyman's daughter, the Tahsildar's daughter, and two or three others, we give them free and unrestrained access to the bungalow and to ourselves at all reasonable times.

Are the Heathen moving towards the Gospel or not?

The Rev. J. Cornelius, a well-educated Native clergyman, has supplied an interesting account of his work during the year. The Native Christians in his district number 1024, of whom 130 are communicants. There have been twenty adult baptisms.

From the commencement of this year my sphere of labour has been considerably enlarged by the addition of a portion of the eastern part of the Sachiapuram district, which is under the immediate superintendence of the Rev. R. R. Meadows. Wishing to devote more of his time in preaching to the heathen, Mr. Meadows asked me to take under my supervision the Christians and inquirers under the care of three of his catechists. About 300 souls, of whom only two or three women were baptized, were thus added to my district. More than two thirds of these people, it must be remembered, are Pallars, closely related to each other. They occupy a locality thickly studded with about twenty or more small villages, which surround Kolarpatti, once the seat of an influential Zemindar. These Pallars are now the tenants of the richest landlord in Tinnevelly Zillah. Scarcely any of these inquirers are able to read. I have not yet been able to make proper arrangements for their instruction, but I look upon the field as full of promise, and, by patient continuance in well-doing, likely to yield abundant harvest, and therefore long to see it occupied by two or three pious catechists and schoolmasters. May the Lord of the harvest send forth suitable labourers who will teach and guide these people in accordance with His will. In Kanjanpatti, where we had a few unsatisfactory inquirers for several years, God is now beginning to give us, I think, some real fruits. In the days of the itinerancy special attention was bestowed upon this village, and the itinerators in rotation visited this place very often for the purpose of imparting instruction; all, as it then seemed, without any good effect. Our labour, however, has not been in vain in the Lord. A body of inquirers full of promise have lately come forward, and their earnestness, steadfastness and sincerity are such as to encourage and quicken us in no small degree. Five families of shepherds and a large family of Shanars, in spite of all opposition and persecution, continue to hold on. At present there is no catechist among them, but one of them reads to the rest out of the Word of God and the Prayer-book. May the Good Shepherd watch over these tender lambs, and make them lambs of the flock.

Fruit after long delay.

Our district, like many other districts in Tinnevelly, is now guided by a Church Council. This is quite a new thing, but one I think which is likely to do much good. As yet all our lay members are neither intelligent nor able enough to fulfil their duties; but I am glad a beginning has been made, and pray that He who is now calling the Tamil Church to bear greater responsibilities and discharge more important duties will endow it with the wisdom, grace, and strength requisite for the same.

But all is not bright and smiling.

I am sorry to say that Satan has not been idle in the midst of our people during the period under review. In the beginning of the year a schoolmaster resigned his post with the hope of getting an employment in connexion with another Missionary Society. Finding that he did not succeed in his expectation, he joined the Papists, and, in order to vex me and the catechist of the village where he lived, he induced some of our ignorant Christians to join him. This has almost completely upset one of our good congregations. They, however, now begin to see their folly, and I pray that God may, in His own time, work much good out of all this evil. The Committee will be sorry to learn, also, that persecution for Christianity still exists in no small degree in this country, professedly at least governed by just and Christian rulers. Toleration and liberty are fully allowed in matters of religion to all her subjects by the Queen of Great Britain, but there are places in the Tinnevelly Mission where profession of Christianity is still attended with great danger In one village the headmen and other village authorities have arrived to such a pitch of daring that they openly threaten to beat and persecute those who wish to send their children to our school, or attend our church services.

III. Travancore and Cochin.

The Mission comprises nine districts: 1. Allepie, 1816; 2. Cottayam, 1817; 3. Cochin, 1817; 4. Mavelikara, 1839; 5. Trichur, 1842; 6. Pallam, 1845; 7. Tiruwella, 1849; 8. Kunnankullam, 1854; 9. Mundakayam, 1855.

GENERAL.

The Rev. Henry Baker, whose father bearing the same name was one of the founders of this Mission, is now himself the senior, by many years, of the Society's European agents in Travancore. This position, as well as the office which he now holds as Chairman of the Native Church Council, enables him to take a general view of the Missionary condition and prospects of the country, which will be read with much interest.

During the last year, Travancore Missions have (as far as the Church Missionary Society's part is concerned) been placed upon quite a new footing. There has been quite a fresh division of districts, and of work also. The old established congregations have been grouped into Pastorates, managed by the new Council of Native Clergy and laity, acting in concert with the Bishop of Madras; and the European Missionaries, unburdened from the growing care of these Churches, have been able to attend more freely to education, and forming new congregations and preaching centres. In order to work our country better, the Society should open two new stations between Cottayam and Trichur, just where, indeed, our itinerating district is, but so inadequately worked. We want at least four more pastors, in order to take up existing congregations, and these the Church Council have proposed to put forward as "catechists on trial," and, when approved of by the Council to be presented by the Corresponding Committee to the Bishop for ordination. The subject of local funds and self support is, I know, now an interesting point. As Chairman of the Travancore Church Council, I have had a good deal to do in getting our converts to agree to give their collections out of their individual trusts. A rich Syrian or Hindu builds a place of worship, gathers subscriptions, becomes his own treasurer and manager, makes his son Catanar, or head of the village, so keeps all matters snug, and the little external authority the Syrian or Romish Bishop can bring to bear is easily warded off. But when two or more headmen are concerned, then come the very certain results, quarrels and lawsuits. The Native distrusts his neighbour, and hence tries to retain power in his own grasp, and buries his spare coin.

Growth of the Native Church sets Missionaries free for fresh work.

The Mission districts of Cottayam, Pallam, Tiruwella, Allepie, Mavelikara, and Mundakayam, have been remodelled, and, after giving over the necessary sub-districts, or parishes, for pastorates, have been rendered more compact. Mr. Maddox, who is Secretary and Treasurer of the Council, has most efficiently aided me in all the arrangements, and taken his difficult duties through with much success. The strictly Mission work of the six districts are now divided between Messrs. Maddox, W. Johnson, and myself, where formerly there were six ordained Europeans. This will indicate the progress made here.

Messrs. Hope and Bower, in the Cochin country, are in a measure beginning their Missions. So many here have proved unworthy members, disturbers of the Church, that the Bishop, whose kind intervention the Missionaries obtained, judged it necessary to put out the evil-doers from among the number. A few are gone to other Missions, so they have now only some 300 professed Christians to begin with; but after the labour spent in those parts, and the vigour of the new work, we must expect considerable increase in schools and Christian adherents.

Of the Society's educational operations, Mr. Baker thus reports:—

Of our schools the new Anglo-vernacular schools at Tiruwella and Mavelikara are very efficient, and Mr. Bishop has already brought up the college to a further stage of advance. Our village schools teach hundreds of Syrians, Protestants, and heathen annually to read God's Word, and enable them to work their farm on trading accounts. All the children pay fees. The two large boarding schools now kept by my mother for fifty years, and the last by my wife for twenty-six, have had no small effect on the mothers of our Christian families; and as from Sunday to Sunday I look, from the various pulpits I preach in, around the congregations, it is easy to discover those who have been in these schools; so, too, in passing along the street. My mother has fifty-two pupils, and my wife and daughter over seventy at present. Mr. Speechly's health having failed, the Cottayam Church, and the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, came under my superintendence. Rev. Mr. Thoma, the pastor of Olesha, gives the theological lectures at the Institution. On Mr. Speechly's going, the more advanced class of men went out as agents on trial into the districts: some have failed, others are doing well. I can report well of the whole school, yet a few, I fear, must leave, being unpromising: difficult to teach from conceit or stupidity, or perhaps both, it is astonishing how few ideas will suffice to make "a triton among minnows." Both Mr. Speechly and I have demanded some manifestations of liking for and fitness for Mission work in the candidates; so as our numbers were low, I formed a monitor class, chosen from the forward boys. I hope to examine and introduce them as regular pupils.

In the ancient Syrian Church of this country there is an active reforming party, which of late years has been continually increasing in strength. To what extent its leaders are animated by spiritual motives does not yet appear, nor how far the movement is likely to be successful. Still the state of things as described by Mr. Baker well deserves the attention of Protestant Christians:—

You are aware of the desire for reform among many of the Syrian priests and laymen, and of the contentions between rival parties and bishops, sent by the Jacobite Patriarch at Merdin, who has been trying hard to get an ascendancy and an income from this yet independent church. You will remember that the funds of the old College awarded to the Syrians remained in the Resident's Treasury from 1835 to this date, on account of these disputes; and though Mar Athanasius was the Bishop recognised by the Government, still the Metran had little power; the churches vacillated from one Metran to another; some tried to interpret the Syrian Liturgy, others did as they pleased, or nothing. On the Bishop of Madras coming here on his last visitation, two of the Bishops called upon him, and begged him to interest the new Resident, Mr. Ballard, in their behalf, and get the Syrian College re-opened. His lordship wrote, I believe, to the Resident, who, coming here, soon after went on a tour among the Syrian Churches, and was very pleased with them. The Bishop visited him, and he saw all five of them,—Mar Athanasius and his two Suffragans, and the two others who coalesce or differ as their interest prompts them. Eighty-two churches sent in a petition begging for the opening of the College, and for Mar Athanasius, the Bishop recognised by Government as their head. The vicars and churchwardens of these and other churches met Mr. Ballard at my house: there were many hundred priests and laymen present (over 700 I think, some thought 1000). Each answered to their names when called, and spoke clearly before Mr. Ballard, the Peischar, and the Metrans present. The Madras Government has ordered the money to be paid to trustees. On this a Synod was called to draw up the rules for the resuscitated College: a Council of twelve laymen and priests were appointed to manage all Church matters. All deacons to come for instruction to the College; none to be ordained till of age, and passed examinations; vicars to preach in the vernacular; schools to be had in every Church; meetings for instructing each other in every division of parish; priests can be sent to Churches other than those they were ordained to. Annual Synods were agreed to: these are to hear reports of expenditure of public monies and urge further progress. Several influential laymen and priests took their stand decidedly for advancing the interests of their Church. They instanced "what the Church Missionary Society, after a few years of work were doing, forming into a Church body fully organized, and why should not we too, the children of Christ's disciples, do better?" said one man. The money has been paid by Mr. Ballard to the trustees appointed by the Church. The Syrians are putting this into the Bank of Madras as deposit. Each Church and congregation promises to raise equivalents: each pupil in the College is to pay 11 rupees per mensem, and find clothes for himself. They have asked for a good Vernacular teacher from our Institution, and I hope to give one.

Reform movement in the Syrian Church.

The Syrian Metrans and clergy now ask that, as of old, the Mission will furnish them with trained schoolmasters for all the churches north of Cottayam, about forty in number. Those churches south and east of Cottayam are influenced by our own schools and agency, and generally are twenty-five years in advance of the northern portion, where for thirty years no direct Protestant influence has been at work. Laity and priests treat me with the greatest kindness, and urge me by the memory of the labours of my father among them, their own common Christianity and want of unity, and mutual distrust. The Metran promised every help, and asked me to preach in his churches. His letter of thanks to the Bible Society for their munificient grant of Bibles, his circulars to his people calling on them to lay aside strife, to pray and aid their head in his work for the people of God, all breathe an evangelical spirit. You are aware Mar Athanasius was educated by Mr. Gray at Madras, and Mar Thomas the suffragan, was himself the pupil of the Free Church School at Madras. The Syrian Church, then, is now really awakening, and the Resident, Mr. Ballard, thinks we should give such aid as, while imparting some vigour to its spiritual machinery and educational system, shall leave it still a free, independent church, worked by its own laity and clergy.

Two Sundays in the month I spend in the districts, with most of the intermediate days, and of the rest of the month several days are spent in the villages and schools round Cottayam. Those days I am absent some of the Native Clergy take the duty; and, lately, both of my European brethren here, Messrs. Bishop and Smith, have begun to read, and take occasional services here and elsewhere, to my great relief. I could find full work for two Pastors in my charge. In the intinerating district to the north of Cottayam there is one good stone church and four temporary ones; these are within 14 miles of Cottayam, having from 800 to 850 adherents. I hope to baptize about 80 souls from all these places, out of 260 Præparandi, next Sunday: they were slaves, but now freed, and getting fields and gardens of their own. Further north, I am called upon to open two congregations; I can only send our itinerating readers, and an occasional visit from the Catanar (Syrian clergyman) we employ. I have schools, and am asked to open 40 schools, the Syrian Churches paying half the master's salary now, and more soon. I have several Scripture readings in Syrian Churches, and in various clubs formed for that purpose; three of these are conducted by Catanars, others by laymen; they read portions of Scripture and close with prayer from our Common Prayer, or their own Scriptural Prayer-book, translated by their Metropolitan. I hope to increase these at the cost of a few books. I go as a hearer sometimes. I once heard a beautiful exposition and very earnest extempore prayer from a priest, when they did not expect me, and I begged to add my witness, and was invited to help forward other such meetings.

The Bible Society has presented a magnificent quarto Malayalim Bible to every permanent Syrian and Protestant congregation speaking that language.

In this connexion the following remark by another Missionary will be read with interest:—

I need hardly observe here that the Syrians, unlike the Romanists, freely read the Bible in their churches and families, and esteem it as supreme rule of faith and practice, though in many cases their old prejudices lead them to misunderstand its meaning. The vernacular version of the Bible is largely purchased by them, and freely made use of.

The same Missionary thus writes in reference to another class of the population:—

With reference to the Romanists, who are also very numerous in this neighbourhood, they are in a state of great excitement with respect to the Œcumenical Council. They confidently expect its result will be the submission, not only of all nominal Christians, but also of Mohammedans and heathen, to the supreme authority of the Pope in religious matters.

A preceding page notes the great loss to the South India Mission of its venerable senior European Missionary, the Rev. J. Thomas. There must now be recorded the death of the senior Native clergyman, the Rev. G. Matthan, on the 4th of March, 1870, after twenty-six years of ministerial usefulness. The removal of one so eminent in the Native Church calls for more than a passing reference. An extract from a letter of the Rev. P. S. Royston is therefore introduced.

Death of an eminent Native Pastor.

Our Native brother, the Rev. George Matthan, fell asleep amid his people at Thallawaddie, after a career of more than ordinary usefulness as a Native minister. His attainments, as you are aware, were of a superior order, and his literary tastes found ample scope in enriching the vernacular Malayalim Christian literature. I believe one of his latest works has been the passing through the press of his translation of Bishop Butler's "Analogy." His influence was great, and for good, in the "Reformation party" in the Syrian Church, and his former comrade at Bishop Corrie's Grammar School, the present

"Metran" Mar Athanasins was not a little guidedby his suggestions in gradually introducing that increasing measure of improved scriptural teaching which is, we trust, making way in that ancient and interesting Church. We shall, I fear, the more feel his loss at the present juncture when we seem called upon, and bound to increase our efforts to aid the inward process of Reform in that body with sympathy and personal aid. "Mr. George" (as he was generally and rightly called with reference to the custom of his people) is well known to many friends of the Society at home. He was our Bishop's Malayalim chaplain.

COTTAYAM.

This is the oldest and the central station of the Travancore Mission. It is now under the charge of the Rev. Henry Baker, whose account of it is included in his general view of the Travancore Mission.

It has not yet been thought desirable to place the district of Cottayam and the immediate neighbourhood in the same connexion with the newly-formed Native Church Council, as the other Church Missionary Society districts of South Travancore. Here, therefore, as well as in the comparatively unevangelized territory lying to the north, between Cottayam and Trichur, Mr. Baker has found much room for employment.

Of the Mundakayam district and the Arrian Mission, Mr. Baker's report contains only the following brief notice:—

The Arrian Mission has largely benefited by the subscriptions of the Coral Fund under Mrs. Batty. In the girls' boarding school there are eighteen pupils. Four young lads are in the model school or institution, one in Cottayam College School, and several others in their own hills have been taught to read at the expense of this agency, and are efficient helps in the Mission. Several boys are now learning in the hills. One was appointed assistant master from this fund at Pallam in order to gain experience. One new slave congregation has been formed in the Mundakayam district, besides large additions to old congregations.

Education.

Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

There are two important educational Institutions at Cottayam. The Cambridge Nicholson Institution is intended to train up agents (evangelistic, pastoral, and educational) for the Society and for the Native Church. The College was to give a high Christian education (general as opposed to professional) to young men, sons of nominal Christian parents. The right course would therefore seem to be, that young men who, after completing their course at the College, wish to become evangelists, pastors, or schoolmasters, should receive special instruction at the Cambridge Nicholson Institution. Hitherto a difficulty has existed in carrying this course into practice. The present state of this Institution has been already described.

The College.

There are at present 79 boys in the College itself, besides 43 in the preparatory Grammar School. Of the former number, fifty are on the foundation, that is to say, their expenses are defrayed from the interest of the endowment; ten are supported by the Society; seven pay for their own board; and seven are day scholars. One of these last is a heathen, as also two of the boys in the Grammar School. Mr. Bishop writes as follows:—

I am thankful to be able to write that the year which is now closing upon us has been one of many blessings. We have been free from any cases of sudden death, as last year, or severe illness among the students, and their conduct has been very satisfactory Personally, too, I have cause for deep thankfulness to our heavenly Father for continued health and strength, and though I have been without the great assistance of Mr. Lane, the second master, and have not been able to get any additional help, I have been enabled to manage the extra work devolving upon me; and although the College has not made the progress it would have done had Mr. Lane been with us, still the examination reports this year are, I think, on the whole, more favourable than last. I believe the College is capable of great expansion and improvement. That its present condition, especially its educational status, is not satisfactory, is owing to unavoidable circumstances.

Among the heathen around us (though not at present in our immediate neighbourhood), an English education is beginning to be highly valued. South of us, at Trevandrum, is the Travancore Rajah's high school; and north of us, at Ernakulam, the Cochin Rajah's high school. Among the Syrians there is a growing desire that their clergy, at least, should be better educated.

Cottayam is the centre of the Syrian Church in Travancore. Some of her future Catanars may desire an English education. Let us be able to offer one, at least, not inferior to what they might obtain at a heathen school. In my last annual report you were gratified that Syrian deacons were learning here. At present, there are only five. These are day scholars. While we are glad to admit as day boys either heathen or Syrians, yet it must be admitted that their training is necessarily defective. It is from the boarders we expect most fruit. About a dozen of these are sons of the more influential of the Syrian community. Among these, more especially, we must look for reformers of the errors of the Syrian church. The Bishop of Madras was, I believe, pleased, during his last visitation here, that some five or six of the Syrian boarders applied for confirmation, and that, too, quite of their own accord. I was surprised myself. They attended the confirmation class, but it was thought wiser, in the present crisis of the Syrian Church, that, without the full consent of the parents, with the exception of an orphan boy, whose friends were Protestants, they should not, by means of this rite, be received into our communion, but rather shine as lights in their own Church. The senior boys on Sundays engage in Mission work. A Nair schoolmaster allows two of them to give Bible lessons to his scholars, and has himself received from the Bible Society a New Testament. Others assist in the Rev. H. Baker's work in the Sunday schools and Bible readings established among the Syrians in Cottayam. The boys have further shown an interest in Mission work by collecting a small sum of about ten rupees for the East-African Mission, and, during the last vacation, about the same amount for the new Mission Church at Nazareth.

MAVELIKARA.

In this district there are 626 communicants, the whole number of adherents being nearly 2400. There were 36 adult baptisms during the year.

The Rev. R. H. Maddox thus writes in his annual letter:—

During six months of the past year I, with my family, have been away from my station at the Neilgherries on leave. I am thankful to be able to report well of my health, the change having been greatly blessed to us all, and of the welfare of the districts under my superintendence, the work having been carried on with much fidelity and tact, during my absence, by the Native Clergy, Readers, and Schoolmasters, each in their respective positions.

In the past year I have added to my slave schools, and baptized my first slave convert in the Mavelikara church. My schools have all been revised: masters are undergoing a thorough training and preparation for their work.

The remainder of Mr. Maddox's annual letter is occupied with an account of the new Native Church Council, in which it has already been stated that Mr. Maddox performs so important and useful a part.

TIRUWELLA.

This Mission is under the charge of the Rev. W. Johnson, who passed his examination in the vernacular in 1868. His district, with its seven out-stations, is situated midway between Mavelikara and Pallam. Mr. Johnson writes:—

The social condition of this central congregation is low. As to their spiritual state, if we judge of it by their liberality, they would come far short of what they ought to be. Money seems to be the Natives' very life blood, and to part with it the greatest trial of their lives. Yet the services are, on the whole, well attended. Since my residence in this Mission I have two services on the Sunday, and sometimes an English service in the evening with a few agents and English-learning boys. Among the Syrians there is a saying that the Sabbath is over at 12 A.M., and this many of my congregation would wish, but the attendance in the afternoon has been very fair.

Mission Schools and their effect.

The number of pupils in our new boys' school last year was thirty-two: now we have more than eighty boys paying four chuckrums each, making an income of 16*s.* per month. Most of my boys are of Syrian parentage, but I have a few heathen. Among the latter I have two sons of a petty Rajah. These boys, who do not inherit their fathers' property, and are therefore dependent on their own efforts, have made most surprising advance in English, and we cannot but hope that the word sown in their hearts may make them real, useful members of society. Boys all now pay for their own books, and thus the school expense is lessened. Here I would mention an instance of the use of schools which has been brought to my notice. Any one who knows this country knows how strong the feelings of caste are, and how heathen will not allow any one to enter their houses. A Native official, and one who knows English, called on me the other day, and brought his wife with him (a woman of high caste). One day, when out in my district, I passed his house. He came out, and begged of me, on my return, to visit him, which I consented to do. To my surprise both Mrs.

Johnson and myself were asked into his house, and shortly the hostess came, shook hands, and occupied a chair, and appeared quite at ease. On examining my friend's library, I did not see the Bible there, but volumes of the "Leisure Hour," "Gibbon's Rome," "Webster's Dictionary," &c. He is a very intelligent man, and one who has given up attendance at the temple. My visit was spoken about, but as he is in a good position he does not mind.

The work in the out-stations is mostly among the Pullayan caste, who were formerly slaves. This movement, under God, has been greatly blessed, and we hope to see still greater advantages. When we remember the many centuries during which these people have been considered like the beast that perish, held in detestation by the higher castes, as much as the leper was by the Jew, we cannot, I think, expect that high standard of Christian life which we would rejoice to see. But, however, we have reason to be very thankful. True it is that their mode of life is not of the purest sort, and consequently we have many unpleasant disputes to settle; yet when we see them attending Sunday services in the midst of harvest, while their own heathen relatives are making a profitable day of it, I think it is a great trial of their faith, and shows some good feeling. They erect their own prayer houses and repair them, subscribe to a common Church fund, and hold monthly prayer-meetings among themselves.

Mr. Johnson thus concludes his annual letter:—

I am sorry that I cannot record any striking instances of conversion from heathenism, or any work among the higher castes. Whole families join from the Pullayan caste, and I hope soon to be able to open two new congregations. I have constant intercourse with many rich heathen families who come to see me, and I believe there is a gradual work going on among the educated heathen, which I trust will not end in Deism, Many of this class do not attend the temple services, nor do they care to keep up their shrines.

ALLEPIE.

This district is at present under a Native pastor, the Rev. J. Eapen. Some of the out-congregations, especially those who, when heathen, belonged to the Pullayan caste, show signs of zeal and vitality. The Native Christians of Allepie are in a less hopeful state. In the whole district there are 402 Christians, with 87 communicants. Of the 22 adult baptisms reported during the year, 21 were in connexion with one of the Pullayan congregations.

TRICHUR.

The Rev. K. Koshi, a Native minister, has forwarded an interesting annual letter, from which extracts are subjoined :—

Native minister describes his own work.

I have been here two years and two months, and for nearly half of this time I had not a single human friend to look to for aid or advice nearer than eighty miles away at Cottayam. In September, 1868, I was happy to be joined by Mr. Bower, and a few months later by Mr. Smith also. The presence and help of these two dear European brethren in Christ (though the latter left for Cottayam six months after his arrival) greatly strengthened me in this distant sphere where Christian sympathy is of great price. Notwithstanding some disturbances, and the fears I had at one time that things were going backward, the improvements in the moral conduct of the people, as mentioned in my last annual letter, have happily continued another twelve months, and appear so far to be changes likely to be permanent. The attendance at church continues satisfactory, and good attention is paid to the Word of God. Another sign of good is the harmony prevailing among the influential members; those who were at variance with each other having asked mutual forgiveness and become friends again. The statistics show a decrease in the number of Native Christians, which is owing partly to the disorderly members being struck off the list, aud partly to an unusual number of deaths. I am happy to say that the prayer-meetings, with their customary collections, have been kept up with greater regularity and vigour since, in accordance with the suggestion of the Secretaries, they were left to be conducted by the people themselves. Larger efforts were made this year by myself and the readers among the heathen. When I observed at first the signs of disaffection here and there in the congregation, I took it as a hint to turn more to the heathen quarters, and was enabled to carry on the Gospel to the homes of many both high and low castes. The villages within four miles of Trichur were visited many times, and some beyond that distance, and the attention paid has been, on the whole, very encouraging. As respectable Hindus feel constrained by politeness to give attention when called upon in their houses, I have generally preferred preaching in their own houses than in places of public resort. The subject that has interested them most is the wonderful history of our Lord, His life, teaching, and sufferings, and many times have I observed men and women thrilled with the accounts of His acts of condescension and love—acts displaying power infinite, and yet blended with the sinless frailties of human nature. To those Hindus who compare them with the deeds of craft, cruelty, or monstrous power ascribed to their own gods the contrast is always striking.

There have been but three adult baptisms during the year. The whole number of Native Christians is a little over 400, of whom about 120 are communicants.

KUNNANKULLAM.

The Rev. William Hope having passed his examination in the vernacular, and finally entered on Missionary work, has been placed in charge of this station. The number of Native Christians connected with it is stated as 236, of whom 75 are communicants. Here, as in the southern districts of the Malayalim Mission, the hopeful part of the work is in connexion with the converts from heathenism, rather than with those who have come over from the Syrian Church. The Syrian Church itself, also, is more degraded here than in the south.

In reviewing the labours in this Mission during the past year we feel that we can, like one of old, "thank God and take courage." Our Heavenly Father has not left us without encouragement in the midst of many trials, both from without and within.

The pastoral work here is not encouraging. Although the number of communicants is seventy-five—forty men and thirty-five women,—yet very few approach the Lord's Table except on Easter-day or Christmas-day. Spiritual life among them, I am afraid, is at a low ebb. The existence of fallen Churches here, such as the Syrian and the Roman, has no doubt a bad influence on our people. We need an outpouring of the Holy Ghost. The schools are, I trust, gradually getting into an efficient state. As no Missionary had been resident here for some time, they had sadly gone back. Pray for us.

During the past year we have had an accession of sixteen persons from heathenism—twelve adults and four children. One of these converts, a woman, is of the Nair caste, the rest are Chogans. The history of some of these converts is very interesting. Soon after our arrival here last year a young man and his mother came to the bungalow for Christian instruction. They seemed earnestly seeking salvation. A daughter of the woman had joined the Church here some years ago. She was married to one of our people. She had died, rejoicing in Christ, just a few weeks before the mother came to me. It was her bright example which led the mother and son to seek Christ and His salvation. The young man I baptized by the name of Andrew; his mother was baptized subsequently receiving the name of Martha. At the same time a heathen convert, from an out-station, was baptized by the name of Philip. As yet he is the only Christian in his family. He has a wife, three children, and a younger brother, who all manifested much opposition to his baptism; but God has kept him steadfast. There were also two other candidates for baptism, but they withdrew. They told me they were afraid of the opposition of their friends. I shall never forget my last conversation with one of them. I told him the history of the young man who came to our Lord seeking the way of eternal life, and then turned back sorrowfully, because he could not give up all for Christ. I reminded him of the Saviour's words, "He that loveth father or mother better than me is not worthy of me." He seemed greatly moved, and said he would listen to these things some day. "And he went away sorrowful,"—sorrowing because he seemed to realize he was leaving Christ and His salvation. Both these young men had been well instructed in Gospel truths, and I earnestly trust they will some day join us. A man and a woman from the Syrian Church have joined us. The woman was originally a heathen, and was baptized in the Syrian Church about ten years ago. But she was not satisfied with the small amount of instruction from the Syrian Catanars, and said they were continually showing her the pictures which are painted on the walls of their churches. These pictures are generally descriptive of the career of St. George or the Virgin Mary. There are at present five inquirers under instruction, three of whom are of the Nair or Sudra caste.

Some of the recently baptized converts have had to undergo fierce persecution. As soon as they joined us false charges of robbery were brought against three of them by their heathen relatives. They were brought before the heathen Tahsildar, who convicted them, and sent them, heavily manacled, to a higher Court, expecting that they would receive a heavy punishment. But our gracious God stood by them and delivered them. The Judge of the Zillah Court of Trichur, before whom they were brought, is a Roman Catholic. After having examined the witnesses, he immediately dismissed our poor converts as innocent of the charge preferred against them. Thus God has caused us to triumph in Christ, and wrought deliverance for us.

The Gospel has been made known in various ways, from Nillowye, the north-eastern boundary of this large Mission, to Venghiddanga, ten miles south. Tracts are eagerly received, and many copies of the Scriptures have been sold. No insult has been manifested at our preaching in heathen villages.

GENERAL.

The following account of the visit of the Bishop of Madras to the Society's Telugu Missions, which first appeared in the "Madras Mail" is interesting in itself, and gives a clear general view of the Society's work in that country.

The Bishop of Madras, attended by his chaplain, arrived at Masulipatam on the evening of the 30th January. Next morning the Bishop visited the vernacular normal school in connexion with the Church Missionary Society, and under the able superintendence of Mr. Thornton. His lordship was highly pleased with the manner in which the several classes acquitted themselves, showing by their answers very careful and thorough teaching. The same evening he visited Mrs. Sharkey's girls' school, and distributed the annual prizes. At eleven P.M., accompanied by his chaplain and the Rev. W. Ellington, Church Missionary Society, he dawked out twenty-eight miles to Prattipad, where, on the next day, he confirmed twenty-one Native Christians. Returning to Masulipatam on the 3rd, the Bishop met the Missionaries of the district in conference. Next day, his Lordship was met at the "Noble Memorial School-room," by the whole of the Masulipatam community, and presented prizes to the boys of the Church Missionary Society's Anglo-vernacular school.

The history of this school cannot but be very interesting to all friends of Missions. It was opened November 21st, 1843, by the late Rev. Messrs. Noble and Sharkey, with one pupil each. It has now completed twenty-six years of existence, and contains at present 287 boys, with an average daily attendance of above 250. The standard of the school is that of the first examination in Arts of the Madras University. In the matriculation examination of December last the whole of the class, consisting of eight, went up and passed. The total cost of the school (including the Missionary's salary) is about 15,000 rupees, towards which about 4000 rupees are given by Government as grants in aid of the salaries of the teachers. In 1869 the fees paid by the pupils were considerably raised, and about 1200 rupees have been received from this source, which is more than double the amount of 1865-66. Some scholarships, to enable the pupils to continue their studies longer than they could otherwise afford to do, are given by the Lord Bishop of Madras, by Lieut.-Col. R. M. Macdonald (late Government Inspector of Schools of this division), and by Lieut.-Col. H. D. Faulkner. The remaining cost of the school has to be met from the funds of the Church Missionary Society.

History of an Anglo-vernacular Mission School.

Among the assistant teachers there is one Native clergyman, the Rev. M. Ratnam, one Native Christian teacher, and one Christian pupil teacher, all former converts, who embraced Christianity in the school. There are thirteen heathen teachers. Twenty-three persons have joined Christianity, directly or indirectly, through this school: among them are eleven Brahmins and four Brahmanis. In 1848, on the death of the Rev. Henry Fox, who laboured at Masulipatam, a fund was started in England, principally by the present Bishop of Madras, to provide an assistant-master in this school in memory of Mr. Fox. It is connected with Rugby school, of which Mr. Fox was a pupil. The post has been vacant for some years, from want of a man to occupy it. The Rev. J. Cain has this year been sent out by the Parent Committee to do so. On the Rev. R. T. Noble's death, in 1865, one Memorial Fund was raised by the Natives who had been his pupils or his friends. The interest of this fund now provides one scholarship in the school. Another Memorial Fund was raised by his European friends in England and this country, which has reached 9000 rupees. The object proposed by the contributors was to erect a suitable school building, which has been urgently needed by the school for seven years. As the fund raised was insufficient of itself for the purchase of ground and erection of a building, help had to be sought from Government in the shape of a grant-in-aid. This grant has now been promised. With these funds, augmented by a contribution of 2000 rupees from the Parent Committee, a substantial and handsome building is in course of erection. The centre hall was sufficiently advanced to be available for the distribution of prizes on the present occasion. It contains a slab with a suitable inscription.

On this occasion the meeting was opened by the Rev. J. Sharp, the Principal of the school, reading a chapter of the Bible, and then questioning the boys on it, after which he read a short and appropriate prayer. Then several of the classes were examined by their respective teachers, and between the examination of each class sacred songs were sung by the boys, under the leadership of Mr. Ratnam. Prizes were then distributed by the Bishop. The gainers of the scholarships were also called to the front, and congratulated by the Bishop on the happy result of their diligence. At the close of the proceedings his lordship congratulated both teachers and scholars—the former on the success which had crowned their efforts, and the latter on having such benefits and advantages provided for them. Just at the close of the meeting a boy, who for three years has been anxiously desirous to become a Christian, stood forward, and declared that he had fully determined to forsake heathenism, and to embrace Christianity, and requested that he might be allowed to enter the Mission-house, which he was permitted to do.

Conversion in a Mission School.

On the 7th, the Bishop, with his Chaplain and the Rev. T. Y. Darling, left for Bezwara. Next morning his lordship went to the Mission school, and examined the senior class. The boys answered very creditably, and fully satisfied the Bishop as to the manner of their teaching. At 11 A.M. morning service was celebrated in the schoolroom, his Lordship being the preacher. At 8 P.M., the Bishop started by dawk for the Mission station, twenty-eight miles distant, named Raghapuram, and arrived there next morning. At 11 o'clock there was a service, consisting of the Litany and Confirmation, when ninety-nine Native Christians were presented to the Bishop for this rite, his Lordship performing his part of the latter service in Telugu.

The Bezwara Mission, of which this place forms a considerable portion, is very interesting and satisfactory. It was commenced by the Rev. T. Y. Darling in 1858, and it must have cheered that gentleman's heart, on Wednesday last, to be present at a service in which 400 converts, the fruit mainly of his efforts, took part. The first convert, P. Venkyya, was made in 1859. He has ever since led a most consistent life. Moreover "the little one has become a thousand," for the old man has been the means, under Providence, of bringing above 700 of his caste to embrace Christianity. There are now around Bezwara and Raghapuram about thirty-five villages, where there are Christians, or those who are desirous of becoming such, and the movement continues to extend. Mr. Darling has been assisted for the last six months in Mission work by the Rev. A. Bushanam, a Native clergyman, who has in a marked degree won the confidence of the people. The Native agency consists of the Rev. A. Bushanam, an assistant catechist, five readers, one colporteur, six schoolmasters, and three schoolmistresses. After the service, the Bishop had interviews with the Mission employés and some members of the congregation. At 5 P.M. the Bishop and his two attendant clergy left for Bezwara, arriving there the following morning, when they at once started for Ellore, which they reached at noon, and at once proceeded to the Mission house, where they were heartily received and welcomed by the Rev. A. H. Arden, the Missionary in charge of the station. In the afternoon the Bishop inspected and examined the boys of the Mission school and the girls' boarding school. On the 11th, the Bishop paid a long visit to the Ellore Mission Anglo-vernacular school, the able Principal of which is the Rev. A. H. Arden. This school was commenced in 1854, since which time it has been under the superintendence of several Missionaries. At the time of the Bishop's last visit to Ellore, in the beginning of 1867, the number of boys on the school roll was ninety-seven, and the average attendance eighty-two. On the present occasion the number was 168 (44 Mohammedans and 124 Hindus), and the number present 156. Attached to this school is a preparatory one, which was opened in November, 1868, on the result system, and now contains 164 boys, 35 of whom are Mohammedans. The boys enter the latter school at about six years of age, and after learning their letters, figures, &c., read successively for the first, second, and third standards. After passing these they are admitted into the Anglo-vernacular school. Besides Mr. Arden ten masters are engaged in the school. The Bishop spent a considerable time in inspecting these schools, and appeared to be highly pleased both with the system of instruction and arrangements generally, as well as with the attainments of the boys in the first class, At noon his Lordship held a confirmation, when over fifty Telugu Christians were presented for the rite by the Rev. T. Y. Darling.

MASULIPATAM.

The village work in this district is under the charge of the Rev. W. Ellington. The following extracts are subjoined from his last annual letter.

It appears evident to me, that amongst many of the Mala class there is a general willingness to receive instruction, and that, having done our utmost so to utilize our available staff of agents as to bring as large a number as possible under the influence of the life-giving word, we must labour, pray and wait for promised results. With respect to the majority of our agents, it does not appear to us that we could expect them to do much more than communicate to the inquirers a form of sound words; but that the rest must be supplied by the personal efforts of the European Missionary and the Native minister. Systematic instruction is now given in ten villages: of these, eight have resident teachers. In at least three or four more villages the people are requesting us to do something more for them, besides paying an occasional visit. We have our measure of trials and disappointments, but still I do not think that I ever return from a tour without having seen enough to lead me to believe that the author of Matthew xiii. is with us, and I do not think I could venture to say of the least hopeful of the villages that there is in it no good thing toward the Lord God of Israel

New and hopeful work in the Telugu Mission.

I have lately been called out in quite a new direction, and requested to help forward a work of, as far as present appearance goes, a truly hopeful character. The new inquirers are, by caste, Chucklers (leather-dressers) a grade lower than the Malas; but they have their own cultivation, and have little or nothing to do with working in skins. A convert of the American Baptists at Ongoli, who seems to make known the Word wherever he goes, and who travels and trades in these parts, came to a village situated about twelve miles from Masulipatam, succeeded in persuading some of the people to seek after the knowledge of good things, and recommended them to apply to us for further instruction. This they did, and there are now ten adults in that village preparing for baptism.

On the question of self-support Mr. Ellington writes thus:—

Voluntary spiritual labours of Native Christians.

We levy contributions in two ways, (1) of money, (2) of assistance given by competent members of the congregation towards the instruction and edification of the rest. Until circumstances rendered it necessary for the services of the Rev. A. Bushanam to be transferred to Bezwara, he usually performed the duties of a Native pastor. Being desirous that Mr. Bushanam's removal should be felt as little as possible, both in the villages and by the Masulipatam congregation, I applied to the members of the Native Church Committee to assist me in providing for the Sunday services, and this, I am thankful to say, they very readily consented to do. The members of this Committee, who, with one exception, are engaged with scholastic work during the week, meet me about once a month to confer upon matters connected with the congregation, and arrangements are made for the days on which I propose to be absent. It is understood that the sermons and addresses thus provided are voluntary contributions made by educated Native Christians towards the edification of their brethren.

The number of Native Christians is 379, of whom 98 are communicants. There have been, during the year, seven adult baptisms.

Education.

An account of the Anglo-vernacular school has been already given.

Mr. John Thornton is in charge of the Training Institution. It consists of two sections—the normal school, with thirty students in training to be schoolmasters, and the practising school, with an average attendance of 108. Of the normal school Mr. Thornton writes as follows:—

This consists of three classes, of which the first contains only three students. They are able to read and write English fairly, and have made great progress in their Telugu studies, which comprise history, poetry, and grammar. They have fully mastered the first book of Euclid, and have gone through the greater portion of Colenso's Arithmetic. As far as mere intellectual attainments are concerned they are even now far ahead of any who have hitherto been trained in the Institution. In other and weightier matters, too, they have afforded me great satisfaction, and their steady consistent walk exercises a healthful influence over the younger boys of the boarding school where they themselves are located. The Scripture lessons of the whole school engaged much of my attention; indeed my hardest task this year has been the preparation of notes on the Epistle to the Romans for the use of the first class. The second and third classes are going regularly through the Acts of the Apostles. The reading of a chapter from God's Word, together with explanation and questioning thereon, and prayer, form the commencement to each day's work.

The practising school is under the care of a Native master, a zealous Native Christian, who is also a member of the Masulipatam Native Church Committee. "He has, I am thankful to say," Mr. Thornton writes, "proved himself worthy of the charge."

The numbers have greatly increased under him, and he has succeeded in securing a good average attendance, no easy thing in a school composed mainly of boys from the lower classes, whose parents have not yet been brought to see that education is a good thing. The number of names on the rolls at present is 121, with an average attendance of 108, and for several months past the attendance has been considerably over 100. The results of the examinations have, in most cases, been very satisfactory. About fifty of the boys are Christians, and there are also a few Mohammedans. The remainder are heathen. Of these, several attend church and Sunday school, and among them are a few candidates for baptism.

There is also a boarding school attached to the same Institution, of which Mr. Thornton writes as follows:—

The numbers of the Boarding School were augmented at the commencement of the year by the arrival of five youths from Dumagudiem, sent in to be prepared for work in that part of the country. But others have left since, so that the total is still thirty-eight, as in last year. I have great reason to be thankful for the continued good health and happiness of the boys, the secret of which is, under God, plenty of healthy occupation. They cut up their own firewood, cook their own food, plant and water the trees in the compound, dig tanks for water, and perform several other offices about the house and grounds, and with all this they find time to play cricket, croquet, &c., in all which games I endeavour to encourage them.

Mr. Thornton thus reviews the present position of the work:—

I am thankful that so much has been done, and I trust that the good work will be allowed to go on, and that in a few years we shall be able to point to a body of earnest Christian young men labouring in different parts of the Telugu field as the fruits of this Institution. By God's blessing on us who labour and those who learn this will be the case.

BEZWARA.

The Rev. T. Y. Darling is able to report not a few encouraging signs in connexion with his work in the Telugu Mission, notwithstanding many difficulties and causes of pain, both in the Church and out of it. He writes:—

Character of Telugu Native Christians.

I am thankful to say of the majority of our Christians that we have a good hope that they fear God, and have a conscientious regard for good. They show it by a consistent walk, notwithstanding the great failings of some; they show it by a struggle against sin; they show it by a desire to grow in wisdom and the knowledge of God; they show it by being concerned for the spiritual good of others; they show it in times of prosperity by giving out of their small means for works of charity; and they show it in adversity, as at times of sickness and bereavement, by a true child-like submission to the Divine will, looking forward to the hope of the resurrection. The general knowledge of our people is improving every year, and so also their acquaintance with the Word of God. Our day-schools and our night schools, our boarding schools for boys and for girls, and our Sunday-schools for adults as well as children, are all doing, slowly it may be, an important work. There is a marked improvement in the conduct of the people. In the place of constant fightings, gross, abusive language, and evil speaking, as heathen, we have harmony and peace and concord prevailing. In habits, too, they are more cleanly, eating better food, and in clothing more comely and decent.

In the Raghapuram circle we have an interesting group of villages, where Christianity has been embraced. Raghapuram itself sets the example for good to all the others around. The people are a most consistent body of Christians. All praise be to God! The headman, P. Venkyya, goes on well. He has been the means of bringing many of his people to a knowledge of the truth. In his own family he sets a good example, ruling his household well. His eldest son, a farmer, during the last harvest voluntarily brought us a tenth of all his produce, for the benefit of our Institution Fund, which example was followed by many others. His next son he sent to school, some years since, at a considerable sacrifice, and now he has the joy of seeing him employed in the Mission as a schoolmaster, at a village where some people have recently joined us, and supported mainly by the Native Church. At the present time, at a similar sacrifice, he has three other sons at school, who are all progressing satisfactorily in their studies. We often have a congregation at Raghapuram numbering 300 persons, i.e. when the Christians from the neighbouring villages are able to come together.

A consistent Native Christian.

In the two centres of Bezwara and Raghapuram I have now thirty-two villages where we have baptized people, or those who are preparing for baptism.

The number of those under instruction is continually increasing.

As the desire to join us in bodies would seem in many instances to arise from motives of self-improvement, and for bettering themselves socially, in the case of the lower castes, and for putting themselves in a position of having us as their friends, we are cautious as to what encouragement we give them. While we do not disown that such improvement and change of circumstances are beneficial to the people as regards political economy, yet we make it a point to let them understand that we preach the Gospel of Christ in order that sinners may be saved, which is the great thing to be apprehended, without which all things are loss. As proofs of sincerity we look for two things besides giving up idols, viz. respect for the Lord's-day, and immediate attention to learning the rudiments of Christianity. When we are satisfied with reference to these points, we then send an itinerant teacher to instruct them, whose pay they are required to help to raise, to the extent of their means. When the people ask for a school and resident, we require them in the first instance to build the teacher's house and a schoolroom. (You must remember that the cost of both together would not exceed 2*l.* or 3*l.*) Besides this, we require them to give a little more towards the support of their teacher, however small the sum may be, in order to establish the principle.

Mode of proceeding with inquirers.

The Rev. A. Bushanam, one of Robert Noble's first two converts, has recently been sent to assist me. I look for a great blessing, under God, from this acquisition, especially in the matter of preaching the Gospel to the heathen, which he has already vigorously commenced.

KOI MISSION.

The work among the Kois has now received visible tokens of the Divine blessing. The Rev. T. Y. Darling thus writes, under date of December 9th, 1869:—

First-fruits of the Koi Mission.

It was my great privilege yesterday and the day before to admit eighteen Kois into the visible Church by baptism. The rite was administered in their own villages, buried in the jungles, Nallapilli, Paidakumadugu, in the presence of a great many of their own tribe. The service was a solemn one, seeing that it was the first of the kind ever performed in that region, and also because the persons admitted were the first adult Kois ever baptized in a body too. It was a very impressive scene. The spectators appeared to have been struck with wonder and amazement. Some feared; some rejoiced, and said they too would follow the example, for they had seen and heard nothing but what was good that morning, and therefore they desired, too, to serve this true God. To-day some Kois have been over to see Razu, and they expressed great regret that their fears allowed them to lose the opportunity of joining the Church of Christ.

The Holy Ghost has been truly poured out upon the people. There are unmistakeable signs that God has rained down His grace upon them. Their faith is really simple. They have cast away their idols because they have learned to despise them; and they have accepted Christ as their God and Saviour, because they see that they have sins to be pardoned, and they know that there is a heaven to gain. An old woman questioned one of the newly-baptized: she wanted to know whether, now that he had become a Christian, he would ride upon a horse, and put his wife into a palanquin. "No," was his reply; "I have become a Christian to gain heaven, and I will beg my bread rather than lose heaven." There is no temporal motive for them to join us. Such has happily never yet been before them. You have only to see and know the people, and you understand this. They appear to be amongst the most timid beings on the face of the earth, but God's grace, with education, will take away all that fear. They have little of this world's goods, but they show wonderful content—content because their wants are few, and it would seem that they had few cares. They cultivate a coarse kind of millet on small patches of land redeemed from the jungle, scarcely sufficient for a year's consumption. The only luxury which I hear they have is prepared from the sweet flowers of the Ippa tree, which they gather while available in the season. It is not for want of energy that this is the case, for when employed by Colonel Haig on the public works they make the best workmen, and do at least twice as much as the Hindu Cooly. A Koi never idles over his task: give him work to do and he will persevere with it till he finishes it. They display a great amount of intelligence alongside their great timidity, as is proved by several of the men learning to read Telugu in a very short time. I was surprised to hear two young men sing to one of their own native airs, quite different to those of the Hindu, a Christian chant, composed by one of themselves in the Koi language. I learned, also, that two others had composed similar pieces, and that the women liked to listen to them. I feel confident, from what I saw, that the tide of conversion amongst the Kois has truly set in, and I am sanguine that at no distant day the whole Koi population, numbering about 240,000 souls, and scattered over an area of about 12,000 square miles, will be christianized. May our God hasten the time!

Already there are several most promising youths, who are now reading in our schools, to whom we may hopefully look as the future instructors of their tribes. But for this soon they will require careful teaching and instruction. They must be trained on the spot. It would never do to send them to Masuliputam. The work, as faithful catechist Razu is able to testify, will need the constant superintendence of a Missionary for some time to come. Let him reside with his family at Rajahmandry and work this from that centre if he cannot live here. To whom are we to look? The little band of Native labourers, with Razu at their head, supported and encouraged by the hearty sympathy of our devoted friends, Colonel and Mrs. Haig, pray to the Lord of the harvest to send forth labourers into His harvest. Great is the present necessity for more labourers. Who will come? and who will follow to be baptized for the dead if it be necessary?

CEYLON MISSION.

Division of Mission.—I. Colombo. II. Baddegama. III. Kandy IV. Jaffna.

GENERAL.

THE Ceylon Missionary Conference thus reviews the Society's work in the island:—

On the whole the aspect of the Mission seems to be one of encouragement.

Development of the Native Church in Ceylon.

The Native Christians are increasingly recognising the duty of maintaining their own Church, and are manifesting their interest in its welfare by liberal support. Thus at Kandy, while subscriptions from Europeans have declined, those obtained from Natives have raised the total amount to a higher sum than that received last year, and the contributions at Katukelle and Gatembe have also largely increased. At Cotta the report mentions that the Native Christians seem to be learning that they have now a Church of their own, of which they are bound to be active and responsible members. At Baddegama the three Church Councils previously existing have been amalgamated, with manifest advantage. In several instances members of the congregations have been found willing to assist the pastor and catechists in conducting prayer-meetings, in the distribution of tracts, and in visiting and speaking to the people of the district.

Evangelistic work has been extensively carried on during the year at all the stations. Street preaching, both in Tamil and Singhalese, has brought the good tidings of salvation to the ears of many thousands assembling in places of public resort in Colombo and Kandy; while the Missionaries and catechists of the Tamil Cooly Mission, and those connected both with the Kandian Itineration and the Baddegama district, have been enabled to get at the people, both on the estates and in their villages, to at least as great an extent as in former years. At Kandy much more opposition has been experienced in the street preaching than used to be the case, but at the same time there has been manifested occasionally a very cheering readiness to accept the replies given to the objections which were brought forward.

On the invitation of the Government Agent of Anuradhapura, the ancient capital of the island, an exploratory Missionary journey was undertaken to that place by two of the Society's Catechists. The information so obtained having been, from adverse circumstances, somewhat scanty, it is purposed that a renewed attempt should be made by the Rev. J. I. Jones.

The number of adult baptisms is less than last year, but there have been, notwithstanding, some striking proofs of the power of the Gospel.

I. Colombo.

Cotta commenced, 1822; Colombo, 1852.

Rev. Stephen Coles (m), 1860: at home.

COLOMBO.

Congregations in three languages, English, Tamil, and Singhalese, still worship at the Mission Church, Colombo.

The Tamil work which has now had the advantage of being for several years under the care of the Rev. W. E. Rowlands, is in a satisfactory condition, as will be seen by the following extracts from his annual letter:—

Our congregations—at any rate, those of Slave Island and Marandhan—have improved during the last twelve months. On several occasions more than 100 people have been present at Galle Face church at the 8 A.M. service. On Good Friday the number was 130, and on Easter-day 129. The average attendance for the whole year, including rainy Sundays, has been 75. There has been a fair attendance at the afternoon service in the schoolroom near the church; but we have still to long for a much better state of things in this respect.

A mothers' meeting among Native Christians.

I am glad to be able to add that Mrs. Rowlands has lately commenced a mother's meeting for married women and big girls, a thing which she has long desired to do, as she felt very strongly how much the women of the congregation need to be brought more into contact with the Missionary's wife, if they are to regard her as their real friend. The attendance has varied from ten to fourteen. The meeting is opened with prayer and the reading of a short passage of Scripture, which Mrs. Rowlands, with the occasional assistance of an interpreter, explains:

the women then repeat a lesson learned by heart, and the hour is devoted to reading aloud some interesting and instructive book, after which prayer is again offered up. We trust that this meeting, as well as the others, may prove a means of grace.

At Marandhan the congregation has, I am glad to say, assumed a more settled condition during the last twelve months. There are now as many as sixty persons connected with it, and the average attendance has been about forty, to set against a little more than half that number for the previous year. When I was there last month to administer the Lord's Supper, sixty-five persons were present, including fifteen children.

In Grand Pass, the special sphere of dear Mill's labours while he was in Colombo, the number of resident Christians has been so very small during the greater part of the year, that we have not kept up a regular service there, but have substituted for it one at Mattacooly, which is convenient also for people living at Mutwal. This locality presents a much more favourable field for work, and as by degrees we are able to canvass the district thoroughly, I have no doubt the congregation will become larger. On the 30th September there were forty names (chiefly those of adults) upon the congregational list. For holding the service I have just obtained the use of a schoolroom, used during the week by the Baptist Missionary Society for a Singhalese girls' school.

I am thankful to say that our people are increasingly recognizing the duty of contributing towards the support of those who minister to them, as well as towards other objects of a Christian character. I have good reason for saying that the amount raised during the year upon which we have now entered is likely to be much larger than what has hitherto been reached.

A Native Christian boarding-school in Colombo.

Now for a few words with reference to schools. Our girls' boarding-school is now, through God's blessing, going on very well; but it has passed through some vicissitudes during the year, on account of the difficulty of obtaining an efficient mistress. We at last succeeded in engaging a a very superior and decidedly Christian woman Under her and a master from Jaffna, who was for many years master of the boys' boarding-school at Copay, and who is a very suitable and earnest man, the school promises to get on well; all we want is more pupils. The highest number we have had at any one time is sixteen, and our present number is only eleven, though we could take twenty-five. But we are not discouraged by this small beginning, for we feel sure that as, little by little, the advantages of the school are realized by the more enlightened of the people, it must work its way, and command a sufficient number of scholars. Of those we now have, all but one has been with us from the opening, and, through God's mercy, we feel more than rewarded by the marked improvement that has taken place in several of them since they entered the school, and especially by the increased interest which three or four of the elder scholars manifest in spiritual things. The day schools, too, have been upon the whole, satisfactory. We have carried on preaching in the streets and coffee stores, as in previous years, and have thus had a means of proclaiming the Gospel to thousands of Hindus and Mohammedans; but I am unable to speak of any very definite result. One circumstance, however, connected with the stores, is very encouraging. During the latter part of Mr. Mill's time here, a proprietor allowed his store to be opened every Monday morning at seven o'clock for a kind of service for any of his workmen who might be willing to attend. From then till now the service has been regularly held, and from twenty to forty heathen Coolies have always been present of their own free will. This gentleman has now expressed a wish to have a catechist supported entirely by the firm, whose time shall be chiefly devoted to his workmen, both in the store and at their homes. I need not say how thankful I was to accept the offer.

Help rendered by a European employer.

Of the 300 Tamil Christians 53 are communicants. There have been 12 adult baptisms.

The Rev. Henry Gunasekara, son of the Society's former Native Missionary, the Rev. Abraham Gunasekara, labours among the Singhalese of Colombo with much earnestness and Christian humility. The Singhalese branch of the Colombo Mission is not so encouraging as the Tamil; the congregations are small and the attendance irregular, nor is there much that is satisfactory in connexion with the schools. But in the street preaching and in the preaching in the coffee stores, there has been much less opposition than in former years, and there has appeared to be a greater readiness to listen, and to read the books and tracts which have been supplied.

COTTA.

In the Cotta district there are 660 Native Christians, of whom 122 are communicants. At the commencement of the year it was under the charge of the Rev. J. I Jones, from whom it was subsequently transferred to the Rev. S. Coles. The Training Institutions at Cotta have been temporarily closed in consequence of the misconduct of a Native teacher. Some of the students are still receiving instruction under the Missionaries from whose districts they were originally sent.

Mr. Jones thus describes the condition of the district when transferred to Mr. Coles:—

The past year has been an eventful one for Cotta, inasmuch as it has witnessed the extinction of the old plans of working. The changes needed were too great to be introduced all at once. The dismissal of some fifty agents, and closing of thirty schools; the re-dividing and re-distributing the district; if suddenly carried out, would probably have given rise to an opposition of a serious character, and so have retarded rather than hastened the accomplishment of our objects; but the gradual process which I felt obliged to adopt, and which extended over two and a half years, has been now brought to a close, and a new system introduced with comparatively little difficulty, and with several manifest advantages. Three catechists were, early in the year, admitted to deacons' orders, and by them, with the assistance of two catechists, the pastoral work of Cotta has been carried on. It is perhaps too early to expect much in the way of spiritual results; but there were, I think, indications of improvement at the time when I handed over the district to Mr. Coles, a few candidates, possessing apparently more sincerity and earnestness than any I had before seen at Cotta, having come forward in the face of bitter opposition, asking to be baptized. The Church Council was regular in its meetings, though not attended as well as in the former year; and the Church Fund was maintained at about the former standard, the contributions amounting to between 4*l.* and 5*l.* per mensem.

Bold but careful introduction of new plans.

Mr. Coles reports as follows:—

The pastors appear to devote the most of their attention to the Christians, to instruct and build them up in the faith. The heathen, however, are not neglected. The work appears to prosper most at Colpetty, Nugegoda, and Mampe; and in the two latter places especially there is amongst the church members a very cheering state of earnestness and Christian zeal, which induces them to act up to their principles, and to declare the Gospel to their neighbours so as to induce them to accept it. On looking over the whole district, although there is much, very much to be seen which causes us great sorrow, on account of either the apathy or bitter hostility of many, yet there is a manifest improvement and increasing earnestness among our people; and they now feel that the Christian Church is their own, in which they are responsible members.

Increasing earnestness among Singhalese Christians.

The schools of the district have been carried on throughout the year under the superintendence of the Missionary and the pastors. The number of schools is twenty—ten boys' and ten girls' schools. The teachers, both male and female, are required to come in for instruction and examination on the last Saturday of each month, when they are examined in the lessons which they have to teach during the ensuing month, a month having been given to prepare them. It is gratifying to observe that almost all the schools are improving, both as regards numbers and attainments.

We commit the infant church at Cotta to the care of the great Shepherd and Bishop of souls, praying that He will nourish it.

In the Nugegoda division of the Cotta district one of the native pastors above referred to, the Rev. H. De Silva, is able to speak of voluntary help from the Native Christians, and of the power of Divine grace on a dying-bed.

Four of our members have rendered me much assistance in carrying out the work in the district. Two of them are connected with the Mission as schoolmasters, but the other two are altogether independent workers. They go about as opportunity allows, visiting families, both of Christians and heathen, conversing with those whom they meet on the subject of religion, and distributing tracts among the people. Two of these, I am thankful to say, conduct a prayer-meeting regularly once a week, for the benefit of our people, and it is attended by a number of adults, varying from sixteen to twenty. One of them assists me almost on every Sunday, by taking part in one of three services I have to take.

Voluntary labours of Native Christians.

I am privileged to write to you an account of the death of a pious young Christian. This young girl, aged sixteen years, whose parents are still heathen, always manifested a spirit of earnestness about her own salvation and that of others. She was often heard speaking to her parents about Jesus Christ, and the only way of salvation through Him. I was much satisfied with the amount of knowledge she possessed of Christianity, and, above all, with her clear knowledge of the way of salvation. Amidst her bodily sufferings she was full of joy in believing. Upon inquiry whether she was afraid of dying, she replied she was not, because Christ had died for her, and her sins were washed away by His precious blood. She told her friends, who were weeping for her, not to weep, as she was going to heaven, but to weep for their sins, and recommended to them Jesus Christ, as the only Saviour of mankind. Her parents, finding her illness increasing, wished to have a devil ceremony performed for her, but it was prevented by her manifesting utter abhorence of it. Though she was very poor, she managed to contribute quarterly at the rate of 2*s.* 6*d.* to the Church Fund.

Consistency in life and death of a young Native Christian.

The Native subscriptions realized at Cotta and Colombo, during the past year, have amounted to 92*l.* 12*s.* 10*d.*, which is a very much larger sum than has been realized in any former year.

II. Baddegama.

Baddêgama commenced, 1819; Bentotte, 1861.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Edward Thomas Higgens (m), 1851: at home.
Rev. John Allcock (m), 1864.

BADDEGAMA.

Until the end of June the Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin was in charge of this district. He then removed to Colombo, being succeeded at Baddêgama by the Rev. John Allcock. During the last four years, ending in December, 1869, this station has been under four different Missionaries. Humanly speaking, such changes, which seemed to be unavoidable, are injurious. May the Lord overrule all for His own glory!

Mr. Dowbiggin thus describes the efforts of the Native Church to establish a system of discipline:—

Stricter discipline introduced by a Native Church Council.

We endeavoured to carry out some system of discipline in Baddêgama, and it proved upon the whole successful. This was done through and after consultation with the members of the Church Council. It was decided that those who did not attend church, and could not give good and sufficient reasons for their absence, should, after three months' warning, be struck off the list of members. Accordingly, after three months' notice given in church, the names of six members were publicly cancelled in the presence of the congregation. Some of those struck off at once began to attend. Also that all Communicants should attend the Communicants' meeting, or not be admitted to the Lord's table without good and sufficient reason. This was successfully carried out. Thirdly, that collecting chatties should be distributed, to encourage systematic giving. This plan answered better even than we had hoped. Fourthly, that any registered members contracting heathen marriages should not be recognised as church members.

The steadfastness of the young convert whose earlier history appeared in the "Church Missionary Gleaner" of February, 1870, is thus referred to by Mr. Dowbiggin.

Steadfastness under persecution of a young convert.

The young girl of whom I wrote last year still continues steadfast, although persecuted by her Buddhist parents and friends. She says God has forgiven all her sins for Christ's sake, and that, when she dies, He will take her to heaven. This she told her mother, who was very angry with her. Her parents have compelled her to accompany them to the temple, but because she would not worship Buddha's image nor the priests, her mother beat her before them. One day this poor child went crying to the catechist's house, begging her to ask me to baptize her and to take her away from her father's house. My last accounts of her were good—that she was still holding on to the plough to which she had put her hand now nearly a year ago.

Mr. Allcock's annual letter throws further light on the state of the Native Christian community.

Among all the congregations class meetings have been commenced, and suitable unpaid leaders selected. From this plan I expect much. There are three catechists, whose time and labour are chiefly expended in pastoral work. Their salaries are appointed by the Native Church Council, and paid out of the Native Church Fund, so that the European Missionaries' time is not so much taxed in serving tables, and much more responsibility is put upon the Native Church. The attendance at the Sunday services, especially at the Mission Church, is very encouraging. During the first six months of the year the average number of adults and children was 100, but during the latter half of the year the number has grown to 144. The number of communicants has increased. Dodanduwa still remains one of the most encouraging places in the south. Some of the most satisfactory Christians I have seen in Ceylon reside there. As success and opposition generally go together, so it has happened in this village. The Buddhists have opened an opposition school, and entered into a bond to pay their master 1*l.* 10*s.* per month. How long their liberality will continue is uncertain, but they have nearly emptied one of our most flourishing schools for the present. It was suggested, at one of the last meetings, that every member, or communicant, should have a district to visit, something like the visitors in England. If this plan can be carried out, a great want will be supplied, and a great blessing may be poured upon the Native Church.

Developement of Native Church action among Singhalese Christians.

Evangelistic work is also carried on.

Three catechists have been employed in evangelistic work during the whole of the past year. All the catechists, also, who have been acting as pastors, have spent much time and taken great pains to preach the Gospel to the heathen. It is supposed that the field which the Church Mission is endeavouring to cultivate in the south contains about 70,000 people. It is not easy to calculate the number of persons who have heard the Gospel by this agency, but it must be large. At several places there are some satisfactory inquirers. Among these are two who received their first impression from wayside and street preaching. Hitherto, converts direct from heathenism, impressed by the simple preaching of the Gospel, have been very few in the South. Generally, I think, converts direct from idolatry make the most successful evangelists; yet every one of Christ's members should be an evangelist.

There are seven boys' schools and four girls' schools. On the Mission premises there is a superior English school, with an average attendance of not less than 28 during the whole of the year. The average number of boarders has been eight. The conduct of the boys, and their religious progress, have been satisfactory. The last examination showed that the boys generally had made satisfactory advances in secular knowledge. There is also a flourishing girls' school adjoining the Mission-house, with an average attendance of 35. Three-fourths of these girls are children of heathen parents. There is also a Præparandi class for young men, who hope to go out as schoolmasters and catechists. At present four young men are under instruction. Three of them were once bound by the chains of heathenism, and a fourth is a brother of one of the candidates for orders. Their progress in the knowledge of Scripture, spirituality, faith, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, and charity, appear to be encouraging and satisfactory.

In the whole district there are 120 Native Christians, of whom 50 are communicants. During the year there have been six adult baptisms.

KANDY.

In the Kandy district generally there are 484 Native Christians and 125 communicants. Of these, two hundred Christians and fifty communicants are in connexion with the wealthy Singhalese congregation in the town of Kandy itself, under the charge of the Rev. Cornelius Jayasingha. During part of the year Mr. Jayasingha was prostrated with fever. The European Missionary, Mr. Allcock, officiated in his place. On Mr. Allcock's leaving for Baddêgama, the congregation presented him with an elegant coffee service. Extracts from Mr. Jayasingha's annual letter are subjoined :—

A wealthy Native Christian congregation.

The congregation of the Kandy church, with which I am connected, continues steady. Some of the members of the higher classes often absent themselves from church; but the rest, I am happy to say, are very punctual in their attendance, and manifest a great regard to the ordinances of religion. I believe that most of them love Christ, and evince a desire of seeing His cause prosper. Although the old saying that "not many mighty, not many noble are called" is true, yet we have the pleasure to see new members from among the middle classes added to the Church. The people here have no worldly inducement whatever to profess Christianity. This increases our thankfulness to God for the large number of attendants at Church on Sunday mornings, and at meetings for religious purposes, as well as for their marked willingness to contribute to the cause of religion. During the year the average attendance on Sunday mornings has been about one hundred, and in the evening between thirty and forty. The contributions to the Pastoral Fund have been 93*l.* Sunday collections (including Katukelle and Gatembe) have been 44*l.*, and collections at Missionary meetings 4*l.* 11*s.*

The Church Council is established, but seems to excite less interest than at Cotta. There have been three adult baptisms. Of what is, more properly speaking, the Missionary work of the district, the Rev. J. I. Jones, who returned to it in June, 1869, thus writes :—

Some of the catechists are earnest and diligent, feeling, I think, the value of souls, and plainly setting forth the Gospel of Christ. Of others I am not so sure. They are now stationed as follows — two at Kurunagala, twenty-seven miles north-west of Kandy; two at Gampolla, twelve miles south; two at Kêgalle, twenty-three miles west; and one at Hanguranketta, eighteen miles south-east; besides two catechists acting as pastors at Talampitiya and Hewadiwela. They are directed not only to preach in the streets and at the police courts of the places where they are stationed, but also to visit regularly the surrounding villages. Preaching at the Kandy police court has been very regularly kept up. The remarks made and the questions asked by the heathen when we are preaching, if they bespeak present rejection of the truth, show also a very considerable amount of knowledge of the way of salvation, and the prominent facts of the Bible.

There have been one or two cases of relapse into heathenism among the people of Talampitiya and the neighbouring villages, and several of gross sin, leading to the separation of some members from the Church. From the commencement of the work nine years ago, ten in all have thus been been excluded. I cannot say there is the same general brightness about these people which there formerly was: some are still very satisfactory, but many are careless and indifferent.

A remarkable conversion.

A very encouraging case of conversion has occurred at Gampolla—that of a young notary, formerly a determined Buddhist, and well acquainted with that system. He was led to inquire into the correctness of Buddha's teaching as regards eclipses, and finding it altogether false, he rejected Buddhism, sought instruction from the Gampolla catechist, and finally, through God's grace, embraced Christ as his Saviour. May God enable him to live as His faithful soldier and servant unto his life's end. His conversion has produced great excitement among his former co-religionists at Gampolla, and has led to efforts being made to injure him in his profession, but he stands firm and steadfast.

The Kandy female boarding-school was opened in September, and promises well, although the number of girls is at present only seven. We look to it as a means of effecting much good, and are thankful to God for permitting us to establish it.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

There are 818 Native Christians connected with the Cooly Mission, of whom 150 are communicants. During the year there were seventeen adult baptisms. The Mission is now divided territorially, one district being in charge of the Rev. W. Clark, the other of the Rev. E. M. Griffith. But this division came into effect after the close of the year reported upon. Mr. Clark, in his annual letter, writes as follows:—

> The Mission has been conducted during the year on the plan laid down in the last Report. There are fifteen catechists in charge of the fifteen circuits into which the coffee districts have been divided. I am glad to be able to report favourably of all. They have been faithful and diligent in the discharge of their duties. Their work is very onerous. They have far to travel, which they do on foot; lofty hills to climb; many to preach to; something in the way of opposition, though not much, to bear; besides the oversight and instruction of many scattered Christians; yet they are both cheerful and zealous.

The Native Christians require some organization among themselves into small companies—an organization not depending entirely on the paid agents of the Society. To this point the attention of Missionaries is directed everywhere. Without some such arrangements, the evangelization of the heathen world seems impossible, the resources of Missionary Societies being otherwise almost entirely absorbed by the care of the converts already gathered in. The formation of Native Christian companies desirable.

The Native Christians seem generally to act consistently. They are so scattered that we cannot exert much influence over them, except in Kandy. They can seldom be seen oftener than once in two months, and then, usually, only by the catechist. We can seldom see them, even when visiting the estates. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that they find it difficult to resist temptation, maintain their Christian character, and grow in knowledge and grace. But with all their disadvantages, some are good Christians, and by consistency, diligence in the discharge of their duties, geniality of spirit and temper, win the approbation of their employers.

One of the adult baptisms took place under very interesting circumstances.

Of those baptized during the year I have heard nothing but what is satisfactory. They continue to be steady in their new profession. One instance of baptism, attended with some interest, I may relate. It occurred at Pallekelle, an estate in Doombera. A man named Karupan, a mason, had long been desirous of baptism, and usually, when the catechist went to that estate, had learned some part of the lessons required of candidates for that rite. But his progress being slow he had to wait long for the accomplishment of his wishes. He seemed incapable of retaining any thing in his memory. Still he persevered, and constantly came to Kandy on Sunday, a distance of six miles, to attend divine service. Seeing his diligence, and hearing a good report of him, I at last determined to baptize him, notwithstanding his deficiency in knowledge. I thought his steady perseverance for several years a sufficient evidence of sincerity. As there are many false notions prevalent among the heathen respecting baptism, and some of those in Pallekelle seemed to have doubts about it, it was arranged that the baptism should take place on the estate, in presence of the Coolies, that they might have an opportunity of judging for themselves whether there was anything objectionable in it. On the day appointed, besides several Europeans, there was a large gathering of Coolies to witness the ceremony. The upper story of the store was quite full. After reading a portion of the prayers for the day, I preached on baptism, relating the circumstances of its institution as a Christian rite, and explaining the nature and intention of it. The people were very attentive and much interested in all that was done. At the close of the sermon I baptized the mason and his An interesting baptism.

wife, and little daughter. Much eagerness was manifested to see what was done. Many stood up, and with outstretched necks watched every act, and all seemed gratified with the opportunity they had of witnessing with their own eyes the administration of the rite. Later in the day some of the Coolies expressed their wish to be instructed and baptized. Whether this will turn out to be only a passing excitement, or an abiding purpose, remains to be seen. I am not, however, without hope respecting some of them. About twenty-five attend a service held by the catechist on that estate once every fortnight.

IV. Jaffna District.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Thomas Good (m), 1866.
Rev. David Wood, (m), 1867.

The converts whom God has given to the Church Missionary Society in Jaffna have been organized into a Native Church, represented by a Church Council formed of the two Missionaries, three Native pastors, and four Native lay delegates, and possessing a Church Fund, consisting partly of contributions from the Native Christians, and partly of an annual grant from the Society. Of this the Rev. David Wood, Missionary at Copay, speaks as follows :—

Good effects of Native Church organization.

In looking back upon the past year I cannot but thank God that we were led to take the step which, in His providence, we were led to a little more than a year ago. As regards the Native Church, it has been a decidedly onward movement. It has made our people feel more than ever that they must depend upon their pastors for spiritual direction and guidance, and not on the Missionary. It has made the pastors feel more than ever that they are the shepherds of the flock, and that they must look to their people for support, and not to foreigners. It has roused the people to a sense of their responsibility and duty, and I think I see in my own portion of the field signs of spiritual blessing, which I regard as a result of this awakening activity.

Mr. Good thus writes of that part of the district with which he is more immediately connected :—

Nellore, Chundicully and Cooksville (an outying village of Nellore) have each a pastor appointed to them, and in their hands, as much as possible, I have endeavoured to leave the pastoral work of their districts. My object in doing so is to lead the people to look to them, as their pastors, and not to the Missionary. This is to some a new lesson, and not easily learnt. The pastors have carried on their work steadily, and have, on the whole, given me satisfaction. The responsibility of their work and office seems to increase in them, and there is, I trust, a growing desire among them to see the people turned to God from idols "to serve the living and true God." In consequence of the formation of our Native Church Council during the year the pastors have ceased to be designated agents of the Society, and have now become agents of the Native Church.

Native pastors begin to understand their true position.

The Nellore girls' boarding school has been in full work during the year: we have had more applicants than we could find room for, and there are indications that the Lord is working in the hearts of some. Our girls' day schools, as regards the number of children who attend, are still deficient. The average attendance during the year in all our schools was, of boys 614, and of girls 214; total, 828. This includes the children in the boarding school and Chundicully seminary.

Mr. Good, speaks with much satisfaction of the companies.

The headmen of the companies meet the members once a week, a portion of Scripture is read and talked over, prayer is offered, and each hands over to the headman his subscription for the week. Once a month the headmen, with the pastors, who, in their turn, monthly pay the amount collected to me as treasurer of the Native Church Fund. The suggestion of the employment of unpaid agents on the plan of leaders, as carried on in Sierra Leone, is met by the above arrangement. The total paid by the 388 Christians of the two stations, for the year, amounted to 75*l.* 6*s.* 2*d.* that is, at the rate of 3*s.* 7½*d.* for each individual, including the children. In Copay they have done more than this. We value this not so much for the amount given, as because it is to us a good test of sincerity in the cause of Christ, though not absolutely to be relied upon: men give from different motives, and in every case motives are not pure.

Mr. Wood also reports hopefully of the Christians of Copay:—

With reference to the congregation at Copay, I may remark that signs of growth in grace and activity are manifest. The Christians are generally diligent in attendance on the means of grace and the various religious meetings. Some of them express much anxiety for the conversion of their friends and neighbours, and labour to promote that object. Some of the women are specially active—going from house to house, telling of the Saviour, and exhorting their hearers to turn unto the Lord. The members of the congregation have given a practical proof of their zeal in the amount of their subscriptions during the past year.

Attached to the Copay station there is a Training Institution with fourteen students, an elementary English school, and ten vernacular day schools. The total average daily attendance is about 350.

Vigorous evangelistic efforts in Jaffna.

The moonlight village preachings have been conducted with interest and vigour in every important village of the district. Though listless indifference and cold apathy, on the part of those who attend, is the usual complaint, yet sometimes eager looks and anxious countenances tell that the message has reached the heart. We have employed two Bible women, who visit, on an average, five families daily. The results of their labours are more felt than seen. The Jaffna Auxiliary Bible Society placed a sum of money at our disposal for Bible work. By means of this grant we have been enabled to employ colporteurs and deputations, through whose instrumentality 3428 houses were visited, 61 large meetings held, at which salvation by Jesus Christ was clearly set forth before the hundreds of heathen assembled. Upwards of 14,000 persons were addressed, and 757 copies of portions of God's Word sold and distributed. Will God permit this precious seed to be lost? Certainly not. In due time we shall reap: the living, though buried seed, shall yet bring forth precious fruit.

Mr. Wood gives further information on the same subject.

Varied reception of the preaching of the Gospel.

I have had private conversations with intelligent Natives at my house. In general they have denied that they worship idols, and have set forth what is, after all, only a more refined form of idolatry. I regret to say, that when the truths of the Gospel have been pressed upon them they have invariably discontinued their visits. Christ is a stumbling-block to them. The higher classes are known to have banded together never to attend our meetings, and appear to regard our efforts with the utmost contempt. "The natural man careth not for the things of God." Yet the meetings have been well attended, and, as a rule, the "common people have heard gladly." A Bible meeting, held in our church at Copay in August, was deeply interesting. Upwards of 500 people were assembled in the building, and were seated on mats. About four-fifths of this number were heathen, many of them with the marks of Sivaism on their bodies. Three addresses were given—one "on current objections to the Bible," another on "the Evidences," and a third on "the power of the Bible." Three Bible deputations, consisting of catechists and a colporteur, have at intervals been sent throughout the district and the estates. The doctrine of fate exercises a baneful influence on the mind of the Hindu, and closes his mind and heart against the reception of the truth. At the close of a moonlight meeting a man said to me, with much apparent earnestness, "What you say is good, but we cannot turn. Brahm has written on our heads, and what can we do?"

During the year we have received five converts into the Church by baptism. One of them, an old man, has since died, we trust in the faith of his Redeemer. We have a good number of inquirers in the villages, and about twenty are spoken of as promising, but they require further instruction. They are regular in their attendance at the various classes held for them, and are apparently in earnest. I may mention one case of interest. A girl who resided at Iroovalle, and had been instructed by our catechist stationed there, afterwards went to a boarding school of the American Mission at Udupitty, where she was converted and baptized. She then wrote the following letter to her parents, and requested the catechist to read it to them :— "Dear parents, I am happy to inform you that I have become the child of God, and have been admitted to the Church of Christ. I have no more fears about myself, as I am already on the safe side; but my anxiety and fears are all about you. Your souls are in great danger, and my tears are shed before the throne of grace every day, and I can find no rest to my soul till you believe on Christ Jesus, and become converted and saved. Though you are poor in worldly things, yet you would be happier if you would but love and seek those things that are heavenly." This letter produced a deep effect on the parents and other members of the family. The mother said to the catechist, with tears, "I regret not hearkening to the admonitions so often heard from your lips. This day I feel as though God speaks through my daughter also, and I am resolved to serve the true and only God henceforth." I have since heard good reports of this family.

Efforts of a daughter for the conversion of her parents.

MAURITIUS, MADAGASCAR, AND EAST-AFRICA MISSIONS.

Mauritius Mission.

(Commenced in 1856.)

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies; 2. Bengali or Hindustani-speaking Coolies.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Stephen Hobbs (m), to South India, 1839; to Mauritius, 1856.
Rev. Paul Ansorgé (m), to Bengal, 1845; to Mauritius, 1857: at home.
Rev. Henry Dison Buswell (m), to Ceylon, 1862; to Mauritius, 1866.

MAURITIUS.

A GLOOM has been thrown over this Mission by the lamented decease of the newly-appointed Bishop. This sad event took place almost immediately after Dr. Hatchard had entered on the duties of his office, but not before he had gained the esteem and affection of those amongst whom he had hoped to labour. In other respects there is encouragement. The work of the Society is among the Indian immigrants who have been brought into the island to cultivate the sugar plantations. The great want of the Mission had been a competent Native Agency. This defect has to some extent been supplied. Catechists obtained from the Native Churches of Tinnevelly and North India are now entering efficiently on a work at first somewhat strange to them. Ten Native Agents are at present thus employed, one of whom is in deacons' orders. There is also a small class of colony-born young men under training by one of the Missionaries to act as evangelists among the heathen, or as pastors to the Native Christians. In the capital, open-air preaching attracts large and attentive audiences, and there are several inquirers and candidates for baptism. In the rural districts, where the planters generally receive the Society's Missionaries with the utmost kindness, equal success has been graciously vouchsafed to their efforts. In the Mauritius Mission generally, nearly 200 adults have been baptized during the year.

The Rev. S. Hobbs has again been much interrupted by attention to English pastoral duties; but he expresses his anticipation that this hindrance will not recur. During the latter part of the year he has been able to resume his itinerant labours, and to preach to several "camps of Indian Coolies."

I am thankful to say there is at present more to encourage me in my Mission than I have been able to report for a long time. The young catechists, who have been here two years and a half, are becoming really efficient, and take a hearty interest in their work.

I meet with the greatest kindness from the proprietors and managers of the sugar estates. I invariably find a cordial welcome and most cheering hospitality wherever I present myself, although my visits are usually unexpected. Generally speaking, they take a warm interest for the time in my efforts to enlighten their pagan labourers, and question me about the reception given to my preaching in their camps. There seems to be but one opinion as to the desirableness of the conversion of the Indians to the Christian faith, but many consider its practicability to be more than doubtful. This is scarcely to be wondered at, since the moral debasement of these poor people must be a matter of daily observation to their employers. The usual proportion of men to women in a camp is about three to one, and comparatively very few of the women are lawful and faithful wives to their nominal husbands. These disorders of course occasion a variety of others, and it is a state of things for which it is extremely difficult to imagine a probable remedy. Add to this, that our visits to each locality are of necessity at long intervals, and we cannot be surprised that success should be very sparing and slow. The attention paid to our preaching is almost always gratifying, and sometimes really touching. Money is sometimes offered us, which of course we decline to accept, and explain that our object is not to possess ourselves of their little earnings, but to confer spiritual and everlasting benefits upon them.

European employers of Coolies welcome the Missionaries.

Of the work at the capital Mr. Hobbs is also able to speak hopefully.

A little movement has begun among the heathen in the neighbourhood of my residence, which I trust will not soon come to a stand. I have had several applications for baptism, and have already baptized four adult persons, who have for several weeks been devoutly attending the services. The experience of repeated disappointments warns us to be cautious in speaking of favourable appearances, but it raises my hopes when one or two have the courage to come out from the rest, as I have long thought that many of them have a strong inclination to join us, but are deterred by the fear of taunts and opposition from their neighbours.

The promoters of heathen practices appear to have taken alarm, and to have exerted themselves to produce a re-action. They have just repaired a devil-temple, which has been in a state of ruin ever since the hurricane of last year, and which is the only one now remaining out of three or four which formerly existed about the valley. I am told that thirty or more persons contributed ten rupees each towards the repairs. This effort on the adversary's part is undoubtedly a token of a leaning towards Christianity sufficiently serious to arouse attention. I feel sure that my labours in this little spot, sustained during more than ten years, cannot be fruitless. I have always had a persuasion that the Lord was preparing the hearts and minds of many poor heathen for the future reception of His saving health; and if the day I have hoped and waited for is not now about to dawn, I shall be content to hope and wait still, assured that "it will surely come, and will not tarry" longer than the Lord in His wisdom sees fit.

Mr. Buswell, who is supported partly by the Society and partly as a Chaplain, finds the duties of the latter department very engrossing.

The Rev. Charles Kooshallee, under the superintendence, in the early part of the year, of the Rev. P. Ansorgé, and assisted by five catechists, labours with great activity amongst the Indians from the Calcutta Presidency. There are at present 431 Native Christians amongst these Indians, 276 of whom are at Port Louis, the remainder dispersed in groups over the island. Their number seems to be rapidly increasing. There were last year 128 adult baptisms; but of the circumstances of these conversions the Committee have received no accounts.

The open air preaching is attentively listened to by large audiences.

Madagascar Mission.

(Commenced 1863.)

Rev. Thomas Campbell, 1863.
Rev. Herbert Maundrell (m), 1863.
Rev. Walter Dening (m), 1870.

Cheering accounts continue to arrive from this deeply-interesting country. Wonderful success has indeed been granted to the labours of the London Missionary Society. One of the Missionaries of the Church Missionary Society has made extensive tours in the interior, and finds the Gospel every where gaining ground, and the congregations daily increasing.

Mr. Maundrell writes from Andovoranto, under date, April 20, 1870:—

Establishment of a Native Church Council in Madagascar.

I am glad to be able to mention the formation of a Native Church Council. On Monday last I was present at the first meeting, which was more satisfactory than I had anticipated. The Council consists of two members from each of our four stations of Andovoranto, Tanimandry, Vavony, and Vohiboahazo, besides a treasurer, who will receive the Church collections, supplemented by a grant-in-aid, as you suggest, for the Native teachers. Our Church cannot yet be very self-supporting, for the members are not numerous, and most of them poor; but it is satisfactory to have so far initiated the principle, the Council itself fully hoping to lean less and less upon us.

The Queen of Madagascar urges attendance at Christian preaching.

The Queen has again urged her subjects on the coast to attend church and school. Her message has had the usual effect of crowding our churches, and we have some hope that the change will be more permanent as the Government appears to be prepared now to further instruction on the coast as well as at the capital.

Mr. Campbell has visited Vohimare, the Society's original station in the north. The two Christians referred to in the last Report, who were baptized at this place, have been working as voluntary catechists from that time till now, and have gathered a congregation around them. Gratifying progress is reported in the neighbourhood of Andovoranto, the present head-quarters of the Mission. Mr. Campbell's journal contains the following interesting passage:—

God's work at Vohimare.

On Good Friday, 1866, Mr. Maundrell and I went on board the "Souvenir," and on the following morning left Vohimare, where we had laboured some year and a half. Our sorrow on leaving was great, as was that of many of the people, but of none more than John Ratsiza and Simeon Ratsitera, our only baptized converts. What a contrast that day when compared with this! To-day there must have been from eighty to a hundred persons present at the service in the morning, after which I administered the Holy Communion to ten communicants. I preached a sermon appropriate to the season, to a most attentive congregation. In the afternoon the congregation was not so large, but Simeon gave them a good address.

Again, under date Easter-day, 1870, Mr. Campbell writes:—

In the afternoon John preached a capital sermon. He referred to the departure of Mr. Maundrell and myself from Vohimare on Good Friday, 1866, four years ago, and said that on this day four years (Easter-day) he stood up and preached for the first time after our departure. He spoke of the mocking and scoffing of some at his and Simeon's supposed foolishness, and also of the sufferings which they had endured from that day to this, and contrasted the two or four who met here and there in days gone by with the congregation then present, in a house set apart for God's service. It was a telling discourse, and will, it is to be hoped, lead many to think and to decide on giving themselves to God.

THE Committee have endeavoured to strengthen the China Mission. The preceding Report announced the return of two veteran Missionaries, long detained in this country. During the year just closed four younger brethren have been set apart for the work, three of whom have set sail for that country; while another devoted labourer, who had visited England on furlough, has been enabled to return to his work in recruited health. Large portions of China are still open to Missionary effort, notwithstanding the hostile action of some of the Native authorities. "Onward and inward," the senior Missionary writes, "must now be our motto."

HONG-KONG.

The Rev. J. Piper is still single-handed at this difficult Station. The work, however, has not been unfruitful.

Besides our two Sunday services and the weekly Bible class, which are mostly confined to the members of the Church, we have preaching to the heathen five nights a week. These latter are well attended and orderly gatherings. And I think I may safely say that from 10,000 to 15,000 Chinese annually hear in our Mission Church "the truth as it is in Jesus."

Last year I was unable to speak of any addition to our numbers. It seemed a year of fruitless toil. Not that it was really such, for no labour in the Lord is vain At the close of this twelve months, blessed be God, it is otherwise. We have reason to be thankful for the tokens of the Lord's presence amongst us, and of the working of His Spirit in the hearts of a few. On Easter-day I baptized two children of Christian parents, one a few months old, the other four years. On Whitsunday a promising young man enjoyed the same privilege. About two months afterwards I baptized a second young man, who had offered himself as a candidate much earlier, but I desired further proof of his sincerity and knowledge of the truth, hence the delay. And on Christmas-day I intend to admit a third man into the visible Church by the divinely appointed means. These three men are, as far as we can see, true searchers after the heavenly treasure. If the Native brethren and I judge aright, they are all under the influence of the grace of God. Their respective ages are twenty-four, twenty-seven, and twenty-nine. Two of them are married. All can read well, and in the cases of two of them this ability has been the partial means of leading them to the knowledge of that salvation which Jesus has procured for us. The open confession of these three, and their strong desire to be enrolled amongst the followers of the Lamb,have caused us great joy,—a joy of which I would fain speak at greater length, but feel that it is wise to "rejoice with trembling." Let me, on their behalf, ask for an interest in your prayers that God may give them His grace, and that they may continue in the same unto their life's end.

Baptisms at Hong-kong.

Notwithstanding, however, the admission of three adults and two children into the Church during the year now closing, you will observe but little difference in the number of Christians, as given in the tabular form, when compared with last year's account. This is owing to the departure of some from amongst us. And this will long be a characteristic of the Hong-kong station, the additions are not observed, because of the very fluctuating population. This is the experience of all who are labouring in this island. Such a station has this advantage—that larger numbers hear the Gospel's joyful sound than would be the case were all the people permanently settled here. The results, therefore, of evangelizing efforts in a place like this are remote and wide spread, and consequently often unperceived by us, but they contribute largely towards the spread of the Gospel throughout this extensive empire.

Peculiar difficulties of Hong-kong.

FUH-CHAU.

The Rev. J. R. Wolfe is able to report forty-five adult baptisms during the year. The number of inquirers has increased still more largely, so that those under Christian instruction in the Fuh-Chau district amount to upwards of 400, of whom 120 are communicants. The prominent feature in this Mission district during the last year has been the disturbances at Lo-nguong. Though no similar outrages took place in other parts of the district, the effects have been felt more or less throughout it, and especially in the city of Fuh-Chau itself. Mr. Wolfe thus reports:—

Fuh-Chau City work.—Our Mission chapels (I speak especially of Nang-Ka Chapel) have been daily opened for preaching and friendly conversation, and, as a whole, the attendance has been good and encouraging. There have been no results, however, in the way of conversions to Christianity. Not a few have admitted in private conversation their faith in Christianity, and its vast superiority to any of their own systems; but they could not be brought to make a public confession, or place themselves on the side of a cause which is hated and despised by the great and learned of their own countrymen. I know several of this class: they are convinced of the truth, but are not prepared to sacrifice all for the sake of the Lord Jesus.

Conviction without conversion.

Country Out-station work.—The district under my charge comprises an area of about 30,000 miles, and embraces the three Hiens of Ning Taik, Lo-nguong, and Leing Kong, and portions of the Aw-Kuang and Ming Hiens. It is occupied at present by eleven stations with twelve Native catechists, two of whom combine the office of schoolmaster and catechist. There are besides three schools taught by schoolmasters, three of whom are members of the Church, the fourth is a heathen. There are, in addition, three villages in which Christians and inquirers have spontaneously formed themselves into small congregations, one of their number giving up his house for Sabbath meetings, &c. The Sunday services are conducted either by one of themselves, or by a private Christian from one of the adjoining stations, occasionally assisted by a catechist from the nearest Mission station.

Voluntary spiritual labours of Chinese Christians

At the end of May, 1869, it is supposed there were about 800 who had placed themselves on the list of candidates for baptism. These were mostly found in the Lo-nguong Hien. At Lo-nguong itself an association has been formed for the purpose of propagating the Gospel. This was formed entirely by the Native Christians themselves, who entertained the strongest hopes of large results. It need scarcely be added that this movement was, for the time, entirely suspended by the disturbances which took place almost immediately afterwards, and full accounts of which, in Mr. Wolfe's own words, have already appeared in the Church Missionary Intelligencer.

There has been encouragement, however, from other parts of the district.

At Ning Taik, where hitherto there has been little or no success, an interest has been awakened, which I hope will ripen into a rich harvest of faithful converts. In a large village, about 100 li from the city of Ning Taik, several, through the efforts of the colporteur, have joined together to keep the Sabbath and worship God, and their number seems gradually increasing. The Ning Taik catechist and colporteur visit them alternately, and their reports are interesting and encouraging.

The Rev. A. W. Cribb has also forwarded an interesting annual review of his work. It will be seen that he is not without signs of the presence of the Spirit of God.

During the year we have been compelled to withdraw (temporarily only, I hope,) from two cities which were last year included in the list of our out-stations, viz. Iong Ping Foo, and Ping Nang. At the former place an extensive fire destroyed, among other buildings, the Mission chapel, and as yet we have been unable to secure new premises; while at Ping Nang the opposition of the literati prevented our occupying the house rented for a chapel. At the other out-stations, however, the work has progressed uninterruptedly: some tokens of good have been already afforded us, and I trust much good has been effected which is not yet apparent. At Ku-ch'eng three men, who were inquirers during last year, have been admitted into the Church by baptism, and there are now a few candidates for this sacred rite whom we may regard as the fruits of this year's labours. The converts of former years remain in connexion with us, one only excepted, and some of them have evinced considerable zeal in endeavouring to make known to others the truth which they have themselves embraced. At Ang Iong, a village about sixteen miles west of this city, and, in fact, in many adjoining villages, a spirit of inquiry has been raised through the instrumentality of two converts, who, while pursuing their avocations (one as a tailor, the other as a carpenter), have proclaimed the Gospel to all within their reach. A few have become interested in Christianity through their teaching, and meet at the tailor's lodging on the Lord's-day for prayer and instruction in the Word of God. The catechist and colporteur from Ku-ch'eng have paid them occasional visits, and they in their turn have resorted to the means of grace at Ku-ch'eng, when their work in the fields would permit of their sparing the time on the Saturday and Monday which the walking to and fro involved. At the out-station of Sang Iong the catechist has been able, during the greater part of the year, to carry on his work without interruption. He has made many excursions in the surrounding country, in company with a colporteur of the British and Foreign Bible Society. Success has in some degree been vouchsafed, in answer to prayer, and two men have been baptized as the first-fruits of this station; a token, we trust, of yet larger results. One of these converts has had to encounter no little opposition from his friends and neighbours, on account of having embraced Christianity, yet he is not ashamed to accompany the catechist in his excursions, and to exhort his fellow-countrymen to renounce their superstition and idolatry, and to acknowledge Jesus as their Saviour.

Chui Kan promises to become a centre for the diffusion of light and truth in the regions beyond. The catechist stationed there has had many opportunities of preaching and distributing the Word of God to travellers from remote places, who have passed through this town on their way to or from Fuh-Chau.

The chief scene of my own labours is Fuh-Chau itself. Oh, what a field is this! a million of immortal souls within the range of our sight! What, indeed, are we among so many! My own direct evangelistic labours in this great city are as yet confined to the North Street chapel. Here we have daily preaching to the heathen, and recently the regular services on the Sabbath also. A day school is also attached, and is attended by over twenty pupils. Throughout the year our message has been received with attention, and there have been many signs of encouragement. Two men and one child have been baptized during the year in connexion with this district. The boys' boarding school continues to occupy from two to three hours of my time daily, and still gives me much encouragement. The number of pupils has been raised to twelve, and their progress has been in all respects encouraging. I trust many among them may become useful catechists, and even pastors to our Native Church.

During the year I have completed and printed the Reference Testament, which I commenced more than three years ago; and I have nearly finished a translation of "Robinson's Harmony of the Gospels," with notes.

Such have been my chief labours during the past year. Thanks be to our Heavenly Father for all His mercies vouchsafed to me. Whatever has been imperfect in our work may He graciously forgive, and to Him be all the glory for whatever success He has granted to His unworthy servants.

NINGPO.

The Rev. W. A. Russell is senior Missionary at Ningpo, and also the Society's Secretary for the China Mission.

He gives the following view of the general state of the Mission:—

The general state of this Mission during the past year has been one of steady progress and gradual growth, and of unusual quiet, both within and from without. Never before have I known a similar period to have passed over with so little of a disturbing nature from any quarter. While our brethren in the adjoining province of Kohkeen, with the infant Church there, known to Missionary friends at home as the Fuh-Chau Church, have been exposed to persecution from the surrounding heathen, we have been happily exempted here from all such troubles. It is possible, that in the dealings of the Allwise, to test the reality of the work, the scourge in Fuh-Chau may correspond with the dreadful Taeping invasion of this province, from which we and our people suffered so much seven years ago; and that we may look forward to a protracted season of repose for the strengthening of our stakes, the lengthening of our cords, and the consolidation of our work, before another blast of the tempest is permitted to break down upon us. Certainly, at present all is unwonted peace with us, a circumstance which struck Mr. Wolfe, from Fuh-Chau, very much, as we journeyed together to Hangchow and other places, in contrast with the altogether different state of things which now unhappily exists in his sphere of labour. The friendliness of the people generally towards us in this province is indeed, to my mind, most remarkable. Let us, then, be faithful, earnest, and energetic in availing ourselves of this grand opportunity to scatter far and wide the good seed of the Word.

The Ningpo Churches have rest and are edified.

The Native Christians in connexion with the Mission at Ningpo amount to 400, of whom no fewer than 270 are communicants.

With the view of calling into activity the Chinese Christian laity, Mr. Russell has united some of them with himself in a Church Council. To this body is entrusted "the settlement of various difficulties of Native Christians, the selection of Native agents for evangelistic and other work, the distribution of offertory money, and the administration of the Native Church Fund." The Missionary also derives help from his lay fellow-councillors in judging of the fitness of candidates for baptism, and in the exercise of Church discipline. They exhibit, he says, "much practical shrewdness, much nice discrimination of character, and much accurate appreciation of the different cases brought before them." On another subject Mr. Russell writes as follows:—

Native Church Council at Ningpo.

Training Native Agents.

The want of boarding schools in this Mission, for the education of the children of our converts, who might become the future teachers of their own people, has been long felt by me. I ventured, while in England, to ask the Society's permission to commence them on my return to this station. Accordingly, as soon as the other matters permitted, I set about the organization of two schools, of a purely Christian character, one for the sons, the other for the daughters of our Native Christians. The former we opened early in March, at my old residence at the Kwun-gyiao-deo, the first location which we were able to secure within the walls of the city; and the latter in May, at the house which Mr. Cobbold many years ago built for such a purpose, close by the military exercising ground. We started them on the principle of making the parents, as far as their means permitted, pay for the education of their children, and of only retaining in them those pupils who, after trial, give fair promise of usefulness in the Mission. The number we have limited to twenty in each, which, in the boys' school, is already complete, and in the girls' will, I hope, shortly be so. Both are presided over by Native teachers; the boys' by one of our most advanced male Christians, who is also a very fair scholar; and the girls' by an equally advanced female Christian, who has had an excellent education under the late Miss Aldersey. Besides, we give them as much superintending and instruction as we can. The teaching is altogether conducted through the medium of the colloquial, and no attempt is made to introduce English, which would be a fatal mistake. The object which we have proposed to ourselves is to give the children in these schools as good a Chinese education, and as thorough an acquaintance with the Word of God, as is practicable, with a view to their becoming hereafter the teachers of Christianity to their own people.

Importance of boarding schools.

The instruction of those actually engaged in the work, or who have been set apart for it, was specially assigned by the Parent Committee to the Rev. F. F. Gough. On this subject Mr. Gough thus writes :—

My anticipations of being able to collect the Native helpers in a training institution or class, have been hitherto unrealized: all were already scattered in country stations; but I have availed myself of their monthly visit to Ningpo, and on each occasion have had interesting, and, I hope, not unprofitable meetings with them unitedly, besides taking the opportunity then, and whenever else I could, of looking over with them individually the papers which they had respectively prepared for me. These papers consisted of collections of Scripture texts on some fundamental doctrines which I have commenced with, viz. repentance, faith, the forgiveness of sins. I am going to proceed with the Thirty-nine Articles, which Mr. Arthur Moule commenced last year. I should not omit to say that one or two of the younger men have written very creditable essays on the subjects I have mentioned. I purpose to try what I can do by visiting them more at their stations respectively.

Instruction and training of Native agents.

Another important branch of the work at Ningpo is the Opium Refuge. Its expenses are defrayed from the interest of a fund supplied by the liberal donor. Mr. Russell reports:—

This institution we formally opened on the 26th of February, under the superintendence of Dr. Meadows, our present medical attendant. It was started on the principle of being open to all, free from charge. But we soon discovered that this was liable to abuse, and, as a security against imposition, had to levy the sum of two dollars on each applicant for admission, which is more than enough to defray the expenses of their food. The number under treatment at a time, which usually lasts for a month, was limited at first to ten. We subsequently ventured to extend the number to eighteen, then to twenty, and at this present time we have twenty-three in the Refuge; and, from the experience of the past year, it is my conviction that the number of inmates in such an institution could easily be increased to a hundred at a time, had we a building capable of accommodating so many. The number of those hopefully cured, up to the present, has been 138, 103 of whom have paid two dollars each for the benefits they have received, and a few, in addition, have made presents to the institution, as tokens of their gratitude. Besides, there is every reason to hope that the good seed of Gospel truth, which has been sown amongst them by the resident Native Christians in charge, and by our faithful old catechist, Bao, who visits the Refuge daily, will, in many instances, bring forth fruit unto the salvation of their souls. On the whole, the amount of good likely to result from such an institution, properly conducted, is, I believe, incalculable, not only as regards the bodies and souls of these poor victims of opium smoking, but also as concerns the cause of Christ generally amongst the Natives, by wiping away, to some extent, the stigma, which attaches to all foreigners, Missionaries included, from our supposed connexion with the iniquitous opium trade.

Present Political Crisis.

Mr. Russell concludes his annual letter with the following remarks:—

I do not like to close this letter, without a word or two upon the present political aspect of things in this country, so far as they have a bearing upon Missionary work—a grand subject, which has occupied, and is still occupying, so much attention, both here and at home. Now as regards the unfounded attacks against the great cause of Missions in China, which have lately been made, I consider them as so much gain, by attracting to the subject general attention, and by eliciting on its behalf a deeper sympathy than ever from its real friends. As regards this new policy, which is said to have been inaugurated, of non-interference with the Native outbreaks in the interior, whether against foreign merchants or Missionaries, China, throughout its length and breadth, has already been so unmistakeably opened by Him "who openeth and no man shutteth," for the purpose of having His everlasting Gospel proclaimed to its perishing millions, that no human power, I am persuaded, can again permanently close it. The adoption of this new policy may indeed lead to the adoption of new principles in the conduct of Missionary operations in this country—may possibly lead those who are engaged in this work to look more for all needful protection to the Great Power over all, and less to the "powers that be"—may even lead to a temporary check to movements in the distant interior; but all this, also, will in the end prove to be so much real gain to the cause. And, as regards the Natives themselves and the Native authorities, I, for my part, do not apprehend much insurmountable difficulty from this source, if we are only left to ourselves, and, in the carrying on of our work, are actuated, "not by the spirit of fear, but of power, of love, and of a sound mind." What I do most of all dread, and what I have always dreaded in China, is the bad name which foreigners have made for themselves, by their immoral traffic in opium, and by their unchristian conduct in other respects. But "the Lord reigneth," and, happen what may, His cause must prosper. His kingdom must come, and China, in due time, as well as all other lands, must stretch forth her hands unto God.

Mr. Bates, who begins to feel more at home in the language, gives the following account of the work at one of the out-stations:—

You are aware that the eastern lakes are situated about ten or twelve miles south of Ningpo. Around their margin are scattered some thirty towns and villages. In two of the most populous towns we have two neat and commodious chapels which are opened almost daily for the preaching of the Gospel, and in which, I am glad to say, a steadily increasing number of Christians meet together from Sunday to Sunday for worship. The difficulties in the way of more manifest progress are very great, among which may be mentioned not only the cold apathy and indifference so characteristic of the people, but also the occupations of the majority of the population: for the most part they are fishermen, who, during almost the entire year, are away from their houses at the sea-side. Notwithstanding this, however, I am thankful to be able to say that it has been my privilege to admit four men and one woman into the visible Church of Christ by baptism during the year, thus making in all about twenty adult Christian members of this little Church in this district. It is encouraging to think that the visit of one of the Tsong-gyiao Christians to this place only a few years ago has brought about such results.

HANG-CHOW.

The Rev. H. Gretton, who has not been long enough in China to master the peculiar difficulties of the vernacular, has been almost single-handed in this large and beautifully situated city. His only helper is a pious and energetic Chinese Bible-woman. Of her he writes as follows:—

A Chinese Bible-woman.

She is certainly the most energetic and active woman that I have yet seen among the daughters of China, and thoroughly devoted to the work of making the Gospel known to her fellow-countrywomen. One fact alone will speak more for her work than a page full of praises. Of the twelve communicants now on the roll, ten are women, and, on the whole, they are very sincere and devoted Christians. She is conversant both with the Chinese character and with the Roman system of writing, and is very successful in teaching the Roman system to the woman Christians, thus enabling those who could not read a single word in the Chinese-character Testament to read and understand all those parts of the Bible that are printed in the Roman character. The Bible woman, as you are doubtless aware, is not in the pay of the Society, but is supported by the family and friends of the Rev. G. E. Moule.

One adult has been baptized, and there are a few inquirers.

GENERAL VIEW.

POLITICAL tranquillity seems to be again slowly and gradually returning to New Zealand. As the angry waters subside, it becomes visible how much of the Mission work and the Native Church has survived the inundation.

The districts north of Auckland have been free from serious disturbance since the close of Heke's war in 1846. The Native Christians are settling down to habits of industry, and appear to be successfully passing from savage to civilized life. They are beginning to subscribe liberally, according to their means, for the support of their own Church, and not a few of them give clear proof of the presence of Divine grace in their hearts.

The ground of hope for the future in New Zealand is the faithful conduct and consistent piety of the Native Ministers. Efforts are making to increase their number. To this point the Committee have specially directed the attention of the New Zealand Missionaries, and beg the intercessory prayers of Christian friends.

BAY OF ISLANDS.

Failing any report from the Rev. E. B. Clarke, who is in charge of this station, the following account of a visit by the Rev. R. Burrows will be read with interest:—

Early in January I met at the Bay of Islands the Rev. E. B. Clarke and three Native pastors, the Revs. M. Taupaki, P. Patiki, and L. Tangata. Our Native brethren appeared quite to enjoy the meeting. These periodical gatherings are, I trust, profitable as well as pleasing. They give us an opportunity for mutual counsel and advice, and for encouraging each other in our work. Each Native pastor gave a report of his work during the past year. Upon the whole the reports were encouraging, showing an improvement in the attendance on the services of the Church, and a deeper interest taken therein by the Natives generally.

Maori Christians build a church on an old battle-field.

I cannot refrain from saying a few words upon what took place during our meeting at the Waimate. Mr. H. Williams, one of the sons of the Venerable Archdeacon, sent us an invitation to join him at Ohaeawai, where it had been arranged to meet the Natives of the place, to fix upon the site for the new church. At the appointed time we met, and were led by the chief men of the settlement to the spot where, twenty-five years ago, they and their kindred, many of whom are since dead, erected the pah which proved so formidable to our attacking force under Colonel Despard, when his soldiers were repulsed in less than ten minutes, with the loss of 107 men killed and wounded. The people now informed us that their wish was to give up the land upon which the pah stood as a site for the church, and to add two or three acres more, if required, for the purposes of a glebe, &c. After the usual talk, and an examination of the place, the spot fixed upon was that part of the old pah which the men of the place defended against the attack above named.

The occasion was to me a most interesting one, and brought very vividly to my recollection the melancholy scene I witnessed there on the morning after the repulse of our troops in 1845. The very spots were lay the bodies of Captain Grant, of the 58th Regiment, and Lieutenant Phillpotts, son of the late Bishop of Exeter, and many others, I could clearly recognise. There were present several of the men who on that sad day handled the muskets which were directed with such deadly effect, and with whom the late Archdeacon Williams and I conversed on that morning, standing in the midst of the slain. The spot for the church having been determined upon, and the several pegs put in, I reminded the people present, in a few words, that I visited that spot in 1845, when some of them, and many others now numbered with the dead, were busy building the pah which resisted the attack of the British troops, and where they showed so much skill and courage. I now stood before them with very different feelings to those I then had, having just joined them in setting apart the self-same spot as a site for a house of prayer to our common Father through Christ; and I hoped that they would show equal courage and perseverance in wielding those weapons of warfare with which the Gospel had provided them, and which are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strongholds. The people of the village expressed themselves gratified with our visits, and the old people alluded to the pleasure they felt in having with them on that occasion their old Missionary, accompanied by what they were pleased to call his four children (tamarike), alluding to Mr. Clarke and the three Native pastors. We were provided by the teacher of the place with tea, and such other things as his store could furnish, and returned to the Waimate much gratified with our visit.

KAITAIA.

This district presents a picture of peace and progress strikingly and happily contrasting with the accounts from some of the southern districts. But the work is rather pastoral than Missionary. There are 1000 Native Christians, of whom 260 are communicants. Messrs. Matthews and Puckey write as follows:—

In writing our annual letter, the most prominent idea which suggests itself is, thankfulness for the peace which the northern portion of the island has enjoyed. We cannot but attribute this mainly to the effects of the preached Gospel.

The Native Church upheld in the north of New Zealand.

We are thankful to report well of our Native deacons at Oruru and Hokianga. They are deservedly respected by the Natives, and also by many good Europeans. They visit the outlying Native settlements, and they are cordially received. So far the Church in New Zealand has much to be thankful for in the steadfastness of the ordained Natives. At Oruru a promising school was opened, and Tiopira, one of Sir W. Martin's students, was appointed teacher, and there were many scholars, but he did not remain long. The real cause of his leaving the duty Sir W. Martin wished him to fulfil is not known. He still acts as teacher on Sundays at his own village. Rupene, another student, has been invited to reside at a populous district, Mangonui, now called Canaan. He is going on well, both holding divine service on the Lord's-day with an old Native teacher, and also keeping school with the children throughout the week. The Natives of that place are much pleased with his proceeding, and have erected a commodious wooden building for church and school-house, and also a rush cottage for him and his wife. Richard Ramiti, a third student of Sir W. Martin's, has opened a prosperous school at Parapara, near Doubtless Bay, and he has eighteen little pupils. He teaches them in English as well as Native, and it is said that many of the children have learnt to read in Maori already. This same young man takes his part with the old teacher in the Lord's-day duties.

The deacon, Rev. P. Patiki, is going on well at Hokianga, and we suggest that he may be recommended to our new Bishop, on his arrival, for his admission to priests' orders.

We are thankful still to acknowledge the cheerful and gratuitous labour of our teachers and monitors throughout the district. We continue to hold a teachers' meeting on Saturdays, which is duly appreciated and well attended. It is profitable to ourselves as well as to them. Through the teachers we easily learn the state of all our people. They are about forty or more.

AUCKLAND.

Faith and zeal of aged Missionaries.

The Rev. Charles Baker has been laid aside by a stroke of paralysis, from which, through the mercy of God, he is partially recovering. "It is easier to work," writes this aged and faithful Missionary, "than to suffer, but the will of the Lord be done. For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain. My great privilege is prayer."

One of the Missionaries residing at Auckland is the Rev. B. Y. Ashwell, who, besides the aid he renders to the Native pastor, Seth Tarawhiti, is training for the ministry a promising young New Zealand Chief, William Pomare. Pomare ministers as catechist to a small body of well-conducted Native Christians at Tremuri, twelve miles north of Auckland.

I do feel thankful that a kind and gracious Father has given me something to do in Missionary work, now that age and thirty-six years of active service in the Mission field has told upon my constitution, and that I cannot travel as I used to do. I am also thankful that I have Native congregations which I can attend to—one four miles distant, and the other thirty-six—where I administer the Lord's Supper four times a-year. From this latter congregation I have lately baptized an adult Native who had been, seven years ago, a candidate for baptism in the Upper Waikato district. When the war broke out he went to William Pomare's village, and there I met with him. He was strongly recommended to me for baptism by William, and I found him an intelligent Native, anxious for baptism, and, I do hope, taught by the Spirit of God. He came to stay with me for a few days at the North Shore. I was much pleased with him, and on Sunday, October 10th, in Trinity Church, I baptized him in the presence of ten Natives and my usual English congregation. The church will hold more than 200, and was quite full. I do believe and hope he will continue "Christ's faithful soldier and servant" unto death.

I was gratified to see that the English part of the congregation felt such an interest in the service, which was partly in the Maori and partly in English. During the baptism the silence was remarkable, and some of the congregation told me they were much struck by it. After the English sermon I delivered an address in the Native language. I believe we had the presence of God and His blessing: it was a time of much enjoyment.

The Rev. T. Chapman, whose long term of service renders his retirement from active duty well deserved, thus expresses his mingled feelings on thinking of the past, present, and future of the Church in New Zealand:—

We may consider it a wonderful attainment to possess the whole canon of Scripture, carefully rendered into the Native tongue. We are thus prepared to enter upon any work of education that may open out for instructing young men for the ministry, should it please the Great Head of the Church to prepare the way. If we are yet, as a Church, to succeed in New Zealand, this is the direction in which we must progress. How the present difficulties are to be overcome is the great question: how young men are to be gathered out of the mass of disorganization of the present day is bewildering to think of. Yet it is well to remember God's gentle reproof to Elijah, as in his hour of despondency there was revealed to him a hidden Church of seven thousand. It was in 1830 I first saw this country, truly a land of savages. Now it is a colony breaking forth into great wealth, only waiting for a settled peace. This once established, its rise to importance will soon follow, but the consequences to the Native race have yet to be seen.

A New Zealand Missionary anxiously but trustfully looks forward to the future.

WAIKATO.

The present aspect of the Waikato district presents, indeed a melancholy contrast to that which it bore in former years; still it is not abandoned. A zealous Native brother, the Rev. Seth Tarawhiti, not only ministers to the faithful remnant, but frequently visits those who have forsaken the Gospel, by whom he is not unfavourably received. Brother Tarawhiti is supported by the instruction and counsel of the Society's veteran Missionary, the Rev. B. Ashwell, who thus reports of the Waikato district:—

I fear the state of the Natives on the Waikato has but little improved; but of this fact you will be glad to hear, that Hauhau superstitious practices are gradually dying out, and some of the prayers from our Prayer-book are in many instances substituted in their place: not only so, but there is a better feeling towards the Europeans, and the Maori king has, within this last month, assented to co-operate with the Government in putting down Kooti and his party. My worthy Native brother, Seth Tarawhiti, has made three visits to the king's party at his pah, Tokangamuta, and has been well received, although they still adhere to a mixture of Hauhauism and Christianity.

TAUPO.

The Rev. T. S. Grace still regards himself as the Missionary of this district, in which he has made strenuous and persevering efforts to continue his labours. It was, however, during a large part of the year 1869, the seat of war, so that Missionary and pastoral work was very seriously interrupted, yet Mr. Grace discerns some bright gleams amidst the darkness.

As idolatry failed the Israelites in the hour of trial, so has superstition failed the Maories, and they feel it and know it, and from various quarters they have informed me that they have no worship but what is contained in the Bible and Prayer-book: for this feeling we have waited and prayed. Their superstitions have led them in the path of crime and misery and death, and now they appear to see it and to feel it. May we not take this as a sign? We must add to this, that we have now a reasonable prospect of peace. The war is fast wearing itself out on both sides, and without doubt it is a drawn game at last. My principal work during the year has been travelling in Native districts, and attending, when in Auckland, to the Native prisoners in the gaol. I have only a few days ago returned from my last journey to Taupo, which is now the seat of war. I have met with much to discourage and something also to encourage us to persevere. Since the Natives have been connected with European troops, drunkenness and immorality, as usual, have been most prevalent. Yet I every where found a few of the Natives who were daily keeping up their morning and evening prayers. Again, when amongst the troops I always found some, and often the whole body of the Natives most willing to attend the Sunday and other services.

II. Eastern District.

Six stations have been occupied in this district in the following chronological order—1. Tauranga, 1835; 2. Maketu, 1835; 3. Roturua, 1835; 4. Turanga, 1840; 5. East Cape, 1842; 6. Wairoa, 1844.

Ven. Archdeacon William Leonard Williams, B.A. (m), 1853.
Rev. Samuel Williams (m), born in New Zealand.

TAURANGA.

Archdeacon Brown's labours at this station continue to be much interrupted by the distracted condition of the Native population, yet some opportunities have been found for doing the Master's work.

TURANGA.

Archdeacon Williams's labours at this station, and Missionary efforts generally in the district, were compulsorily suspended during the greater part of the year 1869, from the disturbed state of the country. But the happy prospect of peace that arose towards the close of that period give reason for hoping, in humble reliance on the mercy of God, that the next annual letter may present a more cheerful history. The Archdeacon has not been able to furnish any statistics.

WAIROA.

The Bishop of Waiapu has recently made a visit to this station, which has for some time been deprived of a resident European Missionary. There are some rays of light amid surrounding gloom and depression. The Bishop thus writes—

As our stay at Wairoa was only twenty-four hours, I could not see much of the people. One Native clergyman is faithfully holding to his post, and in these times of trouble it is much to do that. All the inhabitants there, both Native and English, are waiting in hope of better times, of which there is now some prospect. On the 17th we entered the river of Turanganui, where my son had arrived two weeks before from Auckland: here we remained till the evening of the 19th. On that day I was thankful to attend the Native service, when, assisted by the Native deacon, Rev. Hare Tawhaa, I administered the Lord's Supper to seventeen communicants. Many of these were old, steady Christian people, of whose sincerity there is no room to doubt. If this little flock was the only result of our labours during the years of our sojourn upon the East Coast, our labour would not be in vain; but happily there are many at this time scattered about in different places.

III. Western District.

The district was first occupied by Archdeacon Hadfield in 1839. It now comprises five stations: 1. Wanganui, 1840; 2. Otaki, 1842; 3. Heretaunga, 1844; 4. Papawai (Palliser Bay), 1856; 5. Pipiriki, on the Wanganui river, 1856.

WANGANUI.

The Wanganui Natives have taken part with the English, and have been engaged in military operations, more or less, through the greater part of the year.

The Rev. B. K. Taylor, who, during the absence of his father, the Rev. R. Taylor, in England, has had charge of the district, thus writes:—

During the war I have administered the holy communion seven times. The total number of communicants is 228; the Wanganui communicants numbering 164, and the Rangitikei, 64. I have also baptized fourteen Natives, and received two from the Church of Rome. There have been three marriages, and seven burials. The average monthly attendance at our day school has been forty-five. As the country has become somewhat more peaceful, we trust the exertions now being made for the establishment of a permanent peace may be successful, and that ere long we may rejoice to see a revival of true religion amongst our Natives, and the pressure from without being removed, they may be led to a greater earnestness and anxiety for their spiritual welfare.

Mr. Taylor thus describes an additional opportunity of usefulness which has been providentially afforded:—

In August the Government steam-ship "Sturt" landed at Putilli 150 Hau-hau women and children, giving them into Mete Kingi's charge, the men being prisoners on board the hulk, at Wellington: these have since been sentenced to seven years penal servitude, and sent down to Canterbury. At first the women were unwilling to have service, and talked and showed every sign of indifference; but by degrees they have become less so, and now are pleased to welcome me, and are much more attentive, and will allow their children to attend the school tolerably well.

OTAKI.

The Venerable Archdeacon Hadfield was not able to report improvement at the date of transmitting his annual letter.

I have, during the past year, visited the Natives in the various places where they usually assemble to meet me. The numbers attending divine service have diminished; but many are still staunch in their adherence to their Saviour. I have, besides, visited the natives of Wairarapa, the locality formerly occupied by Rev. W. Ronaldson, where I found them glad to see me.

At that time he could reckon up 1300 Native Christians, of whom 145 were communicants.

HERETAUNGA.

This district is under the charge of the Rev. Samuel Williams, an energetic and experienced Missionary, thoroughly acquainted with the Native character. The number of Maori Christians belonging to the district has not been estimated. The communicants number 100. Mr. Williams thus refers to the rise of Hau-hauism and its conflict with Christianity in the Heretaunga district:—

Large numbers of the Natives, of different parts in the island, were, I firmly believe, induced in the first instance to take part in the war, to try and prevent what appeared to them most unjust proceedings on the part of the Government. When what I have always looked upon as a political movement in the hands of its originators showed itself in the shape of the Hau-hau superstition, it threatened to over-run the whole of this district; and those who stood out more fully against it did so at the risk of their lives. But after a long and anxious period of careful watching the emissaries of that superstition, being unable to stand in fair argument, were obliged to retire from the field. The large majority of the Natives of this district have been prevented from joining the hostile ranks, and in their endeavours to check the murderous bands, have rendered essential services, which at times were attended with serious loss of life to themselves.

Conflict between Christianity and Hau-hauism.

Hau-hauism is not the only spiritual danger that the Native Christians have had to encounter. But the labours of the Missionary have been graciously accompanied with the presence and blessing of the Master.

The Native Church in Heretaunga.

Several of the Natives have been drawn aside by the many temptations arising from their contact with the dissipated members of the European community. Still it is gratifying to see how many continue to live a consistent life, and regularly meet for public worship, which is conducted in nearly every village in the province. I have visited the several villages as often as possible, and where they lay near enough together I have spent the Sunday morning at one place, and the afternoon at another. I have received valuable assistance in the Missionary work from the Native deacon, Ramera Wiki, whose consistent conduct commands the respect of the different congregations that he is enabled to visit. He unfortunately does not enjoy very good health, but still is able to do a good deal in the villages which are easy of access. I only wish that the services of more such men could be procured, for there is a growing desire among the different sections of the Native community to have clergymen of their own, and they have offered to do their share in providing a maintenance for them. I have already succeeded in raising thirteen hundred pounds towards an Endowment Fund for the support of Native pastors and teachers. There is a valuable property in my charge for educational purposes in this district which has not as yet afforded any income in consequence of the heavy debt which has been incurred in improving it. Now, however, that the debt has been worked off, we may hope to have an income from it of about four or five hundred pounds per annum for the support of schools, which we hope to commence as soon as we can get the necessary funds for erecting the school buildings.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

The Mission is divided into eight districts, namely: 1. Red-River district, 1823; 2. Fairford or Manitoba district, 1842; 3. Cumberland district, 1840; 4. English-River district, 1850 (first at Lac la Ronge); 5. James'-Bay district, 1851; 6. York-Factory district, 1854; 7. Mackenzie River district, 1858; 8. West Canada District, 1868.

European Mission Establishment:

Ven. Archdeacon Abraham Cowley (m), 1841, Secretary.
Rev. William Mason, 1840, joined the Society in 1854.
Rev. John Horden (m), 1851.
Rev. Edwin Arthur Watkins (m), 1852: at home.
Rev. William West Kirkby (m), 1852.
Rev. Henry George (m), 1854.
Rev. Joseph Phelps Gardiner (m), 1857.
Rev. Thomas Thistlethwaite Smith (m), 1859: at home.
Rev. Robert Phair (m), 1863.
Rev. William Carpenter Bompas, 1865.
Rev. Edward Francis Wilson (m), 1868.
Rev. William Day Reeve (m), 1869.

GENERAL.

The Committee have been in great anxiety respecting this Mission, in consequence of political disturbances arising from the transfer of the Territory to the dominion of Canada. Civil war has, in fact, raged in Rupert's Land, but the Territory is so large that a great proportion has been free from the disturbances.

The blessing of God still attends the Society's labours in this field. The Mission is in a healthy condition. Self-support is vigorously urged by the Bishop and the Missionaries, and cheerfully accepted by the Christians generally.

I.—Red River District.

Red River is becoming rather a Church than a Mission. The congregations are settled, and acknowledge the duty of self-support. Four of the Society's Missionaries are still labouring here, but, should vacancies arise amongst these, it is not proposed to fill them.

ST. ANDREW'S.

The work at St. Andrew's is entirely pastoral. Mr. Gardiner does not state the number of attendants at divine service, but the communicants he estimates at 300. He makes the following remark in reference to Native agency:—

The time is come, I think, when our work here must by done by the Natives, and though they may not manage so well in temporal things as Europeans, yet in the great work of the Society, viz. winning souls to Christ, they may do much more, if we can only get pious devoted men to undertake the work.

MAPLETON.

This also may be regarded as a pastoral rather than a Mission station. It is under the charge of the Ven. Archdeacon Cowley, who is also the Society's Secretary for the whole North-west America Mission. There are at Mapleton 480 Native Christians, of whom 94 are communicants. During the year two adults have been baptized. But little is at present done in the way of self-support. In other respects the accounts are favourable.

SCANTERBURY.

The Rev. Jas. Settee has been labouring at this station. There are forty-three Native Christians, of whom thirteen are communicants. The heathen Indians seem to have been more accessible than in former years, but there have been no adult baptisms.

II.—Manitoba District.

FAIRFORD.

The Rev. D. Hale died of typhoid fever at his station, Fairford, October 13, 1869. The Bishop thus refers to the loss the Society sustains, and arrangements to repair it:—

You must have heard with deep regret of the unexpected death of the Rev. D. B. Hale, of Fairford. His heart was very thoroughly in his work, and I think he had a good measure of success in getting things into some degree of order. I liked him very much. His death is a subject of much difficulty to us. We have, however, thought it better to withdraw Mr. Bruce from Fort Pelly district and to place him at Fairford. It is not altogether what we could wish, still we felt that the many converts at Fairford needed one who could at once get at them. They needed one who could be at once somewhat of a Native pastor.

III. Cumberland District.

DEVON.

The Rev. Henry Budd, who is still preserved in health and strength, has, during the last year, carried on the duties at the Devon station, superintended the work at the Nepowewin, and preached the Gospel in various places throughout the Cumberland district. He reports a growing improvement in the temporal condition of the Indians. They have firmly refused to barter with any fur-traders who bring spirituous liquors for sale. Mr. Budd was much cheered by the Bishop's visit. In the absence of Mr. Budd from Devon the services are regularly kept up by unpaid Readers, whom the members of the congregation select from their own body. At Devon there are no unbaptized adults. Mr. John Sinclair, a catechist, is stationed at Nepowewin.

A vigorous Native Church.

At Cumberland, which Mr. Budd frequently visits, he hopes to find Christian Indians, who will, without pay, conduct the Sunday services. But a schoolmaster is much needed for the children.

In Mr. Budd's district there are altogether 170 communicants. This must represent a body of Native Christians, numbering not less than 700. Mr. Budd writes:—

I have merely to say, that, by the mercy of God, every thing has been going on in the same way as when I last wrote. The people continue to give me satisfaction and encouragement. I believe many of them are sincerely seeking the salvation of their souls and to reach heaven. If it is "by their fruits we are to know them," it is evident that the Devon Indians have taken a fresh start towards trying to live up to their privileges. Their privileges are great and many undoubtedly; but they now see and feel that they are responsible for what they enjoy, and, by God's grace helping them, they are resolved, many of them, to make a good use of the mercies they have so long received at the hand of God. In temporals the same desire for advancement is apparent as was before communicated.

The visit of our beloved Bishop last summer has greatly cheered me up, and given me much encouragement. All the Company's officers in the Cumberland district are favourable to the spread of the Gospel among the Indians of their respective posts. They are all Protestants.

The Bishop's reference to the station will be read with interest.

I left Devon with a grateful heart, feeling that in the two districts I passed through—Devon and Stanley—your Missionaries were wisely and well devoting themselves to their Master's work; and that the means given by your Society were efficiently laid out, with the promise of souls being turned to the Lord, and His people being edified.

I was much pleased with both the temporal and spiritual aspect of things. On the evening of my arrival I examined most of the candidates for confirmation, excepting a few aged persons lately brought over from heathenism, and I was highly gratified at the knowledge shown by a large proportion of the candidates. A great number of them could read their own language in the syllabic character. It was an additional pleasure to me to find things as they were, as the Mission spiritually was not satisfactory when I visited it in winter some three years ago. The Missionary then in charge only felt himself able to present two for confirmation. There had been a want of strength in resisting pressing temptation. Mr. Budd, however, has been successful in keeping the sale or dispensing of spirits at a distance. On Friday morning I held the confirmation service. There were seventy-nine confirmed. Notice was given that on my return I would visit their houses, and that there would be service with the Holy Communion. The church was full, although most of the able-bodied men, including several that would have been candidates for confirmation, were away with the Cumberland boats to York Factory.

CUMBERLAND.

The Bishop's visit to Cumberland was hurried. Nineteen candidates, however, were confirmed, and thirty-three persons joined with the Bishop in the solemn and blessed ordinance that commemorates the Saviour's death.

IV.—English River District.

STANLEY.

The Bishop has also visited Stanley, or, as it is marked in the Society's atlas, English River Station. He was here warmly welcomed by the Christian Indians, under the charge of the country-born Missionary, the Rev. J. Mackay. The Bishop reports:—

In the summer-time, as I found it, the position of this Mission was very picturesque. The river widens out into a lake that fills a little valley surrounded with hills. Some of these hills have wood on them, but fires have been very destructive here, as elsewhere, leaving generally the bare hill, and disclosing its rocky character, unpromising enough for the plough. This Mission is centrically situated as regards the Indians of the district, but unfortunately they cannot stay any time at it. The rocky and mountainous soil is altogether unsuited for farming purposes,—that is to say, only small farms of a few acres can be cultivated at the Mission and the Company's post, and plots of potatoes here and there. There is also, unfortunately, no good fishery without going to a great distance. In view of the future the site is therefore a mistake. But the beautiful church—a perfect gem—the only building of the kind in the country, binds us to the spot. Its nave, and aisles, and chancel filled me with admiration, and I felt the wish rising up that I could carry it back with me and make it my cathedral. It is, of course, not very large, being very well filled by the congregations that gathered together so often when I was there, if I remember rightly. I held a public service on Friday evening, being indeed the usual daily service held here, with an address from myself. On Saturday morning there was a similar service, after which I began a public examination of the candidates for confirmation, taking them in classes of six or eight at a time. In the evening there was another service, with an address in preparation for the services, of the next day. I was much pleased with the candidates for confirmation here. They had been attending classes under Mr. Mackay for some weeks at great self-denial, for living here in such circumstances is hard. Most of them could read in the syllabic character. In the morning of Sunday, July 18th, there was first the Litany and the Confirmation service. I gave two addresses, as usual, Mr. Mackay interpreting. There were thirty-six confirmed. In the afternoon we had the Communion service. We were joined by forty-seven communicants. I gave an address. Some were very much affected—even to tears—at these services. During the reading of the Offertory services the collection was made by churchwardens. The offerings are made by slips of paper, on which the people write down in the syllabic character what their gift is.

Mr. Mackay has got a small press, with which he has been doing a good deal in printing small sheet hymns, almanacs, and hymn-books, all in the Cree language in the syllabic character. The printing and the binding are both well done. Now he has sent for a small grinding mill. It reached Archdeacon Cowley's from the United States safely this fall. It will be a wonderful blessing when they can turn into meal the little crops. The small fields of wheat and barley were looking well when I was at Stanley, and, from what I have learnt since, the harvest was earlier at Stanley than at Red River this year. Both Mr. Mackay and the Company's postmaster, Mr. Adams, have some cattle. Mr. Adams was once a catechist of your Society, and is of great assistance to Mr. Mackay.

I came away with a very high sense of the manliness, independence, state of instruction, and true piety of the English River Indians.

V.—James Bay District.

MOOSE FORT.

The reports from this district continue to reveal sad tidings of temporal distress and trial; yet the Missionaries are able to speak of spiritual vitality, and even growth. The latest accounts from the Rev. J. Horden call for much sympathy and prayer.

Our fall (autumn) was a most trying one. Influenza visited us, and several weakened by previous illness were carried off by it. Then the winter set in suddenly and severely, destroying both our goose hunt and our fishery, besides injuring us much in our out-door work. Of rabbits, the Indians' staple winter food, there are none; of snow such a quantity as I think I have never before known at this date, giving every prospect of a disastrous flood in May. This is, perhaps, a rather melancholy paragraph, but that I cannot help. However, we are far from being in a desponding frame of mind on account of the evils enumerated, inasmuch as God allows us to see that He is with us in our labours. In one month we lost three of our community from consumption—a young married man, a young married woman, and a widow, formerly the wife of an English gentleman. I have never known cases in which it could be said with greater truth, "Blessed are the dead;" they died in the Lord, and rest from their labours. They were long conscious that recovery was impossible, and all bore the knowledge with patience and meekness; no complaint ever escaped them: they knew that what was done was done by Him who doeth all things well, and were content to suffer what He appointed. They were in no hurry to depart, leaving the time in God's hands. Their faith in Christ was strong; His merits formed their only plea for acceptance. Each partook of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper a few days before death, and each was conscious to the last, falling asleep with a well-founded hope of awaking in heaven.

Of the work at Moose Fort itself Mr. Horden writes cheerfully :—

I have met with very great encouragement in my work at Moose lately. The Company seemed unwilling to build me a school-house, but a school-house I must have, so I told my people, that as it was for them they must give me help. They responded cheerfully, and, after their work, went to the woods and cut down all the building logs required, brought them home with the oxen, and squared them, and I had the satisfaction of seeing the foundation laid before leaving. The governor paid for one man sawing for nearly six weeks, and, in fact, every one did what he could.

We are getting on as fast as we can with our new school-house, which, when completed, will be an excellent building; it will, I trust, be entirely finished during the summer. Our school this winter is a large one, and the conduct and progress of the scholars all that I could reasonably expect.

Under Mr. Horden's energetic superintendence many out-posts in this wide district, some very remote, have now the means of grace. Some idea of his arduous work may be gained by the subjoined extract from a letter, written at New Brunswick, in the summer of 1869 :—

I am now three hundred miles from Moose, and am paying my first visit to this post; and glad I am that I have come, for I have never received greater encouragement anywhere in my work than I have here. I arrived on Monday last and ever since the Indians have been quite as desirous of receiving instruction as I have been of imparting it. I meet them four times a-day—in the early morning, the forenoon, afternoon, and evening. Two or three of the young men can now nearly read, and I hope that before I leave they will be able to do so tolerably well. The servants and their families I meet twice a day. Rather more than half of the Indians connected with the post only have come in as yet, and among those absent are two whom I particularly want to see, Indians of great influence, and who are probably the most anxious of all to receive instruction.

On my return to Moose I hope to meet the Matawakumme Indians, then go on to Rupert's House, Fort George, and the Whale Rivers. If God permit, my travels will extend to little short of 2000 miles.

In June (D.V.) I first go to New Brunswick, a post I visited last summer, and thence to Flying Post, and to Matawakumme. If time permit, I may go on to Metachewun and Tamiscamingue, returning to Moose by Abbitibbee and New Post: this would be a very extensive round indeed, too extensive, I fear, for one summer. Mr. Vincent goes to Osnaburgh ; Isaac Hardisty to Martin's Falls ; Jacob Matameshkum attends to Rupert's House and goes to Mistasinee ; William Keshkumash looks after the Indians at Fort George and Whale River ; and a baptized Esquimaux, named Timothy, does what he can for his brethren at Little Whale River. Pray remember that over 1200 miles lie between the two extremes of this district. May God grant that these arrangements be carried out, and that much good may result therefrom !

ALBANY.

The Rev. T. Vincent still continues to labour at this station, under the evident blessing of God, although here, too, the scarcity of food has been a great trial. Mr. Vincent enjoys the benefit of Mr. Horden's advice and guidance. The following extracts are from a letter written by Mr. Vincent in the beginning of 1870 :—

My duties at Albany are conducted much in the same way as formerly; divine services are conducted regularly both in English and Indian. We have in general a good attendance, and all have the Word of Life broken to them. We find it necessary to discontinue day school this winter in order to get on with our buildings, as I have only one assistant: Sunday-school, however, is always kept, and the attention and conduct of the children highly satisfactory. We have had four communions during the past year; so that at one time or other all our communicants, forty-five in number, have been able to partake of the emblems of a Saviour's love.

An efficient Native Christian Teacher.

Before setting out on my Missionary journey I intrusted the care of my flock to Isaac Hardisty, the Native teacher, with particular instructions for his guidance during my absence. On my return I found that he had been very diligent indeed, and that all things had gone on well. He conducted service regularly, both on Sundays and week-days, and held a Sunday-school as well for the Native children, assisted by several other members of my congregation. I may just add that Hardisty has always given me entire satisfaction when left in charge of the station. I have full confidence in his integrity and prudence, and believe that he really seeks the benefit of those entrusted to his care.

On the 21st June I set out from Albany on my Missionary journey to Mistasinee, having first committed my dear family to the kind keeping of our heavenly Father. One cannot but feel a little anxious when setting out on such a journey; a distance of 1300 miles must be travelled over, and the greater part through a dangerous and perilous route. But we must not think of this: the call is, "Come over, and help us." On the forenoon of the 29th July we reached Mistasinee. I could not receive a warmer reception anywhere than I did from the Indians of this Fort: a large number were present on our arrival, and those who were absent came shortly afterwards. The whole were glad that I had gone to visit them. Nothing could exceed their attention during my whole stay: day after day they listened attentively to the message of salvation from my lips. About the 20th September I got safely back to Albany, and was glad to find all well, after I had been absent nearly three months. In all truthfulness I could take up the words of the Psalmist, and say, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."

Heathen gladly receiving the Gospel.

From Osnaburgh, an out-post immediately connected with this district, I have just received favourable information of the Indians. Their desire to receive the truths of Christianity continues, and a number have already acquired a good knowledge of the syllabic character, and can read it easily. God willing, I hope to visit them next summer, and I pray that when I do so it will be "in the fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ."

No particular information has come from Martin's Falls since last summer. I then instructed one of my converts, a worthy young man, to do all in his power to teach his countrymen those truths which he has himself found so cheering. I feel persuaded that he will do his best, and pray that God may bless him and assist him abundantly.

VI.—York Factory District.

The Rev. W. Mason draws the following interesting contrast between the past and present in this district :—

It is pleasing to contrast the present state of York with what it was formerly; to see the great change which has taken place even since I visited it in 1844. Conjuring, gambling, and the drum, then prevailed; now, morning and evening, the sweet voice of prayer and praise ascends to heaven, and the pleasant sound of the sacred hymn is heard from hearts, we trust, touched with a feeling sense of a Saviour's love. It was only the other night that Mr. Triggey told me he had seldom heard anything more beautiful than the Indians singing in their tents: though the night was very cold, he could not help stopping to listen to them.

At York, at the present time, there are about 20 tents, containing a population of 300 souls. The Natives do not increase, but rather decrease, by emigration to the south. A settled community could not exist at York Factory. They are compelled to separate to distant hunting-grounds during the winter months, otherwise they would starve to death. Even the few families that remain all the year round are dependent on the Company's provisions for subsistence. Such is York Factory.

The contributions of the Indians to the self-supporting fund are very encouraging. They give willingly, and from their deep poverty we cannot look for more. The only unbaptized adults connected with York are a few Indians residing at Samatawa, some 150 miles distant, who trade at this place.

VII.—Mackenzie River District.

FORT SIMPSON.

This station, which is well known as the scene of the Rev. W. W. Kirkby's labours, has been recently occupied during Mr. Kirkby's temporary absence by the Rev. W. D. Reeve. Mr. Reeve writes :—

You will scarcely expect to receive a letter from me as I have been here such a very short time. There are not many Indians resident here. Most of the men go off into the woods to hunt. Some of them come to the Fort nearly every week with furs or meat, and this gives me an opportunity of speaking to them. Most of them listen with attention, and some of them with evident interest.

FORT YOUCON.

The Rev. R. M'Donald still labours in this remote district. He writes:—

In presenting you with a summary of the work of evangelization among the Tukuth for the last eight months, I desire to express my deep thankfulness to Almighty God, for all the grace which has been bestowed on me and on those among whom I have been appointed to labour. The Indians in general continue to evince a hearty desire to attain an increasing knowledge of God and of the things which belong to their eternal salvation. Many of them have, I trust, grown in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. A large number have been admitted into the visible Church of Christ by baptism, after due examination. The Lord's Supper has been administered to a few for the first time, and I have no doubt that at the next administration of that sacred ordinance there will be a large addition to the number of communicants.

In the prosecution of my work I made two Missionary journeys, one to the Tranjyek-Kutchin, alias Black-River Indians, and the other to La Pierre's House and Peel-River Fort.

The camp of the Black River Indians was at a distance of about 150 miles from the Fort. The journey occupied eight days. I spent twelve days in the camp, daily instructing the Indians, excepting one day when prevented by illness; and I trust that all in some measure benefited by my stay with them. In addition to what they had previously committed to memory they learnt two or three new hymns, and a prayer.

It was on the 11th day of February that I set out on a journey to La Pierre's House and Peel River Fort. We came to a camp of the Black River Indians, and a few families of the Vuhntah-Kutchin, alias Rat Indians, were encamped with them. We arrived at La Pierre's House on the 2nd March, and found a lodge of Indians encamped at the post. Having stayed there for a few days I went on a visit to the Indians of that post at their camps. One party of them were at a distance of about forty miles off, another party at about double that distance. I passed three weeks with them, during which I nearly all the time instructed them, and had daily morning and evening prayers with them. There were a few of them that had fallen into sin, and whom I had to reprove. It was consolatory to find that they were penitent, and I trust that they will be enabled to endeavour to walk more faithfully before God. They appeared most thankful for my visit to them, and were delighted to have another opportunity of learning more fully the things of God. Several families of the Vuhntah-Kutchin were encamped with them, and a similar spirit of earnestness in regard to divine things was observed in them. On my arrival at Peel River Fort, on the 2d of April, there were only a few Indians at the spot. A few more arrived early in May. The whole of the Peel-River tribe of Indians did not come to the Fort till about the 20th of May. Although I had not a long stay with them after they had all assembled, yet I trust that during that time, they all made considerable increase in the knowledge of Holy Scripture. The Indians of Peel River do not in general possess so much knowledge of Christian truth as those of Youcon and of La Pierre's House, but it is extremely gratifying to behold the eagerness which the majority of them evince for Christian instruction. They requested me again and again to visit them before long when I was taking my departure from them.

The Rev. W. C. Bompas, on visiting Fort Youcon, says:—

I find the Indians here in a forward state of instruction. They show great zeal in attendance at daily worship, and a thirst for knowledge. Some evince a real change of heart by a serious attention to religion and a reformation of morals. In others the spiritual and moral change is not so decided, but all connected with this post have abandoned heathen superstitions and placed themselves under Christian instruction. About 400 I think in all have been baptized, and the more distant tribes are gradually coming within the sound of the Gospel. We have lately had a visit of about 30 men from the mountain tribes, who had never heard the Gospel preached, but they received gladly such instruction as I was able to convey to them through the interpreter, and they promised to spread the information received in their own country. There are now here about five persons from tribes situate half-way between this and the Pacific coast. These will, I hope, also carry back some tidings of the Gospel to their countrymen. The Loucheux race are the best disposed towards Protestant religious instruction of any Indians I have met with in the country, and they appear more intelligent than the Mackenzie River tribes. The next thing wanted is a translation of a Gospel into their own tongue, and this may, I hope, soon be accomplished as Mr. McDonald has already sent home for printing a selection of prayers and hymns.

In August, 1869, Fort Youcon was declared by the American Government to be within their territory. All British traders, including, of course, those of the Hudson's-Bay Company, have been ordered to quit. How far these changes will affect the Society's Mission must be regarded for the present as uncertain. Mr. Bompas writes on this subject:—

It seems clear that all foreigners are forbidden by American law to trade with Indians in United States Territories; and even as Missionaries it seems that we could not legally reside in their Territories without a passport from the proper authorities. All the American gentlemen, however, who have now arrived express themselves very favourably and kindly disposed towards the continuance of our Mission here, and it would seem that supplies could be easily and cheaply obtained from San Francisco. The introduction of any reasonable amount of goods and provisions from the Pacific for this coast will now be easy, and the American traders will, I believe, be chiefly provisioned from San Francisco. Matters will soon begin to assume a sort of civilized aspect up here. Whether it will really be an improvement for us or not we can hardly as yet predict, but I hope so.

SARNIA.

The work at this station has been steadily carried on by the Rev. E. F. Wilson, with a view to the formation of a basis for Missionary operations among the scattered tribes of Indians along the borders of Lake Superior, and the regions beyond. The language of these tribes is the Chippewyan, which is spoken in many parts of Rupert's Land. Mr. Wilson has devoted much time and care to the development of Native Christian agency. Already an ordained Native occupies an out-station, while others are under instruction in Sarnia. Believing in the importance of cultivating self-reliance, the Missionary has adopted plans for the formation of a Native Indian Mission Fund. He thus reviews his work during the past, and expresses his hopes for the future:—

The first breaking up of new soil among an untutored and superstitious people is a slow and difficult work. Notwithstanding these difficulties, however, God has, I feel, blessed our way so far. We have gone forward relying upon the words of Scripture, that if our work were of God it could not by any earthly means be overthrown. Commencing our Mission work in the obscurity of a log-hut, with but a scanty attendance of Indians, we have, by God's blessing, gradually progressed, until now, at the present day, we have our neat little wooden church standing out conspicuously on the banks of the river St. Clair, and its clear-toned bells summoning the people every Sabbath-day to service. Standing beside the church is the parsonage, and both of these buildings are now, through the kindness of friends, paid for in full. Our system of work at the present time is as follows:—On the Sunday we have two services, with an attendance each time of about fifty people. Between the services we hold Sunday school, attended by twenty children, and I have also a Bible class of young people.

We have recently commenced a mothers' meeting for the women, conducted on a similar system to those in the old country: eighteen women have joined, and my interpreter reads a book to them while they work. During the last half hour we have Scripture reading and prayer, and others are invited to come in. We have just re-opened our night school for the winter season, and I am looking forward to a good attendance.

One step which I have taken of late appears to me to answer very well, and that is the appointment of ten picked men as our acting Committee: five I selected myself, and the remaining five were chosen by the first five.

Another object engaging my attention at the present time is the preparation of young men as catechists. My principal difficulty in this matter is to find those whose hearts the Lord hath opened, and who offer themselves for the work with the simple desire of labouring for Christ. Two young men have offered themselves. After a period of two or three months' probation one of them has withdrawn; the other I have accepted, and he is now staying in Sarnia, and coming to me twice a week for instruction in the Scriptures.

My work beyond the limits of the St. Clair Mission is at present limited, and I have as yet but one out-station brought into working order. Several other stations I visited about a month since, but having, as yet, no means of supplying them with teachers, I have deemed it best not to repeat my visits for the present.

In a subsequent letter Mr. Wilson adds:—

Projected chain of Mission Stations in North-west America.

I am still looking anxiously and longingly to the vast territory northward and westward, and picture in my mind a chain of Mission stations extending upward along the northern coasts of Lakes Huron and Superior, by which the glad news of salvation may be preached to the many hundreds of pagans between this place and Rupert's Land.

NORTH-PACIFIC MISSION.

European Mission Establishment:

Mr. William Duncan, 1856: at home.
Rev. Robert Tomlinson, B.A., (m), 1867.

METLAHKATLAH.

THE blessing of God still continues to attend this Mission. The subjoined extracts from Mr. Duncan's annual letter tell their own story.

So far as figures show, the Mission would seem to have made but little progress during the past year. Brother Tomlinson, from Kincolith, came here and baptized twenty-seven infants, and I have baptized three adults. The three adults were catechumens at the point of death. A great number of catechumens are waiting for baptism at the Mission, but I do not think they lose any thing by a long probation. Our Sunday services and schools for both adults and children have been carried on as usual. I have held divine service three times on the Sunday. Each service has been well attended by my own people, and invariably included a number of Indians from surrounding tribes. The adult Sunday-school classes meet as usual after every morning and afternoon service. I have now arranged them into ten classes, and they meet in ten Indian houses. Each class numbers from thirty-five to forty, and is under three or four Native teachers: about 150 in daily attendance. Last spring I suggested to a few of the Native Christians to go and preach the Gospel to the heathen at Fort Simpson. Four of them started off at once, and preached to each of the eight tribes there, and were well received. Some very interesting responses were made by the Indians to their appeals, and they came back much encouraged. One of our Christian young men joined a tribe from Fort Simpson last summer at their salmon fishing, and preached twice every Sunday for over two months to them. Nearly the whole tribe stopped work and regularly attended service. Three young men from this tribe have since come to settle at Metlahkatlah. As usual, we have had numbers of Indians from Queen Charlotte's Island and the interior of British Columbia to visit us for trade during the year, and these, both in the market-house and at the church, have the Gospel preached to them. May God add His abundant blessing.

Voluntary Missionary efforts of Indian Christians.

An independent testimony to the state of Metlahkatlah has been borne by Vincent Colyer, Esq., United States Special Commissioner for the Indians, who visited the place during Mr. Duncan's temporary absence on a visit to Kincolith. Mr. Colyer thus writes to Mr. Duncan, under date Metlahkatlah, November 3, 1869:—

The fame of your Mission has gone all the way up and down our coast, and every one said to me, "If you want to see what can be done with the Indian you must visit Mr. Duncan's Mission." Well, I have seen it, and you well deserve your hard-earned reputation. I have visited nearly all the tribes in Kansas, the Indian territory, New Mexico, Arizona, and in Alaska, and in only one or two Missions (the Presbyterian Mission in the Creek country, and the Episcopal Mission at Minnesota) have I seen your Mission equalled. Your children favoured me with some singing, and it was like home. The people invited me to their houses, and they show such marked improvement on their former residences that I was delighted. Brother in our Blessed Redeemer's work, don't allow yourself to be discouraged. Hold fast to Christ and His service. You have been led by Him to do great things. Be assured that He will lead you on to still greater triumphs for His glory.

KINCOLITH.

The Rev. Robert Tomlinson again writes from Kincolith, the newly-formed Missionary settlement among the Nishkah Indians. The work is still in its infancy, having been considerably retarded by hostilities between the two tribes. In endeavouring to reconcile the hostile parties, the Missionary has been ably assisted by his zealous and courageous wife. Throughout the winter the Nishkahs were kept in a state of blockade. What followed, Mr. Tomlinson thus narrates:—

The blockade continued all the winter. In spring war again darkened our horizon, and here the value of having Mrs. Tomlinson could be truly estimated. Bravely laying aside all fear and repugnance, she accompanied me through the midst of the hostile tribes, disarming all opposition by her presence, and creating such a feeling of confidence as enabled me to restore their wives to two anxious husbands, and bring one poor wounded man to the shelter of the Mission house, where, by God's good blessing, he was soon restored to health. Such was the shock caused by this second outbreak, that for some time I seriously thought of moving the Mission station to a place some twenty miles up Naas River. In the summer we were visited by H.M.S. "Sparrowhawk," with the late Governor on board. In his presence peace was made between the tribes, but that the shock was a severe one for this Mission may be seen by the fact, that though twelve new settlers were enrolled, our number is only equal to last year's, as some have left from fear and other motives. The total number of settlers, including women and children, is sixty.

Zeal and courage of a Missionary's wife.

The church was completed early in January. The settlers have since built five excellent cottages for their own use, while others are in course of erection. An attempt to carry on trading operations, as at Metlahkalah, has failed. Mr. Tomlinson is now building, by the help of the Natives, a hospital, which he hopes will be the means of bringing many heathen under the sound of the Gospel. Of the spiritual work for the last year Mr. Tomlinson writes as follows:—

On the 13th of January our little church was opened for service until the beginning of March, when the people separated for the fishing. The average attendance was, on Sunday fifty, on the week-day thirty. I still use the prayers in Tsimshean composed by Mr. Duncan, with the exception of the Lord's Prayer, which I have translated into Nishkah. On week-days my practice was to read a verse translated into Nishkah, and impress it upon their minds without adding any remarks. On Sundays I added a few remarks. My progress in the language will now enable me to add a few explanatory remarks each morning and evening. Until very lately, indeed, I have been acting, as it were, upon the defensive in my Mission work, while the enemies of my Mission have been acting on the offensive. Now, however, I feel the strings of my tongue loosening, and my spirit begins to burn within me in the prospect of more active effort.

CONCLUSION.

The Committee feel that the retrospect for the past year affords much ground for thanksgiving and encouragement.

The great problem of the establishment of self-supporting Churches among Missionary converts seems to be receiving its practical solution. Its difficulties were much more evident to those actually engaged in Missionary work than to those who viewed it at a distance. But the Committee endeavoured to take their stand on broad and fundamental principles of Divine government and human action—principles clearly asserted, as it appeared to them, in Holy Scripture, and confirmed, as they believed, by repeated and diversified experience. The success which they anticipated has not been denied. God has not withheld from the Native converts the power to obey His own command. The scriptural requirement that those who preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel, it has not been found impossible to fulfil. The Native Christians, though they naturally paused with almost anxious hesitation, did not ultimately refuse the responsibility. They have recognised their corporate, as well as their individual, relation to their Divine Head. They have felt that they might safely trust directly in His help and presence, rather than in the money and influence of the Missionary Societies. Sufficient grace has been given them for the task they undertook. Their pecuniary contributions have surpassed expectation; while the manly independence and public spirit of the leading Native laity have still more remarkably delighted, and even surprised, some of the most experienced Missionaries. The Committee tremble while they rejoice, remembering the weakness and depravity of human nature. Neither would they place their trust on outward organization. But the change which has taken place seems to open before the Society a new course of action. Missionary strength and energy, relieved to a certain extent of the care of the Native Churches, may henceforth be mainly directed to its more proper work of evangelizing the heathen. And side by side with the Society's agents the messengers of these infant churches will, it is hoped, labour in the same field, either at their own charges, or supported by their Christian fellow-countrymen. Thus, if it please God, the preaching of the Gospel may be very largely extended, even independently of increased effort on the part of European and American Christians.

The development of Native Churches will set Missionaries free for work among the heathen.

Another ground for rejoicing is, that again, as in former years, enlarged openings are presenting themselves for Missionary enterprise. In India, China and Africa the Society's Missionaries report almost everywhere an increased willingness to listen to the glad tidings of salvation. Especially is this the case in India, where the rapid spread of education is giving birth to a wonderful intellectual revolution. This cause, of which the Brahmo Somaj movement is to some extent one of the products, has led, indeed, few, if any, to take up the reproach of being baptized in the name of Christ; but it has roused religious inquiry—it has shaken the power of Hinduism—and has called the attention of many leading minds to the truths of the Gospel, and to the study of God's written Word. The following emphatic words were recently spoken in London at a public meeting by a Native of India, who knows well the current of thought among many of his own countrymen—"When England embarked in the work of moral and religious reformation she of course went out with the Bible in her hands. That wonderful book has been received and studied, and in many cases, I am happy to say, appreciated by the educated Natives of India. Whatever their religious denominations may be, whatever their peculiar prejudices may be, I can confidently say, that if any of my countrymen ever feel a real hungering and thirsting after spiritual comfort, they must necessarily open the pages of the Bible now and then. However proud we may be of our own religious works, however great the value may be which we attach to volumes inculcating pure Theism, bequeathed by our forefathers, still I cannot conceal from you the conviction, which must be admitted by all candid men, that India cannot do without the Bible."

Enlarged Missionary openings in India.

Abroad, therefore, there is much to encourage, much to stimulate hope and expectation. Barren and unpromising regions still certainly exist, but there are many parts where it may be fairly said that "the fields are white already unto the harvest." God has by His providence prepared the heathen, and, by His Spirit energizing in the hearts of Native Christians, is raising up suitable instruments and helpers.

Where lies the hindrance? It is at home in this favoured land of light and liberty. The Christian Church is not straitened in God, but straitened in itself. It does not meet the demands of the day, either in sending forth its sons to the work, or in yielding its gold and silver to the Lord's treasury.

On what must rest the hope for the future? It has already been said that the activity of Native Christians may relieve the Society of some of its present expenditure, and may supplement its labours. These infant Churches may receive from God the honour of occupying some fields which the Society is humbled by being compelled to relinquish. Native agents, also, taken into the pay of the Society, may sometimes execute at less cost work which previously fell on European Missionaries. The Committee will exercise in this, and in other ways, the utmost possible economy. But the present deficit is so large and sudden, that if it be not speedily removed or diminished, promising openings must be neglected, the most serious embarrassment will arise in the Mission field, and many a faithful and overburdened labourer will be filled with distress and perplexity.

In this emergency the Committee look for help to the Lord of Missions Himself, and, under Him, to those great spiritual principles to which the Society owes its birth, and which have always been the true source of its life and strength. The hope of the future maintenance and progress of this great work must rest on the growth, the purity, and the practical vigour of these spiritual principles, both in the Society itself, and in the church and nation to which it belongs. The prayer of the Committee is, that the Holy Ghost will enkindle among English Christians more of a constraining sense of the Redeemer's love, and a plainer perception both of the solemn obligation to carry on the Missionary enterprise, and of the spirit in which it ought to be attempted. If those friends of the Society who read or hear the Report now presented will unite in earnest supplication for this great blessing, the Committee doubt not that the existing difficulties will be overcome, and that the resources of the Society will continue to increase as in former years.

Our hope for the future.

PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

No. 1.—Form of a Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East the sum of Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society to be paid within calendar months next after my death, exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all other payments thereout but to be subject to abate proportionably with other Legacies in case my general Personal Estate shall be insufficient for payment of them all in full. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto† shall be paid out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund‡ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my Personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund: and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, for the general purposes of the said Society, such part of my Residuary Personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the Residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to one fourth or one half, (according to the intention) of my whole Residuary Personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my Personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general Residuary Personal Estate I bequeath the same, &c.§

* If so intended.

‡ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on Real Estate, then add, "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

§ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

 This mark * denotes that the Sermon was preached at St. Ann's, Blackfriars; this †, that it was preached at St. Bride's, Fleet Street; the Twenty-third was preached at Christ Church, Newgate Street; the Thirty-first at St. Sepulchre's: the Thirty-second at St. Clement Danes; and the Thirty-third at St. Andrew's, Holborn.

The Collections at the Sixteenth and subsequent Anniversaries include the sums contributed at the Annual Meetings.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee of the Church Missionary Society request the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations to transmit the proceeds of their respective Associations, together with the Contribution Lists and Accounts, as soon after the close of their Financial Year as possible. The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. The Local Officers being appointed by the Associations, their names, as well as the date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, should be specified. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Committee would also point out, for wider adoption, the convenience of a practice already very generally observed by Associations, of making remittances on account whenever any considerable proportion of the year's receipts is in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This practice, they have reason to believe, would be acceptable to many of their Contributors, and would tend to equalize in a greater degree the income and expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial Year.

The Society's General Accounts are closed on the 31st of March, and all Moneys and Lists belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order that the Lists may be inserted in their proper place in the Report.

The appending of the Lists and Accounts of the Associations to the Annual Report is a general acknowledgment to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Society; and the Committee are desirous of preventing the dissatisfaction which they are aware is occasioned by the omission of the Lists in the Report in consequence of the Money or the List having been received too late for insertion.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of the Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Committee return their cordial thanks to the Treasurers of Associations, and to those friends who kindly fill the office of Secretary—an office which, they are well aware, draws largely on the time and attention of those who occupy it, but on the efficient discharge of the duties of which, the prosperity of an Association chiefly depends.

N.B.—Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose Names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will find them in the List of "Benefactions of former Years."

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting Preparatory to the Formation of an Association in Aid of the Church Missionary Society.

1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."

2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.

3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. to move the first Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;" and that the following be its Officers and Rules:—

PRESIDENT. VICE-PRESIDENTS.

COMMITTEE: with power to add to their number

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward: or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II, Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas; and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Subscribers of Ten Shillings per annum will receive a copy of the Annual Sermon and Abstract of Report. Collectors of Sixpence and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record;" and Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per week will receive a copy of the Annual Report, in addition to the "Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*d*. a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devou thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant out-pouring o fthe Holy Spirit to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mohammedan Nations
